The complainant in this case states that he received the wound while striking at defendant with a bay, defendant at the time having an open penknife in his hand, and from an examination of complainant and from the statements of the officer I am satisfied that no crime was committed by defendants and therefore recommends the dismissal of the

The People
 Crescenzo Di Turizio Indictment for

Court General Sessions. Part I Before Judge Cowing. April 21, 1892. assault in the first degree.

Luigi Dinello, sworn and examined through the Interpreter. I live at 149 Morris Avenue and am a stone mason. I know the defendant.
 The quarrel occurred on the 10th of April last a block away from the house where I live on Third Avenue, in this city on a Sunday evening between ten and eleven o'clock. We were talking together and I was leaving. I shook hands with him and said, "good night," and in shaking hands with him he struck me twice with a razor. Nothing had occurred between us beforehand; we had no difference in words that night. I cannot give you the reason why he cut me. I cannot say if he was drunk or sober, he gave me two blows and ran away.
 He cut me with the razor in the street.
 We worked together in the past, but we were not working together at this time. I can give you no reason why the defendant should have struck me; he might be able to tell you the reason, but I know of nothing.
 The wound on my left eye was produced by the cuts. I have been away from my work for two days. It bled much when 7046

he cut me; the wound was very deep. I had two wounds - one on the eyebrow and one underneath the eye. I cannot exactly say if it was a razor or a knife, but by the depth of the wound I thought it was a razor. I am positive it was either a knife or a razor, and when warding the blow he cut me in the hand.

Cross Examined. I did not send for the defendant's house for him the Sunday before I had the trouble with him. Did not you hunt all around the neighborhood for him and threaten to kill him? The previous Sunday he was in my house and we ate and drank together. Did not you go after him and want him to come and see you about something that the defendant said to somebody up in the country? No sir. I have a son-in-law. Did not your son-in-law claim that you had owed him one hundred dollars? I know nothing at all of the business between them. Did not your son-in-law claim that when he got your daughter that a hundred dollars was to come from him, so that he could get your daughter? No sir, he said nothing of the sort. Is it not a fact that you or your wife sent somebody down to the defendant saying, "we want that hundred dollars? No sir, I know nothing of it. Is it not a fact that the night you got cut in your face that you chased him around with a knife? No sir, he cut me. I know the woman pointed out to me in Court, Mariana Perugini. Did not you go there and tell her that if you saw this man you would kill him? No sir. You are quite a fighter are you not in that neighborhood? I am a quiet man, he is a fighter. Do you recollect a circumstance where you bet a man ten dollars he could not break a tin can on your head? Yes I did, but that was for a joke. Did not he break the tin can on your head and you gave him the ten dollars? Yes. You knew the defendant in your own country didn't you? Yes. Do you recollect a case in Italy where you were convicted and sent to prison for three years where he was a witness against you? Yes. He rectifies it, and he says he has never been in prison. Do you recollect when you went up to the Police Court and signed your mark on this paper? Yes. I do. Do you recollect the Judge up there speaking to you about this case? Yes - the same I am repeating

7048

ORIGINAL

now I said in that Court. Why did you not tell the Judge and the Clerk in the Police Court that it was a razor you were cut with and not with a knife? That morning I was still dazed when I was up at that Court. Were you dazed a moment ago when you said you were sent to prison for three years and a minute after you said you were not? Yes. I did not exactly understand. Joseph Rubbo, sworn and examined, testified I live at No. 49 Morris Avenue and am a stone cutter. I saw the prisoner giving a blow to the complainant. I saw his hand lifted up, but I do not know what he held in his hand; this was at No. 149 Morris Avenue. After the blow was struck did you see any blood on the complainant? I saw a little blood on the complainant's face. I saw his hand bleeding also. I saw two cuts on him - one underneath the eye and one on the eyebrow. I don't know the reason why the complainant was cut that day by the defendant.

Cross Examined: On the day in question I did not drink any liquor. This was on Palm Sunday and the occurrence took place at half past ten o'clock at night. Did you see the complainant have any knife in his hand? I did not. Did you see the complainant running after the defendant? After he gave him a blow he cut him; then he ran away and the complainant followed him. The complainant is a relative of mine, a cousin of the sixth or seventh degree. I live in the house with him.

