THE PEOPLE,

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS, PART 1.

vs.

BEFORE RECORDER SMYTH.

LOUIS CRANSMAN.

Tuesday, November 21, 1893.

Indicted for ASSAULT, in the FIRST DEGREE.

ESTHER FROMBERG, sworn and examined, testified as follows:

Where do you live? 134 Stanton street, in this city. You lived in the same place on the 19th of October, of this year did you not? Yes. On that day did you see this defendant, Louis Cransman? Yes; I was working in a shop where they make clothes, 31 Norfolk street, in this city. When I came into the shop to commence work there were a great many people sitting there, and he was also sitting there; the boss was not there, and I couldn't ask any one for work. When the boss came, I said, "I have nothing to do; will you give me some work?" He told me I should wait until dinner-time, and then he would give me some work; after dinner he gave me some jackets to make, and the other workmen had finished their work and went to dinner; this young man was sitting opposite me, and he was sitting at the same small table; whilst I was working, he commenced to insult me; he said, "You should get the cholera." Then I said to him, "Why do you curse?" He said, "Because you complained to the boss that you, yourself, had no work, and I am sitting at work here; that I have work, and you have not." I said, "I did not say anything of that kind to the boss; I only asked for myself, to give me work; I did not say anything about you." He said, "Yes, you said that to the boss, that I am working and you have no work;" then he took the little table and threw it at me and pushed it on me; then I took the table and put it back in its place, where it should be, so that the gaslight should be in the center of the table. Then he kicked me with his foot on my leg. The shop is a large one, and the boss was sitting far away from me, playing cards. I turned around to ask the boss what this young man wants of me, and whilst I turned around he pushed the shears into my back. I did not know what he did to me; I thought that he gave me a blow behind; I got on my feet and I asked him, "What did you do to me?" Then he went away to the big table which is next to the work; I sat and commenced to holloa, and they halloaed; they said, "The shears is sticking into your back." Then Abraham Goldstein came, and he pulled the shears out of my back; then I commenced to holloa, and this young man ran away; he tried to run away, and I caught him by the suspenders and held on to him, and I fell; plenty of blood came out from the wound. Then an ambulance came, and they took me and put me in it and took me to the hospital; I do not know the name of the hospital. I was bandaged in the hospital, and then they told me to go home. I had so much pain afterward, that two doctors came and examined me; I got very sick, and I was taken to the Mount Sinai Hospital; I was there nearly three weeks. The shears were put into my left side, under the shoulder blade. This defendant was arrested afterwards, wasn't he? I do not know what happened to him. Have you met him since, and have you had any talk with him? I saw him in Essex Market Court. The things I had on at the time I was stabbed are here in court. (The witness exhibited to the Court and Jury the chemise and corsets, pointing out the holes made by the blade of the shears) What was the size of the shears? I saw the shears on the table; there were about six or seven inches long. Had you done anything to the defendant? No, I did not.

CROSS EXAMINATION:

