PEOPLE ON MY COMPLAINT,

Friedrich Zaich

As complainant in the above case, I beg to recommend the defendant to such leniency and clemency as the Court and District Attorney may see fit to show; but I expressly assert that my reasons for so doing are not controlled by any advantage to myself.

The reason for my so doing is the fact that both the defendant and myself have been friends for over an year; we were skylarking at the time of the occurrence and I was accidentally caught.

At the police court I did not desire to make any complaint and so stated to the Magistrate but he held the defendant notwithstanding without examination;

I know that the defendant would not intentionally do me an injury Henry Hoehler

New York, October 26th, 1893.

A P P E A R A N C E S:

For the People, Assistant District Attorney Henry
D. Macdona;

For the Defendant, Mr. A. H. Evans.

SCHREMLER,
EVA ~~ZEREMBA~~ witness for the People, sworn, testified:

On the ninth of September last I lived at 314 East Eleventh Street with my son. When I woke up on that day I missed some money and a gold chain. The money was two hundred dollars and the chain was valued at about forty dollars. The money and the chain I put under my pillow when I went to bed about twelve o'clock the night before. At eight o'clock in the morning I woke up and my money was gone. There was nobody in my apartments at the time I went to bed but myself and my son.
When I woke up there was nobody there except my son and myself. My son is ten years old going on eleven.

CROSS EXAMINATION.

To my knowledge my little son did not leave the room during that night. I slept alone in my bed and my boy slept on the sofa. The defendant did not sleep with me on that night. He lived in Twelfth Street and I lived in Eleventh Street. He did not sleep with me the night before. We have not been living together as husband and wife, neither in Eleventh Street or anywhere else. I have known him for about two years. I came over to this country on the same steamer with him, but I had been in America before. When we landed in this country the defendant had no money. He was afraid they wouldn't let him land, and he registered me as his wife. I didn't tell him to do that, but he did it of his own accord. I never lived with this man as his wife. He has lived in the same house with me at different times. He got his mail at my house on various occasions. I never lived with the defendant on Eleventh Street or any other place as his wife. At one place ~~where~~ where I lived the defendant's name was on the letter box. My little boy was entered in the school under the defendant's name, but when I found it out I stopped it. The defendant had no authority to use my money. The defendant very frequently asked me to loan him my chain. On one or two occasions I did so. I was arrested once--I believe the charge was for soliciting on the street, but I was not guilty of anything of the kind. The policeman was drunk. I met Zeremba in the street when I was under arrest and I told him the policeman was drunk. He had on his uniform. The following morning I was fined three dollars in the Police Court.

DENIS GRADY, a witness for the People, sworn, testified:

I am an officer attached to the Central Office. I arrested the defendant on September 27th at Avenue A and Third Street on the complaint of the first witness. I had a conversation with him. There was two other men with him at the time. Officer Doran and I came down on the other side of the street. I walked to one side of the street and Doran walked across and tapped the defendant on the shoulder. He told him that he was wanted for robbing a woman in Eleventh Street out of two hundred dollars and a chain. The defendant said he had nothing to do with it. He came along with us to the station house. He did not say whether he had got the money or not, but he said "I will go with you." At the station house the complaint was made by this woman. We searched him in the station house and he says "I have got no money." I went through all his pockets and found forty-five dollars in bills. I said to him, "You told me you had no money." He said "It wasn't two hundred dollars, it was eighty dollars"-- he said he took eighty in place of two hundred.. I asked him where the rest of the eighty dollars was and he couldn't explain it. I found the chain on him.

It was in his vest and exposed to view. In open court he said that he took eighty dollars and not two hundred dollars, and that it was his money. At any time when he was questioned about the matter he admitted taking eighty dollars and denied having taken two hundred dollars. He said that the woman gave him permission to wear the chain.

STANISLAUS SCHREMLER, a witness for the People, sworn, testified:

I am ten years of age and know what it is to take an oath. I am the son of the complaining witness in this case. I lived with my mother, On the ninth of September in East Eleventh Street. On the morning of the ninth of September I recollect seeing this defendant at the door of my mother's apartment. He knocked at the door. I opened it and he came in. He first asked me if my mother was asleep. I said "Yes, she is asleep." He sat down on the sofa and said he would read his paper. He took out a paper and commenced reading it. I then saw him go to the bed and put his hand under the pillow. When I saw that he put his hand under the pillow I looked to see how much money he took out but he had already put the money in his pocket. I did not see him take the chain, but the chain was missing afterwards.

C R O S S E X A M I N A T I O N.

I have frequently seen the defendant at our house.

He lived in Twelfth Street. I slept in the same room with my mother on the sofa every night. I never saw the defendant sleeping there. He frequently came in to see my mother. I did not tell my mother of what I had seen the defendant do until she woke up. My mother did not wake up until about eight o'clock. It was seven o'clock when the defendant came in and took the money from under the pillow.

D E F E N S E.

Michlislaut ZEREMBA, the defendant, being sworn, testified:

I live at 314 East Eleventh Street. When I was arrested I lived at 81st Street corner of First Avenue. I had lived there for eight or nine days. I lived in Eleventh Street with the complaining witness. She passed under my name for about seven months. We lived together in that house and were known as man and wife. I slept in a bed room in the same apartments as the complainant. On the night of this occurrence I did not take the money from under the woman's pillow at all. The money was in the centre room in a closet where I always keep my money. I took eighty-five dollars on that morning. It was my own money. I got it in Europe before I came to this country. The chain which was found on me was loaned to me by the complainant. I had her permission to wear it. I did not take two hundred dollars or any sum of money from this woman.

The money which was found on me did not belong to her.
I deny the story of her son when he says that I was in her room and took the money from under he pillow. I was not in her room before going out on that day.

C R O S S E X A M I N A T I O N .

I was present the day the woman was arrested by an officer for soliciting on the street. I had some words with her after she was arrested. I landed in this country on the 10th of March, 1893. I had money enough to support me since that time, and I have done no work. It is not true that I served a term of two and a half years in prison at Cracow for larceny.
I was employed in the prison as a book-keeper.

FRANK HIRSCH, a witness for the defendant, sworn, testified:

I live at 143 Orchard Street. I know the complainant in this case. I have frequently seen the defendant wear the watch chain which was found in his possession on the day of his arrest.

JOSEPH WHITAKER, a witness for the defendant,
sworn , testified:

I know the defendant and I know the complainant.
I have frequently seen the defendant wear the chain

0000 which was found on him at the time of his arrest. I did not know whom it belonged to and never asked him that question.

MAX DICH, a witness for the defendant, sworn, testified.

I know defendant and I know complainant, and I know both of them about six months. I had a conversation after the defendant's arrest with the complainant and she said the defendant did not leave any money in the house; "I haven't got any money." She asked me would I go and get a dollar from the defendant for her.

STANISLAUS SCHREMLER recalled, testified.

I have seen the defendant before. I went to see him in the Tombs and he told me if I would change my testimony he would buy me a velocipede and give me some money when he got out. I have seen the defendant in prison in Cracow, when I was over there with my mother. He was not there as a book-keeper but as a convict.

EVA SCHREMLER, the complainant, recalled.

It is not true that the defendant lived with me in Eleventh Street as my husband. The money that he took did not belong to him, but was under my pillow in my room as I have stated.

The Jury returned a verdict convicting the defendant of grand larceny in the second degree.