Domenico Rubbo, sworn and examined. I am a laborer. I do not know the place where I lived because I have only arrived here lately. I was walking with the complainant; then we met the defendant and they shook hands together and after they shook hands I saw the defendant giving him two blows on the face. I cannot say with what. After the blows I saw blood on the complainant's face but not on his hands. Were there cuts or bruises? I cannot say.

Cross Examined. This was at half past ten o'clock at night. The complainant did not say a word to the defendant; the first thing the defendant struck him in the eye.

Petey O'Neill, sworn and examined. I made the arrest in this case. On Monday April 11th my attention was first called to this by Sergeant Barry of the 33^d precinct. I went in search of the defendant and found him at his home No 596 Cortland Avenue; that was the Monday night following the Sunday when it happened. I arrested him about 8.30 in the morning. I told him that this man Di-nello charged him with stabbing him, and he denied it. He said that Di-nello had a knife and was running after him through the streets and he ran away from him, and that was all he knew about it. I searched the apartments where he lived and saw no razor or knife. That was some ten hours afterwards.

The Case for the Defence.

Marianna Perugini, sworn and examined. I know the complainant. He did not come to my house, but I met him eight days before this trouble.

Luigi Bariazioffe, sworn and examined. I know the complainant and the defendant. I was present the Sunday night when they were together. I went to the house of a friend of mine and there I met the defendant and other friends. I found that they were amusing themselves; a man who boards with Luigi Di-nello came in and insulted the defendant. Di-nello was not there.

at that time. Then the defendant said, "Let us go away and do not remain there." Then we arrived near a saloon and the defendant asked me to go in and have a glass. I remained outside and he went inside. Meantime I saw Luigi Diorello coming with four friends towards the complainant. After seeing him come up I went inside the saloon and told the defendant to look out because there was something going to happen to night. The defendant said, "Let us remain a little longer." I answered, "No, let us go off at once." We got out; we arrived in the middle of Portland avenue when we met the complainant and his friends and they came towards the defendant. He says, "Are you looking for me?" The defendant offered his hand to the complainant, and he (the defendant) was held by the complainant's friends, and he tried to run away, and afterwards I saw the complainant running after him with a knife in his hand. I do not know what he did to the complainant. Then I picked up the defendant's hat and told him, "Let us go away," and we took another side street and went to our business. I do not know anything more.

Cross Examined. The defendant went up to the complainant and shook his hand; the complainant then had the knife in his hand. It was dark, and I could not see what he did with the knife. I saw nothing. I was not stabbed. I knew the next morning that the complainant was stabbed, but did not know it that night. The complainant said to his wife that he fell, and that in falling he cut himself.

Dominico Nauglers, sworn and examined. I live at 150 Cortland Avenue and am a laborer. I was present on the Sunday night when the complainant and the defendant had some trouble. What I have seen I am going to tell the truth. I was in company with the defendant and we were returning home and on the way home we met the complainant. When we came close together to each other the defendant shook hands with the complainant, and they wished good night to each other. The complainant said to the defendant, "I was looking for you," and after they shook hands they commenced to fight; the complainant had a knife in his hand and then they commenced to struggle and the defendant caught hold of the complainant's hand, and then not being able to resist the complainant the defendant ran away and the complainant ran after the defendant. I saw no Knife or razor in the defendant's hand. I am positive that he had no Knife or razor in his hand. I cannot say how the complainant got cut and wounded. It was dark, but we were close to a lamppost.

Cross Examined. The lamp was lit. I am telling the truth. I am sure that the defendant had nothing in his hands whilst the complainant had a Knife. I saw the struggle and the Knife in the complainant's hand, but I did not see any blood.

Crescenzo Di Menzies, sworn and examined.

