day of September

1879, at the City of New York, in the County of New York

Dependent is informed by Elizabeth Miller from that Rosanna Drum (now named) put into a basket at No. 603 East 18th Street a coat of the value of fifty five dollars and a dress and requested said Elizabeth to take them to a pawn shop, and return the same. Said Elizabeth informs dependent that she did return the same. Dependent fully identifies the property so returned as belonging to herself and wife. Dependent further charges said Rosanna Drum with having feloniously received the goods consisting of a coat and dress of the value of fifty five dollars from one James Morgan with a guilty knowledge that they had been stolen.

The People ^{v.} James M. Guade { Court of General Sessions. Before Indictment for burglary in the third degree. Judge Geldersleeve. January 13, 1880.

William J. Morgan, sworn and examined, testified. Mr. Morgan, your place of business is 231 Water St. is it? Yes sir. What do you do there? It is a stove store. Do you keep other articles? Yes sir, a variety of house furnishing articles. A large part of your business is in stoves? The principal part. Were you at your place of business on the 28th of December? Yes sir. How is the door secured that leads to the street? The door in which the glass was broken is secured by a wooden door on the inside crossing from one door to the other. In locking up the premises that door is barred and whoever does it goes out of another door? Yes sir, goes out of another door; there is no lock on that door. A wooden bar across about in the centre of it, I suppose? Just below the lights of glass. Is it so situated as that if there were no glass there, if there were simply the opening which the glass occupied that one could reach in his hand and lift the bar? Without any difficulty. Was that glass in that door in its normal condition unbroken, I mean on the 28th when you last left the premises?

Before this occurrence? Yes sir? The glass was whole; that was on Saturday evening. Then did you next visit the premises? On Monday morning. And then in what condition was the glass? The glass was broken, the lower portion of the pane out entirely and the pieces were on the floor inside. So that it would afford an opportunity if he was disposed to do so to lift up the bar? Plenty of room to put a head in. You had merchandise there which was of value? Yes sir. Cross Examined. I suppose the pane was 14 by 18, somewhere thereabouts; the bar is as large as my wrist. It is a double door, opening in the middle and each door has one pane of glass over the other; there are two panes in the door, but one is over the other; neither end of the bar was out when I came there; the bar was in the door when I came. Then you do not mean to say that you can swear that that bar was out of there of your own knowledge? I do not swear anything of the kind, merely that the glass was broken. When did you leave these premises do you say? On Saturday afternoon late. You do not know then when this glass was broken. Not at all by my personal knowledge. Nor by whom it was broken, nor anything of the sort? I have no personal knowledge on that matter whatever. Joseph A. Gardner sworn and examined, testified. You are a police officer of the Fourth Precinct, are you? Yes sir. No 231 Water St. is within your precinct? Yes sir, my post. Were you near there at any time on the night of the 28th of December last? I was, sir. Did you see the prisoner there? I did, sir. At what hour was it? About a quarter past one in the morning. Tell us precisely what you saw and heard? I was standing behind a large heater on the opposite side of Water St., Mr. Morgan's store. I saw the prisoner Mr. McQuade come up to the corner of Beekman and Water St., and he looked up and down. I was wondering what he was looking up and down at, and he came to the last door, the store of Mr. Morgan's in Water St., and he looked up and down again; he gets upon the platform, gets his hand behind him and he smashes the window; then he looks up and down on the platform where they put the stores outside the store, and then after breaking the square of glass he put his hand through the square of glass up to the elbow and he raises up the bar at one end and the other end was rather difficult, it was placed in the wall, for him to get out and then I went over and arrested him. I asked him his object in doing that? He said he lived there; he told me that he was the watchman there that night; there is a watchman sleep there every night, but that night he was absent. There was no other conversation; the man was perfectly sober. Cross examined. I could tell how far he put his hand in.

James M. ^{Mc}Grade, sworn and examined in his own behalf testified. I live in 152 South St. I am a cook in a restaurant and live where I work. In my business I have to work every day. Sunday afternoon after we shut up business, I went across town and fell in with an old acquaintance and got drinking. I suppose it was 12 or it might be after I left him and started for home, and making my way across town the liquor I had drank confused me. I suppose I stood up at that corner and looked around to see where I was, I must have stood up against the window and slipped and broke that pane of glass. I did not go there for the purpose of committing a burglary. I was arrested before only for intoxication. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty of an attempt at burglary. Two years in the State prison was ~~the~~ the sentence.

POLICE COURT—FOURTH DISTRICT.

of No. 242 East 54th Street, John Smith being duly sworn, deposes and saith, that on the 18th day of January 1884, at the 19th Ward of the City of New York, in the County of New York, was feloniously taken, stolen, and carried away, from the person of deponent, by force and violence, without his consent and against his will, the following property, viz:

Good and lawful money of the United States, Consisting of three silver trade dollars and a number of smaller silver coins, said money being of the amount and of the value of Three $40.00 Dollars, the property of deponent and that this deponent has a probable cause to suspect, and does suspect, that the said property was feloniously taken, stolen, and carried away, by force and violence as aforesaid, by David Murphy (now here) from the fact that deponent was walking down 8th Avenue at about the hour of 3 o'clock on the morning of said day, and said money was then contained in the right side pocket of the pants then worn upon deponent's person as a pattern of deponent's readily clothing.

That said David Murphy, and two other men unknown to deponent, then and there seized these of deponent and one of said men struck deponent in the face while deponent was held and forcibly robbed of the money aforesaid by the other men and said David Murphy. That deponent is
