have made many efforts
to find the complainant
Grad, but that he has left his former address & they have been unable to find him. They also inform me that Officer Stoll, who is now on his vacation, is unable to find the com-

Under the circumstances it seems proper that the defendant be discharged

BRISTOWE.

Captain Max F. Schnittberger.

I am attached to 9 precinct formerly ~~to~~ 27^e precinct.

On Monday night about half past 12 o'clock detective Farley brought the prisoner to the station house under arrest, charged with homicide. The prisoner was arraigned before the desk and I told him what the charge against him was & I questioned him.

He then had an abrasion of the skin on the right cheek bone about an inch long, & an eighth of an inch wide running diagonally, and he had another scratch on the inside of the nose, here on the left side. I questioned him how he had received those scratches or wounds and he said he had received them at the time this woman had assaulted him on 3d Ave. on the preceding Saturday. He was locked up and taken to court on Tuesday morning and remanded by Justice Meade to the station house.

On Tuesday he was brought before me and I informed him of his rights, that he need not answer any question, that he had a right to refuse and also to caution him that anything he might say might be used against him in any proceeding hereafter. He then made the following statement.

PRECINCT NO.27.....

NEW YORK NOV.22 1892.

My name is Thomas H. Bristow. I am 25 yrs. old and reside at 1677 3d Ave. and my business is steam carpet cleaning at 226 E. 42 St. I have known Ida Jackson deceased the last six years, I have visited Ida Jackson four or five times during the six years. I have been intimate with her only once, she claims I am father of ^{the} child but I am not. The last time I visited her was last July when she wanted money for to destroy said child, and threatened me if I did not do it.

I did not give her any money, the reason I do not believe I am the father of the child is, I have been intimate with her in February and on counting the birth of the child it is only eight months, the last time I saw deceased was on last Saturday Nov. 19th at about 2.30 P.M. when she called at the place I worked, she again demanded money and she said she would not leave till I got paid off at 5 P.M. I left the works with Joseph Watts and went towards 3d Ave., she got a hold of my arm and said what was I going to do, I pushed her away and told her to let me alone, she then struck at me and scratched me with her finger nail, Walter James one of the work hands, pushed me away and out into the street, I then went to 41 St. and 3d Ave, where I met a police officer and told him to arrest her and he did, and took her to 35 St. station where I charged her with assault. The Sergeant in charge asked whose child that was, which deceased carried in her arms, and deceased answered that I was the father of the child that I lived with her for a year, the sergeant told her to go to court and tell her statement to the Judge. I left ^{the} station house intending to take elevated cars, when she followed me, at the N.E. Cor. of 34 St. and 3 Ave. I met a police officer and told him that we had just been to the station house, and I told him that deceased kept following me, the officer made no reply but waved his hands for us to go I then went to the Elevated station, I bought two tickets, one for myself and one for James Crosby who lives at 165 E. 97 St. as I was dropping the two tickets in the box, deceased grabbed my hat, we took the short road to 2d Ave. and rode to 42d Street where we got off, I requested James Crosby to go to my employers house Peter Freeman 232 E. 42d St. to get keys for the shop we went to the factory where I got hat and sent Crosby back with the keys to the boss's house and waited for the return of said Crosby we again took the elevated to 42d Str. and got off at 57 Street and walked across 57 Str. to 6th Ave. and took surface car at 6th Ave. we rode to 6th Ave. and 30th Street, got off and walked to 7th Ave, and returned again to 6th Ave. where I met William Jackson who is employed in same shop. We walked up 6th Ave. to 34th St. and through 34th to 3d Ave, took elevated uptown to 99th Str. I was afraid of deceased as I had a great deal of trouble with her as she had stoned me at 3d Ave. between 98 and 99th Sts, on July 4th last.

We walked uptown on west side of 3d Ave. we then went to the "World Saloon" at 9.30 P.M. the reason I know the time my friend looked at his watch, I remained in saloon two hours, Edward Kietch sat at the table with me and I remained till 11.30 P.M. Hugh McCabe was also there, I then went through the pool room, one flight of stairs to my room which is on the second floor and went to bed, I got up at 8.30 A.M. Sunday morning, at 2 A.M. Hugh McCabe who was under the influence of liquor came to my room and woke me up, he knocked at my door, I told him to go to bed, with him was Edward Kieth, who induced him to go to bed I came down at 8.30 A.M. to get my breakfast, I left at 8.40 to go to 42d. St to feed my horses, I returned on Elevated Railroad to 84th Str. I stopped on 3d Ave and 87 St. and stopped in barber shop to get shaved I think it was 10.10 when I got back to my boarding place at 10.30 A.M. my sister came to see me her name is Mary Owens of 165 E. 97 St. she informed me of the death of Ida Jackson that was the first I knew of her death. I simply said if she is dead, she is dead I made no further inquiries about her death, I played a few games of pool with my nephew William Bolden of 165 E. 97 St.

Ida Jackson always had the door locked and I had to knock when she would open the door from within. I never had a key this is all I desire to say, I have made this statement voluntarily, having been advised as to my rights and cautioned that anything I said might be used as evidence against me.

PEOPLE v BRISTOW

THOMAS H. BRISTOW et al. - defendant

I live at No. 1677 Third Avenue; I am a steam carpet cleaner in the employment of Every & Freeman, No. 226 East 42nd Street; am single, have never been married. Have never been arrested to this time; have lived in New York City 16 years. Have worked four to five years with Every & Freeman. I formed the acquaintance of Ida E. ~~Jackson~~ Jackson at the house where she lived, No. 169 East 77th Street. Have only visited her about five times during my life.

The first time I visited her was in the latter part of September 1891; the last time I visited her was last July.

I had one criminal intercourse with Ida Jackson, the deceased, the latter part of February last. 1892

On Saturday afternoon she came to the place where I am employed and said "Tom, I want to see you," I said "I am here you can see me" she said "Are you going to give me some money?" I said "No, go away from here and don't bother me" She said "I will stay here until you are paid off" I went back to the storeroom where I remained until it was time to feed the horses and she was in the office. After I fed the horses we came back to the factory again to get paid off, and she was walking up and down 42nd Street by the door.

She assaulted me at the corner of 42nd Street and Third Avenue. It was about five o'clock.

Some of my friends saw the woman push me out in the street and said "Don't bother the woman"

She struck me on the left side of the mouth--one blow.

I did not strike her.

She gave me a small ^{or scrape} scrape on the inner corner of the left eye.

We went down to 34th Street and Third Avenue, myself Johnson, Watts and Walter James. I saw an officer coming towards me. I spoke to him and said "Officer, will you arrest this woman, she has assaulted me and is continually following me from place to place" He took us down to the 21st Precinct. He said "Sergeant, this man makes a complaint of assault against this woman. The sergeant looked at me; he said "Did this woman strike you? I said "Yes, on the left side of my mouth" He said "Whose child is that in her arms?" I said "I don't know" and she answered "He is the father of that child" The sergeant then told her "You go before ~~the~~ Judge and make that statement to him" That ended our examination there. We all went out together. Ida Jackson, Joseph Watts, James Crosby, Walter James and myself. We went to 34th Street and Third Avenue, on the north east corner I met an officer and said to him "this woman follows me & we were just dismissed from the 21st Precinct Station; he waved his hand to me to go on, and we went up to the elevated station; I purchased two tickets and going to the ticket box I dropped one of the tickets; that delayed me some time and going through the gate she run up behind me and grabbed my hat; I pushed her and said

"Don't bother about that" Then there is a short ride to 2nd Avenue and we went to 42nd Street; we got off there and I sent him in the house where my employer lives to get the keys to get another hat; I got another hat and sent him back with the keys and waited at the gate for his return and we got on the elevated at 42nd Street and intended to go home. I said to him "If I go to the house there will be another disturbance, we will go over to the west side" and turned there to walk to 57th Street and Second Avenue. We walked across to 57th Street and Fifth Avenue taking a surface car to 30th Street and we walked from there to Seventh Avenue, we came back to 30th Street and Sixth Avenue again and met another workman of the shop by the name of William Jackson. We spoke to him and came up to 34th Street; we came across to Third Avenue and took the elevated to 89th Street, when we got off and walked up the west side of the avenue to 94th Street and we came into the saloon there and at that time it was 9.30 I was in the saloon two hours and at 11:30 I went to bed, and the two boarders going to bed at two o'clock, I suppose it was; I was awakened from my slumber by somebody knocking at the door; I told one of them he had better go to bed, knowing he was somewhat under the influence of liquor. I arose at 9.30 in the morning I got up at 8.30. I started down 42nd Street at 8.40; I went down to feed the horses and stopped in the barber's shop. I walked up to 87th Street and stopped in the barber's shop there. I returned back to the saloon about ten o'clock in the morning; about 10.30 A.M. on Sunday my sister came in and informed me of the death of Ida Jackson.

