Exps. Ex.

I first met defendants between 2 & 3 o'clock on the 19th instant in the saloon. I was there about 15 minutes when I saw defendants— I went into the saloon with a lady friend— When I left the theatre I was alone—
I stop evenings in Brooklyn—
I met the lady friend referred to at 11 o'clock P.M. I had been dining with her that evening

We drank Champagne at Gunther's in the Brewery - I met the lady friend there - she was sitting there - she went from Gunther's to the saloon - while at Gunther's we had four bottles wine 2 quarts - and 2 pints - several others were drinking with us - The liquor was drunk between the time of going in and coming out of Gunther's - after leaving the Theatre and before going to Gunther's I went to Harry Hills - was there about 15 minutes - did not drink anything - I drank nothing until I went to Gunther's - I have drunk but one glass of Ale during the last 6 months - I don't think I drank any thing in the saloon I first saw the defendants when I was about leaving the saloon - my lady friend went out - while at the saloon I saw as my lady friend went away - I had spent about 20 or 30 dollars - for Champagne and drinky - I will not testify that I did not say I expected her to stay with me all night. I spent 30 or 22 dollars - with the lady friend for drinks and gave her $1.00 I paid $10.00 for the quarts and $6.00 for the drinks - when I settled my bill at the Bar I had $19.00 left I met the defats as I was going out and asked them to drink and we drank ale - and I paid for it that was the first of ~~their~~ acquaintance - I spoke first to them - they noticed me first - when I went out they went with me - I told them I only had $19.00 and gave that to one of the defendants -

The saloon is on the west side of Brewery between Black and Huntington Streets - on leaving the <sup>saloon</sup> in company with defats - went to Huntington street to the best of my recollection I remember being in a side street - don't remember the street - I gave the defat

NIBLO'S GARDEN.

Niblo's Garden.

E. G. GILMORE, Lessee and Manager.
JOS. H. TOOKER, Superintendent.
LINDSEY I. HOWE, Treasurer.

OFFICIAL PROGRAMME

For Week ending Saturday, Feb. 21.

PUBLICATION OFFICE

A. S. SEER'S Printing House,

26 Union Square,

where all applications for Advertising must be made.

NOTES:

TWO MATINEES will be given every week, one on WEDNESDAY and one on SATURDAY, beginning at 2 o'clock.
The Box Office will be open daily from 8 A. M. to the close of the evening performance, when seats may be secured as far as a week in advance. Seats may also be secured in advance at any of the District Telegraph Offices.

The same popular tariff of prices will prevail at Matinees as for the night performance.
All business communications must be addressed to the Management to gain attention.

NIBLO'S REDIVIVUS.

There is a no more beautiful and comfortable theatre than Niblo's. Beyond its current stage attractions there is something peculiarly inviting in its roomy chairs, broad aisles, capacious lobbies, and grand hallways adorned with heroic vases of exotics. The adjoining garden with gravelled walks, marble fountain, and atmosphere perfumed by the breath of natural flowers, justifies its familiar title. It seems a pity that so magnificent a place of recreation should ever have suffered by erratic conduct, and it is a cause for rejoicing, especially among old New Yorkers, that it has fallen into the hands of those who take pride in reviving its ancient glories.

THE SEASON.

Dependence, upon what may unfortunately prove transient prosperity in the amusement world, would be impolitic upon the part of any management. In this house the effort to please will be the same the season through as if the promise of easy success were not held out by the signs of the times. The spectacle of "Enchantment" had no abatement of attention to its minutest details, and up to the latest moment before a public representation, although a triumph seemed assured, solicitude regarding the popular verdict existed. This policy will characterize the conduct of NIBLO'S GARDEN throughout the leasehold of Mr. Gilmore. The public may well have confidence in the official announcements of a theatre that has kept faith so well in regard to the several introductory offerings of the season. With this in view the management ask the patrons of Niblo's Garden to keep in mind the promises now made, that the plays to follow "The Black Crook" will be worthy ones, and presented in magnificence.

MR. BARTLEY CAMPBELL'S SUCCESS.

Mr. Bartley Campbell's success is an achievement. His efforts have been persistent, and as he well deserves the result he has gained, it is a matter of justice to give him honest congratulation. He is a prolific as well as good writer. For years the impecunious yet hopeful young author sought recognition at managerial doors, but not until recently did his patient striving find reward. Play after play, and good plays, too, were written by him, but to find cold refusal; yet, feeling that he possessed the divine afflatus, he continued a struggle that would have been given over by most men, and to-day he stands forth the recognized principal American dramatist.

