ELIZABETH BETZ, being duly sworn, testified, that

she lived at 1115 Orchard Street, New York City.

On the 18th of November, she was in Ludlow Street about three o'clock in the afternoon. She had in the pocket of her dress, a pocket book, containing one dollar in silver.
It belonged to her. Three young men, one of whom was the prisoner, pushed against her and nearly threw her baby out of her arms. The prisoner pushed her. She ^{asked} what was the matter, and they acted as if they were drunk, and commenced to leave. She felt for her pocket book, and it was gone. The boys ran away. She found the dollar on the sidewalk, but the poaket book was gone. It was the same dollar in small change, that she had in her pocket book.

0247

-----000-----

JOSEPH HERMAN, being duly sworn, testified, that he lived at 3 Avenue B,. He was on his truck, in Ludlow Street at the time of the larceny. He saw the three boys including the prisoner, push against the woman. He got off his truck and asked the complainant, if she had lost anything, and she said that she had lost her pocket book. The three ran away. He followed them on his truck untill he saw two men have hold of the prisoner. He ran after the two boys, and they dropped the change on the sidewalk, and ran away. When he returned to Ludlow Street, he saw officer Sullivan having charge of the prisoner.

-----000-----

For the defence, Loui s Lavinsky, the defemnant, being duly sworn, testified, that he lived at number 16 Rutger, Place, with his father and mother. He worked at plumbing at 306 Greenwich Street. There was a fight between, two boys in Ludlow Street, that afternoon and he, the prisoner, stood looking on. The witness, JOseph Herman, came up behind and struck him, the prisoner, and he walked away; then Herman asked him for the complainant's pocket-book, and he, the prisoner, said he did not know any thing about it. He, the prisoner, did not take the money or the pocket book.

0248

-----000-----

Under cross examination he testified, that he had never been arrested before. He had been in the House of Refuge, but not for any crime. He was in the House of Refuge for 13 months. He was sent there by his mother, for not behaving himself. He didn't want to go to work, and did not want to go to school.

 Michael Lloyd before Judge Cowing. Oct. 5. 1888.

Indictment for grand larceny in the second degree. John L. Peble, sworn and examined, testified. I live 328 East 121st Street in this city. What is your business? A. I am a salesman. Do you remember the 26th day of July last? Yes sir. About 4 1/2 o'clock on that day I recollect that I was on Broadway between Prince and Houston Sts. in this city. At that time I owned a watch and I had it at that time I carried it in my left vest pocket and I had it fastened with a chain to the button hole. I have got the chain with me. Do you recollect the time that it was lost? Yes sir. State the circumstances of the loss of the watch to the jury how you came to miss it. I was standing outside the crowd, and in about two minutes I turned round to go and my chain hit my hand and I knew my watch was gone from that. Did you put your hand in your pocket? Yes sir, immediately after and the watch was not there. It had been there just previous? Yes sir. When did you next see your watch after that day? It was three weeks after it when the officer showed it to me. Do you remember the name of the officer? Officer M. Mannus. He showed it to me.

and I identified it as my property. What is the value of that watch about? About forty to fifty dollars. Cross examined. Do you know who took your watch of your own knowledge? No sir. I don't know anything about it.

How long have you known him? About four years, somewhere in that vicinity. Do you remember seeing him in the latter end of July last or the early part of August? I do, sir. Do you know who was with him? Mr. Johnson. Did you have any conversation with him that time in regard to the watch? No, he simply called me by name and he gave me a pawn ticket. How much money did that pawn ticket call for do you remember? Twenty five dollars. Do you know where the pawn shop was? Yes sir, about two doors from where we were standing. Do you know the name of the pawn broker? Taylor Bros. Did you go there with the ticket? Yes sir, not that day though. But I think two days after that. Did you get the watch? I did, sir. Did ~~you~~ he show you the watch of Mr. Bente, is that the watch you got? Yes sir, that is the watch. That is the watch which you got on the ticket which the prisoner gave you?

Yes sir. Do you know Officer McManus of the Central office, detective sergeant? Yes sir. Did you give him that watch at any time?

You say that this defendant said nothing to you as to how he became possessed of this ticket? No, he simply says, "I don't think I will ever be able to get it out. How much did you give him? He made me a present.

I was in the liquor business. I am not doing anything at present. How long have you known the defendant? About four years.

Have you been intimate with him? He used to come into my place of business.

You did not offer him anything in the future if you got the watch out? No sir.

I did not. You simply took the ticket as it was given you? A. Yes sir.

Charles B. McManus, sworn and examined, testified. You are a detective sergeant of police? A detective officer. Attached to the Central office? Yes sir. You know Mr. Peble, the complainant in the case? Yes sir. Do you remember having any conversation with him in regard to the loss of a watch? Yes sir. When did you have that conversation? I had that conversation in jail; he said he lost a watch. In consequence of that conversation did you make any search? Yes sir. Officer, I show you a watch, do you remember seeing that watch before? Yes sir. Where did you first see it? Mr. Bente gave me the watch; the last witness. Did you show that watch to Mr. Peble? Yes sir. Did he identify it as his property at that time? Yes sir. Since that time where has that watch been? It has been in Police Headquarters. Brought here by you today? Yes sir. I have had it in my possession all the time. I had a conversation with the prisoner when I arrested him; he said he did not do it and that he never gave the last witness a ticket. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty. He was sentenced to the State Prison for four years and six months.

have any business
with him?
A. No, Sir.

