I, Frank K. Hain, being duly sworn, says: I am General Manager of The Manhattan Railway Company of the City of New York. I have enquired carefully into the details of this case from the complainant, the defendant and all the witnesses, and did so immediately after the defendant's arrest. I am satisfied that the defendant is a man of good character; that while there was a little scrimmage in which one of our employees was hurt a little, yet in my opinion, no intentional blame is to attach to the defendant. After talking with the complainant, who, of his own free will, expressed himself as not being desirous of having any charge against defendant, and consultation with Mr. Townsend, Counsel for the Company, I recommended that leave be obtained to withdraw any charge preferred, and had understood until now that this had met the approval of the Criminal authorities.

I do not believe the interest of justice demands any prosecution of this suit and respectfully urge its dismissal.

I am night gateman at 129th Street Station, 3rd Avenue Elevated R.R. in the employ of The Manhattan Elevated Railroad. I did not voluntarily make the original charge against the defendant, but was told by the policeman who arrested defendant after the trouble, and who saw nothing of it, that I must go to the Police Court and make a charge and supposed I was compelled to. I supposed it was a matter that would be ended as a drunk and disorderly case in the Court of Special Sessions.

Thereafter I was summoned by the General Manager and sent by him to the Attorney of the Company after I told him it was not a matter worth noticing.

I never believed defendant intended to do me any harm, or that he is a bad or disorderly man. Perhaps he was roughly used and might have been half awake and might have thought he was attacked by roughs and resisted. As it was, I think he was punished enough and because I got hurt a very little I have no desire to magnify or give dignity to it. I ask^{ed} that the case be dismissed voluntarily and supposed it was ended, and was surprised to be subpoenaed before the Grand Jury, where I was compelled to testify before it, and did there stated that there was no felonious assault and wished to withdraw the complaint. I signed a withdrawal of my complaint January 13, 1891, and the same was filed with the Chief Clerk of the District Attorney's Office on the same day.

I have not been approached by any one in this matter with offers of money or any thing else to influence my previous recommendation or this present recommendation. It is purely voluntary and I urge that the case be dismissed.

My Dear Sir:-

In the matter of the People vs. the Robert Gray against Charles Reuter, the defendant was to our surprise called yesterday morning to plead to an indictment of felonious assault. Reuter had an altercation with a platform man at the elevated railroad station at 129th Street and Third Avenue some time since, but the Manhattan Railway Company has satisfied itself that Reuter is a man of good character and a respectable citizen, and the complainant, Robert Gray has not only signed a withdrawal, but is extremely earnest in his desire that the matter should not be tried. I feel sure that you will come to the same conclusion on examination of the matter. Will you kindly allow it to drop and end it. Our people supposed that the matter had been ended, until the complainant was subpoena-

The People
 Peter vs Richards
 Court of General Sessions Part I Before Recorder Smyth - January 8th 1894 Indictment for grand larceny in the second degree Michael Brennan, sworn and examined testified: What is your business? Builder.
 Did you go to your house 129 West Sixty ninth street at noon time on the 27th of December? Yes sir, it was a week ago last Saturday. I cannot remember very well, I believe it was the 27th of Dec.
 What time did you arrive there?
 A little after twelve o'clock, as I usually do.
 I come home to my lunch, and always hang my coat and hat on the hat rack as I come in in the main hall on the first floor. It is a three story private house. I went up stairs to my family, as I generally do, on the second story front. I hang my coat and hat on the hat rack inside the vestibule door. I returned down to the basement where we take our meals with three or four members of my family. We passed by the door and hat rack going down, and the coats were there at the time we passed it, and if the door was open anybody could see it, could not help but see it; the door was not open, it was closed.

all the way down. We went to our lunch, and before we got through one of my daughters went up stairs and reported that the door was thrown wide open. I waited till I got through, probably three or four minutes, and then I came up and found the coats were gone and the umbrellas gone out of the stand too. Did they leave your hat? Yes sir, both hats were left there. The coats belonged to me. I paid for them. How many overcoats were there? Two. What was the value of the overcoats? I think to the best of my knowledge I paid over $55 or $65 for this one (on the person of the complainant) and the other is thirty dollars. The umbrellas belonged to my family. Do you know what is the value of the umbrellas? Probably about three or four dollars altogether, and the gloves that I lost belonged to me. They were in the coat pocket. I paid ten dollars half a dozen for those in Claplin's, and two handkerchiefs, silk handkerchiefs, which were given me by my daughters. I don't know what they paid for them, but my name was on the corner