I worked on Monday. On Monday night I attended a meeting, 108 West 32nd Street. A Committee for the Grand Matser of a lodge--No. 1. I am a member of that body.

I arrived home at 12 o'clock and was arrested by officer Farley.

I never visited Ida Jackson after July. I was not in her room on the Monday preceding her murder.

I drank about four to five glasses of beer Saturday night.

When my sister told me that Ida was dead I said "if she is dead, I cannot help it" I did not inquire what she died from.

I told the captain the small scratch on my nose was inflicted by Ida Jackson at 42nd Street and Third Avenue, on Saturday evening; and I told him the bruise on my face I received in the store room, getting carpet out Monday morning; the scratch was received from Ida Jackson when she assaulted me on Saturday. She was a woman of violent temper.

I have seen Gertie Simon; I met her in her mother's house Xmas Sunday last; she showed me a circular of sort of mission she attended at 101st Street and Third Avenue and I bought a ticket from her. I heard her testimony this morning in which she states that I gave her two cents when she asked me for it; that is absolutely false. I know James Brown; I saw him on Saturday evening before the murder in the saloon about eleven o'clock.

Cornelia Ridgley, being duly sworn before and dep., -

I now reside 206 E. 97 st. New York City, formerly 158 E. 98 st, in the same house occupied by Ida E. Jackson, now deceased; I am a married woman and live with my husband James Ridgley. He is a laborer. I have lived here 8 years, my old home is Richmond, Va. -

I became acquainted with Ida E. Jackson in 103 St. & 3d Ave, some 3 or 4 years ago, and saw her constantly since ~~the winter~~ ^{about the winter} of 1892, because we at that time moved over to 158 E. 98 st, the house in which Mrs. Jackson died. - I have never seen Thomas H. Cristow in Mrs. Jackson's rooms, but I have often seen him in our house going up stairs. My husband and I occupy 3 rear rooms in 158 E. 98 and Ida E. Jackson occupied three rooms on top floor rear of the same building. - Ida told me in response to my query "who is your fellow now", ~~said to me,~~

1st floor

Oh, I got a nice fellow now, he gives me something, he works every day, and is not like the other old nigger I had; you will see him come up stairs some night. I have seen Bristow and Ida together very often on the street.

On Saturday night November the 19th ~~at~~ after midnight, November 20th, my husband and Frank H. they were ~~playing cards~~ in my room playing cards and drinking beer. They asked me to go out and get a pitcher of beer, I declined to do so because it was so late, but after considerable urging on my husband's part I consented to go, and as I walked out of the hallway to the street to go to a saloon on the corner of 3d ave and 98th I saw Ida E. Jackson and Thomas H. Bristow directly in front of a grocery store, adjoining the hall, quarrelling and gesticulating. He said for God damn sake of ditch, get away from me or I'll kill you. And she ^{said all I want is money} reciprocated ^{wouldnt} ~~with the~~ ^{same} ~~language~~ ^{language}. They were ^{on down} cursing themselves up and down for all they could think of, I passed by and went for the beer; the saloon was closed & I went into the side door ^{of the saloon} when I came out I saw them on the corner, right ^{along} side of the liquor store. I forgot to say that I heard her say in front of the grocery store that she wanted money from him to buy food for his child. She said she didn't want money for herself but for ^{the support of} her child. They were still standing on the corner when I went into the house fussing. -

I told my husband about the fuss that was going on in the street. -

It was about 4 o'clock Sunday morning when I heard a terrible commotion on the stairs, it seemed as though a man was running at high speed down stairs and slammed the door to as he ran out into the street.

I had no personal acquaintance with Bristow and never spoke to him in my life that I can remember.

I did not know Ida Jackson ^{personally}. Have seen her often in the street.-

I have never acted as her medical adviser.-

I was called to the house on Sunday morning. A child came to me, ~~there~~ ^{house} and said there was a woman in the 98 Str. either in a trance or dead, and asked me to come forthwith and pacify the relatives in the house.

I went there and found her in bed and made a physical examination and pronounced the woman dead.

They asked me about heart disease and I said I was not in position to say; I said, probably so.

I examined the mouth, the eyes
I examined the mouth, the eyes the pulse and chest.

I did not touch any part of her head. On Monday I called again at the request of Mr. Tulford, a brother-in-law of deceased, who told me there had been an abrasion detected on top of the head.

I found quite an abrasion in the centre part of the median line; there seemed to be a small piece of scalp removed, about the size of a quarter; in that I detected some blood.

~~Tell the jury what you mean by an abrasion.~~

An abrasion is, where the skin has been broken to a great extent by some instrument and released ^{from} other tissues and

I was called Sunday morning about 11 O'clock to attend my friend Ida E. Jackson. I looked upon her time and ~~and~~ again and after a while the authorities gave me leave to take charge of the body. I raised her head and the blood began to flow pretty free. I examined the head and found a piece missing. I couldn't see the missing piece. A man, two women & I took her out of bed, put her on the floor and bathed her as best we could & dressed her.

I thought she came to her death by this blow on her head, because her skull was knocked in. The wound was as large around as a 25¢ piece. There was also a little mark on her chin.

Ida Jackson weighed about 170 to 200 lbs.-

I went to the house in answer to a call for the coroner on the 21st of November and on reaching the house I was shown the body of deceased & requested to examine her carefully which I did, and found a wound on top of the head, two wounds, and it being late in the day I told them it would be necessary to have the body taken across ^{to} the undertaker until I could make the autopsy on the next day; I made this arrangement with the undertaker and before leaving the room my attention was called by a lady, whose name I don't know, to an old hat and a stone wrapped up in a rag, she told me that those were lying right there where they had been lying ~~there~~ all the time.-

The wound was right on top of the head. It could have been inflicted by a stone.

It took considerable strength to inflict such a blow.

It is a pretty heavy stone, a man of ordinary strength could strike a good blow with that.

I think the fracture of the rib was done in handling the body, it was a post mortem fracture.

A person might have lived two or three hours after receiving a blow like that.

There was very little external bleeding, the most was internally it was one of those bruises or cuts where there is not much bleeding from.

An old lady with specks on was the one who told me that the stone was there all the time.

Wm. A. Conway, deputy Coroner.

I have made an autopsy of the body of Ida E. Jackson now lying dead at 158 E. 98 St. and from such autopsy and history of the case, as per testimony, I am of opinion the cause of death is Intra Cranial Hoemorrhage.

(signed) Wm. A. Conway, M.D.

An autopsy made on body of Ida E. Jackson at 158 E. 98 St. on November 22d, 1892, showed following results. On external view of the body there were found on top of the head two lacerated wounds of the scalp, close together. One about one half inch long and the other triangular in shape, the sides about one and one half inches long and the base about one half inch, with ragged edge. These wounds were made evidently by some heavy blunt instrument and exposed the skull. On removing top of skull there was found an immense clot of blood on the mater, which blood had escaped from the vessels of the Meninges directly under & corresponding to the scalp wound on top of the head. There was no fracture of the skull which circumstance was probably due to the extraordinary thickness of the bone plates. All organs of the body were healthy and in a normal condition. There was a fracture of one of the floating ribs on right side, which had the appearance of being post mortem and was probably done in handling the body which was very heavy, weighing about 275 lbs.

The cause of death was Intra Cranial Hoemorrhage the result of external violence.

On November 19, Saturday about 5 P.M. I was patrolling my post from 38 to 42 St. and the side streets east and west, half way, and as I was standing at the corner of 41 St. and 3 Ave, a young colored man about 19 years of age called my attention to some colored people on the other side. I went over and the prisoner Bristowe was talking to this woman.

I got between them and inquired about the nature of their trouble, both commenced to talk at once and she claimed that he was the father of her child, and he claimed that she assaulted. I took them to the station house and the sergeant let them go.-

I took particular notice of Bristowe there were no scratches or marks of any kind on his face.

In the station house he claimed that she had assaulted him Sergeant Sheldon said where; he said here; the Sergeant looked surprised that a woman with a baby in her arms would assault a man like him.

On November 19th, Saturday about 5.20 O'clock officer Flynn brought in Bristowe and Ida Jackson. He said that his attention was called to some little trouble that he discovered at corner of 3d Ave. That Bristowe claimed that Ida Jackson assaulted him, that Ida claimed that she and Bristowe had lived together for a couple of years and that he was the father of her illegitimate child, and would not support it, and had brought them to the station house to have the matter fully investigated. I then asked them what was the matter. Bristowe said " this woman has assaulted me " I said " whereabouts;" he said here; I raised up from my chair, I got over near to him and I couldn't observe any marks on him-- not the slightest, if there had been any I would have observed it very readily. I said a burly man like you ought to be ashamed of yourself to charge a woman with a child on her arms with assault.-

She told me this man Bristowe had been living with her for the last couple of years.