THE PRESS OF CHICAGO AND ST. LOUIS is warm in its praises of the Florences' new piece, "Millions." It is by the author of the "Mighty Dollar."

THE GERMAN COMIC OPERA, "The Sea Cadet," which had so long a run at the Thalia Theatre, Bowery, is the attraction at Daly's Theatre, with the new title "Royal Middy." Miss Catherine Lewis is really delightful in the title part.

NIBLO'S GARDEN makes a great draft upon the amusement loving population of Brooklyn, Williamsburgh, Hunter's Point, Hoboken and Jersey City. Harlem finds the elevated road so convenient that it also contributes its hundreds to the throngs that patronize the recognized home of the spectacular drama.

THE GALLEY SLAVE, with the original New York cast, is drawing enormous houses in Chicago, at Haverly's Theatre. The piece is to be played in London at the Princess Royal Theatre.

H. C. JARRETT, of the late firm of Jarrett & Palmer, is now going over the New England circuit with a farcical comedy called "Fun on the Bristol; or, a Night on the Sound." The piece is of the character of "The Tourists," and the parts are played and sung by popular variety artists. It is an immense success. Manager Rice, of the "Rice Surprise Party," and "Evangeline Troupe," has become associated with Mr. Jarrett.

HUMPTY DUMPTY, with its particularly strong feature, the Spanish Students, is doing an immense business at Booth's Theatre.

ARRANGEMENTS ARE BEING MADE for the proper recognition of the occurrence in this theatre of the one hundredth metropolitan performance of the "Galley Slave."

HEARTS OF STEEL.

MR. GEORGE CLARKE'S grand spectacular Irish drama, "Hearts of Steel," was the attraction at the beautiful Academy of Music, Baltimore, during the fortnight last past, and drew enormous and enthusiastic audiences. It is being eagerly sought after from all parts of the country by enterprising managers. All the great company that appeared in it at Niblo's Garden, and all the pretty scenes and other effects that made it so attractive here, are in the traveling caravanserie. Two parlor and four freight cars are required for the transportation of the company, baggage and scenery.

THE IDEAL PINAFORE.

The "Black Crook" will be presented for but two weeks, and will be followed by the famous Ideal "Pinafore" Company, from the Boston Theatre, with the following extraordinary cast:

LITTLE BUTTERCUP.....Miss ADELAIDE PHILLIPS
JOSEPHINE.....Miss MARY BEERS
JANE.....Miss ADELAIDE DROWON
CAPTAIN COCKRAVE.....Mr. MYRON V. WATNEY
DICK DEADBEAT.....Mr. GEORGE FROTHINGHAM
RALPH BACKSTRAW.....Mr. W. C. FRANKLIN
THE ADMIRAL.....Mr. H. C. BARNARD

The chorus will not only be numerous but admirable in quality, and the offering, upon the whole, will exceed in magnitude and merit any "Pinafore" representation yet had in New York.

OLIO.

The new spectacle that is to follow the Ideal "Pinafore" is from the prolific pen of Bartley Campbell, Esq., author of "The Galley Slave," and will be a poetic picture of Italy, entitled "Clio." It is entirely novel in its construction, and promises to create a sensation. Mr. Voegtlin and other artists are now engaged upon the beautiful scenery, and Mr. Campbell's agents are carefully selecting a dramatic company to impersonate the several characters in accordance with the author's ideas of the artistic requirements of the cast. Due notice will be given of the date fixed upon for the first performance.

ONE AT A TIME.—When Arthur was a very small boy, his mother repudiated him one day for some misdemeanor. Not knowing it, his father began to talk to him on the same subject. Looking up in his face, Arthur said, solemnly: "Mother has 'tended to me."

WHY is a colt getting broke like a young lady getting married? Because he is going through the bride ceremony.

AN EXPLANATION.—Miss Olive Logan, during a recent lecture to an audience unappreciative of her kind of humor, stopped in the course of her address, and announced that "those unable to comprehend her jokes could have them explained by personal application after her lecture."

