The People
vs.
John J. McLaughlin.

Court of General Sessions, Part I.
Before Judge Gildersleeve.

December 8, 1886.

Indictment for grand larceny in the first degree.

Annie Shamley sworn and examined. I live 51 East 9th Street in this city and employed the defendant on October 4th to attend to fires and help with sweeping; on the 4th of November about five o'clock in the afternoon I put my watch under the cover of the folding bed, it was worth seventy-five dollars and it belonged to, me, at half past nine the next morning I found that the watch was gone I don't know who took it.

Cross Examined. I keep a boarding house and have a number of boarders; they had free access to where the watch was but they knew nothing about where it was, the prisoner knew where it was; the next morning my brother took $11.50 away because it was put carelessly on the mantel-piece, it was my brother's money but I had it in my possession; the prisoner was in the house all night, he was in my employ one month, the 4th of November was on Thursday but the prisoner was not arrested until Sunday. He was helping my sister on the floor where the watch was, he saw me take out the watch, I did not notice him particularly when I put it under the plush cover. I had not known him previous to employing him, he came to the door and asked for something to eat and I told him if he could get reference I would take him. I missed the watch on Friday morning and I did not let him upstairs any more in the other rooms, I asked him if he had seen the watch and he said he had not, I had an officer there on Friday and he denied it so that I felt it was too bad to let the officer take him; the officer let him go till Sunday to give him a chance to put the watch back or tell where he put it, I had two other servants, a cook and a chambermaid, I got the watch back, Officer Sullivan showed me the postal card now shown me.

POOR QUALITY ORIGINAL

Andrew Shamley sworn. I am the brother of the last witness; Officer Sullivan brought in the postal card with regard to finding this watch and just exactly where the postal card described we found it; we went down stairs and went back of the fire-place and took off my coat and I put my hand in as he described, I poked around a couple of holes and found the watch which belonged to my sister.

John S. Sullivan sworn. I am an officer of the 15th precinct and arrested the defendant on Sunday, I asked him what he had done with the watch and chain and he said he didn't know anything about it, I brought him to the Station House and had him held on a charge of suspicion, the next morning I brought him over to Court and he denied any knowledge of the watch and chain, but I told Justice Morgan the situation and asked him to remand him over until the following morning which he did, and going over through Washington Square park to the Station House I asked the prisoner where he had been working and he told me at Coney Island, around the race tracks, he asked me if I ever bet on horses and I said sometimes, he told me he used to dream on winning horses. So I thought he might give me a dream about the watch and chain, I told him I arrested a man one time for a larceny on suspicion, I thought the man was innocent when I arrested him and the man had a dream.

and we found the property afterwards in another man's room. About 8 or 9 o'clock in the afternoon the doorman of the Station House told me the prisoner wanted to see me in the cell, I went there and he said he had a dream about the watch and chain, he dreamed that one of the boarders took it and went down to the cellar and put it between the two beams at the foundation under the sink, he wrote it on a postal card and I brought it to Miss Shanley. Afterwards Mr Shanley and I went down in the cellar and got the watch and chain.

Testimony in the case of John J. McLaughlin

John J. McLaughlin sworn and examined in his own behalf. I was employed by the complainant on the 4th of October, the first I heard of the loss of the watch and chain was on Friday morning, I told them I had not seen it and Miss Shanley sent me down to her brother's place to enquire about the money, I was arrested on Sunday, I did not take the watch and chain and know nothing about its being taken. I had the dream about the watch in the Station House, I dreamt that I saw a man go into the cellar, he went over back, all I could see was the back part of him, he had on a black derby hat, light hair and stout and heavy built, the officer came and I told him what I dreamt, I was arrested before for sleeping out at night but never for stealing and that was six years ago. I never told the officer that I dreamt about horses on Coney Island and gave tips for winners.

The Jury rendered a verdict of guilty of grand larceny in the second degree.

attached of the value of twenty five dollars the property of Deponent and that this deponent has a probable cause to suspect, and does suspect, that the said property was feloniously taken, stolen, and carried away by John J. Laughlin (now here) for the reason, that about the year of 1880 on the above date deponent placed the above described watch and chain underneath the plush cover of a mantle

- folding bed, which was in the back parlor of the above mentioned house; that about the year of 1880 on the following morning deponent visited the above described property, which had been taken from the place above described; that at the time deponent discovered the above described property as above stated the defendant, in her usual employment, made what she thought it was to make goods, attend the door &c, was in the room and had free access to said room about 12.30 of that night.

Deponent further says, that she has been informed

by Officer John Sullivan of the 15th Precinct Police, that the defendant wrote the above described postal card and requested him to give it to defendant; in which postal card the defendant wrote that he had a dream and saw one of defendant's brothers put the above described property in the cellar back of the fire place on the top of the partition under the kitchen floor, and directing her to tear up the board around the sink and she would find her wafer; that in company with defendant's brother George Stanley he went into the cellar and saw the said brother Stanley throw his hand and arm into the place described by the defendant in his postal card and there find the above described property; Wherein defendant charges the said John J. Sullivan with unlawfully taking the above described property and prays that he may be held to answer and dealt
