Frank Weiner, 27 years old, real estate of No. 114 East Seventh Street, being duly sworn, deposes and says that on the eighteenth day of January 1884 at the City of New York, in the County of New York, Charles Landgraf, now here, did wilfully and feloniously, with intent to defraud, make and forge and utter a certain false and counterfeit cheque, hereto annexed, marked Exhibit-A, being a cheque drawn upon the German Exchange Bank for the sum of One hundred dollars and falsely purporting to be signed by defendant. And defendant believes that said false and counterfeit cheque was forged and uttered by said Charles Landgraf from the following facts: Defendant is informed by Charles L. Adrian, Cashier of Paying Teller of said bank that on said day said Landgraf at the office of said bank, at No 330 Bway in said city, presented to him, the said Adrian, the said cheque for payment, but that said Adrian refused to pay said cheque and caused the arrest of said Landgraf by Officer Joseph A. Saul of the Central Office Police. Defendant is further informed that at the same time and place said Landgraf also presented to him for payment the counterfeit, false, forged and fraudulent cheque hereto annexed and marked Exhibit-B. Defendant says that the signature Frank Weiner upon said cheque Exhibit-A and also the signature upon said cheque Exhibit-B are and each is an imitation of the signature of this defendant and that neither of the said signatures was written by this defendant or by any one by his authority or with his knowledge or consent. Deponent further says that the signatures upon the cheques hereto annexed and marked respectively Exhibit B, Exhibit D and Exhibit E, purporting to be signed by this deponent and presented for payment at said bank and were paid ^{previous to said 18th day of January} and charged to the account of deponent; as deponent is informed by said Adrian the cashier of said bank, are, each and singularly imitations of the signature of this deponent, but no one of them signed by him or by him authorized to be signed. And from the similarity of the writing of the signature of each of the cheques Exhibits B, D. and E. respectively, ^{which were paid as aforesaid} to the writing of the signature on the cheque Exhibit A, deponent believes and charges that said cheques Exhibits B, D. and E. were ^{likewise} wilfully and feloniously and fraudulently forged, counterfeited and uttered by said Charles Landgraf with intent to defraud this deponent and whereby he was defrauded.

The People
 v.
 Robert C. London } Court of General Sessions. Part I
 Before Judge Cowing. Jan. 23. 1884.
 Indictment for attempt at Rape.

Annie Campione, sworn and examined.
 I live 532 Hudson St., have been boarding there for two years with Mrs. English; my mother does not live out all the time; sometimes she lives out and at other times she lives in the country. I work as a saleslady in 145 Greenwich St. between Liberty and Cedar Sts. I worked there two or three months. I know Robert C. London. I saw him in the store about a month after I had been there. That was about a month before the 22nd of Dec. I saw him in the store twice after that. I waited on him the first time. I did not know him by name that time. I was working at that store on the 22nd of Dec. last and worked there till ten o'clock Saturday night.
 At other nights I leave the store at six o'clock.
 In going home I go up Greenwich to Fulton Sts. and then take a Ninth ave. car and get out at Charles St. and walk across till I come to Hudson St. I usually go home alone. I saw the defendant on the night of the 22nd of Dec. I could not state exactly the time, but it might have been half a three quarters of an hour before I left the store when he was in there. I did not wait on him, but I saw him there. I was behind the counter with Miss Dixon; he saw me there. I left the store about ten o'clock at night and as I was going out of the store there was a man come from towards Cedar St. and I walked straight on till I came to the corner of Liberty and Greenwich Sts. I thought I saw somebody following me and I crossed over on the other side of the way but I did not see anybody cross over after me; so I walked on until I came to this alleyway that was between Liberty and Portland Sts. I was seized by the prisoner. He caught hold of me and I tried to get away; he caught me by the arms from the back and his marks are on my arm; he caught hold of me with both hands. I got the left arm loose and he caught hold of me all the tighter on my right arm and I looked to see who it was. I wheeled right around and looked at him in the face. to be positive who it was. I saw from the light there was in the street who it was in the face. I recognized him, right away as the man who was trying to follow me ~~behind~~ the counter the second time he was in the store. Go on with your story? I screamed the minute he got hold of me, and when I got my left arm loose I screamed again. That was the second time I screamed and he caught hold of me again and when I was screaming he took a pocket handkerchief and put it down my throat to prevent me from screaming; he put it down so far that I could not move it with my tongue. I could not scream when the handkerchief was in my mouth. I tried all I could to get it out. There was something on the handkerchief. I don't know the smell of chloroform or ether. I know there was something on the handkerchief that made me dizzy right away. Then he took and with his foot he threw me and pulled me in the alleyway. I was right down on my back. I was right by the door. I tried to get away all I could, but he held me tight and pulled me in. It is a long alleyway and the stairs are a good way from the door. It is paved with wood and the top covered over; it leads to one house. There is a yard but it is not a very large one. He had me quite near the back of the alley. All this time the handkerchief was in my mouth. He threw me down there and he put his knee on my stomach and he held me with his hands at the same time. I tried every way to get up and I did get up, and he threw me down again. He held my hands and he tied my wrists with a cord. I pulled every way to get away but I could not. When he got my hands tied he threw me down there. He threw my clothes up, my skirts, and he tore my clothing - all my underclothes, my drawers. He had his pants open exposing his person. I was trying my best to get up and he kept me down there; he had his pants open. I saw him unfasten his pants and there was an exposure of his person. I was struggling my best to get up to rid myself of him. There was no light in the alley way at this time, but there was near the back door a light on the table in the rear of the house. There was no shade on the window, but there was a bright light shining on the table and right from that light you could see right into the hall.