I am a rockman and am married. I live at No. 596 One hundred and fiftieth Street. I recollect the Sunday before I was arrested. The Sunday before Palm Sunday I was in my house home; we were amusing ourselves with some friends and then afterwards my wife and I went out for a walk; we went to visit a friend of mine named Genaro Colasanzio; while we were drinking a glass in the house a friend named Domenico Starchino came in. He is present now in Court, and I asked him to join us and have a glass of beer. He refused the beer.

and said, "I want to go away at once." He went away, and I was astonished he went away in such a hurry. After about fifteen or twenty minutes the son-in-law of Luigi Dinello, the complainant, came in. He said to me, "you will have to come out with me for half an hour." I said, "All right, I will go with you," not knowing the reason why he wanted me, and he took me to the complainant's house. When I got there they sent out for a pint of beer; we had a glass together, and then they told me that they wanted to know something from me. I asked them what they wanted to know. The son-in-law told me that I had said that I had laid down in bed with his wife. I said, what nonsense are you talking about? when have such words come out of my mouth?" I said, "Who said so?" He says, "it was one night when you were working at Sing Sing and while you were drunk that you said so." Then the father got up, and he says, "I will kill you." The mother got up also, and she wanted to beat me. That took place after that. He says, if it is true that he ever uttered such a word, I will be glad to be killed this evening." I said to the man that had accused me, "I have got no friendship with you, and if I ^{ever} said such a word there might have been other witnesses that heard me." He says, "There were other people, you can get other witnesses and send for them." By the Court: Come down to the time of this cutting? He says, "The night that he was wounded I was drinking in the bar with my friends; we left there, and I was going home, and whilst going home I met the complainant. I wished him "good night." He says,

0055

 "You are just the person I am looking for," and immediately saying so, I saw that he held a knife in his hand.
 By Counsel: Was it a razor or a knife he had? No, it was a knife. He was drunk, and I took hold immediately of his hand and tried to take away the knife from his hand, and whilst struggling he hit me on the face and I fell down and I got up and ran away. Did you cut him with a knife or razor? No, I did not. After you saw the knife in his hand and got that away from him did not you run away? Yes, I ran away in search of a police officer. You went home did you not to your own 0056

POOR QUALITY
ORIGINAL

house? Yes sir, I then afterwards went home.
You were a witness against Dinello in Italy when he was sent to prison for some years there? I was, but then he never served three years; because he was discharged. Pardon me I suppose?
Pardon me.

Cross Examined. Was the complainant cut that night? No sir. Why did you not go to the station house and make a complaint against Luigi for having drawn a knife on you? I did not because I did not believe that he was cut. I am asking why he did not go to the station house, if what he said ~~was~~ true, that Luigi drew a knife to stab him with? As I could not speak English and had to pay an interpreter to go to the police station then I did not go. That was the reason. If I had found the police officers that night I would have had him arrested. I walked through 49th and 50th sts. and did not meet any officers. You were not cut that night to cut him up because you had heard a week ago that the other fellow was after him? No sir, I was not.

The jury rendered a verdict of guilty of assault in the second degree

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS OF THE PEACE,

City and County of New York.

T h e P e o p l e,

vs.

JOHN HEALY,

jointly indicted with

JOHN DOOLAN

and another.

Before

HON. FREDERICK SMYTH,

and a Jury.

Tried April 12, 1892.

Indicted for BURGLARY in the third degree.

Indictment filed APRIL 4th, 1892.

APPEARANCES:

ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEY BARTOW S. WEEKS,

For THE PEOPLE.

JAMES W. McLAUGHLIN, ESQUIRE,

For THE DEFENCE.

JOSEPH RYAN, THE COMPLAINANT, testified that he was a carpenter and builder at 308 and 310 East 91st street, in the twelfth ward of the city of New York. He kept a carpenter shop at that number. On the afternoon of the 12th of March, between four and five o'clock, he closed all of the windows of his shops, and locked the front door with a lock and key. It was Saturday afternoon. He returned to his shop on the following morning. He found the lock broken off, and the front door open. There were three or four iron shutters and two hydraulic screw-jacks missing. There was also missing the web of the derick and some large hammers. The value of the property missing was $150.00. There was also wire cable missing. He had never seen any of his property since he locked up his shop on the afternoon of Saturday, the 12th of March. He reached his shop about nine o'clock on the morning of March 13th. There was a mortised lock on the front door.

In cross-examination the witness testified that the property missing had been in the rear of the shop, in the tool-house. He, the complainant, was the first person to reach his shop on the morning of the 13th of March. The property was not second-hand. It was new, and it had been used by him for only a short time. The property was really better than new, because it had gotten into working order.