I advised them to go to a magistrate and settle their difference there.

I said to Bristowe you are well acquainted with each other and Bristowe said yes.-

Next morning I went to a meat shop and bought meat and other things for the children.

It was about 10 O'clock Sunday morning (November 20th) when I got there. I knocked at the door; I turned the knob, opened the door and went in; I said "get up you lazy thing" she did not stir; I shook her feet and called, "Miss Jackson;" she did not answer and I put my hand on her shoulder and she was stone cold, and Rob was tucking on her shoulder, and that is all I know about it.

I left her because she cursed me and called me all the sons of bitches she could lay her tongue on; I could not live in peace with her and I thought she go her way and I go mine. She was a woman a violent temper. We had constant trouble.

Q. Would you consider her a dangerous woman? A. I don't know anything about that. I don't know anything violent about her; I presume she would give a man a deal of trouble if he staid long enough with her.

I was told of her death and went over to her house about ^{Sunday Morning} twelve o'clock. I found her lying dead in the bed. Her daughter, Gertie Simon and Rose Harris were already there. I waited for the coroner to come and then pointed ^{the body} ~~to~~ out to him as that of Ida Jackson. After he left I went to the undertaker.

Two women and my brother-in-law, Joseph Sanford, washed the body and prepared it for burial. The coroner and two assistants came again ^{the next day} and ~~made~~ the autopsy.

An autopsy made on body of Ida C. Jackson at 158 E. 8th St on Nov 22 1892 showed following result. On external view of the body there were found on top of the head two lacerated wounds of the scalp, close together. One about 1 1/2 inches long & the ~~other~~ triangular in shape, the side about 1/2 inch long & the base about 1/2 inch, with jagged edges. These wounds were made evidently by some heavy blunt instrument and exposed the skull. TESTIMONY.

Wm Conway
I have made an autopsy of the body of
Ida C. Jackson

M. D., being duly sworn, says:
of the body of
now lying dead at

158 East 98th Street and from such Autopsy and history of the case, as per testimony, I am of opinion the cause of death is Intra-Cranial Hemorrhage

Wm Conway

M. D.

An autopsy made on body of Ida C. Jackson at 158 E. 98th St on Nov 22 1892 showed following result. On external view of the body there were found on top of the head two lacerated wounds of the scalp, close together. One about 1 1/2 inches long & the other triangular in shape, the sides about 1/2 inch long & the base about 1/2 inch, with jagged edges. These wounds were made evidently by some heavy blunt instrument and exposed the skull. In removing the top of skull there was found an immense clot of blood on the dura mater, which had escaped from the vessels of the meninges directly under & corresponding to the scalp wound on top of the head. There was no fracture of the skull, having which circumstances was probably due to the extraordinary thickness of the bony plates. All organs of the body were healthy & in a normal condition. There was a fracture of one of the ribs on right side, which had the appearance of being post mortem & was probably done independently of the body which was very heavy, weighing about 275 lbs. The cause of death was Intra-Cranial Hemorrhage the result of external violence

Sir:-

I have the honor to report that I have made a careful microscopical examination of the blood-stains and hair on a brick submitted by your Secretary, Henry W. Unger, by the hand of Detective Charles F. Farley of the Twenty-seventh Precinct, on January 17th.

The blood corpuscles found in the stain correspond to those found in human blood. The hair is human hair, probably from the head of some person of the African race.

Yours respectfully,

Case of the People versus Thos. Bristow.

Dear Mother
I hope you are well & happy
I have been thinking of you very much
I will write again soon

Q. Who did you hear it from?

A. Heard it from James Brown

Q. What did Brown say to you?

A. Well, he only said--we were talking there and he said to me, did I know Ida Jackson was dead. I told him No and asked him was it so and he said yes.

Q. Then what did you do?

A. Well, I was going up home and I went along and stopped in at 94th Street.

Q. Stopped in where?

A. Zahn's, 94th Street and Third Avenue.

Q. What did you stop in there for?

A. Stopped to see Bristow.

Q. Did you see him?

A. I did.

Q. Where? A. He was talking in the pool room with some other fellows.

Q. What did you say to him?

A. Asked him did he know she was dead--He said yes

Q. Go on?

A. That's all. Then he says to me, well, I don't know anything about the woman, I haven't seen her since Saturday night.

Q. Is that all?

A. Then he said there is no need for you getting frightened at all I don't know anything about it.

Q. Did you tell him you were frightened?

A. No.

- Q. Did you ask him if he knew anything about it?
A. No, only asked him if he knew she was dead.
- Q. Did you ask him if he knew how she died?
A. No sir.
- Q. Had you heard that he was suspected of killing her?
A. No sir.
- Q. Did you have any suspicion?
A. No sir, not at all.
- Q. How long did you stay there?
A. I think I staid there about ten or fifteen minutes, then went home.
- Q. Did you stay home that night?
A. I did.
- Q. When did you see Bristow next?
A. Monday morning at work.
- Q. What did you say to him then?
A. Didn't say anything more than speak.
- Q. Say anything about Ida Jackson
A. No sir, I did not.
- Q. Did he say anything about it?
A. No sir.
- Q. Work with him all day?
A. Yes--no sir--he was on the wagon and worked out
- Q. See him that night? A. I did.
- Q. Where? A. When he came back.
- Q. Did you see him after he quit work?
A. I did.
- Q. Where? A. At 94th Street.
- Q. Zahn's? A. Yes sir.

- Q. Spend the evening with him
- A. We met there at nine and I walked down to the 89th Street Station with him.
- Q. Say anything about Ida Jackson?
- A. No, we were going to Lodge meeting.
- Q. Did you stay with him that evening?
- A. I did not--he went up to the Elevated Station and I went on down Third Avenue.
- Q. Was that all?
- A. Yes, sir.
- Q. When did you hear he had been arrested?
- A. Monday, or Tuesday rather about--I guess it was about ten o'clock--somewhere about that time.
- Q. Who told you about it?
- A. He was not down to work, so I sent up to Zahns.
- Q. Who did you send?
- A. Sent a messenger.
- Q. Who? A. A messenger boy.
- Q. A messenger boy for whom.
- A. I sent to Mr. Zahn.
- Q. What did you say in the note?
- A. I just asked him whether he was there or not.
- Q. Get any answer?
- A. I did.
- Q. What did it say?
- A. Said he was arrested.
- Q. Is that all?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Say what he was arrested for?

A. No, sir.

Q. What did you do then?

A. Worked on.

Q. Go to see him?

A. Not while he was arrested there.

Q. When did you go to see him?

A. I saw him on 125th Street at a distance--that's where the court is--at 125th Street at a distance

Q. What distance?

A. Well, I saw him I guess four or five feet off.

Q. Speak to him?

A. Nodded to him that was all.

Q. Go to Court?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Speak to him there?

A. No sir.

Q. When did you speak to him next?

A. Where I spoke to him next was down at the Tombs.

Q. What did you say to him there?

A. Well, I only asked him how he was etc. that's all.

Q. That's all? A. That's all.

Q. What brought to the Tombs?

A. I went to see him.

Q. Did you hear he was sick?

A. No, I just simply went down to see him that was all.

Q. Say anything about the case at all?

A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't say anything about the case?

A. No, sir.

Q. While you were there what did you say to him?

A. I cannot go to work and say now what I said to him.

Q. What did you say when you were in the Tombs--you must have said something more than ask him how he felt etc. A. No sir.

Q. Looked up any evidence for him.

A. Well, of course I have, I tried to.

Q. What did you look for?

A. Well, I looked for people that knowed anything at all about it.

Q. Who did you find?

A. Well, I found this lady.

Q. That's Mrs. Jackson? A. Yes sir.

Q. When did you find her? A. Last night.

Q. Did you know anything about her before this?

A. I did not.

Q. Find anybody else? A. Well, I didn't find no one else--that's all I found.

Q. Did you hear of anybody else that saw Bristow that night?

A. Not any more than the people in Mr. Zahn's-- the men that were there.

Q. Did you find anybody that saw him quarreling with Ida later that night?

A. No, sir.

Q. When did he tell you that he saw her last?

A. When he saw her last he was with me--we were both together.

Q. Were you in 98th Street with him that night?

A. No, sir, I was not.

THE WITNESS: Let me go as soon as you can, please.

MR. WEEKS: I don't want to keep you but I would like you to tell me some of the things that you learned.

THE WITNESS: There is no need in me staying here and telling you things I don't know anything about.