The name was on the handkerchief when it was found. After you noticed this what did you do? I had nothing to wear. At the new building there was an old overcoat; it was pretty cold. I thought I would go there and I could get my old coat to go to the bank to get some money to buy myself a new one because Sunday was the next day. I met my barber just as I left the house on the way for the coat and I told him the circumstance. I went to the new building on Seventy Fifth Street, and the barber went toward Ninth Avenue; he found the thief. I would not know the prisoner; he found the man with the coat, but I was not with him at the time. When did you see your coat next? At the station house in 100th Street. How late was that in the day? I think it was scarcely two o'clock. I was asked to go up there to identify the clothes I went up, but I would not be positive as to the time. I went up there as soon as I could after I heard it. Did you see the prisoner in the station house? I did. Where was this coat that is on you now? It was on his back in the station house. I said to the prisoner, "This is mine, you have the coat on your person." He said, it is no such thing. This is my own coat. "I said to the officer standing there, you go over and turn down the back of that coat and see if the name of Mulloy Brothers, 110 West Fourth St. is not on the back of the collar. The officer went over and found the name as I stated.

 The officer is in Court. I don't know his name, I never saw him to know him before. This man claimed ownership no further after that. The roundsman said to him, you scoundrel, take off that coat," and he asked the officer to search him, which he did. Was anything found during that search that belonged to you?
 No sir, not anything but what was in the coat. What was in the coat he had on his back? There was some cards, gloves, handkerchiefs with my name on that my daughter gave me.
 The name of the tailor was on the back of the coat. I did not make the prisoner a present of the coat. I wanted it very badly myself.

John Hermoddy, sworn and examined.
 I am an officer attached to the 26th precinct.
 Did you arrest this defendant on the 27th of December? Yes sir, the 27th. Where did you arrest him? Sixty seventh street and Tenth avenue at about 1.40. Was your attention called to him? Yes sir, by a citizen whom I met on the Avenue. What was his name?
 I don't know the gentleman's name.
 Do you know his occupation? He is a barber. After your attention was called to Richards did you arrest him? Yes sir.
 He was in a liquor store when this gentleman called my attention to him and he came right out. There was the liquor store? Sixty Seventh St. and Tenth Avenue; he came out and he had two overcoats on him and two on his arm and one umbrella in his hand. Did you take him to the station house? Yes sir.
 Did you have any conversation with him on the way to the station house as to where he got these coats that you found on him? Yes. What did he tell you?
 He would not tell me anything about it.
 What did you say to him? I asked him where he got the coats? He did not seem to understand what I meant. When you got him in the station house did he make any explanation? No sir. Do you recollect Mr. Brennan coming to the station house? Yes. When Mr. Brennan came to the station house what happened then? The prisoner was waiting for Brennan to come; we brought him out in front of the desk, and Mr. Brennan said the coat that was on him belonged to him, he had another inside. You turned down the collar and found the maker's name on it? Yes sir, Muller. What did Mr. Brennan say about the other coat? He did not know anything about the other two; he knew about the ulster and the one that was on him; he identified them and the umbrella. What did this man say then, the defendant? Nothing at all. Did not he say that the coat that on him was his? He said first the coats belonged to him - that he left one umbrella in the liquor store. What did he leave that for, for security for drink? I do not know, I went after it, I asked the bartender if he gave him anything for it.

 He said he did not. He walked right in and left it at the end of the bar standing up. Was that Mr. Brennan's umbrella? Yes sir. Was the other coats that were brought there identified afterward?

Yes sir, by Mr. Scott, a clothier in ^{the} there.

By Counsel Q Did the defendant appear in a dazed, unconscious condition, did he know what he was doing? He pretended to be that way.

By the Court Then this man was arraigned before the Sergeant at the desk did he give his name, his age, his address and his occupation? Yes sir and where he was from; he answered all those questions. He was not dazed at that time? No sir.

Peter Richards, sworn and examined in his own behalf testified. My right name is Robert Wilson. What made you take the name of Peter Richards? That is in view of my not being conscious from ten o'clock Saturday morning after leaving the institution where I have served six months, without just cause or provocation where if I had been vindicated I could prove my innocence. What was that institution? The penitentiary. I left the penitentiary alone at ten o'clock Saturday morning Dec. 27th. I walked from Fifty Second street and First Avenue to Thirty Third st. and Ninth Avenue. In the mean time I drank four drinks of liquor. I felt sick having no overcoat and having the doctor's order to do so. I had the pneumonia last year, and the doctor told me to drink milk and whiskey and eat meat. These four drinks may have affected me. I remember having my consciousness about half past ten while waiting for a car at Fifty ninth street and Third avenue. I was standing by Bloomingdale's store. I went down the street further in order that I would not be standing in any conspicuous place where anybody could arrest me and accuse me of any crime. While standing there a cross town car came, whereas I wanted a car to go right to the depot. I stepped back. From the time I do not remember anything until six o'clock the following Sunday morning when I woke up and asked the jailer what I was in there for? I remember stepping back into the side door in the middle of the street; from that time until Sunday morning at six o'clock I am able to swear positively I do not remember one occurrence happened to me till I woke up. I found my temples jumping. I requested to know what I was locked up for.