PUTTING DOWN THE WINDOWS.—This is the season of the year when a man may expect to be suddenly called at any moment in the night to get up and put down the windows. On the advent of a thunder shower it is rarely that a man wakes first. If he should be kept quiet, so as not to disturb his wife, and avails himself of the first lull to go asleep again. How differently a woman acts—oh, so differently! Just as soon as she wakes up and hears that it is raining she seems to lose all judgment at once. She plants both of her feet into her husband's back, and at the same time catching him by the hair and shaking his head, and hysterically screams—

Just then he finds the matches, and breaks the discourse by striking a light. He was bound to have that lamp before he moved out of the room. He has got the lamp lighted now. No sooner does its glare fill the room than he blows it out again for obvious reasons. He moves out into the other room with celerity now. He knows pretty well the direction to go, and when a flash of lightning comes it shows him on the verge of climbing over a stool or across the centre table. At last he finishes his task, and there is quite a cheerful quarter of an hour between himself and the partner of his joys and sorrows, in which it is not difficult to guess who has the best of it.

ONE of the most painful feelings the heart can know is to learn the unworthiness of a person who has hitherto shared our good opinion and protection. We are at once mortified at our mistaken judgment, and wounded in our affections.

CONTRARY WIND.—A Venetian, who had never before been out of his native city, and who therefore could not be expected to be a good rider, was mounted by a friend one day on a rather austere horse, which would not move forward. After trying the spur in vain, he took out his pocket handkerchief, and holding it up in the air for some moments, exclaimed: "I do not wonder that the horse does not move on—the wind is contrary."

THE MADISON SQUARE THEATRE seems to have exceeded even the most sanguine hopes entertained of its prospects. The theatre is crowded nightly. The double stage works as smoothly as can be desired. The company is a most excellent one, and the elegance and distinctive beauty of the theatre is the admiration of every one.

DRINKRIGHT.—Some mischievous boys at a country academy, seeing a sign over a grocery which read "Arnold Drinkright," painted out the first three letters, leaving it "Old Drinkright." The sign was soon restored to its former condition, and then the boys painted a D before the first name, making it "Darnold Drinkright." And then the grocer in despair painted his name out.

TRAINING FOR EFFECT.—Life is made up of little things; for that reason, a novel which is calculated to arouse genuine interest should treat of the common place rather than the unnatural. Average people do not believe in high pressure existence. Unusual incidents are more likely to be the worst rather than the best. This is a question of treatment and of genius. A true author makes more of his hero eating his breakfast of beefsteak and potatoes than a bungler of his scaling precipices to rescue Angelina from brigands. The question of genius, indeed, when one thinks of it, modifies the definition of the commonplace to such an extent that it is hardly safe to assert that there is any material not fit for literary use. The genius sees deeper than his fellows, and what is trite and wearisome to the rest of us may be full of hidden meanings to him—meanings which his apt interpretations of human emotions allow us to comprehend. Too many of the sketches or stories of the day found their attraction in sensational incidents and pictures of gilded vice.

NOT TO BE CAUGHT.—Lord Palmerston was once attending an agricultural dinner, and saw a large gathering of reporters, for the times were critical, and a speech of his was certain to be valuable. But he made up his mind not to speak—no man knew better when to hold his tongue—and accordingly he slyly sent down to the "gentlemen of the press" a slip of paper, on which in his bold, round hand, were written the words, "This fish won't bite!"

NO RELATION.—The German papers tell this story in connection with Baron Rothschild's death:—A meets B, weeping and sobbing aloud. Says A, "Why do you weep?" "Because," says B, as if his heart were breaking, "because he is dead—the powerful, the rich baron." "But," replied A, "why do you cry so much? he was no relation of yours!" "That's just what I am crying about," howls B, more affected than ever.

DOUBTFUL ADVICE.—A recent lecturer advises all men to "know themselves." That's advising a good many to form very low and disreputable acquaintances.

"THEY GOGO."—An old lady read in her paper:—"Another African explorer recently died in Ugo." "And still they'll go, go to that wretched land," she said.

FIT FOR WIVES.—"Are the young ladies of the present day fit for wives?" asked a lecturer of his audience. "They are fit for husbands," responded a feminine voice; "but the difficulty is that you men are not fit for wives." The applause was great, as was the discomfiture of the lecturer.

ONE TOO MANY FOR HIM.—A Yankee woman recently married a Chinese laundryman, and in three days thereafter the unhappy Celestial appeared at a barber's shop and ordered his pigtail to be cut off, saying, in explanation, "Too muchee yank."