Q. When you heard that Ida Jackson was dead, what did you go to see Bristow for?

A. I was on my way home and stopped there

Q. Where do you live?

A. I lived then at No. 165.

Q. What street?

A. 97th Street.

Q. What did you go in to see Bristow for?

A. I heard it and simply stopped in to see whether he heard it or not.

Q. Did you tell him that you were afraid of anything?

A. No sir.

Q. Did he seem afraid?

A. No, he only said I don't know anything about it

Q. Why did he say there was no use in getting frightened?

A. I don't know.

Q. Did you ask him if he had any trouble with her after he left her?

A. I did not.

MR. WEEKS, Well, I guess you can go together.

Q. You say you don't know where Madam Ellis lives now.

A. No I don't know where she lives

APPEARANCES: Mr. Battle, representing the District Attorney, appears for the people; Meyer Schloss appears for the prisoner.

-----000-----

THE CORONER: This is the case of Ida E. Jackson who came to her death from injuries received by being hit on the head with a stone or a hammer as alleged at the hands of Thomas Bristowe.

-----0000-----

JANE SEYMOUR, duly sworn.

I live No. 207 East 97th Street; I am a married lady, living with my husband, George Seymour.

Q By the Coroner:

Q What is your husband's occupation? A. His occupation is coachman in the employ of W. Wiseman, No. 2 East 80th Street.

By Mr. Battle:

Q Were you acquainted with the deceased? A. Yes, sir

Q Did you see the deceased on Saturday the 19th of November? A. On Sunday morning I saw her.

Q Will you state what took place at that time? A. On Saturday night she was to my house and left her little boy to go down to see Tom, she said she was going for some money; when she came back she said, " I have got the rascal's hat.

Q What did she mean by Tom? A. The prisoner, and she asked him for a couple of dollars because the baby wanted food, and he said he would put her where the dogs would not look at her if she did not get away from him, and then she went on home; I said I will be over in the morning and bring something over. I went to the meat shop and bought meat and got things for the children, some meat.

Q What time was that? A. The neighbors say it was about ten o'clock. When I got there, I went there and knocked at the door; I turned the knob and went in; I said get up you lazy thing, and she did not stir; I shook her feet and said, " Miss Jackson;" she did not answer and I put my hand on her shoulder and she was stone cold, and Rob was tucking on her shoulder, and that is all I know about Miss Jackson.

By Mr. Battle:

Q Was she lying in bed? A. Yes, sir. I went back the second time with the ladies and I saw she was covered up as if she died with heart disease.

Q Did you see any signs of blood? A. Not a drop of blood.

Q The deceased told you the day before her death that Bristow was calling upon her? A. No.

Q Did he call upon her? A. Not that I know of, I never saw the gentleman before now.

Q Did you see her body after that? A. Not after that day, I never saw it.

By Mr. Schloss:-

Q Was any one present when you had this conversation with Ida Jackson, the deceased? A. Saturday night?

Q When did you have the conversation with her? A. Saturday night.

Q What hour? A. I couldn't tell. It was between eight and nine o'clock.

Q A few moments ago you said ten o'clock? A. No, sir.

Q Was any body present there at the conversation? A. Yes, I had a niece there together with me, when I had this conversation, and a nurse lady too.

Q Where did this conversation take place? A. In my house.

Q The niece was present? A. Yes.

Q Do you know the husband of Miss Jackson? A. I don't know anything about any one only Miss Jackson herself, and I never saw Tom Bristowe until now.

Q When did you see her last? A. Saturday.

Q Dead I mean. A. The neighbors say ten o'clock.

Q I understand you to say you rapped at the door?

A Yes.

Q Did you gain admission? A. I walked in, the door was open; I found Rob, the baby alive and she was dead; I shook her by the feet and said, "Miss Jackson", and she never answered; I put my hand on her shoulder, and she was cold.

Q Did you look at her eyes? A. I did not.

Q Did you look at her face? A. No, sir.

Q How do you know she was dead? A. Because she was cold.

Q You saw her? A. I put my hand on her and shook her feet, and she never stirred, I put my hand on her shoulder -

Q You put your hand on her shoulder and did not look at her face? A. I didn't see no breath and I run out and screamed

Q Did you see her face? A. Of course I seen her face.

Q Was she lying on her back? A. She was not.

Q What was the condition of her body? A. She was on her side. I heard the baby scream - this arm was over the baby like that and her head was curved in like that.

Q What do you know of this case? A. I was called monday morning to attend my friend .

Q Do you know the date? A. It was after her death.

Q It was November 21st, was it not? A It was a week from to-day.

Q What hour? A. I didn't notice.

Q About what hour? A. Between ten and eleven in the morning; I was called up by the sister of the deceased,
I looked upon her time and again and after a while the authorities gave me leave to take charge of her body; I raised her head and the blood began to flow pretty free and I examined her head and I found a piece missing; I couldn't see the piece missing I took her off the bed and bathed her as best I could; I came up out and said to her sister that I thought she came to her death by this blow on the head.

By Mr. Battle:

Q What so you mean by a piece? A. A piece of skull was knocked in.

By Mr. Schloss:

Q You say you handled the body of Ida Jackson? A. I washed and dressed it.

Q Did you lift it? A. When the authorities gave me leave to take charge of it.

Q Please tell the Jury in what way and in what manner you handled the body? A. By taking it off the bed.

Q Where did you place it? A. On the floor.

Q Do you know the weight of this body? A. I never was present when she was weighed, but she was a pretty heavy woman.

Q Do you know the difference between the weight of a child and the weight of a giant? A. She was a heavy woman.

Q Was the woman as tall as you are? A. I don't know, sir, I never seen her on her feet.

Q How much do you weigh? A. 150 pounds.

Q What do you think Mrs. Ida Jackson weighed? A. about 200 or 170 pounds.

Q Could it be 300 hundred? A. I don't know.

Q You mean to tell the Jury you handled that body alone?

A No, sir; I took ~~kk~~ a man and two others besides myself.

By a Juror:

Q Whereabouts was this hole on the head? A. About there as near as I can say.

X

Q She was lying in bed and seemed to be

A As if a sleep, perfectly passive, and there was a little mark on her chin and there was not a sign of blood until I raised up her head to put her on the floor, to lift the sheet.

Q How big was that wound? A. About the size of a 25 cent piece.-----000-----

OFFICER WILLIAM E. FLYNN, duly sworn:

I am a patrolman attached to the 21st Precinct.

By Mr. Battle:

Q Will you state what you know in connection with this case? A. I was patrolling my post on this afternoon, Saturday a week ago, from 38th to 42nd Street, and the side Street , east and west, half way, and standing at the corner of 21st. Street and 4th Avenue a young colored man about 19 years old came to me and called my attention to some colored people on the other side; I went over and this prisoner here Bristowe was talking to this woman. I got between them and asked the nature of the trouble and both of them commenced to talk at once and she claimed he was the father of her child, and he claimed she assaulted him; so to even matters up I took them to the station house; there were marks on him, and the Sergeant let them go.

BY Mr. Battle:

Q Did you notice particularly the prisoner at the time?
A Yes, sir.
Q Was there any marks or scratches whatever on his face?
A No, sir.
Q None at all? A. No, sir.
Q That is the prisoner there (indicating to the prisoner Bristowe)? A. In the station house he claimed that she assaulted him; the sergeant said where; he said here; the sergeant looked at him surprised that a woman with a baby in her arms would assault a man like him.
Q There were no marks on him? A. No, sir.

BY Mr. Schloss:-

Q Did you look at Bristowe's face at the time he was in the station house? A. Yes.
Q Did you notice any mark on his eye? A. No sir.
Q He is a colored man and at a colored man you must look closely? A. I was surprised to hear him say it.

Q Is your memory as clear as to what you stated in the station house as everything you have testified to?

A. Yes, sir.

Q Did you hear Mrs. Jackson say when the sergeant asked he if she was a married woman did you hear her answer?

A She said she was a married woman?

Q You are positive about that? A. Yes, sir.

-----000-----

SERGEANT CHARLES O. SHELDON, duly sworn:

I am attached to the 21st Precinct. It was about 5.20 , a week ago on Saturday when the officer brought in this man Bristowe and Ida Jackson, and he said his attention was called to some little trouble that he discovered at corner of Third Avenue he said this woman had assaulted him, and she claimed he was the father of her illegitimate child, and wouldn't support it and they lived together for a couple of years, and to have it fully investigated he brought them to the station house; I asked them what the cause was and this man Bristowe said this woman had assaulted him; I said whereabouts; he said here; I raised up from my chair, I got over near to him and I couldn't observe any marks on him not the slightest. Though it being a family matter I referred the case to Court, I referred him to Court to get their redress there.