Q. In what way did
you become acquainted
with him?

A. He came into my place. You had no

Lloyd. Did Lloyd in any way mention the name of Johnson?

Q He did not. Does the james Wicks show the name of Lloyd?

I do not remember.

By Counselor Oliver.
I move for the discharge of Johnson; there is no evidence
to hold him.

Court Johnson you are discharged.

In regard to the other prisoner, there is an element of probability that this watch was stolen. I believe that the gentleman
lost it, but I move to discharge the prisoner, for
the want of any evidence, of Larceny; as the companion
does not show or say he felt anyone take it, he merely
presumes, that the watch
was taken, there is no
proof that he stole the watch.

Verdict

40

The People vs. William J. Lyons Court of General Sessions. Part I.
Before Judge Cowing. Oct. 5. 1886.

Indictment for grand larceny in the first degree

John Knox, sworn and examined, testified:
I live in England and have been in this city since the 9th of August. I arrived here by the Sturria. I have been staying at 58 Twenty Fifth St. I remember the night of the 18th of Sept. I was in a saloon corner of Broadway and Thirty Third St. in this city on that night in Tragnas's saloon. I went in there between 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning. Lyons and another man were in there. I went in with a friend of mine to have a drink; he had left me and the defendant wanted me to pay for his drink.
I said it was not fair but I paid for the drink.
I went to the Laboratory to urinate and the defendant came in. I had $35 United States money and a Cuban dollar in a pocket book. When I was very nearly finished urinating the defendant wanted me to believe that he wanted to be a friend again because he saw I was displeased, and he rubbed back and went till he got his hand here, and he did it very deftly. I thought he was going to steal my pocket book and I stood prepared to collar him. I collared him by the ~~coat~~ coat and held him tight. He took the pocket book out of my pocket, he had it in his hand and when 0318

he found me holding him so tight he threw it in the water closet. I let him go. I picked up the pocketbook, I went inside and collared him in the bar. The bartender thought I was going to make a disturbance and said, "No, this man has stolen my pocketbook." The defendant ran out of the door, and the officer collared him on the sidewalk. He commenced to run; he had got seven or eight yards from the saloon before he was arrested and fell. Cross Examined. I did not offer to bet with the defendant on certain races, for I know nothing of races in this country. I was perfectly sober, having only taken one or two drinks. I came in by the five o'clock train from Philadelphia and went to my house in Twenty-fifth St. and then went down to Sixth Avenue to see a friend of mine, Mr. Dutcher. I say that I drank only twice in Saunier, and that the defendant followed me into the urinal. He said to me while in there, "Don't be annoyed at this, we did not want to do anything wrong to you," and all the time he was taking my pocketbook. Charles Link sworn. I am an officer attached to the 29th precinct and remember the morning of the 18th of Sept. I arrested Lyons about four o'clock, it was dark. I was standing near 34th St and Broadway when I saw two men clinched together, I then ran down and I saw Lyons, he had a light hat. I saw him turning the corner of 33rd Street and Broadway. He ran but a short distance and fell down in front of the Elevated station. Knox said that Lyons attempted to take his pocket book. Lyons says, "you have got your pocket book, what do you want to make a complaint against me for?"

Mr. Lyons, sworn and examined in his own behalf testified. I live corner of East Avenue and Fourteenth St. with my sister. I am a bartender at watering places during the summer and then I canvass in the winter time. I met my friend Dr. Thaler and we drank two or three milk punches over on Third Ave. and he asked me if I would not walk over towards home in Third St below 6th Ave. We went into the place and had a drink. While we were standing at the bar the complainant came in unaccompanied by anybody. He walked up to us and began talking as if he had known us. I said to my friend I don't know him; do you? He said, "no." I said that was pretty good. "That is English you know," he made a remark like that. We asked him to take a drink and he took a drink of whiskey. He began talking about ^{Railroad} stocks and England, saying so much of our Railroads and said he knew more about stocks than I do. He pulled out his pocket book and said he would bet me $20. I said, "I don't want to bet with you." He put up his pocket book. He asked the bartender for dice, and he told him he had no dice. I said I would match him a quarter and he was stuck. He paid for the drinks. I don't know whether he or I went to the water closet first; we were both under the influence of liquor. He said I had his pocket book and I said I had not; he turned around and found the pocket book at his foot. I was afterwards arrested. I did not take his pocket book. Cross Examined. Dr. Thelen is a chiropodist. I had been idle a month or six weeks.

John T. Thelen sworn. On the night in question Mr. Lyons and I were in Travers's saloon drinking; the complainant came in and he was matching pennies with Lyons for drinks. They went back into the water closet. I don't know what happened there; the complainant afterwards charged the defendant with stealing his pocket book. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty, and the prisoner was remanded for sentence.
