The People v. William Farley (Court of General Sessions. Part I. Before Judge Cowing. July 22. 1883.)

Indictment for grand larceny in the second degree

William H. Carnett sworn and examined.

Where do you live? No 454, West Fifth St.

What is your business? Contracting business, and own vessels. On the 9th of July did you see this defendant? I did. Will you state to the Court and jury under what circumstances? I came along from Fifty first st. towards Fifth St. I saw this Farley in possession of a policeman with this chain detached from the float stage or raft, and that partly over the bank with the intention of taking it away. What was he doing with this chain? He intended to take it away. About how long was it? Ninety feet.
What was its value? About thirty dollars. Did he get away with it? No sir. Did you ~~stop~~ ^{stop} him? The watchman I have employed stopped him and notified the policeman.

You recovered the chain? Yes. Were you present when he was arrested? I was. The chain was in his possession. He took it about forty feet from the water. Where was this? Between Forty ninth and Fifth Sts. in this city, North River. I saw the prisoner with the chain in his possession. Cross Examined. He was sitting by this chain with the hammer in his hand after loosing it from the raft. I do not know that he did loose it from the raft. I did not see him try to take it away. I did not see the watchman stop him; the watchman's name is Jacob Foster; he has charge of the manure beds. It was coiled up near him. How much would that chain weigh? About four hundred pounds. Could a man get away with it? No not very easy. He must have been aided by somebody else? There was three or four others with him. At the time you say the chain was taken away from your place was there anybody with him then? There was two more of them with him then. One of those men pleaded guilty did he not? Yes sir.

Jacob Foster sworn. I live in Fiftieth St. and shovel on a manure boat upon the North river. I saw the prisoner Farley on the day in question. I stopped him three times on the chain. I went away and looked for the boss. I saw him have hold of the chain; he took a big smith hammer and took the chains off. Where was the chain? The chain lay down in the water; it was fastened to a post. I saw him take it down a little. Was anybody else with him? Three boys; he was one of them. How far off did he take the chain? I believe forty feet. I went away and looked for and got a policeman. Cross Examined. What time was this? One o'clock in the day time. The other boys took the chain out of the water and this boy (the defendant) took the chain off the post.

William P. M. Keen sworn. You are a police officer in this city? Yes sir. What precinct? The twenty second. Did you arrest the defendant in this case on the 9th of July? Yes sir. State the circumstances? I did not see the chain detached by the defendant; the chain was pulled out on the hill.

By the Court. He was sitting beside it? Yes sir; he had a horse shoe hammer between his legs.

Cross Examined. I found the chain close at the prisoner's feet about forty five feet from the water. They saw me coming from the bath house. Did you have any conversation with the prisoner? No more than when I arrested him he wanted to know what the hell I was going to do with him? I said, "I am going to take you with me." "I have not got anything to do with this chain," he said. I said, "He will find out whether you have or not." So I took him to the station house.

His wife and relatives in the West know nothing of this indictment against him, and if he was brought on here for trial it would be his ruin. The complainant in the case was long ago satisfied that Forham was not guilty and she will never appear. In my utter surprise and astonishment to-day I learned that the case was called by you before Recorder Smyth, and the dependants not answering the bonds were declared forfeited. I am put in a very peculiar position in this matter and the only way that it can be satisfactorily settled is for you to ask the Recorder to dismiss the indictment. The fact that the forfeited bail bonds will not be entered against the bondsmen, will not do. The case should be dismissed.

Frances S. West, complainant, further examined, testifies as follows

Q. (By Court) At what time of day did you lose your money, and at what time did the defendant return portion of it? And state any further circumstances regarding the larceny now occurring to you.

A. I missed it about five o'clock. The portion returned was given back about a half hour later. I saw it about two hours before missing it - about three o'clock. I had the handkerchief in which the money was tied up tucked into the opening of my waist in front where it buttons. I had an apron on. I took off my apron about three o'clock and probably dropped the money then. The defendant and his companion, whose name I do not know, were at work putting up wire screens. There were no other strangers in the house from the time I saw the money up to the time part of it was returned to me. The defendant and his companion were sitting together when I asked them "Have you seen anything ^{lost} of a handkerchief?" Both answered no. I then went and locked the gate and said to them "I am sorry to detain you. I don't suspect you. But I have lost some money and want you to stay until I find it". We went on looking for the money. I went up stairs and when I came down the defendant here said that he wanted to speak to me for a moment. We went into the back yard and the defendant handed me $160# in a roll just as I had lost it, speaking to me as stated in the complaint. I asked for the rest, and he said that he knew nothing about it. I asked him where he got the money and he answered that his friend, whom he called Mike, had just handed it to him. I asked him to try and get the rest for me. He said he did not think Mike took any more. We then went into the dining room where Mike was. I asked Mike where he found that money. He answered "on the stairs". I asked "Where is the rest of it?" He answered "I didn't see any more". I asked where was the handkerchief the money was tied up in. He said that he did not see it. In the handkerchief there were two rolls of money, one of $160# and the other of $50#, two twenty dollar bills and one ten dollar bill. No portion of the smaller roll or the handwriting was ever found.