By Mr. Battle:

Q You advised them to take their troubles to Court?

A. Yes, sir; to go to Court and have their matter adjusted there.

Q You advised this woman to apply to the Police Court in order to get her child supported? A. Yes, sir.

Q That was on the 19th of November? A. Yes, sir.

Q On a Saturday? A. Yes, sir; about 5.20 in the afternoon.

Q And you particularly noticed him, did you? A. Yes, I raised from my chair and I was nearer to him than I am to the stenographer now, I said, a burly man like you ought to be ashamed of yourself to charge a woman with assault with a child on her arms.

Q Did you notice any marks on his face? A. No, sir; not that I noticed; if there were I would have observed it very readily.

By Mr. Schloss:-

Q Did you ask the deceased whether she was a married or single woman? A. Well, some one spoke up, some young man spoke up and said the woman was a married woman; she said this man had been living with her the last couple of years.

Q This man - who did she mean? A. This man, Bristowe.

By Mr. Battle:-

Q He was present at the time? A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. Schloss:-

Q You are not positive whether she stated or not whether she was a married woman? A. I wouldn't say.

Q But on the strength of the statements made to you, you advised her to go to a magistrate? A. She said he was the father of her child.

Q Did Mr. Bristowe make any remark to that? A. I asked them you are well acquainted with each other, he said yes.

Q You referred them to court? A. Yes, sir.

-----:o:ee-----

CAPTAIN MAX F. SCHMITTBERGER, duly sworn:

I am attached to the 27th Precinct. On Monday night about half past twelve o'clock, Detective Farley brought the prisoner to the station house under arrest, charged with homicide, and the prisoner was arraigned before the desk, and he was told what he was arrested for by myself, and I questioned him; he had then an abrasion of the skin on the right cheek bone about an inch long, and an eighth of an inch wide running diagonally, and he had another scratch on the inside of the nose here on the left side; I questioned him there how he received those scratches or wounds and he said he received them at the time this woman had assaulted him on Third Avenue on the preceding Saturday. He was locked up and taken to Court Tuesday morning and remanded by Justice Meade to the station house to work up the case, and on Tuesday afternoon I had some business brought to my room and he was informed by me of his rights that he need not answer any questions, that he had a right to refuse and also caution him that anything he might say might be used against him --in any proceeding hereafter; he then made a statement to me.

Q This is the statement? A. Yes, sir.

The captain now reads the statement to the Jury.

By Mr. Battle:-

Q I understand you to read that Bristowe said he had not been to the house of the deceased since July? A. Yes, sir.

Q Also that Bristowe states that he only had been intimate with the deceased, once, that was in February last?

A Yes, sir.

Q He states also that he went to bed on Saturday night at half past eleven? A. Yes, sir.

Q Captain, you noticed those scratches on the prisoner's face particularly? A. Yes, sir; I spoke about it in the station house.

Q What were those abrasions? A. One was an abrasion of the skin about an inch long and an eighth of an inch wide running this way; the other one was a scratch inside of the nose here on the left hand side.

Q That is the prisoner there(indicating to the prisoner)

A Yes, sir.

Q (By Mr. Schloss:-) How long have you been Captained of the 27th Precinct? A. Since last April.

Q There are a good many colored persons in that precinct

A Yes, sir.

Q Have you been in any precinct heretofore -- have you been in any other precinct where there are colored people?

A Yes, sir; the nineteenth.

Q You are familiar with colored people's faces? A. Yes, sir.

Q Did you hear the testimony of Officer Sheldon and Flynn?
A Yes, sir.

Q Did you hear their testimony as to any injuries in his face? A. Yes, sir.

Q You are familiar with the faces of colored people?
A Sergeant Sheldon who preceded me was my partner for years in the 19th Precinct and is equally as familiar with the colored faces as I am and is as competent to judge of colored faces as I am I think.

Q In your opinion did those scratches or bruises look as if they were a day or two or three days old? A. They were fresh.

Q How fresh? A. I wouldn't say; probably within a day or two; there were bruises there, particularly the bruises on his cheek looked fresher than the one inside of the eye.

A I seen him there Sunday before she was dead.

Q What took place when you saw him there; was there any conversation between your mother and Bristowe? A. I don't know, he was sitting down when I got there.

Q Talking to your mother? A. Yes, sir.

Q What did he say? A. I don't know; I didn't take no notice of him at all; I came in; I wanted to go down town, and I asked for car fare; I had three cents; I asked her for two; she told me she didn't have it, and she asked him for it and he said ~~she~~ he didn't have it; she asked him again and he gave it to me, he gave me two cents and I shut the door and went out.

Q This was on the Sunday before she was killed?

A Yes, sir.

By Mr. Schloss:-

Q Is that the only time the time you referred to last week you seen the prisoner -- how many times have you seen Mr. Bristowe? A. I couldn't say; I couldn't say I seen him there a great many times.

Q When was the last time you met him? A Sunday before she was dead.

Q Did you ever converse with Mr. Bristowe -- did you ever speak with him? A. No, I never spoke to him only good evening or anything when I seen him in there; but I never had any words with him at all.

Q It couldn't be possible -- please look at that man -- do you identify him as the man that was in your mother's room on that Sunday before her death? A Yes, sir.

Q On that Sunday in questi on? A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. Battle:)

Q Was he in the habit of going to your mother's room?

A Yes, sir.

Q You saw him there frequently? A. Yes, sir.

JAMES MICHAEL, duly sworn:

I live No. 176 East 77th Street; I am stock clerk for Mr. Fox No. 144 Broadway. All I know it was very late when I left Mr. Bristowe on Saturday night; I was up to the barbers and on my way down I went into a saloon and played some pool, in the "World", at 94th Street, and Third Avenue and I staid there until a very late hour, and I came on down and I remember seeing "Tom" in there.

Q Where? A. Down the Avenue at 88th Street I met another friend - a friend, and got into another saloon and staid there for a while and then went home.

By Mr. Battle:-

Q What time did you leave the prisoner in the saloon - the "World"? A. The saloon was closed; and to the best of my ability - to the best of my knowledge it was between half-past twelve and half-past one o'clock, it may have been later.

Q That was on Saturday? A. Saturday evening.

Q November 19th, ? A. Yes, sir.

Q He was playing pool there? A. No, he was not playing pool there.

Q Was he drinking at the bar? A. He seemed to be enjoying himself among his friends; I didn't see him drinking at all; I was in the other room there and he went in and out there.

Q You saw him there in the saloon? A. Yes, sir.

HUGH MCKAY, duly sworn:

I live No. 1677 Third Avenue, my occupation is carpenter in Selfridge's place, they are in business in 53rd Street between 6th and 7th Avenues. I know Mr. Bristowe, he came home - it was between nine and ten o'clock he was in the saloon along side of me together with three other friends: I didn't keep time what time it was when he went to bed; he went to bed early and it was about two o'clock that I went to bed, and I spoke to Mr. Bristowe through the door, he woke up and I spoke to him; he told me to go right to bed, that was at two o'clock.

By Mr. Battle:-

Q How late was it when you saw him before? A. About eleven o'clock.

Q Did you notice him at two o'clock when you opened his door? A. No, sir; I did not see his face.

Q Did you notice him at eleven o'clock, did he have any bruises? A. No, sir.

Q He presented his ordinary appearance? A. Yes, sir.

-----:o:-----

EDWARD KEITH, duly sworn:

I live No. 1677 Third Avenue; my occupation is wood finisher in the employ of Acker and Slater, they do business in 85th Street and West End Avenue.

By the Coroner:-

Q What do you know about this case? A. On Saturday evening we were waiting for Bristowe for supper, because he was very punctual, he was somewhat late, and a few minutes after nine o'clock he returned in company with another man; he remained in the house until a few minutes after eleven o'clock when he went to bed; afterwards I went to McKay, the last witness, and I coaxed him to go to bed, about two o'clock; I said, "You are a little jolly you are likely to keep up, it is time for all of us to go to bed". I told him to step inside and get undressed, he went in, and then I rapped at Bristowe's door, and Bristowe answered him, he said, "Hughey, go to bed, like a good fellow, it is time to go to sleep." It was then half-past two o'clock; after that Hughey went to bed; I saw that everything was quiet and I went to my own bed to go to sleep. I don't know anything more about it after that.

By Mr. Battle:-

Q About what time was it you saw the prisoner?

A. About twenty minutes past eleven o'clock when he went up-stairs to bed.

Q Did you notice whether he had any bruises or scratches on his face? A. I did not look at him, but it is possible that he might have a slight scratch but I did not notice it.