You worked in the same shop with this man? Yes, the same shop; and was also at the same table with him. What was your business there? I worked at ladies' jackets, the same as he did; I was what they called a needle hand, but sometimes used the shears. The same work that you were doing the little boy, the defendant, was doing also, and he used shears; didn't he? Yes. How were you working, by the week or by piece-work? Piece-work. How long were you working there before this thing happened, how many weeks or months? About four weeks I worked in that shop. Do you remember on this day in question, when this assault was supposed to have taken place, that this boy got some work, and you did not get any to do? Yes; when I came he took the work himself; I could not take the work. Didn't the boss of the shop bring him work? I do not know. Did you have any work at all that day? Yes, the boss gave me a heavy, loose jacket to make. About how many jackets, if you know, did this defendant have to work or finish? I do not know; I saw him working, but I do not know how many jackets he had. Weren't you mad at this boy, didn't you get excited because you did not get as much work as he did? No, I had no occasion for it. Didn't you start the quarrel? No, he got angry about me; I did not get angry about him. You remember pushing the table, so that this little boy could not finish his work; don't you? No; I didn't do it. You did not chase him around with a pair of shears; did you? No, I did not. You do not remember, now, hitting him on the hand with the scissors, the shears, do you? No, I did not. When he threw the table over, did you do anything to him before that? No, I did not do anything to him; he talked to me and I answered and then he threw the table at me. After the table was thrown down, you picked it up, and you did not say anything to him; but only put it where the light was, so as to get it in the center? I put the table up, and then he kicked me on my leg, and then turned around to talk to the boss and then he stabbed me. That is all you did to him, to cause him to stab you? That is all; I could not do anything to him; I did not know that he stuck me with the scissors until they came and told me afterward. Then you received such a stab wound, although you did not know you were stabbed, that caused you to be in the hospital a very long time? I did not know he put the scissors into my back; I thought he hit me, and gave me a heavy blow in the back. With the scissors sticking in your back, and with the blood trickling down your back, you did not know that you were stabbed until some of the workmen or Mr. Goldsstein pulled the shears out of your back? I did not feel the blood coming down my back until Goldstein pulled the shears out of my back, and then I felt the blood was coming down my back. How deep a wound did you have at that time in your back? I can't tell. (The witness put on her corsets, as she wore them at the time she was stabbed.) Was this torn this way (showing witness the chemise)? No; the doctor cut it off. Do you remember falling, after you chased this defendant? After the shears were pulled out from my back, and he tried to run away, I went up to him; I caught him by the suspenders, and then I fell. When you fell did you have the shears in your hand? No, I did not have any shears. Did the boy have a pair of shears in his hand? He had his own jacket in his hand. Did he have a pair of shears in his hand? No. After you chased this boy, after you fell, was the boy lying down or did you throw him down, or how did he get down? He remained standing; I fell down; when I caught him by the suspenders, he tried to run away; I fell, and he remained standing, and two men came up, and they picked me up. When you fell, did you turn right around and fall on top of the boy? I fell at his feet, and he remained standing. Did he run away? I do not know; it was near the door where I caught him, and a man called out, "He will not go away," and two men picked me up. How long were you in the hospital? Nearly three weeks. Who was the doctor that treated you at the hospital? Professor Gastner and Dr. Britner. Was it the Chambers street hospital or the Gouvenear Hospital? I do not know the name of the hospital.

0 12 1

DISTRICT ATTORNEY: The officer says it was the Gouvenear Hospital.

JAMES J. KIERNAN, sworn and examined, testified:

You made the arrest of this defendant; did you not? Yes. Where did you arrest him? 31 Norfolk street, in the rear building, at the place where this girl was stabbed. When did you arrest him? On the 19th of October, the same day; that afternoon, around 3 o'clock. How did you get information of this? One of the men that works in the shop came to the station house and gave me information that there was a girl there, and I went with him to 31 Norfolk street; the woman was lying there, and she was bleeding from a wound in the back of her left side; I asked her who done it, and she pointed to this young man, the defendant. I asked her why he done it, in his presence, and she said that there was some quarrel about some work that was there. I then looked for the shears. Did she tell you what it was done with? Yes;

she told me it was done with a pair of shears, and I found the pair of shears there; they are in the station house. I sent a message for an ambulance, and it came there, and the ambulance surgeon removed her clothing. The clothing that has been produced here is the clothing that she had on. I do not know the name of the ambulance surgeon; he was from Gouverneur Hospital; he probed the wound in my presence; I asked him how deep the wound was, and he said it was about 2 1/2 inches deep. He bandaged her, and we helped him to take her to the ambulance, from there she was taken to the hospital. What did you do with this young man? I brought him to the station house, and the next day I took him to court. He was remanded, and the next morning I went to the Gouverneur Hospital and found out that this woman had left there and went to her home. I went to her home, 134 Stanton street, and I found that she went from there to the Mount Sinai Hospital. The following day I went there and got the doctor's certificate, stating her condition, and brought it to Judge Voorhees. Then you had this man remanded from time to time on the ground that this woman was yet in the hospital, and not fit to appear in court, and he was remanded for examination? Yes. She got well enough to come to court? Yes, and made the complaint; the date of the complaint is November 8th.

BY THE COURT: Did this young man say why he stabbed this woman? The only thing I could find out from him was they had a quarrel about some work; that is the only explanation that he made. What about the stabbing? He wouldn't say that he stabbed her; he wouldn't give me any information on that; I asked him if he done it, and he wouldn't answer me.

0 124

BY DISTRICT ATTORNEY: Who was the man who gave you the information about the stabbing that caused you to arrest this defendant? There was a couple of boys that ran to the station house; I couldn't say who they were; I never saw them afterward. Was there anybody present in the shop where she was lying injured, to which the ambulance was summoned, who had seen the stabbing? Yes, there was a man, his name is Goldstein, who stated that he pulled the shears from her back; he said that in the defendant's presence. Where does Goldstein live? He works in that shop, 31 Norfolk street; I do not know where he lives. He told me, in the presence of this defendant, that he pulled the shears from the woman's back. You did not see anybody else who saw the stabbing? No; there was quite a number of people there, but there was nobody who would tell me anything; the names of the doctors are on the papers there.