The jailer said for being drunk. I said, "it may be, I am not conscious of having done anything wrong. It must have been my father's complaint; he was taken with paralysis; drink overcame me; this is my first knowledge from ten o'clock Saturday morning. The officer presented two coats and asked me if I knewed anything about the coats. I said, No, not the slightest knowledge. I asked the officer what I was arrested for? They said they knewed all about me; they did not want any name. I thought the officers were trying to frighten me, as they do, being an invalid. I found myself under circumstances that the medicine did not enter into the system thoroughly.

Mr. Macedonia: I move to strike that out.

The Defendant: I wish to illustrate to show my innocence. I am able to show that my poor father today when taking a drink becomes paralyzed and powerless; he speaks and shakes like that. (illustrating) and is obliged to be carried away. I am under oath and I understand exactly if I tell a lie what it means. I am thoroughly responsible for what I say.

although I know the penalty. I want to say it is considerable hardship not being able to vindicate myself. When I left the Court in 125th street, the officer stated to me he found two coats in my possession and two umbrellas—two coats on me and two coats on my arm. When the Judge asked me what I had to say in regard to the case I told the Judge when he asked me what I had to say in regard to the case that I never remembered seeing the coats until this morning when the officer presented them to me.
 If it was not so, I surely would not put the Court to the trouble of putting me on trial and leave myself liable to the full penalty of the crime where by pleading guilty I could escape with a light punishment. I am not guilty according to my remembrance. I am in the most embarrassing position I have ever been in my life. I can not account for what occurred to me from half past ten o'clock Saturday morning till about six o'clock Sunday morning.
 I have not the slightest knowledge of taking the coats or umbrellas. If I did, I would admit it like a man. I would accept a plea of petty larceny from the District Attorney.

The Court. I would not let him accept it though.

The Defendant. I beg your pardon, your Honor.

Cross Examined. Do you remember what you were sent to the Island for? Yes sir. I was sitting in a belt car going towards Eighth street on Avenue D between 111th and 112th sts. and Avenue A. I wish to illustrate; two officers stepped on the car and claimed to see me with my hand attempting to pick a lady's pocket. I asked the lady to accompany me to the station house.

Q But you don't remember about putting your hand in her pocket? No such thing; it was an optical illusion on the officers part. I could have vindicated and showed it. I was brought before Judge Paterson, and the officer swore that he saw me pick the lady's pocket; he held me for commitment. A penitentiary corroborated his testimony. I was tried in the Special Sessions and convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for six months and served my term under the words "not guilty" without any vindication. I got out Saturday morning Dec.

27th at nine o'clock. When I was in the penitenary I was assigned to unloading ice boats and I worked for two months shoveling coal.
 I was transferred to the quarry and worked in the quarry for one month. I worked in the blacksmith shop as a finisher on the bench. My occupation outside is oyster man, waiter and cook. I worked while in the penitentiary at putting up fire escapes on the building of the Lunatic asylum.
 I put on my own clothes when I left the penitentiary and landed at the foot of Fifty Second street and East river. I went into a saloon and partook of a glass of liquor and bought one cigar. I paid ten cents for the liquor and five cents for the cigar.
 I walked along First avenue and must have walked three blocks up town. I was looking for a foot clerk. I stopped in Fifty fifth street and had a glass of liquor.
 I had 35 cents when I left the Island, and I had a third drink at Fifty eighth street and Third avenue. Then I walked over to Bloomingdale's dry goods store and stood there 25 minutes. I noticed people looking at me in a peculiar way and I thought it was a dangerous place for a man of my calibre to be standing 0294

There having been convicted of an attempt to pick a lady's pocket, innocently though.
My father and mother lives in 48th street between 10th and 11th Avenue

The jury rendered a verdict of guilty of grand larceny in the second degree. The defendant was sentenced to the State Prison for five years.

I have examined the witnesses in this case and conclude that the evidence would not warrant a conviction - The complainant's father, five drinks of whiskey before he entered his room with the defendant at 11 AM. was very drunk, at the time he fell asleep - In my opinion he is utterly incapable of telling what took place in his room at the time - He lived there with his son - his door was left open - He was in the habit of keeping his money in a bread box in his kitchen.

I recommended the dismissal of this indictment.

The officer tells me that after he has been in the Court room.