DR. GUSTAVUS HENDERSON, duly sworn:

I live No. 205 East 103rd Street; I am a practicing physician: I graduated from the Highland University, on the 15th of April, 1891, in Washington. I have been in active practice ever since in this city.

By Mr. Schloss:-

Q Did you know Ida Jackson? A. I did not.

Q Did you ever see her? A. Yes, sir.

Q When did you see her? A. Off and on in the street, I knew her only by sight.

Q You were never called upon by her as a medical adviser?

A. No, sir.

By the Coroner:-

Q Did you not say her death was due to heart disease?

A. I did not.

By Mr. Schloss:-

Q Were you called to the house of Ida Jackson, the deceased? A. I was.

Q When? A. Sunday morning.

Q Who sent for you? A. A child came to me.

Q What did the child say? A. She said there was a woman in 98th Street either in a trance or dead, and asked me to come forthwith and pacify the relatives in the house. I went there and made a physical examination and pronounced the woman dead; they asked me about heart disease and I said I was not in a position to say; I said, probably so.

Q Was that the only time you called? A. No, sir.

Q When did you call after that? A. Monday morning the 21st.

Q What do you mean by a physical examination? A. I mean when a physician is called to examine a body, he examines the mouth, the eyes, the pulse and the chest that is all.

Q You say you thought that? A. Yes, sir.

Q Did you place your hand on her eyes? A. Her eyes and mouth and the jaw.

Q Did you touch any part of her head? A. I did not.

Q Did you put your hand on the crown of her head?

A. I did not.

Q Was she lying in bed? A. She was.

Q Did you notice the pillow on which she was lying?

A I did.

Q Did you see any blood on the pillow? A I did not see any spots at all.

Q I ask you whether you saw any blood? A I did not.

Q How heavy a woman was this? A So far as I can judge she was a woman - she appeared to be a woman of 165 to 170 pounds.

Q You are a judge of weights? A I think so.

Q Can you tell the difference between 165 and 265 pounds?

A Yes, sir.

Q What in your opinion was the weight of this woman?

A 165 to 175 pounds.

Q You are not willing to swear she was not 265 pounds?

A I would not.

Q Who was in the room when you called? A A number of persons.

Q How many about? A Judging from appearance about ten, one I knew.

Q What did they consist of - males or females?

A Both.

Q Equally divided? A No, when I called there appeared to be two males.

Q Were they old or young, boys or what? A Young men.

Q Who were the other eight? A The other was her sister, Mrs. Harris, and Mrs. Fulford.

Q How do you know it was the sister of the deceased?

A Because the husband reported to me and besides I am a physician; I am a physician for him and she told me so.

Q Who do you mean by him? A. Mr. Morris.

Q Who else? A. Mr. Fulford.

Q Did you know any other persons by the names? A. That is all.

Q Was this the first time you called? A. It was.

Q When did you call the second time? A. Monday morning the 21st.

Q Are you willing to swear that the first time you called you did not express any opinion that this woman died of heart failure? A. I said it might have been, but I couldn't say.

Q Then you expressed that opinion? A. Yes, sir.

By the Coroner:-

Q Did you not express that opinion at the station house to the sergeant at the desk? A. Yes, sir; she probably might have died of heart failure.

Q But you could not give a certificate of death when you did not sufficiently examine it? A. That is it.

Q When did you call the second time? A. Monday.

Q How did you come to call the second time? A. I met the brother-in-law in the street.

Q What is his name? A. Fulford; I was passing in the street and he requested that I see her again, that there had been an abrasion detected on top of the head, if I wouldn't go and look at it and I did.

Q What did you do then? A. I found quite an abrasion in the centre part of the median line; there seemed to be a small piece of scalp removed about the size of a quarter; in that I detected some blood.

(24)

By Mr. Schloss:-

Q You say you seen an abrasion? A. Yes, sir.

Q Tell the Jury what that is? A. Where the skin has been broken to a great extent by some instrument and released by other tissues and pushed back as if you struck your hand on a stone.

Q Are there any signs by which you can tell or any other physician that a patient died of heart failure? A. Not to my knowledge.

Q Why did you express the opinion? A. It was only problematic.

Q Did you see the medical certificate? A. I did.

Q Do you know how it reads? A. I do.

Q What does it read - what is the most important part in reference to the Coroner's Inquest? A. The direct cause of death and the indirect cause.

Q Was it not your duty to immediately inform the Coroner?

A. I requested the relatives not to touch the body and to inform the police immediately; I called first on the 20th and the second time on the 21st.

Q You informed them immediately - do you call that immediately? A. I told the relatives to inform the Sergeant immediately on Sunday morning.

Q Is it not your duty as a physician to inform them immediately? A. Not necessarily, I never treated this person during life.

Q Is it not your duty to inform the Coroner immediately?

A. Not necessarily.

Q Is that the idea you have as a practicing physician?

A. Yes, sir.

BY Mr. Battle:-

Q Could you form any opinion Doctor when you first saw this body of Ida Jackson, as to how long she had been dead?

A. I said she might have been dead for four or five hours that was about half-past ten o'clock.

Q Since six o'clock in the morning? A. Yes, sir; regor mortis had not set in.

Q That is stiffness of the body? A. Yes, sir; it is.

Q How long does it set in? A. It varies in different cases there is no decided time set for it.

Q It was your opinion she had been dead about four hours ~~xxxxxxx~~ at half past ten? A. Yes, sir.

Q On Sunday morning? A. yes, sir.

By Mr. Schloss:-

Q Do you know Mr. Bristowe? A. I do.

Q How long are you acquainted with him? A. I cannot say positively - I am acquainted with him -

Q How long is it, six months or six years? A. It is about three years.

Q Where were you on Saturday, November 19th? A. I was with Mr. Freeman.

Q Who is he? A. The man that I work for.

Q Were you at work in the afternoon? A. Yes, sir.

Q Did you see Mr. Bristowe on Saturday November 19th? A. Yes, sir.

Q What time? A. The most time of the afternoon; he left the factory at 5 o'clock.

Q Did you see a woman known as Ida Jackson, on or about the premises? A. I did.

Q Must state to the Jury what you saw or what occurred between Mr. Bristowe and Ida Jackson? What conversation if any? A. I couldn't say positively what time she came there, but she was there at the factory, and she was in the office and she walked along the side walk until we were paid off, when we were paid off, I shut the doors and she went down to Third Avenue, and followed after him there. First hanging on to his coat and I was there, and he said to me, "Go and get me a policeman." I went to 34th Street and there I seen a policeman there , and I told him, and she came across to Mr. Bristowe, and he said to the policeman, arrest this woman; and he did so, he got both of them and they went to the 35th Street station, and there the Judge or whatever it is there, the man behind the desk was there; when they left there she followed him out, that was Mr. Watts and I, and Mr. Bristowe, and this woman, she followed us to 34th Street station.

Q Did you notice any mark or bruise on Bristowe when he came out of the station house? A. I couldn't say, because I did not look for it -

Q Were you in Bristowe's company after that? A. I was; I went to 34th Street - I went to the 34th Street Elevated Station and we went up there and he bough the tickets, he bought two tickets, one for himself and one for me, and he dropped one of the tickets before he got to the gate; I was ahead of him, and he stopped and he picked this ticket up, and when he stooped down and raised up this woman grabbed his hat; he said, never mind the hat and at 34th Street there is a short road that runs across to Second Avenue; we went to Second Avenue and 34th Street, and we rode to 42nd Street; there we got off; he sent me in to get the keys; he opened the factory and he went in and got another hat. When he got the other hat we came out and I returned the keys in the house and we took the train from 42nd Street and 2nd Avenue to 57th Street and Second Avenue; before we got there he and myself, he said there is no use going there we would only get in contact with this woman again so we went over to 6th Avenue; we took the surface car there and rode to 30th Street, and we went across to 7th Avenue, and came back in the corner there somewheres between 30th Street, when we were coming this way we met a man by the name of Jackson; we shook hands with him - or he with us rather - and he left us then and we started for home; I know we came up Third Avenue; I don't know exactly what station we got on, but we got off at 89th Street, and 3rd Avenue, and we took the left hand side of 3rd Avenue to 94th Street, and there he went into the saloon No. 1677 3rd Avenue;

By Mr. Battle:-

Q What time did you leave the prisoner that evening?

A. As near as I can get at it, it was half-past nine, but of course the clock was fast, I think it was ten or somewheres around there - I pulled my watch out it was half-past nine to the minute.

Q Did you notice any bruises or scratches on his face?

A. I did not.

Q He just presented his ordinary appearance to you?

A. Yes, sir.

JOSEPH WATTS, duly sworn:

By the Coroner:-

Q Where do you live? A. No. 66 West 43rd Street.

Q What is your occupation? A. Carpet cleaner.

