The People
vs.
James Asher.

Court of General Sessions, Part I.
Before Judge Cowing.

August 10, 1886.

Indictment for grand larceny.

Lizzie Hart sworn and examined. I was on Park Row on the morning of August 2 in this city about halfpast one o'clock and had a purse in my hand containing two dollars which belonged to me, I saw the prisoner, I went to Coney Island Monday afternoon and I happened to miss a train and I and my lady friend who lives in Brooklyn caught an excursion train, I crossed the bridge and heard some hissing and paid no attention, I got off the Bridge and heard somebody mention my name, as I did that Mr. Asher said, hello, what is your hurry, I said, this is no hour of the night to converse, I am in a hurry to get off; he says, you are getting independent. I says, no not at all, I must be off, I walked the distance of half a block, he stopped me and asked me, have you got change of five dollars, I said, all I had was two dollars and some odd cents. He took the purse and ran across the street. I chased after him and screamed, he used profane language and took out of his pocket a little penknife and said, I will dig you with this knife. I said, I will keep on and have you arrested, I walked down the street and asked the officer to arrest him that he took two dollars of my money and when he was searched it was found on him.

Cross Examined. I went to Brooklyn across the 23rd Street ferry to go to Coney Island and took a car, I am not very well acquainted in Brooklyn, that was my first time this summer, I live at 216 Crystie Street, I never was arrested and in the Tombs police Court, my business is working at purses and hand satchels for Schauer Bros. 39 & 41 Water Street for four years steady, I live with my mother, Clara Moore is the name of the lady friend I went with to Coney Island. When I crossed the Bridge to New York I was waiting for a car to go uptown; the prisoner accosted me about a block and a half from the Bridge. I have seen the prisoner twice before in New York, I had only a slight acquaintance with him, this lady friend in Brooklyn introduced me to him, I never spoke to him only saw him conversing with my lady friend, it is a mistake, I did not get an introduction to him. He snatched my purse out of my hand and went behind the milk wagon, I identified the two dollar bill, I had my purse in my hand when the policeman came up, I saw the prisoner drop the purse and I picked it up.

Henry Norton sworn. I am an officer of the 6th precinct and was on duty about half past one or two o'clock in the morning on Park Row upon August 2nd, I was at the corner of Chamber Street and Park Row, I heard someone scream and looking in that direction I saw the prisoner James Asher crossing Park Row to the same side of the street that I was on and the complainant was running after him, he was walking fast and the girl told me that he had stolen two dollars from her pocket book, she said it was a worn bill. I took him to the Station House and found this bill on him.

(Asher)

Dennis Ring sworn for the defence testified I live 213 East Thirty Fourth St. and keep a saloon; have known the prisoner three years and never knew him to do wrong; he has always worked. I visited him at his house in Brooklyn.

Charlotte E. Asher sworn. I am the wife of the prisoner and have been married four years. I have had two children - one is living. My husband has been working for the last four years. His character has been very good. I have nothing to say against him. He has never been arrested since I have been married; he has always worked and supported me. James Asher sworn. I am a carpenter; have been in this country three years next Feb. I was married in England. I worked for Allen and Linp City Fifth St. and Broadway. I never worked for Mr. Walker, but have had business transactions with him. He loaned me several amounts and I always paid him back again. I never saw the complainant before the night I met her in Chamber St. On this evening I went up from my house in Brooklyn to Seventy Sixth St. expecting to get employment. I did not get any and had a couple of glasses of beer with a friend and then took the Elevated and got off at Chatham Square. This girl accosted me on the street and said, "Would I go and have a good time?" I asked her what it would cost and she said a dollar. I finally consented and she took me to a house in Pearl St. and I had intercourse with her. She demanded another dollar that was a two dollar bill. I told her that was all the money I had. I could get before my wife came from Coney Island; she said she would have to have another dollar before she went to bed that night from somebody else. She followed me. I went from Pearl St to Duane St. I saw two officers. I gave myself up. I said, "This girl accused me of stealing two dollars. I told the officer if he had suspicion I would give him my address and he could examine me. I earn $3.50 a day when I am working. I sent my wife and child down to Coney Island for a week for the benefit of their health." The jury rendered a verdict of guilty with a recommendation to mercy.

