deponent visited the said premises, named aforesaid, and there saw the said John Samuels, J. Daly, E. Dobson and Richard Roe aforesaid, and had dealings and conversation with them as follows:

Deponent entered the premises and first saw John Samuels who looked through a little hole in the door and said to a gentleman who was with deponent, "Who is that with you?" The gentleman replied, "He is all right." The said John Samuels then opened the door and allowed deponent to go in to a room where there were a number of colored men and white men. All around the room, on the walls, were blackboards. Behind the counter sat T. Daly dealing a gambling game which deponent was informed was called "Red and Black," the said T. Daly receiving the money from players, and if the money was lost he kept the same, and if any of the players won he paid the same. Deponent saw several games played while deponent was there, the said T. Daly dealing all the while.

In the same room, and close to the said T. Daly behind the said counter, was E. Dobson and Richard Doe. The said Dobson sold to one John Sullivan, in deponents presence, the paper hereto annexed, for which the said John Sullivan paid the said E. Dobson the sum of 10 cents, in deponent's presence. The said Dobson wrote the paper and handed it to the said Sullivan, and the said Sullivan paid the sum of 10 cents for the same. After the said Dobson had thus written and sold the said paper, which is annexed hereto and commonly called Lottery-policy, the said Richard Doe took an envelope from a pin on the black board back of the said Dobson and Doe, opened the same, and called out the numbers representing the drawn numbers in said lottery in which said policy was sold, whereupon the said Dobson placed the said numbers upon the blackboard in full view of all persons present. Deponent remained in the room and saw a number of different schemes or drawings made from 430 to 440, and saw the said Dobson write a large number of plays and sell to persons who were present, and also write the drawn numbers upon the blackboard, all of which was done in deponent's presence. Deponent saw one party loose at the gambling game dealt by the said T. Daly the sum of $4.00, and another party loose $2.50. The said Daly had a pile of money in front of him on the table. Deponent saw one negro cash in a gig in the lottery or envelope game conducted by the said Dobson and Doe, and receive $1.00 thereupon. John Samuels was present in the room and attended the door keeping the door locked so that no person outside could not come in except as he permitted them to enter by withdrawing the bolt and granting them admission.

Deponent further says, that on the 11th day of February he was present in said premises, and further saw the said T. Daly deal the said gambling game, and saw the said Samuels assist and aid by attending the door, and saw the said E. Dobson and Richard Doe engage in selling what is commonly called Lottery-policies and in drawing lotteries and posting the numbers in deponent's presence.

Indictment filed June 20th 1887.

New York January 18th, 1888.

APPEARANCES: For the People Assistant District

Attorney James Fitzgerald.

For the Defendant Charles Steckler Esq.

Frederick Klinger, a witness for the People testified.

I live at No. 132 East 85th Street and have lived in the City of New York for about 11 years. On the 19th of June 1887 I went to Staten Island and I returned on the Staten Island Boat about 6 o'clock. I had in my possession a gold watch and chain of the value of $35 I carried it in the left pocket of my vest. Just when the Staten Island Boat was nearing the New York Dock I looked at my watch and it was about half past 6 o'clock. I noticed a whole gang crowding around me. Just as the boat was nearly touching the landing I moved forward so as to be one of the first to get off of the boat. I was jostled and shoved to one side and balanced myself and I felt my chain touched and I grabbed and got hold of this young fellow by the hand. He had the chain in his right hand and the watch was partly concealed in his left hand. I only saw the stem winder and the ring. I held on to him and an officer came over and arrested him. I said to the defendant "You've got my watch", and he laughed at me and said; "Let me go you son of a bitch".

Cross-Examination.

I was perfectly sober on this evening. It was daylight when the boat reached the dock. The lurching of the boat necessarily caused people to crowd against one another. I pulled the chain out of this boys hand when I saw him have it. I dont know where the watch went to ; it dissappeared .. I was not excited at the time..

James Consadine a witness for the People testified:-

I live on Staten Island. I was on the Steamer Southfield on the evening of the 19th of June. When the boat reached the dock about 6 o'clock in the evening I heard the complainant shout out and I went towards him to see what was the matter, and I saw him having hold of this defendant. I found this man's watch about 10 or 12 feet away from where these two people stood.

Cross-Examination.,

There was a pretty big crowd on this boat on that night and especlally on the front partve of the boat.

Charles Hagan, a witness for the People testified:-

I am a special officer of police of the Staten Island Rapid Transit company. On the 19th of June I arrested the defendant Dennis Shea coming off the ferry boat. The prisoner was charged with the taking of the watch and he denied it.

Cross Examination.

I searched this boy and found 75 cents in his pocket.

Dennis Shea, the defendant testified:-

I am 15 years old. I was arrested once for lighting fires in the street. I live at No. 191 Canal Street with my father and mother. On the 19th of June I was over on Staten Island with a crowd playing ball. Coming home we were all together in the front of the boat and this man suddenly cried out that he lost his watch and then got hold of me and said "You've got my watch" and I said "No sir". Then he searched me and didn't find anything, and he hollered for the policeman and the policeman came over and searched me and didn't find anything on me. Then I was arrested.

Cross-Examination.

I am not working at the present time. There was fifty of us went to play ball on Staten Island that Sunday. I didn't see this man until he got hold of me. I was the nearest one to him when he hollered that he lost his watch.

Daniel Shea, a witness for the defendant testified:-

I am the father of this boy. I was never arrested for stealing. He is a good boy and was working and brought his wages home.

Dennis Shea, (No 2.) a witness for the defendant testified. I am a carpet weaver and am employed at No.

53 Franklin Street. I was down to Staten Island on the 19th of June with a number of the boys. When we were coming home and when we were about 15 feet from the dock I saw this complainant grab the defendant and say that he had his watch. I was sitting with the defendant at the time singing.

Cross Examination.

The defendant was on one side of the complainant and was about a foot away from him. There was quite a crowd: there was somebody between the defendant and the complainant.

Cornelius M. Sullivan. John M. Costis and John F. Whalen testified to the good character of the defendant.

THE JURY found the prisoner "Guilty of Grand Larceny in the Second Degree".

And deponent further says that he is informed by Charles Serlig that said Smith came to him ^{Serlig} and offered ~~the~~ to exchange the said watch for one that he Serlig had, and that he Serlig gave to said Smith a watch and the sum of two ^{two} dollars in exchange for the said watch which was so taken stolen and carried away and which said Smith then gave and delivered to him said Serlig.

Dear Sir.

In answer to yours of the 16th. We cannot find any such firm as Trench & Co. in this City. And there is no such number as 522 Chestnut St. I have no doubt that Henry Smith is a fraud. And I think you can prove him so out of his own mouth. Just ask him! First what street No 522 Chestnut St. is located between, and what other firms are adjoining? And you will catch him in a lie. If you recollect anything about our City you will remember that the whole block on the south side of Chestnut St. is occupied by old Independence Hall & Square.