CROSS EXAMINATION:

Do you remember the defendant telling you something about having a quarrel with this woman? He said that they quarrelled about work. Did he tell you anything about falling? No. Did you understand everything he said? Part of what he said; I couldn't understand all. He might have said to you that he had a quarrel and fell, and this woman got the shears stuck in her back? I did not understand part of it. You are sure that he did not say that? Yes. Did you see any marks on the boy? His finger was cut and bleeding. Do you mean to tell this Court and Jury that this defendant spoke to you in such plain English that you understood everything he said, or as much as you have stated? Yes, he stated that to me in English; he spoke English to me; I asked him why he cut this woman, and he would not make any answer.

Didn't he tell you something in the Hebrew language? No; he was speaking Hebrew to other people; he spoke English to me. How deep was the wound in this woman's back, if you know? Only what the doctor's stated, about 2 1/2 inches. Where did you find the defendant? I found him in the room where this woman was stabbed. Did anybody have hold of him? There was a crowd of men around him. He was near the door; was he not? Yes. He did not try to run away; did he? No, he did not. I do not suppose you would let him? No.

WILLIAM A. ROGERS, sworn and examined, testified;

You are an ambulance surgeon, connected with the Gouveneur Hospital; are you not? I am. And you were also on the 19th of October of this year; were you not? I was. Do you recollect being called to 131 Norfolk street on the 19th of October, to attend a call? I was not called to the case, but I attended a woman at the hospital. What day did she go to the hospital; was it the 19th? I do not know what day it was. The day of her injuries, was it not? About the 19th of October. You remember treating this woman? I do. What injuries was she suffering from and did you treat her for? An incised wound of the back, on the left side. Near the shoulder blade? Yes, over the shoulder blade; the lower portion. How deep was the incision? I do not know how deep it was; it was an incised wound; a wound that is made by a sharp cutting instrument. How long did you treat her there? On that one occasion; she was told to go home, and come back to the regular dispensary? Were the injuries such as might have resulted fatally, had not immediate and proper treatment been given? No. What was the character of the wound; was it a dangerous wound or not? It was a serious wound.

0 126

But not necessarily a wound that would prove fatal? No.
She was able to walk away from the hospital alone, without any assistance? Yes.

ABRAHAM GOLDSTEIN, sworn and examined, testified:

Where do you live? 31 Norfolk street. What do you work at?
A cloak ironer. Whereabouts do you work? In the same place where the defendant, Louis Cransman, worked. Do you remember Esther Fromberg working there also? Yes, she worked there with me, at the same place. Were you working in the shop on the day on which that stabbing occurred? Yes; I was working standing at my table. Did you see the stabbing?
I did not see the actual stabbing. What did you see? I saw when they pushed the table against each other; he pushed the table to her, and she pushed the table back to him; then he slapped her in the face, and she slapped him back; then she turned around and wanted to say something, and he ran away to the door and she ran after him and got hold of him, but I cannot tell where she got hold of him, and she held the shears in her hand and hit him with the shears; then she turned away from the door to the operator standing there, and he commenced to halloo, he said the girl has the shears in her back. Didn't you see her put the shears into her own back? No, I did not see that. Who put them into her back? I did not see who did it; it was on the corner, and I could not see it. Didn't you pull the shears out of her back? The operator went up, and he tried to pull the shears out, but he could not, and then I jumped up and I pulled the shears out of the woman's back. The shears were in so tight that the first operator could not pull them out? He was so frightened, the first one, that he did not have the courage to do it. When you pulled the shears out of her back, did this woman have the shears in her hand? No, she did not have any shears in her hand; she had her shears in her hand yet when I pulled the shears out of her back. Whose shears were they? The shears she had in the back were the boss's shears, and the other shears, that she had in her hand, were her own shears. Did Cransman have any marks of violence on him at all? All I saw was that his finger was bleeding; no other wound. Do you know what caused his finger to bleed? I do not know. When you pulled the shears out of the woman's back, was she standing up or lying down? After I pulled it out, she got kind of twisting around, and she fell. What did you do to this woman after you pulled the shears out? People ran up to her, and they picked her up and put her on the bed. Did the doctor come? I ran away to find a detective, and did not see the doctor coming.