0990

You could plainly see the defendant at the time of this struggle when you were ~~in~~ the back in the hall? Yes, and I took particular notice to see what man it was that had hold of me when he first caught hold of me because I did not want to blame the wrong man for it. When he had me down he had ~~his~~ pants opened and he attempted to commit a rape but did not succeed. I was struggling so that it was impossible for me to go through with it, and while he was down there and had me fastened down there when I was kicking so with my feet, (that is all I could use,) he began cursing and said he did not care whether he broke my leg or not, that I had better keep quiet. There was a woman passing going to market, she came in and when she came in he jumped up and she caught him by the hair of the head and his hat fell on the floor and he picked it up. He struggled to get away from the woman and he ran and the woman took and untied my hands and the minute I had my hands untied, I put my hand in my pocket and I missed my pocket book, and I said,

0994

"O my pocketbook is gone" he had time to get to the corner, she ran after him and said, "Stop thief." I stood in the street and I could see what she did and he did, and when he found she was running after him he got down to the corner and he threw down the pocket book and ran. She fetched the pocket book back to me and I went in the hall again and I fixed my clothes and went back in the yard and looked at the house and the alleyway. She came back and left me down to the car. I took the Ninth Ave. car and went home. There was four dollars in the pocket book. I went back the second time and looked all around to make sure of the house. The handkerchief and the cord which he had were threw away by the woman. She untied my hands and took the handkerchief out of my mouth and threw them right over in the gutter. The drug that was on the handkerchief affected me so I could not eat after it. I was sick. The next week I had no appetite at all from that stuff and I did not eat anything Sunday or Monday. I got up Sunday morning but I went back to bed again and when I got up the second time I drank a cup of coffee and I laid down again and I was in the house all day Monday morning I went down to work and the lady I board with went to the station house. There were bruises on my person I was all black just where he got hold of me and where he kicked me on my arms and legs. I was lame, I could not walk Sunday but Monday my legs were better. On one occasion when you say that this man came into the store where you were at work you began to say he chased you around the counter will you state what that was? He came in the store Miss Dixon was out, I was all alone and he asked for stockings. I showed him the 35 cent red stockings and he wanted to know if I would make them cheaper, and I said, No, that was the general price we get for those socks. So he says, "O my, you would be an old maid, you are about 17 now, you are beginning to spark." I says, "Is it any of your business?" He says, "O no. Will you make the socks cheaper?" I says, "No." He is a man if you give him any privilege he will begin and talk to you. I says, "If you dont go out of here I will have to get somebody to put you out," and he took the socks and went out. I did not see him again until this Saturday night. When next after this 22nd of December did you see the defendant? In the station house, Monday morning two weeks after that. I was then asked to identify him. He was placed between eight men and I picked him out. I am 15 years old. Cross Examined. I first saw the defendant about a month after I worked in the store; it is Mrs. Dixon's fancy store, 145 Greenwich St. I think it is in Nov., about the first part of Nov. Mrs. Dixon was not in the store when he came in. I think he wanted tape. Mrs. Dixon had made him aprons and I think he came in for tape for them. I served him and he left. It was two weeks before this assault happened that he came into the store and tried to run behind the counter. I got angry and told him if he did not go out I would have him put out. I told Mrs. Dixon about it. The night of the assault I left the store about ten o'clock and I went straight down to Liberty St. and I thought I heard somebody following me. I crossed over on the other side of the way. When I got to Liberty St. I looked and saw the man following me; he looked at me. He was only a little way from me. He must have crossed over when he got hold of me. I did not see him cross over. He followed me about half a block after I saw him following me. He came up to me.