OFFICER JAMES H. KANE testified that he was attached to the 27th police precinct. He remembered the 12th of March. On that day he saw the defendant and two other men, Doolan being one of them. The witness then identified Doolan and a man named McCarthy, who were brought to the bar of the court. He saw the defendant and Doolan and McCarthy together, between nine and ten o'clock, between 99th and 100th streets, on the East side of First avenue. He saw the three men pulling a wagon, and there was a lot of stuff in the wagon. He noticed particularly a galvanized iron pillar, because it was bright. He asked the men where they were going, and they said that the horse was taken sick with the staggers, and that it was Mr. Ryan's horse. Doolan did the talking for the three men. They had Ryan's wagon. The name was painted upon the side of the wagon. He did not know whether the Ryan painted on the side of the wagon was the name of the complainant or not, because there were several firms by that name in that neighborhood. They said that the horse had been taken sick with the staggers, and that they had gone to a stable in 93rd street for a horse, and that the stableman would not give them a horse. He, the witness, asked them where they were taking the stuff and they said to First avenue and 117th street, where they expected to start work on Monday morning. He, the witness, asked how many Ryans Doolan knew, and Doolan named several Ryans, with their surnames, and said that Mr. Ryan's address was in 83rd street, and then he, the witness, thought it was all right because Doolan gave correct names. Thereupon he, the witness, allowed the men to go on with the wagon.

In cross-examination the witness testified that all the conversation that he had was with Doolan, and that the other two men sat upon the curbstone, resting, while Doolan stood up by the wagon and spoke to him, the witness. The other two men were close enough to hear what Doolan said. The men seemed to be under the influence of liquor, but not sufficiently to lock them up for drunkenness.

OFFICER JERIMIAH P. HAMILTON testified that he was attached to the 27th police precinct. He first heard of the loss of Mr. Ryan's property on the evening of the 23rd of March. He arrested John Doolan first. He took Doolan to Mary Joe's junk shop, and she identified Doolan as the man that brought junk there. And then Doolan said, after he had been identified, that John Healy was with him too, when he took the stuff. He, the witness, asked Doolan where Healy lived, and Doolan told him. He, the witness, had previously told Doolan what he arrested him for. He, the witness, was accompanied by Officer Partell. They met Healy coming down the stairs of his house, and Officer Partell arrested him and took him to the station house. Then Healy told him, the witness, and Officer Partell, that McCarthy, Doolan's brother-in-law, was with them when they took the stuff. Then Healy showed where McCarthy lived. On the following morning the three men were taken to the Police Court. Healy told him, the witness, in the cars, on the way to the police court, that he, Healy, was with Doolan three times and took iron and other stuff out of Ryan's place to Mary Joe's junk shop. They got $2.40 one time, $3.00 another, and $2.60 another, for stuff that they had sold to her.

Healy said that he did not get any of the money, and that he was only helping Doolan.

In cross-examination the witness said that Healy also said at that time that Doolan had told him, Healy, that the stuff they took to the junk shop was scrap iron that Ryan had authorized him, Doolan, to sell if he wanted to. In the police court Healy made no such statement.

(No defence was offered.)

I. That he is a general furnishing undertaker carrying on business at No. 1477 Third Avenue, in the City of New York. That he has been engaged in business at that address for more than fifteen years last past, and that he has been a resident of the neighborhood where he now carries on business for the last twenty-five years.

II. That for the past twenty years he has known the defendant, and has also known his father and mother, and during that time and up to the time of the arrest of the defendant, deponent came almost daily in contact with the defendant. That he knows the reputation of the defendant; that the defendant's reputation has always been considered good, and that he has always known the defendant to be honest, sober, and industrious, and until the occurrence that resulted in his arrest, in this case, deponent never heard of the defendant in connection with any improper, dishonest, or degrading act.

III. That since the arrest of the defendant, in this case, deponent has made inquiries of old residents of the neighborhood and persons engaged in business there for years regarding their ^{personal} knowledge of the character of the defendant, and the character of the defendant among those from whom deponent made inquiry and with whom deponent was acquainted, is
