Margaret H. Kilpatrick, 1071 Fourth Avenue, I am the wife of the complainant herein. When the defendant, on the 3^d and 4th of December, 1888, was laying carpets in our house for his employer Andrew Degan, I requested him to put up some curtains. He did so. On the morning of the 4th of December, he had bought on my account some screws and poleholders, which he had to use in fixing the curtains. Early in the afternoon of the 7th of December, he called at my house and said that by mistake he had taken some screws along, which he wanted to return, and at the same time would like to put some of additional screws in, as the poles might turn. I allowed him to go into the parlor, where I was sitting. When he was through with his work, he left the parlor through the door.

3 Pearl Pins	15.00
1 Leather Pocket Book containing	$13.75

Upon inquiries among my servant girls, I heard that the defendant had been in the said bedroom.

Walter F. Kilpatrick, 1071 South Avenue. Furniture merchant. My office is at 839 Elmth Avenue. When my wife informed of the theft of the above articles and of the defendant's conduct in my house, I went to the station house and reported these facts. We ascertained that he probably had left for Boston, and, at my request, Detective Parsons went to that place where he found and arrested the defendant. In the Police Court the defendant confessed to me that he stole the said goods office is at 219 East 51st Street. I been in my employ as a carpet layer off and on since May 1887.

On the 3^d and 4th of December, 1888, he laid carpets in complainant's house by my order. His work was finished on the 4th of December, 1888. I did not send him again thereafter to complainant's house. His statement that I sent him there to adjust curtains is not true.

Central Office. By direction of Inspector Pyres I proceeded on the 40th of December, 1888, to Boston,

The People v. John Layden (Court of General Sessions, Part I Before Judge Cowing, Feb. 4, 1889.
Indictment for assault and battery.

Catherine Layden, sworn and examined, testified. Where do you live? No 336 Pearl Street in this city. How old are you? I am fifty nine years old last month. Do you know the defendant at the bar? I ought to know him he is your son? Yes sir. Does he live with you? Sometimes. What does he do for a living when he works? He works in a laundry. Do you remember the 22nd of last month, January?
Yes sir. Where were you on that day? I was home in the house, it was Sunday.
Was the defendant there? No sir; when he was not there all the week he was working, but he would not give us any money. Were you assaulted by the defendant? Yes sir, in my house.
Tell the jury all that took place about it between yourself and this man at the time he struck you? Sunday the whole of the day he was drinking and I said to him to keep away from me, not to be coming there as long as he would not come Saturday night and give me some money; he came back again and wanted to send out for beer. I said, No, that no drop of beer would come in my house; where you live you can spend your money. Monday 0136

I am going to get a warrant to keep you away from me entirely, to get the Judge to keep you from me instead of beating me all the time, coming in and smashing things all the time and all hours of the night. He went out and stayed out till about eleven o'clock in the night. He were just getting ready, my other son and me to go to bed and closed my door and it was burst in. I thought if I could get to the other door - I was in the Kitchen - to get an officer; he ran and threw me down and I did not know where I was. My oldest boy told him, I will not let any man lick my mother; he was present; he had his foot on the chair in the Kitchen. My youngest son said, "I will never let a man lick my mother as long as I live; I would sooner be licked than my mother." I fell on the floor I don't know where. This fellow began knocking at the bureau and the young fellow hit him; when I seen the two "in holds" and seen the blood I ran down to the Oak St. Station house. I ran for an ambulance, I thought he was dead. I halloed, "My God, murder, watch in the yard; is it not awful that they do not come to my relief?" I could not tell whether the defendant struck me with his fist or his foot. I think he hit me between the two shoulders where I fell, and then the youngest son held him back; the defendant threw me down and kicked me. Cross examined. I made a complaint against the prisoner Monday morning; he was in court going to make a complaint against his step brother. I don't know whether he was going to complain that he stabbed him. My youngest son is not in court, he is working. My other son got acquitted up stairs in the Grand Jury room.