Q In whose employ? A. EVery and Freeman.

(29)

By MQ . Schloss:-

Q Are you acquainted with Bristowe? A. Yes, sir.

Q How long have you been acquainted with him? A. Five years.

Q Where were you on Saturday, November 19th? A. I was with him.

Q Did you know of any quarrel that Mr. Bristowe had on that day? A. Yes, sir.

Q State what occurred? A. That afternoon about five o'clock we were paid off, myself and Mr. Bristowe we walked down from our place of business to 3rd Avenue and this lady, she followed us down, Ida Jackson; and when we got to 3rd Avenue he stopped there to wait for Mr. Grosby; she came up and got hold of him; he said, go, away, I don't want any trouble with you; she said I am going to have my revenge out of you; he said I don't want to bother with you; I said, why don't you leave him alone; so we walked down to the corner and then Mr. Grosby- we told him to get a policeman, and he told the officer to arrest her; and he took them both to the station house; I went down with him. I didn't overhear it, he got up and stated the case, he told them that we have to go to Court somewhere; so we walked out, and I went to 34th Street with him and I told him, I had better go home, I told him you had better go home; you might get in more trouble, and he and Mr. Grosby walked up to the station to go home; I did not see him since. That is the last I seen of him.

WALTER B. JAMEN, duly sworn:

I live No.222 West 17th Street; I am employed as carpet layer by occupation. I know Thomas Bristowe. This lady, what you call Miss Ida Jackson, I didn't know her name at that time, I had never seen her before, when she was around the shop there walking up and down, when I approached the door of the building, and this lady wanted to know, if I was Mr. Freeman; I told her, no; she said she wanted to see Thomas Bristowe. I said to her instead of making a nuisance on the street why don't you come inside of the building; so she stopped inside and stayed inside and seen Mr. Bristowe. She waited until he got p paid off, and she followed him down, and the rest of the fellows down Third Avenue, and 43rd Street; I was a little ways behind them, and there I seen her clinch Thomas I did not like to see the man strike the woman, or see her hit by anybody, and I ran up like this, and I said, Why do you want to make a nuisance on the street; I said let the man alone; if the man might strike you the man might kill you; I pulled her away and I seen the Policeman arrest them -

-----:o:-----

THOMAS JACKSON, duly sworn:

I live at Morris Heights; my occupation is working in a house for a private family in Morris Heights for Mr. Rewey, at his house. I don't know anything about the woman at all; I don't know anything about her.

By Mr. Schloss:-

Q You are the husband of the deceased? A. Yes, sir.

Q Why do you say you don't know anything about her in answer to the Coroner? A. I don't know anything about the case at all.

Q Was she your wife? A. She was my wife.

Q You know it is your wife? A. Yes, sir.

Q When was the last time you seen her? During her life time? A. I have not seen her for six years.

Q How many children has your wife got to your knowledge? A. Two, and they are dead.

Q Did you live with your wife? A. Yes, sir; I did.

Q Was there any divorce proceedings? A. No, sir.

Q Any separation? A. Yes, sir.

Q Why did you leave your wife? A. Because she cursed me and called me all the sons-of-bitches she could lay her tongue to; I could not live in peace with her and I thought she go her way and I go mine.

Q What is her way - a violent woman? A. Yes, sir.

Q How much do you think she weighed? A. I do n't know, because I never seen her weighed.

Q Do you think she weighed two hundred pounds? A. I think that she did.

By Mr. Battle:-

Q Your wife was a woman of violent temper? A. Yes, sir; I think she was.

Q She and you constantly had trouble together? A. Yes, sir.

Q And you left her on that account six years ago? A. Yes, sir.

Q Wouldn't you consider her a dangerous woman from her character? A. I don't know anything about that.

Q Wouldn't she be a woman that would be very likely to give a man a great deal of trouble? A. I don't know anything violent about her; I presume she would give a man a great deal of trouble if he staid long enough with her.

Dr. WILLIAM A CONWAY, DULY SWORN:)

I was called to the house there in answer to the call for the Coroner on the 21st of November, and on reaching the house I was shown the body of the deceased and requested to examine her carefully, which I did, and I found a wound on top of the head, two wounds, and it being late in the day I told them it would be necessary to have the body taken across by the undertaker until I could make the autopsy on the next day; I made this arrangement with the undertaker and before leaving the room my attention was called by a lady whose name I don't know to an old hat and a stone wrapped up in a rag, which lay on top of a stationary tub, and this is the stone and that is the rag; she told me that those were lying right where they and had been lying there all the time.

Q And is this the hat? A. Yes, sir. One of the other women present said this hat was in the possession of the deceased when she came home on Saturday, that she showed the hat as a trophy of victory; that had nothing to do perhaps with the identity of the person suspected. The next day the autopsy was made. The result of which I had better read.

The witness now reads the autopsy which is part of the inquisition paper.

By Mr. Battle:

Q Where was this wound you read about? A. Right there, on top of the head.

Q Was it such a wound that could be inflicted with that stone? A. Yes. just such a wound as that would inflict; probably it was inflicted that way.

1117

Q He must have been a man of considerable strength to inflict that blow? A. Yes.

Q Such a wound that a strong man would inflict by a severe blow? A. Well, it is a pretty heavy stone, a man of ordinary strength could strike a good blow with that.

By Mr. Schloss:

Q You stated you found a rib broken? A. Yes, sir.

Q Was there any discoloration on her person, covering this rib? A. I could'nt see any; she was rather a dark woman, anyhow, but that fracture was done in handling the body; it was a post-mortem fracture.

Q What was the weight of the woman? A. About 250 or 205 pounds; she weighed a good deal more than I do, I know.

Q Could a person live for any length of time after receiving a fracture or hole in the head, as the deceased had?

A Yes, she might have lived two or three hours.

Q Did you notice any blood? or marks on or marks of blood on the pillow? A. Very little external bleeding, the most was internally; there was not much externally; it was one of those bruises or cuts where there is not much bleeding from.

Q Is there any way that tells you when a person dies of heart failure as a physician, in your opinion? A. No, except from the history of the case.

Q In case you should meet a person or you were called into a case where a person is dead, could you trace it?

A You could tell it, generally more from the history of the case.

1118

Q But no sign by which you could identify so that you could give a certificate of heart failure? A. No absolute sign.

Q Is it impossible for you to refresh your memory who this lady was in the room that told you that the stone was there all the time? A. It was a lady -- it was an old lady with specs on.

Q What was her name? A. Mrs. Saunders.

Q What was the condition of this stone -- how was it wrapped up? A. When I saw it, it was lying just as it is lying on the Coroners desk, now.

By Mr. Battle:

Q Could that wound have been inflicted by a person without any cloth on it? A. Yes, it might have been, but there is no blood on it.

CHARLES F. FARLEY, duly sworn;-

I am a special officer of the 27th precinct. After investigating the case thoroughly and going to the apartment of Ida Jackson and from information received I was satisfied that Thomas Bristowe was the only one that had a motive for this murder, and I went where he resides at 94th Street and 3rd Avenue, and in a saloon called The World and I went there after him and it was 12 o'clock at night when he came into the saloon I bid him the time of evening, and I asked him if he knew me; he said, yes. I invited him to have a segar and I told him then that he was under arrest. On the way I asked him if he knew what he was arrested for and he said, Yes. After we got to the station house and brought him before the desk, the captain was there and we questioned him about those marks on his face, one on his right eye and another scratch on the right cheek; that was the time my attention was called to those marks, on his face, that I am positive of.

Q When was that? A. Monday night about 12.20 or so.

By Mr. Schloss:

Q You have stated that you formed an opinion that Bristowe was the man? A. Yes, sir.

Q On what did you form that opinion? A. He was the only one that I found that had a motive.

Q Did you find a hat in the room? A. Coroner Conway found the hat, and the stone.

Q Did you find the hat before Dr. Conway knew anything about the case? A. No, sir.

Q Positive about that? A. Yes, sir.

Q Did you have him in a police court? A. Yes, sir.

Q How many times? A. Twice.

Q Did you state to any person that you found the hat in the rooms of Ida Jackson, the deceased? A. No, sir.

Q Who informed you that the hat was the property of Bristowe?

A The sergeant at the desk, from the information he received from Dr. Conway.

Q Did'nt you see the hat prior to arresting this man?

A Yes, sir.

Q Where? A. In the station-house, the hat and the stone.

Q What was the condition of the room when you went there?
A The body was there -- the deceased was being waked at the time I went there.