CROSS EXAMINATION:

How did you come to court this morning; who brought you here? A boy came last night and brought me a paper; I do not know who sent me the paper; a paper was brought that I shall go to court. You remember this day when this girl and boy were in the shop and had the trouble? Yes. Do you know who started the trouble there? I was standing near the boy, with my back to them, and I heard that he got one cloak more than she got, and they commenced to talk about it, that he has more work than she has. Then she said to him, "You are making more work than I do." Then he said, "If I have more work to do, I do." Then she said, "No; if there is not much work, you should divide it equally between us, half and half." I couldn't say what happened afterwards, because my back was turned to them. Did you see the table pushed over by this girl upon the boy, so that he could not work? When they commenced to push the table against each other, then I turned around, and I saw that there were shoving each other. Did you see this girl running after the boy? The boy ran away to the door, and the girl ran to the door with the shears in her hand. At any time during this trouble did you see this defendant have a pair of shears in his hand and attempt to hit the girl? I saw that he held the jacket, but I could not tell whether or not he held the shears under the jacket. He was finishing work on that jacket when she started this trouble? Yes, it was his work. Before you pulled the shears off of her back, did you see either the woman or the boy fall? I did not see them. What happened between the time that this boy got to the door and your going to the girl and pulling the shears out of her back, you do not know, is that it? It happened in a second; she ran up to the door, after the boy, she hit him with the other side of the shear, and at the same moment she went away, and the boss came up and we all turned around and one cried out, "She has the shears in her back." How did she hold the shears that she had in her hand? I saw, when she ran up to the boy, she had the points of the shears in her hand, they were not sticking out, and she hit him with the ring of the shears. Did you see the girl have hold of this boy at any time? She did not hold him. Did she get hold of his suspenders and tear them? May be she got hold of them by the door, but I did not see it. How long a time was it that you took your eyes away from these two, when they were fighting, until you returned your eyes upon them? The first I saw they were quarreling among themselves about the jacket; then I saw when they were pushing the table against each other. Did you know what was done with the shears, after they were taken from this woman's back? Because it was full of blood, I threw it on the floor. Did it stay on the floor, or did some one pick it up? I went out of the shop, and when I came back I saw the shears with blood on them. Do you know who took the shears away from the place; did you see any one? The detective took them. Is that the detective (pointing to Officer Kiernan)? Yes.

0129

OFFICER KIERNAN, recalled by District Attorney:

On the direct-examination you told about having gotten the shears; are those the shears which you got in the place (shears shown)? Yes; those are the shears. When you got those shears was there any blood upon them? Yes; there is stains of blood on them now.

(The scissors are offered in evidence.)

(THE PEOPLE REST.)

The Case for the Defense:

JACOB JACOBSON, sworn and examined, testified:

You are the employer of this boy? Yes. And this girl was also employed by you on the day in question? Yes. Do you remember seeing or hearing any quarrel between the boy and this girl? No, not at that time. Were you there on the 19th of October, 1893, when this difficulty occurred? I do not recollect the date. Were you there the day of the difficulty? Yes. Do you remember giving some work out to these parties, or did you give the work out? The night before. Did you give the girl as much work as you gave the boy? I did not; the night before, I gave the Fromberg girl a garment, and she refused to take it; I said, "If you do not want to take that garment, put it down, and somebody else will take it. Both were working on piece-work; and with that the boy came to me and asked me for some work; I told him, "You can take that garment," and he took it to work on it. In the morning, the next day, when the trouble happened, I was in another part of the shop; my son called me up there and says, "Look, they are quarreling;" they were both standing by the door; each one had a garment in their hand, and I went to separate them; I says, "What is the matter here? Stop that." Esther Fromberg wanted to explain to me what was the matter, and while she was talking to me, one of the operators said, "Oh, she has the scissor in her back," and with that, the presser who just testified said, "My God, she has the shears in her back." Goldstein pulled the shears out, and threw them on the floor. How long has the girl been in your employ? About three or four weeks. What is her disposition; a quarrelsome one? It was quarrelsome; she said to me that morning, "Will you please give me work, so I can finish one and I shall go away;" she said she would prefer going back to another boss; I said, "You can do so." How long has this boy been in your employ? Six or seven weeks. What is his disposition; a good, kind boy? They are all good when they work by the week, but when they work piece-work, they are touchy. Did this boy quarrel with you, or with anybody else, in your presence? No, to the best of my knowledge.

C R O S S E X A M I N A T I O N .

Did you see the shears go into her back or do you know how they got there? No, I couldn't tell you; I have no idea.

Did you know anybody else that she had any quarrels with, similar to that which occurred on this day? There were some words between Esther Fromberg and the presser, Goldstein. Were any blows struck? No, only words. How long was she in your employ? She was in my employ about three or four weeks. If she was very quarrelsome, you would not have kept her in your employment that long? They are all quarrelsome; she was very quarrelsome from the day before. But you never saw her strike any blows at anybody? No.

