HOUSE OF REFUGE.

Samuel Gildersleeve

of No. House of Refuge Street, being duly sworn, deposes and says, that on the Fifth day of July 1880

at the City of New York, in the County of New York,

John O'Donnell, John McGill and Hugh Costello, all now here, they being at the time in Company and Consorting together, did unlawfully aid and assist a prisoner named Bridget Vail, then lawfully committed to and confined in the House of Refuge on Randall's Island in said City and County, to attempt to escape from such Confinement; and did with intent to facilitate the escape of said prisoner - break open the gate leading into the female prison of said House of Refuge and did procure and have there and store in their charge and possession a Row Boat for the purpose of conveying said prisoner away from said place of Confinement in violation of the Statute in such case made and provided.

That deponent is Store Keeper in said House of Refuge, and knows that at said time said Bridget Vail was confined in said House of Refuge by virtue of an due and legal process of law.

That about 2 o'clock on the afternoon of said day deponent saw said dependants in Company together and standing close to the gate leading into said female prison. That deponent also saw a row boat in the river underneath the wall of said prison.

That deponent is informed by Thomas Bailey, here present, that he, said Thomas, saw said dependants in the act of breaking open said gate and inducing said Bridget by words to escape from said prison and accompany them in said boat; and deponent is further informed by said Bridget that the dependant, O'Donnell, after said gate was broken open, stood at the entrance to said prison and said to her "Come on outside, and I'll take you away there a boat outside, we have a boat and when you are out you are free."