- Q Were you ever arrested in your life prior to this?
A. Never.
- Q How long have you been a resident of the City and County of New York? A. Sixteen years.
- Q How long are you employed by Mr. Freeman? A. Between four and five years.
- Q Were you acquainted with Ida Jackson, the deceased?
A. I was.
- Q Where did you form her acquaintance? A. I formed it in the house where she lived, 169 E. 77th Street.
- Q Who introduced you? A. I was never introduced to her; she was a frequent visitor to my sister, Alice Bolden.
- Q How many times did you visit Mrs. Jackson during her life? A. About five times.
- Q When was the first time you visited her? A. The first time I called was when she lived in 98th Street, in the latter part of September, before last September, 1891.
- Q After that? How many times did you call? A. Four times

Q And when to the best of your recollection was the last time? A. The last time was last July.

Q Were you ever criminally intimate with Mrs. Ida Jackson, the deceased? A. I was never.

Q Did you ever have any criminal intercourse with Ida Jackson? A. Once.

Q When was that? A. The latter part of February last.

Q When was the last time that you seen Ida Jackson the deceased in life? A. Saturday the 19th, at 34th Street and 3rd Avenue.

Q Is that the place you are employed? A. No, sir.

Q Did you see her on Saturday afternoon, November 19th at the place you are employed? A. I did.

Q Did you have any conversation with her? A. I spoke, I think, once to her; she came to the place and said, "Tom, I want to see you; I said, " I am here, you can see me; she said, " Are you going to give me some money?" I said, " No, go away from here and don't bother me." She said, " I will stay here until you are paid off". I went back to the storing room where I remained until it was time to feed the horses and she was in the office. After I fed the horses we came back to the factory again and to get paid off, and she was walking up and down 42nd Street by the door.

Q Did Mrs. Jackson assault you that day? A. She did, about 5 o'clock.

Q Who was present? A. I couldn't that any one was -

Q Where was it? A. Corner 42nd street and 3rd Avenue 40.

because my friends were behind me coming from the factory.

Q How far behind you? A I couldn't say.

Q How do you know? A Because they seen her coming up and push me out in the street, and said "Don't bother the woman."

Q Where did she strike you? A On the left side of my mouth.

Q How many blows? A Once.

Q Did you assault her? A No, sir.

Q What did you do? A I hadn't a chance to do anything; James pushed me out in the street on one side of Third Avenue; she struck at me while I was going across and back -- a small scratch on the inner corner of the left eye.

Q What did you do then?

Q What did you do then? A. We were all together and went down 34th Street, myself, Jackson, Watts and Walter James.

Q Where did you go? A. To 34th and 3rd Avenue; I seen an officer there he was coming towards me; I spoke to him, I said, Officer, will you arrest this woman, she has assaulted me, and she is continually following me from place to place; he came up to listen to the statement; he turned to me and said, will you make a charge against her; I said, certainly. We went down to the 21st Precinct; the officer spoke to the sergeant and said, "Sergeant, this man makes a complaint of assault against this woman;" the sergeant looked at me; he said, did this woman assault you? I said, Yes, on the left side of my mough. I pointed to the left side of my mouth. He said, "Whose child is that, in her arms;" I said, I did'nt know, and she answered, he is the father of that child.

Q Did the sergeant ask her if she was a married woman? A The sergeant did, and she answered No, and I said, she is and has a living husband.

Q What did the sergeant say? A. That is about all; the sergeant then told her, "You go before the judge and make that statement to ham; I am through," and we came out of the station house.

Q Who was it came out with you? A. Ida Jackson, Joseph Watts, James Crosby, Walter James and myself.

Q Where did you go after leaving the station house? A We went to 34th Street and 3rd Avenue, on the northeast corner, I met another officer and I said to him, this woman follows me and we were just dismissed from the 21st Precinct station; he waived his hand to me to go on, and we went up to the elevated station, and I purchased two tickets and going to the ticket box I dropped one of the tickets, that delayed me some time and going through the gate she run up behind me and grabbed my hat; I pushed him and I said, "Don't bother about that". Then there is a short road to 2nd Avenue and we went to 42nd Street; we got off there and I sent him in the house where my employer lives to get the keys to get another hat; I went in and got another hat and sent him back with the keys and waited at the gate for his return, and we got on the elevated at 42nd Street and intended to go home; I said to him if I go to the house there will be another disturbance, we will go over to the west side and turned there to walk over to 57th Street and 2nd Avenue -- we walked across to 57th Street to 5th Avenue, taking a surface car to 30th Street, we walked from there to 7th Avenue, we come back to 30th Street and 6th Ave. again, we met another workman of the shop by the name of William Jackson; we spoke to him and came up the 34th Street; we came across there to 3rd Avenue, and took the elevator to 89th Street; when we got off and walked up the west side of the avenue to 94th Street, and we came into the saloon there and at that time it was just 9.30.

Q Is this the hat she took off you? A. Yes, sir. I was in the saloon two hours and at 11.30 I went to bed, and the two boarders came up, going to bed about 2 o'clock, I suppose it was; I was awakened from my slumber and somebody knocked at the door; I told one of them he had better go to bed, knowing he was somewhat under the influence of liquor. I arose at 9.30 in the morning. I got up at 8.30; I started down 42nd Street at 8.40; I went down to feed the horses and stopped in the barbershop; I walked up to 87th Street and I stopped in the barbershop there. I returned back to the saloon about 10 in the morning; about 10.30 my sister came in and informed me of the death of Ida Jackson.

Q That was on a Sunday? A. Yes, sir.

Q Where were you on Monday? A. I was to my work, on Monday.

Q And Monday night? A. 108 West 32nd Street, attending a meeting.

Q What kind of a meeting? A. A committee for the Grand Master of a lodge -- No. 1, I am a member of that body --

Q What time did you arrive home? A. Just about 12 o'clock. I met detective Farley, I knew him because he had been in the saloon previous to that on another occasion. He spoke to me, he said, "Good evening Tom," he said, I suppose you know me;" I said, Yes, I seen you here one Sunday before.

Q Did Mrs. Jackson call upon you at your boarding house during life? A. She was there several times.

Q How often? A. I would say a half a dozen times.

Q What was the object of her calling, did she speak to you?

A No, she never had any conversation with me there; I endeavored to keep out of her way.

Q Did Mr. Zahn ever inform you that she called there? A. Yes.

To Mr. Battle:

I could'nt exactly say when I first became acquainted with the deceased -- it was anout seven years ago. I was criminally intimate with her once, and that was last February; the latter part of last February. I visited her about five times, only. I visited her once after February and that was in July. I never visited her after July. I was not in her room on the Monday preceding her murder. I was in the World saloon on Saturday night preceding the murder. I left the saloon and went to my room at half past eleven, I am positive about that. I looked at the clock, at the time, and I saw it was half past eleven, and I went quietly off to bed, knowing that if I stated that I was going to bed they would ask me to have another drink I presume, and I had, as much as I cared for that night; I went to bed. I had been taking some drinks that night; I cannot say how many drinks I took; I think it was about four or five glasses of beer; I thought I had enough. I got up on Sunday morning at half past eight. My sister came there at 10.30; She asked me did I know that Ida was dead; I said, "What Ida?" She said, "Ida Jackson;" I said no, I did'nt know it; then I said if she is dead; I cannot help it." I did not inquire what she died from. When I made the statement which was read here I was told that it could be used against me hereafter and I made the statement voluntarily. I told the captain the small scratch on my nose was inflicted by Ida Jackson at 42nd Street and 3rd Avenue, on Saturday evening; and I told him the bruise on my face I received in the store-room, getting carpet out Monday morning; the scratch was received from Ida Jackson, when she assaulted me on Saturday. She was a woman of violent temper.

To Mr. Schloss:

I have seen Gertie Simon; I met her in her mother's house, Christmas Sunday last; she showed me a circular of a sort of Mission she attended, at 101st Street and 3rd Avenue, and I bought a ticket of her; she showed me the circular and asked me to buy her tickets. I heard her testimony this morning, in which she states that I gave her two cents when she asked me for it, and it is absolutely false. I know James Brown, and I saw him on Saturday evening before the murder, in the saloon about 11 o'clock.

-----000-----

MARY EVANS, duly sworn;

I am a sister of the accused, I live No. 165 East 97th Street. I am a married woman, and my husband's name is George Evans. I heard about the death of Ida Jackson from a woman who told me just as I was ready to go to church. I went to church and I went over to my brothers for my handkerchief that I loaned him and I simply said to him -- in speaking to him about this woman's death the same as I would speak to anybody else.

1129

VERDICT WE FIND that IDA E. JACKSON came to her dath from intercranial hemorrhage, which was causee by a blow from a blunt instrument inflicted by a person unknown to this jury, at premises No. 158 East 98th Street, on or about the 20th day of November, 1892, and from the testimony adduced we recommend that Thomas H. Bris-