SOLOMON JACOBSON, sworn and examined, testified as follows:

Where do you live? 456 East 10th street. You are the son of the last witness who was on the stand? Yes. Were you in the shop on the day when this defendant had some trouble there? Yes. Tell the Court and Jury what you saw and heard between these parties? He got a jacket, the same as her, and she commenced quarreling with him; and he said some words to her, and she pushed the table on him and he pushed it back, and she slapped him in the face and he done the same thing, and she said something in German to him; "I will split your head." Then she raised the shears, and she jumped up from the table and ran to the door, and she ran after that; they got in the clinch, and what happened after that I do not know. Did you see this girl hit the boy with the shears? Yes, with the ring side. Did you see her go after the boy? Yes. How far did she go after him? About six or seven steps. How big is the shop altogether? I couldn't tell you. Pretty nearly as big as this room? No; about half. Was she going after him quickly, as if she was running after him? No, not quickly; she was walking after him, fast; and then she hit him. Where was he standing when she hit him? He was standing between the door and this table, within two or three feet away from it. Did you see him fall? No. You did not see anything that happened after that? No. You did not see the shears in her back? No, until some one spoke about it. You did see it? Yes. Is that all you know about this case? Yes. Have you ever had any quarrel with this girl? No. You say that she started the quarrel; did you? Who started this quarrel, if you know? She did.

CROSS EXAMINATION.

You watched all that occurred on that afternoon, from the time the quarrel began; didn't you? I watched it until they got in the clinch; I didn't see any more; I turned around and called my father; then everything was over when I called him. What did the defendant do when the shears were pulled out of this woman's back, and what did he say? He did not say anything; I saw her fall down after they took the shears out. Did you see the shears which were taken out of her back? Yes. Do you know to whom the shears belonged? I do not know. Do you know whether Esther Fromberg had a pair of shears? Yes. How the shears got into her back you do not know? No. Did you see Esther strike the defendant on that day? Yes; on the shoulders, with the ring part, the handle, of the shears. How long was that before you saw these shears sticking in Esther Fromberg's back? That was not half a minute. That is the only blow you saw Esther Fromberg strike? Yes. With the exception of the slaps which each one had given the other, and also excepting the blow which was struck upon Cransman's breast, with the handle of the shears in Esther Fromberg's hand, you did not see Esther strike the defendant at all, did you? No. Did the defendant say how he got that cut? He said that she done it, she stuck him. You do not remember now of seeing her strike him on the finger? No. What did you call a policeman for? To get an ambulance.

0133

LOUIS CRANSMAN, THE DEFENDANT, sworn and examined, testified as follows:

How old are you? Sixteen. You were working with Mr. Jacobson, at the same table with this girl? Yes. You tell the Court and Jury just what happened between yourself and this girl? The girl and I were sitting at the same table, working; she commenced quarreling with me, and I didn't answer her; then she commenced to push the table against me. I pushed my chair away, and she pushed at me the table all the time; I didn't give her any answer; then she slapped my face; then, when I saw that she is bound on quarreling with me, I said, "You may sit here; I will go away." I took a piece of work that I had and my shears, and I tried to get from her to go to a new place to work; when she saw that I am going away from her, then she rushed after me and said she wants to split my head. I put my hand on the top of my head, and she gave me a blow with the scissors and cut my finger. Then I ran away again, and she got hold of my suspenders from behind and she tore them. I tried to get away from her. Then I fell against the door, and I kept my scissors in my hand, and my work too, and as I tried to twist myself away from her, and I turned, and then she fell on me; I do not know what happened; and she ran off, and then I saw that the shears are sticking in her. Was it your shears were sticking in her? Yes, because I held my shears, with the piece of work I was working on, in my hand; I cannot remember how I held it. Tell the Court and Jury how she fell on you when she tore your suspenders? I turned away to the door, and remained standing backward; I fell against the door, and remained there, with my back leaning against the door, and she fell on top of me. How did she fall; straight on you, or did she turn? Sideways she fell on me. Did you hit her with the shears? No; I tried to get away from her; I did not try to beat her. Where are your parents? I have no father; I have only my mother, and she is in Austria. I am supporting myself by working, in this country. Have you ever been arrested in your life before, either in this country or in Europe? No.