John Layden sworn and examined in his own behalf testified. On Sunday ~~night~~ when this happened, I sent a little boy in for my clothes. I could not agree in the house with my mother and step brother; he came out with the clothes. My mother told him to tell me she was going round to get a warrant for my arrest out of the shop. I changed my clothes, and in the evening I went back to the house and asked what she was going to have me arrested for? She would not give me any information about it; my brother was lying on the sofa drunk; he got up when he heard my mother and me arguing; he said that either one of us would have to stay out of the house. I said, I will stay out of the house; all I came in for was my clothes. I went up to quiet things. I came in again, and I don't know where my mother was. I can't say whether I struck her or not. As soon as I walked from the kitchen into the front room my brother pulled a pen knife out and struck me in the face and head; he picked up a chair, I fell senseless, he was pounding me and said, "you son of a b---h, I will knock you out now." A little boy who works in the shop with me came in and lifted my head up when he seen me cut. I tried to wipe the blood from my face. Two policemen came and took me to the station house and they took me over to the hospital. I work at the laundry business, Mr. Redlander 244 East Third St. Cross Examined. I learned the laundry business in Sing Sing prison I was sent there for stealing a watch and got two years and a half. I have been arrested for being drunk. Through the excitement I may have pushed my mother when the brother had the knife at me. Jeremiah Griffin sworn and examined for the prosecution. I was in Court on Monday morning when by direction of the Judge the mother made a complaint against her son. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty.

Michael McDoughlin, 507 East 13
Street, Peddler. About nine o'clock in the evening of the 20th of December, 1888, I met the defendant at a party in a house in 106th Street, between First and Second Avenues.
I do not know the number of the house, nor the party by whom the rooms was specified. I was brought there by a stranger whom I met in a liquor store at the corner of 106th Street and First Avenue. I had been drinking all that day. There were several girls in that party. When I came to said house, ^{the} party had put up a keg of beer. They invited me to drink. I accepted the invitation and spent about an hour and a half with the said party. I had about twenty dollars in silver coins in my right pants' pocket at the time, but I did not show the money to anyone in the room. When I left, ~~the defendant came over to me~~ ~~and~~ ~~asked~~ ~~me~~ one of the girls brought me to a Second Avenue car, and when I sat in the said car, a few moments after had entered, the defendant and another man came into the car and addressed me. At 92^d street I left the car, and the defendant left the car also with the other man. They said: Mike, let us have a drink, I assented and invited them to have a drink with me. We went into a liquor saloon, and I treated them a couple of times. On this occasion I exhibited some of my said money. We then left the said saloon together, and at the corner of 92^d Street and Second Avenue, each of them took me by one arm and one of them, who held my right arm, put his hand in my right side pants pocket, gave me a blow in the face with his fist and ran off. The blow knocked me to the ground. The defendant held me by my left arm. He did not run off until the officer

0178

0179

Carrie. I am positive that at the said entrance I had about $20 in my coat pocket, and after I had been knocked down on the side walk the money was missing. I have not known the defendant prior to said evening.

Hugh Moffat, patrolman, 27th precinct. On the 20th of December, 1888, at about 1.30 P. M., at the corner of 92d Street and Third Avenue. I saw the complainant being led by the defendant and another man.
I thought they wanted to bring the complainant home, as he was very drunk. They were going through 92d Street towards Second Avenue.
The complainant was resisting against being led. I kept looking at them, believing that the complainant would be acted as most drunken men do. Very soon, however, the defendant and the other man were making the complainant up towards a fence, and I heard the complainant say, "You damned thieves, you have taken all my money!" In 0180

the same moment. the defendant and the other man ran off simultaneously. The defendant struck against the curb stone and fell into the street. The complainant wanted to grab him, and in stooping down, he fell upon the defendant, who got on his feet again and ran towards Regent Avenue, where he ran into the hands of another officer who delivered him to me. The other man ran to the foot of 42^d Street and escaped. No money was found on the sidewalk. The defendant had only $1 (about his money), when he was searched.

Indictment filed January 21st 1889.

Indicted for Robbery in the 1st degree.