Pedigree of Lissie Hart, otherwise known as Englehart.

I respectfully report as follows: Her real name is Lizzie Englehart - her mother lives at 169 Forsyth street now. In 1883 she was married to a fellow named Arnold, who was afterwards arrested for burglary and sentenced on March 6th 1884, to the Elmira Reformatory, by Recorder Smyth. This Lizzie Englehart had two children, who died and they were both buried by Mr. Stalzenberger of 82 Stanton St., they were buried under the name of Arnold. On the 15th of this month she moved to No. 6 First St. with a man named Max Schwab, they lived there as man and wife, in a furnished room. On the 5th of July she sneaked down stairs in the kitchen and stole a silk dress, two skirts and one apron and a jersey, all of the value of $20.. Mrs. Weiss the occupant of this house called upon Detective Bizzard of the 17th precinct and went with him to 230 Christy St. As soon as Lizzie saw the Detective with Mrs. Weiss she immediately called Mrs. Weiss, and said that she would return her property. Detective Bizzard knows her as a "cruiser" The house where she lived, 230 Christy St., she was dispossessed. The lady who she claims is her sister, is not her sister. She is known as a variety singer, has sang in a variety show in 59th street and at Adam Ganzer's. And in my opinion, based on information and belief, she is unworthy of belief.

I have subpoenaed Detective Bizzard, who will see Mr. Bedford on the day of the trial, and who will give her true character. Where she lived at 230 Christy St., where she was dispossessed.. The neighbors claim that she went out evenings but never saw her come in - heard a noise about one or two o'clock in the morning, and never got up until about twelve in the day. She claims now that she is pregnant, and this Max Schwab, who is living with her as her husband at No. 6 First St. is the father of the child Max Schwab lives at 247 Rowery and Mrs. Weiss lives at No. 6 First street - she is willing to testify. The last child died on the 17th of March and was buried on the 19, March, this year, its name was Arnold.

Very respectfully.

Jacob VonGreichten.

August 11th 1886

Messrs. Blake & Sullivan
Gentlemen:

Replying to your favor of this date we beg to say that the name of Lizzie Hart does not appear upon our books as ever having been employed by us, but we have employed over a year ago one by the name of Lizzie Englehardt; nevertheless we are unable to pass an opinion upon the girls employed by us as we do not have any occasion to be among them. believe us.

Truly Yours

Hon. Judge Coving

I would respectfully
report the character of James Asher defendant
and Lizzie Hart Compl:

Lizzie Hart lives with a family named Fuchs at 216 Chrystie Street. She moved to the above place on July 17th of this year
the tenants in the house know nothing about her character but
the house keeper says that she and Mrs Fuchs goes out every evening and is said they go to Billy McFlory's Hall on Hester St.
Mr Schenck & Son of 39-41 Walker St.
states that they never had a girl
by the name of Lizzie Hart
in their employ. But tracing back about 15 months they find that a Lizzie Engelhard
had been employed and from description is the same girl

City & County of
New York.

and her reputation is not
the best and <sup>the</sup> rest of the Girls
at Schenck's employ would not associate with her.

James Asher the defendant.

I seen Mr Charles Walker with
The Firm of Herman & Sternback 476
B'way has known Asher about three years and saw him daily and speaks of <sup>him</sup> as a honest hard working
man. is married and one child
living in Brooklyn.

Mr Dennis Ring 213 East 34th St.
has known him for three years
during that time seen him twice
or three times a week as a honest simple hard working man.

Mr Ring and Mr Walker will be in Court this morning. You, D.