C R O S S E X A M I N A T I O N :

These are the shears which you had on that day and which were taken out of her back; are they not (shears shown)? Yes; I held the shears that way (illustrating), open, and also I had a piece of work in my hand that I was working on. She tore my suspenders and I tried to get away from her and fell, in a reclining position, back against the door, and then she fell on me at the same time. Why did you hold your shears that way? At that time I did not pay attention; I just caught the shears to get away from her. Did she fall on top of you or under you? A little sideways she fell; she did not fall in the same line that I fell; she fell across my body. Who was there at the time she fell across your body, beside you and she? No one was near us; close to us. Was anybody in the shop close enough to see her fall on top of you? They did not see, because I was in a corner, and they could not look into that corner; the corner where the door goes in. I held my hand, at the time, on top of my head, when she hit me here upon my head. Where were you standing at the time the blow was struck at the top of your head? I was away from the table; I was running away from her; she came up to me, and hit me on the head. Was anybody in the shop close enough to see that blow struck at the top of your head? Nobody; no one looked around to see what was going on. When you were arrested, on that day, did you tell anybody that she had fallen on top of the shears? Yes; the policeman asked me if I wanted to kill that Jewish girl; then I did not understand what he said, and somebody explained to me that the policeman asked me that question, and I said no. How long are you in this country? Eight months.

The Jury rendered a verdict of GUILTY of ASSAULT in the SECOND DEGREE, with a RECOMMENDATION to MERCY.

Dear Sir:

Captain Charles C. Churchill has requested me to say to you, concerning the summons to him to appear this morning in the Cronin case, that his health is such that he cannot travel, and it will therefore be impossible for him to attend. This case has been pending for a number of years, and so far as Captain Churchill is concerned, he would be very glad to have no further responsibility in regard to it.

When the matter was first brought to the attention of the authorities in New York, it was brought to the point of trial, but Mr. Cronin's friends made partial restitution to Captain Churchill. After an arrangement ^(through Mr. Cronin's friends) had been made for the continuance of the case through the intervention of the then district attorney, Mr. Fellows, and after consultation with the assistant district attorney Mr. Vernon Davis, Captain Churchill was given to understand that the matter would be dropped. My information is that Mr. Cronin has left New York permanently, but where he is I do not know and have no idea.

Captain Churchill is an elderly man ^{a retired Captain in the Army} and a brother of ^{Mr.} Franklin Churchill, who was at one time a member of the New York bar, and who you may have know personally. The case

 v.
 Bernard Malen } Court of General Sessions. Part I
 } Before Recorder Smyth. November 23, 1893 jointly indicted with Daniel Curtis for grand larceny in the first degree.
 Mr. Costello. In order to save time I should like to say on behalf of this defendant that the testimony
 taken in the case of Curtis might be read by the stenographer. As far as we are concerned there will be no objection to its having been accepted as the testimony in this case.

By direction of the Court the official stenographer
 read the testimony of the complainant, Louis
 Kutner given on the trial of Curtis.
 Louis Kutner, sworn and examined, testified.
 I live at 483 Seventh Avenue, Brooklyn.
 I was in New York on the 6th of November in Catherine street about one o'clock in the morning. I was going down to the ferry.
 I saw Curtis alias Reed and Malen standing on the corner of Madison and Henry streets; they were talking together. Curtis asked me for five cents and I gave it to him; the other one was behind him. I went on about fifty feet and Curtis came up to me and put his hand on my shoulder; he said, "I will accompany you to the ferry." I said I did not want him. Then when I went with him about fifty feet I saw that he had my watch in his hands. I commenced to hilloo, and he threw the watch down on the sidewalk. He remained standing there, and when I stooped down to pick up my watch, the other man (Phalen) kicked me in the face. I did not fall down. I was struck on the left side near the nose. I took my watch, and at the same time an officer came up and caught hold of this one (Curtis). I do not know what became of Phalen; he disappeared all at once. The watch now shown me is the one that Curtis took. I paid twelve dollars and a half for it. The portion of the hair chain now shown me was attached to the watch. Then I noticed that the watch was missing the chain was still hanging to my vest, but the lower part was taken out.

(Curtis pleaded guilty. A jury was then empanelled to try Phalen.)

Louis Kutner was examined further by the District Attorney: I saw both of the men very well as they stood on the corner of Henry and Catherine streets. There was a drop on the other corner and it