APPEARANCES: For the People, Asst. Dist. Atty.
John W. Goff.

For the Def^t. Mr. Joseph. F. Moss

MICHAEL McLOUGHLIN, a witness for the People, sworn, testified:-

I am a peddler by occupation and live at No. 507 18th Street in this city . On the 19th of December 1888, I was at a party in 106th Street in this city and at that party met this def^t among several others . I had twenty dollars in my possession. I left that party at about twelve o'clock and rode with a young lady as far as 92nd Street. When I got off the car I saw the def^t. and another fellow standing on the corner. The young lady disappeared and I went in to a liquor store with those two fellows and had a drink I displayed my money in the store. I was very drunk; I was knocked down and my money taken from me. When my money was taken these men ran away . That is all I remember .

0183

CROSS EXAMINATION:

I have not a very distinct recollection of what I was doing that night; I was stupid drunk . I was peddling Christmas greens that day and had taken in about $30.

HUGH MOFFATT, a witness for the People, sworn, testified:

I am a police officer attached to the 27th precinct. On the morning of the 22nd of December I was in 92nd St. about half past one O'clock. I was going north on Third avenue and when I came to the corner of 92nd St. I halted a little while on the corner, and while standing there I heard a shuffling of foot steps on the sidewalk to my right, I looked around the corner and I saw three men on the sidewalk. I saw that one of the men was intoxicated and that the other two had him by the arms, one on either side of him; they were pulling him down the street towards Second Avenue and I did not pay much attention, because I thought they were three friends and that the sober ones were taking the drunken man home. I saw that this drunken man resisted to going any further with them and they began to tussle on the sidewalk and I saw these two fellows rush him up against a high board fence there and they had a little scrimmage against the fence and I still thought they were three friends . I then heard the complainant say "What are you doing you damn thieves, you have taken all my money" . I started towards the three men and two of them broke away and ran. Lyons in jumping away struck his foot against the curb and fell into the street and the complainant then made a rush towards Lyons to grab hold of him but he was so intoxicated that he fell on his face in the street; in falling he fell over Lyons and the other man then rushed back and pulled McLoughlin off of Lyons. Then the two of them started to run. I ran after Lyons as he was the nearest one to me and he was caught by another officer at the corner of 93rd St. I never lost sight of him. At the station house McLoughlin accused Lyons of taking twenty dollars from him. Lyons said he did not take it, that if there was any money taken it was the other man took it.

CROSS EXAMINATION:

Lyons was perfectly sober. I did not hear any silver pieces fall on the ground at all. The other man ran towards the Astoria ferry and has not been seen since.

JOHN EUGAN, a junkman of No. 350 c. 53rd St. testified to the good character of the Deft. as did John Grimes of No. 319 E! 93rd St.

SADIE DORAN, a witness for the Deft, sworn, testified:-

I went with the complainant McLoughlin to the party in 106th St. that he has spoken of. I left there in company with him at about eleven o'clock. He was pretty drunk. We rode in a Second Avenue car to 92nd St. I did not see any silver money in McLoughlin's possession that night. We left a girl named Rose Smith home in 93rd St. and in walking through that street we met Lyons and another young fellow whom I do not know. I tried to put McLoughlin on a car but he fell off on his face and got it cut. I finally went home and left Lyons and the complainant and this other man there.

0185

CROSS EXAMINATION:

I do house work for a living. McLoughlin is a friend of mine and visits at my house. At this party McLoughlin sent out for several things, soda water &c. and paid for them in silver money. I do not know what took place after I left the three men.

ROSE SMITH, a witness for the Deft, sworn, testified:

I also was at the party spoken^e of. I left it in company with Sadie Doran, McLoughlin and my brother. Sadie and the complainant rode down in 2nd Avenue car with me as far as ~~93rd~~ 92nd St. We met Lyons in 93rd St. I saw Sadie Doran trying to put McLoughlin on a car and he fell off and cut his face. I saw McLoughlin go up 93rd St. and Richard Lyons walked with us as far as 94th St. and left us there. I do not know where the other man went to.