0995

0996

and got hold of me right away; he took hold of my both arms tightly. I screamed very loud until he stuffed the handkerchief down my throat and I could not scream. I got my left arm loose and I turned around and looked at him to make sure who it was. I recognized the prisoner right away in the station house, but I did not pick him out right away. When I got home that night my mouth and lips were all swollen. William C. J. Berghold sworn. I am Captain of the 27th precinct of police, which includes Greenwich St. I was present at the station house at the time the prisoner was identified by the complainant. The prisoner was placed between eight or nine men; there was one or two old men amongst them. After they were all arranged in the back room I took this young lady in and told her to take her time, not to be hasty, to look at every man. I told her this in the presence of the defendant; she stood up in front of the men as they were arraigned; she looked at them carefully and slowly. I told her not to be hasty and when she came to a halt in front of the prisoner Mrs. Dixon her employer, who was in the back part of the sitting room up against the wall away from me. She walked towards her; she says, "Dont you know the man?" Then I stopped her. There was no pointing down, there was no instructions given by Mr. Dixon. I told the young lady, "you come up with me; dont be bashful." The prisoner could hear this conversation. I walked ahead of her. He went over to the man again and when she came in front of him she said, "this looks like the man." He at once stepped to the front about half a step. She said, "yes, this is the man." That was all that took place in the way of identification. Thomas Mulvey sworn. I am a police officer of the 27th precinct. I was present in the station house at the time of the identification of the prisoner by the complainant. That the last witness said is substantially correct.

Jane English sworn. I live at 532 Hudson St. I have known Annie Champion, the complainant since she was a child; she has been with me going on four years since her mother sent her to board with me to get schooling here in the city. She has boarded with me since her mother took her out of the Orphan Asylum. She was later than usual coming home on the 24th of Dec. last. I saw her that night when she came in to go to bed. I was in bed ahead of her. My daughter came over and told me something. She complains - and sleeps in the bed room with me. She did not say anything to me that night. The next morning I saw her and she told me of this transaction. She stripped herself to show me her person. I saw the marks on her shoulder; they were like finger marks, black and blue marks and there were marks on her thigh above her knee. Her mouth was all sore; it was all swelled and bloody; she would not eat anything; she had a bad taste; she did not eat food during the day; she was not well. I made her lie down and covered her over. I did not know where her mother was working then. I saw her drawers, dress and petticoat that morning; they were torn; the buttons were torn off her skirts. This girl lived four years with me. I guess it is two or three months since she went to work in this store. Before that she went to the Greenwich Avenue

child

school. Her mother was living out at the time. She has a house in Jersey, but she comes and lives out in the winter and takes the home in vacation. I can swear positively that the clothes I saw that morning were the same clothes she wore the day before. Robert C. Ludden, sworn and examined in his own behalf testified. I lived at the hotel of Hartz Bros. 205 Greenwich St. before I was arrested. My business is a wine bottle; my employer's place is 70 Broad St. I was working for him at the time I was arrested and have been so for 23 years; his name is Reuben May and he is a dealer in wines and liquors. I remember the 22nd of Dec. last. We generally close Saturdays a little after five o'clock and I came home to my hotel or lodgings and went from there down to Everett's dining saloon and had supper and then I went to the corner of Varick and Canal St. for my washing and then I came back. I was sitting by the steam pipes in the office where the people register their names and I asked George Smith the bookkeeper if he would ask Mary the chambermaid to get me a pitcher filled with hot water as I wanted to sponge my body and wash my feet, which he did. After some time Mary came up and she filled the pitcher and I went up stairs. This was after I came back from Varick St. with my wash. It was after eight o'clock ~~before~~^{then} I went up stairs and undressed and sponged myself all over and I never went out of that house that night until 8 o'clock the next morning and then I bought the Times and Herald which I read every Sunday morning. Did you see this young girl who was upon the stand, Miss Lampion, upon the 22nd day of December? I did not. I will tell every thing that I know. I am on my oath now I never saw her outside the door in my life. Did you perpetrate the assault? You might as well say that I committed murder.

 I had not seen her. Mrs. Dixon has made four or five aprons to order for me and I paid for them and I bought needles and spool thread. I pass the place night and morning and I might have been in sometimes. I did not know her when she came into the 24th precinct station house but I might have seen her in Mrs. Dixon's place, yet I have no recollection of seeing her. The officer met me at the baker shop where I get my lunch every morning. He said the Captain of the precinct wanted to see me.

 I said, "What is the matter?" He said it was something pretty serious or something to that effect. I said somebody must be putting up a job on me, I will face anything. I went there and waited some time until this girl and Miss Dixon came in. She had on a bonnet and I never saw her with a bonnet before.
 I did not know who they were and the officer told me and then I recollected the circumstance of being in the store. The officer told me what the charge was. They told me they were going to give me a fair show; they brought the girl in. There were plenty of officers there. We were arranged in a row. I think there was seven or eight or nine. I could not tell. I did not count them. We were put in a semi-circle; she came in and went round; she went to Miss Dixon and came back and stood before me; she said, "I think that is the man I stepped out a little bit and said, "You have seen me before." I did not know at that time they belonged to this small dry goods and fancy store where I had been in before. I am sixty years of age. I am not married. I landed in this country on the 9th of October 1860.

