City & County of New York ss.:-

George Bischel
of said City being duly sworn says:-

That on the 14th day of July 1886, deponent became the bondsman for the above named defendant.

That from the facts which came to deponents' knowledge at the time, he believes the said defendant had a good and conclusive defence to the complaint of a violation of the excise law against him.

That at the time of the defendant's arrest he looked like a consumptive and was complaining very much regarding his apparent very poor health. That in deponents' opinion defendant's malady increased in intensity. In 1889 deponent made many inquiries regarding the said defendant and he was informed that he had gone to Europe.

0258

for the benefit of his health.

Deponent in the said year of 1889, made many inquiries as to defendants' whereabouts of people who knew him and deponent was informed by such people that he had died of consumption, which deponent verily believes.

Deponent has heard nothing from or of him since said year.

Deponent therefore respectfully asks that these proceedings be dismissed.

The fact, stated in the deposition, is that the defendant my brief of facts show that the defendant did not intend to violate the law, that he was not connected with the saloon mentioned in the indictment but that he merely as a matter of favor to the sick bartender went to the place to turn off the gas which had been running over night. From that I get I have become satisfied that the people cannot be convicted against the defendant, and that the indictment herein should be dismissed.

Violations of Excise Law
 III Rev. Stat., page 1989, § 5,

in having kept open on Sunday, the 15th of April, 1888, the premises No. 685 Second Avenue, a place duly licensed for the sale of strong and spirituous liquors.

Martin F. Philbin, patrolman 21st precinct. On the 15th of April, 1888, at a quarter to one in the noon time I was in the hallway of said premises, ~~and~~ The side door of the saloon was closed, but at the said hour a citizen was admitted through the said side door and I went in right after him. There were five men in the place. I asked for a glass of beer, but Hugh Mullins, the di-defendant, who was in charge of the place, replied, that he could not give me any thing to drink, as the place was not open for business, and that the persons in the place were his friends. Nevertheless I considered myself justified to arrest the defendant upon the charge of keeping the said place open in violation of the law.

Hugh Mullin, 269 West 39th Street, Grocery Clerk. On the 15th of April, 1888, I was in the employ of Barney Curran, who ^{the saloon 685 Kennedy St.} keeps a grocery store ~~and bar~~ on the corner of 13th Street and Avenue D. His head bartender, Edward Hayes, requested me as a favor to him, to go to the said place and turn off the gas, as he was sick of rheumatism and could not go himself. He gave me the keys of the place. I went there on my way to Brooklyn, where I intended to spend Sunday afternoon with a number of friends. These friends went with me into the saloon and one of them came in about five minutes later. I was directed by Mr. Harges to merely turn off the gas and to close the place again. I did not sell anything while I was in the place.

Edward Harges, 216 East 3rd Street, Portland. On the 15th of April, 1888, I was in the employ of Barney Quinn, who keeps the saloon at 685 Second Avenue, and also a grocery store on the corner of 13th Street and Avenue B. I had charge of said saloon. On the said day I was laid up with rheumatism, and was unable to go to the said saloon to turn off the gas which had been burning during the night there. I had nobody but Mr. Mullins to whom I could entrust the keys to the place, and I, therefore, ~~sent~~ requested the defendant as a favor to me to go to the said saloon and turn off the gas. I directed him not to sell anything. This was at about eleven o'clock, when he was going to church. I told him that he might first go to church, and afterwards to the saloon.

Hugh Mullins, recalled, On the said forenoon I went first to the Church, and ~~from~~ there I went to the saloon. This was at about half past twelve o'clock at noon at