VERY GOOD OF HIM.—The news papers state that a well-known banker in Paris has absconded, leaving a large deficit behind. Mrs. Partington thinks it was very good of the poor man to leave it, when he might have got off clear with everything.

AFFECTIONATE HUSBAND.—The wife of a villager in Poitou, after a protracted illness, fell into a state of coma, and was believed to be dead. As is usual among the very poor peasantry there the body was folded in a sheet and carried to the grave uncoffined. On the way to the graveyard the body had to be carried through a thicket, where the underwood consisted principally of thorn-bushes, and in passing through the supposed corpse was awakened from the trance by the prickles. Fourteen years afterwards the woman really died and on the way to the grave the same route was taken. As the mourners approached the thicket, the husband called out vigorously, "Take care—don't go near the thorn-bushes!"

A SPRING CHICKEN.—A married man bought a spring chicken in the market the other morning, and now he thinks the reason it was called spring chicken is because it will take him till next spring to carve it, unless he uses nitroglycerine.

How to prevent the hair from becoming gray.—Cut it off, do it neatly up in tissue paper, and put it away in a drawer.

THE LATEST FASHION.—"Tight, very!" said a wag, when a young lady he knew passed him in the street. "What do you mean?" asked his astonished companion. "Only the dress, my boy."—The lady was attired in the latest fashion.

WARD LAMON tells a new story of Mr. Lincoln. Soon after Lamon was made Marshal of the District, in 1861 he was in the neighborhood of a corner fight, and, in restoring peace, he struck one of the belligerents with his fist, the weapon with which he was notoriously familiar. He struck rather harder than he intended, for the poor fellow was picked up unconscious, and lay some hours on the border of life and death. Lamon was greatly frightened, and next morning reported the affair to the President. "I am astonished at you Ward," said he, harshly. "You ought to know better. When you have to hit a man use a club, not your fist."

SAGE.—"Work, but don't worry," is an old proverb. But shiftless people don't work, and so usually take it out in worrying.

WHAT plaything is above every other? The top.

PROMISE.—One of the surest ways for a man to be robbed of his good name is to put it on his umbrella.

Purchasers will best consult their interests by giving him a call. Valentines in every variety. Note the address, 98 Nassau Street.

WHY THE SUN DIAL FAILED.—Old Mills, the optician at Newcastle, sold a sun dial to Pitman, a few weeks ago, with the assurance that it was a first-rate timekeeper. About a fortnight afterwards Pitman called one day at the shop, and said: "Say, Mills, that sun-dial ain't worth a cent—it's no good as a timepiece, any way."

"Maybe you haven't got it fixed in a good place," said Mills.

"Yes I have," replied Pitman; "but I tell you, it won't work. There must be something wrong about it!"

"No; it's in perfect order," said Mills. "Did you ever time it by your watch?"

"Certainly I did. I've stood close to it a hundred times exactly at the even hours, and the blamed thing has never struck the time once."

"Merciful Moses! Why, you didn't expect it to strike the hours, did you? Thunder! Why it don't strike, of course. It has no works inside."

"That's what gets me," said Pitman. "If it ain't got no insides, how's it goin' to go?"

"Mr. Pitman, where have you located that sun-dial? In the garden?"

"Garden! Be gracious, no! What do I want with a timepiece in the garden? It's hung in the settin' room ag'in the wall."

Then Mills explained it to him, and Pitman has since traded the sun-dial off for a four dollar clock.—Mas Adler.

EGYPT is the place for juvenile excursions. A boy can always find his "mummy" there.

SHARP SNIP.—"Mr. D., if you'll get my coat done by Saturday I shall be forever indebted to you."—"If that is your game, it won't be done," said the tailor.

An act by which we make one friend and one enemy is a losing game, because revenge is a much stronger passion than gratitude.

HIS ANSWER.—A gentleman recently travelling in the country called out to a boy, "Where does this road go to, my lad?" "Well, I don't know where it goes, but it's always been here when I come along."

GALLANT.—At a dinner of the Cincinnati firemen recently, the following sentiment was proposed: "The Ladies! their eyes kindle the only flame which we cannot extinguish, and against which there is no insurance!"

AMONG the latest curiosities is a whatstone to sharpen the water's edge.

A DISCONCERTED YANKEE.—An English correspondent tells the following story:

A Yankee tourist recently went down to Chatsworth, the Duke of Devonshire's estate. There is a little village on it, where an inn is built for the accommodation of visitors; and when Mr. A. reached there after having been through Chatsworth, he was naturally much impressed with its beauty, and he couldn't refrain from saying so to quiet looking man, the landlord, who was sitting on the inn piazza with him after tea.