Cross Examined. I should think Miss Dixon and the girl were talking together half a minute in the room before she identified me. It was sixteen days after the occurrence of the crime that I am charged with that I was arrested. George Smith the clerk of the hotel saw me give the girl Mary 50 cents that Saturday night when she brought me the water and so did Peter Kelly. I was in the house by eight o'clock that night and when I got the hot water I went upstairs and after sponging myself went to bed. I sometimes go to bed at half past six o'clock. The gas is at my bed, it is a nice comfortable place. I have had my clothes washed at this Chinese laundry in Varick and Canal sts. for the last four years. I remember well it was eight o'clock when I got back to the hotel, for I saw the clock. I never had a conversation with the complainant in the store. I had with Miss Dixon who measured me for aprons. I might have spoken to the complainant in the store, but I never said that she was seventeen and was "spunking"; she did not threaten to have me put out of the store. I never used any familiar language to her. She did not become indignant and say, "you get out of here or I will have you put out. I know no more about it than the dead in the grave. I could not say whether it was her or Miss Dixon I asked whether they had milk white socks. I might have seen the girl behind the counter, but she did not show me any red socks. I do not know where I was the Saturday before this at 8 o'clock. Counsel for the defendant was permitted to read the depositions of George Smith and Peter Kally taken before Justice Smith, who were called by the people.

George Smith testified that he resided at 205 Greenwich St., was a watchman, knew the defendant about four months, recollected seeing him on the 22nd of Dec. He was in the house earlier than eight o'clock at night. How do you know it was that night? Because he gave the chambermaid a present and I remember the night perfectly. I read about this case in the paper. How long did he stay in the house that night? I could not say because I am in and out. He might have gone out. I could not say he remained in the house after eight o'clock. The testimony of Peter M. Kally was substantially the same. He would not swear that the defendant was in 205 Greenwich St. from 9 till 11 o'clock that night.

The jury rendered a verdict of guilty of an attempt at rape.

Police Justice

Amye Sampson, being sworn testified as follows.
By the Court

On the 22nd of December 1883 I came out of the store where I am employed at No. 145 Greenwich Street - it was at 10 o'clock at night. I thought somebody was following me and I crossed over to the other side of the street and at an alley-way somebody caught hold of me by the arm and I tried to get away but I couldn't. It was this defendant who caught hold of me. When I tried to get away he commenced to swear at me - he said nothing but curse when I yelled. The second time when I attempted to yell he put a handkerchief in my mouth, pulled me in the alley way and threw me down. It was not a pavement, it was a wooden flooring & near the stairs - it is not an alley-way, it is a long hall way. He stuffed the handkerchief in my mouth and laid me on the floor and kept me down and raised my clothes up. I kicked. Then he got on top of me and I saw him have his private parts in his hand. He made an attempt to enter me but he didn't succeed. There was no blood - the Doctor said there was not. The Doctor told nee he made an attempt to enter me but that he did not succeed. the Doctor said I was a little irritated yet but there ^{had been} ~~was~~ plenty of time for it to heal - it was a little irritated last night. I was in this hall way more than five minutes. Then a woman came along and grabbed him by the head.

I don't know who the woman is or where she lives. He ran away and I missed my pocket book and the woman ran after him and he threw the pocket book down. My pocket book was in my outside pocket before he took me inside.
I put my pocket book in my outside pocket so as to get my fare out of it. It was not in my hand it was in my pocket. I didn't see him after the night of the 22^d of December until I saw him in the Station House. After I was assaulted the first person I told of it was a woman who boarded in the same house with me - she was the only person up when I got home.
On Sunday afternoon the 23^d of December my mother came up and the woman I boarded with went to work with me

On Monday morning and went to the Station-House - I didn't go with her - On the Sunday after my mother went to the Station House. That was the Sunday before New Years Day. On Friday she went to Headquarters and saw Mr.
McNamara. I didn't know his name until the woman where he formerly boarded told us - he had been put away from her house. I found out where he boarded by a description of the man and the woman said he used to board there and she thought his name was London.

I know that this defendant is behind at No. 145 Greenwich Street - I was introduced to her by Alf Dickson.

I mean to clip Dickson, by the woman with whom I lodged. I have bought articles in that store. I didn't know her when I saw her ~~in the 27th Precinct~~ in the 27th Precinct Station House - knew her when the detective told me where she was employed. I am across the street from Mr. Dickson's Everyday in the bakery. I never bought stockings in that store. I had been in the habit of going in there and bought aprons and needles there. On the night of the 22nd of December I had my supper at Everett's and at 10 o'clock I was at my lodging house - plenty of gentlemen were in the lodging house at that time - I recollect Peter Stally was there then. If I had an opportunity I could send and get witnesses. When the detective told me where she worked I recollect her.