Frances S. West, further examined, says as follows, questioned by Court:

Q. State why you waited so long before making the complaint?

A. I had recovered the $160. I told the young men that if they would return the $50# additional I would not prosecute, and that I would wait until the following Saturday and say no more about it. They did not do it, and I was advised to come to Court and I did so.

Q. What did Mike say to you about finding the money? Who was present?

A. Mike told me in the presence of the prisoner that he had found the money. That is what he, Mike, had found it.

Grand Larceny
Second Degree

Hon. Randolph B. Martine, District Attorney,

Sir :

The defendants herein are charged with the larceny of two hundred and ten dollars from Mrs. Frances S. West, the complainant, upon June 16, 1885, under the following circumstances, as stated by complainant:

The defendants were employed in complainant's house on the day in question, putting up wire screens. Complainant had the money tied up in a handkerchief, which she had pushed into the waist of her dress, in front. At about three o'clock on the afternoon in question, she took off her apron, and believes that she then dropped the money. She first missed it at about five o'clock, locked the gate of the premises, informed the defendants that she had lost some money; that she did not suspect them, but that they would have to stay until she had found it. She then proceeded to look for the money, and in about half an hour's time after she had first inquired of the defendants concerning it, defendant Forhan called her into the back yard and gave her one hundred and ~~fifty~~^{sixty} dollars of the lost money, saying that the defendant Smith had found it and given it to him, and that "He would not have had this happen for one thousand dollars." She asked for the remaining fifty, when he said he knew nothing of it. Defendant Smith made the same statement to complainant in defendant Forhan's presence, saying that he had found the money returned, and no more, on the stairs. He also denied having seen the handkerchief in which the complainant stated the money had been placed. The money, according to complainant's statement, was in two rolls, one of one hundred and sixty dollars, which was returned, and the other of fifty dollars which, with the handkerchief, was never found.

On the 26th day of June, 1885, ten days afterwards, complainant made information in the Police Court, charging defendants with ^{the} larceny of the money. When asked why she had so long delayed in making her complaint, she stated "that she had told defendants that if they would return the fifty dollars additional, she would not prosecute, and that she would wait until the following Saturday, and say no more about it. They did not do it, and she was advised to come to court, and she did so."

Some months ago, complainant, in company with her husband, called upon me, and expressed her desire to withdraw the complaint theretofore made, but as she could furnish no basis for such withdrawal other than her information that the defendants were respectably connected, and her intention to leave the State for a long period, for her health, I did not feel that any action would be warranted upon such a withdrawal. Complainant subsequently did leave the State, and now resides, as I am informed, in Virginia. A letter from her husband, written at my suggestion, and expressing her willingness that the prosecution should be discontinued, is hereto appended.

Affidavits and statements hereto attached, are now submitted on behalf of the defendant Forhan, on an application for his discharge on his own recognizance. They are presented by reputable citizens, who speak strongly as to his uniform good character and the confidence always reposed in him. They allege, that since the finding of this indictment, he has taken up his permanent residence in Detroit, Michigan, married there, and is now in a position of trust in a financial institution of that city, and that his wife and connections by marriage are ignorant of the existence of this charge.

Without adverting particularly to the case against defendant Forhan, which, upon the evidence presented, appears to me, to say the least, to admit of reasonable doubt as to his guilt, I consider the papers submitted to justify the granting of the application, and I accordingly recommend that the said defendant be discharged on his own recognizance, and that his bail be released from further liability.

Yours respectfully,

My dear Mr. Martine:---

A young man named Forham was long ago jointly indicted with one Smith, for the crime of grand larceny in stealing $40 from a woman. Certain friends of Forham's came to me a short time ago and begged me to intercede in his behalf. Forham was admitted to bail at the time of his indictment, and went to Detroit, where he has since married, and now lives. His wife and other relatives in that city know nothing of the indictment which hangs over him in your office. He is leading a very exemplary life, and occupying a position of trust in a financial institution in that city.

The amount which it was alleged was taken from the woman, was long ago paid to her. She is now in Norfolk, Va., and is in such a delicate state of health that she will never return to New York. A short time ago I brought these facts to the attention of your chief clerk, Mr. Parker, and he promised to do what he could in the matter to secure the dismissal of the indictment. Several affidavits as to the character of Forham were presented to Mr. Parker, and seemed to be very satisfactory to him. He turned the matter over to Mr. Davis, one of your assistants, with ~~instructions~~ the understanding that one of the judges of the court of General

The case was called for trial, and the bail declared forfeited. Of course, this mixed up matters very much. I now appeal to you to interest yourself in the matter.