0 187

Bernard Whalen, sworn and examined in his own behalf testified: Where did you live the time of your arrest? No. 457 Hudson street. What did you work at? Shoe-making, heel brandisher. Do you remember the night of your arrest and do you remember meeting Curtis? Yes. Where did you first meet him? I was in a saloon on Madison street. Do you remember seeing Kutner the complainant that night? I could not very well tell, but I know I saw Curtis and him talking together and I walked on. Where did he stop talking to him? It was between East Broadway and Henry street or Catherine about the middle of the block. I was not over ten feet away from him. I met a friend of mine named Frank Dove whom I wanted to see, and I started back again. Had you been in the company of Curtis that evening? Yes. I expected to stay that night with my friend Dove and to go over in the morning to Williamsburgh to work with him; he lives at 70 Henry street. We walked right by this Curtis and the other fellow. I walked to the corner and I stayed there about two or three minutes, thinking maybe he would come down with us. I walked over to the next corner and I saw this man (the complainant); he was about to stoop down, Curtis was standing in front of him. This man claimed he lost his watch, and I thought he was going to pull Curtis's leg ~~from~~ under him. I walked over across the street and pushed the complainant with my foot. I did not know what was going on between them. He hollered and the policeman came. I walked up half a block and went down to the station house to see what the charge was. If I had any intention of robbery, I would not go down to the police station. I was standing outside, and some man got talking to me and asked me what the matter was? I said I did not know, I came down to see myself. The policeman came down, and he (the complainant) said, "this is one of the gang; you had better take him in." I went in, and he said I was the one that kicked him. Had you any idea of what Curtis intended to do to this man when he walked along the street with him? No. I did not

At the time you struck the complainant did you know that Curtis had stolen his watch? No. I did not. I was on the other side of the street. Did you see his watch at all? I did not see it until I saw it in the morning down at the Tombs. Have you ever been arrested before? I have been arrested for drunkenness last May I think it was
Is that the only time you were ever arrested? Yes. How old are you? Twenty three

Cross Examined.

I was not working at the time of my arrest. I had been out of work about two months, but I have been doing odd jobs around shoe making. I lived in a boarding house in Madison street kept by Miss Murray. Did you have any money saved at that time? No.
Frank Dove is a shoe maker. I dont know whether he is in Court or not.
He was working over in a shoe factory in Hillsburgh. I did not meet him that night before I met Curtis alias Reed. I met Curtis between six and seven o'clock in a saloon on Madison street. I dont know who keeps it.

0190

It is a couple of blocks from Catherine St.
We were in the saloon two or three hours.
How long had you known Reed? I guess
I met him last summer, some time in July. I met him where shoe makers meet and I met him six or seven times since.
Did you ever know him by the name of Curtis until he was arrested? No. I did not. I always knew him by the name of Reed. Left him at nine o'clock and went over to Chatham Square to see if I could not see Dove and I came back again between Mott and Doyer streets. I was up to his house, and the woman told me he was around there. I came back to the saloon
I was in before and Reed was there.
It must have been around ten o'clock
when I got back. The man said it was getting up close to eleven o'clock and he was going to close up. I went back to Dove's house and Reed went with me; we came back and met the complainant. I saw the policeman put Curtis under arrest. I was searched in the station house and nothing was found on me. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty.

THE GRAND JURY OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF NEW YORK,
by this indictment, accuse W. Wetmore Cryder of the crime of Perjury, committed as follows:

Heretofore, to wit: on the thirteenth day of June in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, and at all the times herein mentioned, The Madison Square Bank was an incorporated bank duly organized and existing under the laws of this State, and lawfully carrying on business in the said City and County of New York, and at all the times aforesaid, the said W. Wetmore Cryder late of the City and County aforesaid, was the President of the said bank, duly chosen, qualified and acting as such, and one Lewis Thompson was the Cashier thereof, likewise duly chosen, qualified and acting as such.

And on the said thirteenth day of June in the year
aforesaid, the Superintendent of the Banking Department of the State of New York, in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, duly fixed upon, determined forfeits, amount due to banks, amount due to individuals and corporations other than banks, amount due to the treasury of the State, amount due to commissioners of canal fund, amount due to depositors on demand, amount due not included under either of the above heads; and by reason of the premises the said The Madison Square Bank and the said W. Wetmore Cryder and Lewis Thompson as such President and Cashier thereof as aforesaid, had notice and were notified of the fixing and designation of the said day and of the duty thereby by law imposed upon the said bank to make and transmit such report in the manner and for aforesaid to the said Superintendent.