"Quite a place, isn't it?" said the American.

"Yes, a pleasant place enough," said the Englishman.

"The fellow who owns it must be worth a mint of money," said No. 1 through his cigar smoke.

"Yes, he's comfortably off," answered No. 2, quietly.

"Wonder if I could get a look at the old chap," said the American, after a short silence. "I should like to see what sort of a bird he is."

Puff, puff, went the English cigar then said the English voice, trying to control itself—

"If you"—puff—"look hard"—puff, puff—"in this direction, you"—puff, puff—"can tell in a minute."

"You! you!" faltered Mr. A, getting up; "why, I thought you were the landlord."

"Well, so I am," said the duke, though I don't perform the duties. I stay here," he added, with a twinkle, in his eye, "to be looked at."

There never was a more disconcerted man than the tourist, but he sat down and talked for an hour with the duke after his rather abrupt introduction. Chatsworth is the duke's show house. He lives farther in the country, but there he keeps his pictures, gifts, and plate, and the general bijouterie, belonging to the third richest nobleman in England.—Pictorial World.

A MAN never uses his thumbnail for a screwdriver but once.

MORE DEVOTION.—A man committed suicide by drowning, lately, in six inches of water. He couldn't have done it alone; but his wife, with that self-sacrificing devotion and helpfulness so characteristic of the sex, sat on his head.

"SWEET GIRL GRADUATES."—Young ladies who receive the degree of A. B. have a decided advantage over the young gentlemen. One, who married when she took her degree, was M. A. in less than a year from her graduation.

CURIOUS MOTTOES.—The trade mottoes of some of the London associations are curious. The blacksmiths, for instance, have "By hammer and hand all arts do stand;" the distillers, "Drop as rain, distil as dew;" the founders, "God the only founder;" the innholder, "Come, ye blessed; when I was harborless ye lodged me;" the joiners, "Join loyalty and liberty;" the saddlers, "Hold fast; sit sure;" the weavers, "Weave truth with trust;" and the needle-makers, "They sewed leaves together and made themselves aprons!"

THEIR OBJECT.—"In the sentence 'John strikes William,'" remarked a school-teacher, "What is the object of strikes?" "Higher wages and shorter hours," promptly replied the intelligent pupil.

A CERTAIN REMEDY.—"My friend, have you a sulking wife? Don't go and worry on it, but try and use diplomacy, it's best, depend upon it. Don't beg and coax—don't go and write a poem or a sonnet. No; rouse her drooping spirits with a brand new Winter bonnet."

CENSURE of a man's self is generally oblique praise; it is in order to show how much he can spare.—Dr. Johnson.

THE PROPER NAME.—When a man marries for money, it is more appropriate to speak of his spending the money-moon.

A BRAVE man thinks no one his superior who does him an injury; for he has it then in his power to make himself superior to the other by forgiving it.—Pope.

WORK DURING SLEEP.—It has frequently happened that studious men have done really hard mental work while asleep. A stanza of excellent verse is in print, which Sir John Herschel is said to have composed while asleep, and to have recollected when he awoke. Goethe often set down on paper during the day thoughts and ideas which had presented themselves to him during sleep on the preceding night. A gentleman one night dreamed that he was playing an entirely new game of cards with three friends; when he awoke the structure and rules of the new game, as created in the dream, came one by one into his memory, and he found them so ingenious that he afterwards frequently played the game. A case is cited where a gentleman in his sleep composed an ode in six stanzas and set it to music. Tartini, the celebrated Italian violinist, composed the "Devil's Sonata" in a dream. Lord Farlow, when a youth at college, found himself one evening unable to finish a piece of Latin composition which he had undertaken. He went to bed full of the subject, fell asleep, finished his Latin in his sleep, remembered it next morning, and was complimented on the felicitous form which it presented.

PLAINEST ROAD.—Choose ever the plainest road: it always answers best. For the same reason, choose ever to do and say what is the most just and the most direct. This conduct will save a thousand struggles and a thousand blushes, and will deliver you from those secret torments which are never failing attendants of dissimulation.

CARRIAGE AND FEET.—An eccentric banker was eyeing, with suspicious vision, a bill presented to him for discount. "Oh, you need not fear," said his palpitating customer; "one of the parties keeps his carriage." "Ah," rejoined the banker, "I shall be glad if he keeps his feet!"