CROSS EXAMINATION :

I went home first and then we came back and myself and my brother started to leave Miss Doran as far as 97th Street where she could get a car to go home to 105th Street . It was while we were walking towards the car stables that Richard Lyons walked with us as far as 94th Street . McLoughlin spent considerable money that night .

0186

RICHARD LYONS, the Deft? sworn, testified:-

I am nineteen years of age. I have never been arrested before . On the night of the 19th of December I went to this party in 106th St. I left there after McLoughlin did with an empty beer keg on my shoulder and took it to Keeney's at the corner of 93rd St. and First Avenue . Going up 93rd St. I met the two girls and McLoughlin. McLoughlin invited us to have a drink but we could not get a place open . One of the girls tried to put him on a car but he was so drunk that he fell off . I went towards 94th St. after the girls but McLoughlin came after me and this other fellow was there, and he wanted us again to have a drink . This fellow had McLoughlin by the arm and McLoughlin had me by the arm; we went to the door of a saloon at 93rd St. but the bartender would not let us in. I then tried to shake McLoughlin off of me, saying that I wanted to go home; we then had a squabble and he hollered that he was robbed. Then this other fellow ran away and I ran away too . I did not see McLoughlin have any money and I did not take any money from him . I was quite drunk that night .

CROSS EXAMINATION:

I do not know the name of the man that was with me that night . That testimony is as true as all the rest of the testimony I have given . While in the house where the party was going on McLoughlin was called out by some man and was outside for quite a while I believe if he was robbed that that man robbed him . I never saw the man who was in company with me that night before .

In rebuttal McLoughlin testified that he was called out of the party by his partner in business "Irish Tom" and that he gave him two dollars which he wanted .

The jury returned a verdict convicting the ^e defendant of the crime of petit larceny .

M a r c h 24th 1889 .

In passing sentence upon the prisoner, Richard Lyons, Judge Martine, said:-

The jury in this case, in my judgment, were a great deal more than lenient. They pronounced by their verdict that this man was guilty; now, if he is guilty of anything he is guilty of robbery in one of its degrees. In view of all the circumstances of this case it is possible that a verdict of robbery in the third degree would have been sufficient . The fact is that this man, if guilty at all, is guilty of robbery, because he took in the night time from the person property. I cannot see how a sensible jury could have come to any other conclusion. Petit larceny in effect is nonsense, that is not what he is guilty of but under the law we had a right to accept such a verdict. There is no grade of crime that is more horrible to my mind than the crime of highway robbery. There are, of course, grades of that crime that are worse than others; it is worse to attack a stranger in the street and rob him, than it is where young men who have been drinking and crouching all the evening together rob one of their companions. A person who goes about with other young men from place to place drinking and carousing contributes to some extent to what afterwards happens. I think the jury treated this young man very leniently. I don't understand that good character has anything to do with the crime of robbery. When a jury find that a man is guilty I don't see where his good character comes in. The jury took so lenient a view of this case that the Court has little discretion, and the sentence of the Court in this case is that you be confined in the penitentiary for one year and pay a fine of two hundred and fifty dollars and stand committed one day for each dollar until the fine be fully paid. I want to say in regard to that fine that I do not impose it because I believe that your circumstances are such that you can pay it. I impose it at the end that there may be imposed upon you additional punishment by way of imprisonment, and there is no use in cases where I impose a fine of the friends of the prisoner coming to me and suggesting that he be discharged because he is unable to pay the fine. I don't suppose that you are able to pay that fine, but my intention is that you shall have that additional amount of punishment .

0189

With the defendant drinking all the evening. He brought a bag of lager into a house in East 106 Street where a party of Men and Women were assembled who drank, danced, and sang, and got drunk in the place. After leaving the place some of the girls went with the complainant to see him on the car on his way home. He afterwards got off the car and became quarrelsome. I did not see or take any money from him. If he lost any it must have been through the evening. And during the time the drinking was going on when there was Men and Women around him and all joining in the Carousal.