And afterwards, to wit: on the seventeenth day of June in the year aforesaid, at the City and County aforesaid, the said W. Wetmore Cryder, well knowing the premises, in his own proper person and as the President of the said bank, did personally go and appear before Robert McGill, Esquire, then and there being a notary public of the said City and County, duly appointed, qualified and acting as such, and did then and there produce and exhibit to the said Robert McGill, Esquire, such notary public as aforesaid, the quarterly report in writing of the said The Madison Square Bank, and then and there purporting to be the report so required by law as aforesaid, and to contain a true statement of the condition of the said bank on the morning of Saturday the said thirteenth day of June in the year aforesaid, before the together with a certain schedule then and there purporting to contain a particular and itemized statement of

and concerning certain of the items and particulars contained in the said report and in respect to which the said report was made, which said schedule is as follows,
that is to say:

by which said report and schedule above set forth and by the items and entries contained therein it was made to appear, and the statements and entries set forth therein, then and there purported to indicate and declare and did in substance and effect signify and set forth, amongst other things, that there was then due the said bank from directors thereof the sum of Seventy-eight thousand six hundred and six dollars and eighty-eight cents, and no more; that of the liabilities of the said bank the sum of Five hundred thousand dollars in cash had been actually paid in to the said bank in payment of its capital stock, and that the largest aggregate of loans made by the said bank and then outstanding to any one individual, firm or corporation was the sum of Sixty-one thousand five hundred and six dollars and eighty-eight cents.

And the said W. Wetmore Cryder did then and there also produce and exhibit to the said Robert McGill, Esquire, such notary public as aforesaid, a certain oath and affidavit in writing of him the said W. Wetmore Cryder, the same being then and there signed and subscribed by him in his own proper hand-writing, to wit: in and by the name of "W. Wetmore Cryder, President," and then and there annexed and attached to and forming a part of the said report, and then and there containing certain allegations and statements of and concerning the truth of the matters contained in the said report and schedule.

And the said W. Wetmore Cryder was then and there, to wit: on the said seventeenth day of June in the year aforesaid, at the City and County aforesaid, in due form of law sworn and did take his corporal oath by and before the said Robert McGill, Esquire, such notary public as aforesaid, touching and concerning the truth of the matters so contained in his said oath and affidavit in writing, he the said Robert McGill, Esquire, as such notary public as aforesaid, then and there having full and competent power and authority to administer the said oath to the said W. Wetmore Cryder in that behalf.

And the said W. Wetmore Cryder being so sworn as aforesaid, then and there, to wit: on the said seventeenth day of June in the year aforesaid, at the City and County aforesaid, before the said Robert McGill, Esquire, such notary public as aforesaid, upon his oath aforesaid, in and by his said oath and affidavit in writing, then and there feloniously, wilfully, knowingly and corruptly did falsely swear, depose and say, in respect to the said report, among other things, in substance and to the effect following, that is to say: that the said report with the said schedule so accompanying the same as aforesaid, was then and there in all respects a true statement of the condition of the said bank before the transaction of any business on the said thirteenth day of June in the year aforesaid, to the best of his knowledge and belief.

W h e r e a s , in truth and in fact, the said report with the said schedule so accompanying the same as aforesaid, was not then and there in all respects a true statement of the condition of the said bank before the transaction of any business on the said thirteenth day of June in the year aforesaid, to the best of his knowledge and belief, but was then and there false and untrue in divers respects and particulars, as he the said W. Wetmore Cryder then and there well knew, to wit, among other things, in this: that on the said thirteenth day of June in the year aforesaid, and before the transaction of any business on that day, there was due the said bank from directors thereof more than the sum of seventy-eight thousand six hundred and six dollars and eighty-eight cents, and of the liabilities of the said bank the sum of Five hundred thousand dollars in cash had not been paid in to the said bank in payment of its capital stock, and at the said last mentioned time the largest aggregate of loans made by the said bank and then outstanding to any one individual, firm or corporation, was not the sum of Sixty-one thousand five hundred and six dollars and eighty-eight cents, but was a much larger sum; and the statements, items and entries contained in the report and schedule accompanying the same, were then and there in the respects and matters herein alleged utterly false and untrue; all of which he the said W. Wetmore Cryder then and there well knew,

And afterwards, to wit: on the said seventeenth day of June in the year aforesaid, the said report, verified

by the said oath of the said W. Wetmore Cryder, and also by the oath of the said Lewis Thompson, as the Cashier of the said bank, was, by the act and procurement of the said W. Wetmore Cryder, transmitted by the said The Madison Square Bank to the said Superintendent of the Banking Department of this State, as the report made by the said bank in compliance with the statute in such case made and provided, and of the notice received by the said bank from the said Superintendent designating Saturday, the said thirteenth day of June in the year aforesaid, as the day with respect to which such report should be made.

AND SO THE GRAND JURY AFORESAID, do say that the said W. Wetmore Cryder in manner and form aforesaid, feloniously, wilfully, knowingly and corruptly did commit wilful and corrupt perjury : against the form of the statute in such case made and provided and against the peace of the People of the State of New York, and their dignity.

DE LANCEY NICOLL,

District Attorney.