"EARWRECKONSIBLEABLE" was the way a Pennsylvania youth spelled the word given out at a "match."

A CORDIAL WELCOME.—That guest must be hard to please who, having received a cordial welcome from his entertainers, finds fault with any small deficiencies at table. Therefore, good wife, if your husband brings home an unexpected guest, whom he has invited to dinner, don't feel it necessary, at the eleventh hour, to cook something extra. Your fine dinner, with its attendant irritation and upsetting, will taste no better than what you had prepared. Make no difference in your plans; seat your visitor with a smile and an easy greeting at your hospitable board, and he will feel more comfortable and happy than though you gave him a banquet. You save temper and trouble, and gain the enjoyment of giving your friend a cosy time. Few people in moderate circumstances have three or four courses on their tables daily, and the wholesome, hearty fare, with good nature and hospitable cordiality, will be flattered with a sweet, domestic sense that is invariably lost in grand dinners. Smiles and neatness are sauce for homely meals, and no meal is complete without them.

THE CREDIT SYSTEM.—A beautiful girl with a pair of pouting lips stepped into a store to buy a pair of mits. "How much are they?" "Why," said the gallant but imprudent clerk, lost in gazing upon her sparkling eyes and ruby lips, "you shall have them for a kiss!" "Agreed!" said the young lady, pocketing the gloves, and her eyes speaking daggers, "and as I see you give credit here, charge it on your books, and collect in it the best way you can!" so saying, she hastily tripped out at the door.

LAME BACK WEAK BACK

BENSON'S CAPSINE POROUS PLASTER.

Overwhelming evidence of their superiority over all other plasters. It is everywhere recommended by Physicians, Druggists and the Press.

The manufacturers received a special award and the only medal given for porous plasters at the Centennial Exposition, 1876, at the Paris Exposition, 1878. Their great merit lies in the fact that they are the only plasters which relieve pain at once.

PRICE 25 CENTS.

The Best Truss ever used.

The Genuine ELASTIC TRUSS is worn with perfect comfort night and day, retaining rupture under the heaviest exercise or severe strain. Sold at GREATLY REDUCED PRICES and sent by mail to all parts of the country. Send for full descriptive circular to N. Y. ELASTIC TRUSS CO., 288 Broadway, N. Y.

CHOSEN COMPANIONS.—Those persons who creep into the hearts of most people—who are chosen as the companions of their softer hours, and their reliefs from care and anxiety—are never persons of shining qualities or strong virtues. It is rather the soft green of the soul on which we rest our eyes, that are fatigued with beholding more glaring objects.

FORGETFUL.—There is a story going about of a man who resolved to give up drinking, and went to a temperance attorney to draw him up an affidavit to that effect. The document was drawn, read, and proved; the party held up his hand and murmured the usual promise. The paper was then properly sealed and delivered. "What's to pay?" asked the pledge-maker. "To pay—to pay?" exclaimed the attorney. "Nothing, of course—this is a labor of love." "Nothing to pay!" returned the grateful but very forgetful pledge-taker. "You are a brick. Let's take a drink."

TOO OLD.—An old hunter said, "I've known a great many foxes to grow gray, but I never knew one to grow good."

WHEAT AND BABIES.—Some ingenious observer has discovered that there is a remarkable resemblance between a baby and wheat, since it is cradled, then threshed, and finally becomes the flower of the family.

COOL.—A youngster, while warming his hands at the fire, was remonstrated with by his father, who said, "Go away from the fire, the weather is not cold."—"I ain't heating the weather, I'm warming my hands," the little fellow demurely replied.

WHAT language does an Arabian child speak before it cuts its teeth?—Gam Arabic, unquestionably.

MORE AFFABLE.—Why is a church bell more affable than a church organ?—Because one will go when it's tolled, but the other will be "blowed" first.

REQUEST

TO PATRONS OF THIS THEATRE. Don't Ough during the play. It destroys your own enjoyment as well as your neighbor's.

Between acts use a little BUCKE'S BONE-SETON, HONEY AND ROSEBUD (sold at neighboring restaurants). As a relief for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, etc., it is simply perfect. "Bucke's Bone-Seton, Honey and Rosebud" is a pure and delicious peppermint tonic—just what the doctor ordered. "Bucke's Bone-Seton, Honey and Rosebud" is sold everywhere. Don't forget the name.
