of No. 27 Oak Street, being duly sworn, deposes and says, that the premises are apartment Street, in part Ward, in the City and County aforesaid, the said being a tenement and which was occupied by deponent as dwelling apartments of implements were BURGLARIOUSLY entered by means to deponent unknown by forcing open a door leading from a hallway to deponent's apartments on the 10th of the month day of January 1878 and the following property, feloniously taken, stolen and carried away, viz:

Good and Lawful Money Consisting of One Silver Coin of the value of twenty five Cents and Nickel and Copper coins of the value of fifteen Cents in all of the value of forty Cents -

the property of deponent and deponent further says, that he has great cause to believe, and does believe, that the aforesaid BURGLARY was committed and the aforesaid property taken, stolen and carried away by

Joseph Henry now here for the reasons following, to wit: That deponent locked and secured said door as he was leaving said apartments and gave the key of said door to one Johana Hickey who lives in said premises. That deponent was informed that the prisoner ~~had~~ was ~~seen~~ seen leaving deponent's apartments and deponent subsequently discovered that the door aforementioned had been forced open and the property in question taken stolen and carried away from the top of a bureau in said room where said money was kept by deponent that the prison was being blown away that ship had been blown away that deponent is informed and believes the same to be true.

City and County, of New York ss

Johna Hickey of No 24 Oak Street being duly Sworn Says that the Key of the door leading to the apartments of ^{of Bracini} Bracini was given to defendant by said Bracini as he was going out. That defendant hearing a noise in said Room some time thereafter came out of her apartments and at that time defendant saw the prisoner come out of Bracini's apartments and flee away. That defendant pursued him and raised a cry of thief when an officer arrived and arrested him.

v L 16

The People vs Joseph Marey Court of General Sessions. Before Judge Giddensleeve. January 20, 1880.
 Indictment for burglary in the third degree and larceny.
 Joseph Bracino, sworn and examined, testified:
 I live No. 27 Oak St. on the fourth floor, room 17. I peddle fruit in a wagon; on the morning of the 12th of January I locked my room and I gave the key to the lady next door, Mrs. Mickey; it was about fifteen minutes before 9 o'clock in the morning that I gave it to her. I did not come back till she sent for me. A boy came and said, "the officer wants you, some man he broke in your room and got arrested." What time was that? About fifteen minutes after 9; that was about half an hour after I left the room. I go back right away. What did you find had been the condition of your door, the one you had locked? My door was open; it was opened by a key. Did you miss any property you had in there? I missed about forty or fifty cents - forty cents on the top of the bureau. There was in the house about three or four hundred dollars. I have got a gold watch and valuable papers and about fifteen dollars in money in the house, but the only money that was taken was taken out of the bureau drawer, about forty cents. Did you know this prisoner? No sir; may be I seen him in the street. You do not recognize him as any one you you have known before? No sir. Cross Examined the 40 cents was in a quarter of a dollar and small pennies; it was small change I had in my pocket and I threw it on the top of the bureau. I went away; my wife is out in the morning before me. I want to know whether you are sure you locked the door? Certainly I locked the door. Do you think I went out keeping my door open? I am not a baby. Johanna Kieck sworn and examined. I live at 27 Oak St. next door to the last witness. Do you remember his giving you the key on the morning when this thing happened? Yes sir, he has often left me his keys because his wife goes out to work; he leaves the keys with me so that if the wife comes when he is away I could give her the keys. On the morning of the 12th he left his key with you, did he? Yes sir. How long after his leaving the key with you, was it before your attention was attracted by something in his room? It was about fifteen or twenty minutes, a little more or less to the best of my belief.

0533

State to the jury what you heard? I was sitting down seeing my husband was sleeping; he was working all night. I heard some noise a key going into a lock. Says, "Oh heavens, who must this be? the man give me his keys." I ran out, and this prisoner ran out of the man's ~~door~~ down stairs, but when I halloed, "Thief, Thief, stop Thief," I got no one to come to my assistance. He could have killed me if he was bad enough. I ran after him all the way down till I went to the sidewalk. I met an officer; says I, "Arrest this man." He asked me, "what for?" I told him. "How do you know, did he take anything?" I said, "I don't know what is taken out of the man's room. I know he left me his keys, he told me to have an eye to his door, that there was poor locks on it. The prisoner had a key that will exactly open the door; the officer will show it to you. Cross Examined. I saw the officer take the key out of his pocket; the officer took him up stairs and searched him in the man's room. I got so excited I could hardly tell you what the officer did find; it was a key that opened the door. I saw the prisoner on that very landing about a week previous. I had never seen him before that. I have seen a great many strange faces on that landing. Teresa Gonzales sworn. I live in 74 Division St; on the morning of the 12th of January I was in my mother's room 27 Oak St. on the first floor front. I saw the prisoner running as the lady witness halloed, "Stop Thief." I opened the door; he was just turning the second flight of stairs running towards the street; the prisoner faced me, I followed him right down; he dropped something in the entry. I picked it up and I found it was a large new chisel wrapped in paper. I handed it to the officer. Samuel Kingston sworn. I arrested the prisoner, he was running toward the centre of the street, towards the opposite side from 27 when Johanna Hickey asked me to arrest him. I took him over towards the door; there was a crowd, and the other lady gave me the chisel. I found this small key in the hip pocket of his pantaloons and the other key was picked up at the door by some boys; the key fitted the door of the complainant's room. Joseph Marey sworn and examined in his own behalf. I am an Italian. I was passing by the street; this woman called me a thief. I crossed the street and told the policeman I did not know the reason the woman called me a thief; the woman told the officer to arrest me, that she had seen me come out of the house next to her. The key found on me is the key for my door 69 Park St. That chisel I never saw in my life. I peddle oil and macaroni. I was not up stairs in this house, I don't know the complainant. Thomas Dumas and John Kellenbeyer testified to the good character of the prisoner - that they knew nothing bad of him. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty. He was sent to the State prison for three years.

Did he intentionally injure the woman in the

 - Indictment for felonious assault and battery.

Court of General Sessions. Before Judge Gildersleeve. January 20, 1880.
 John Roche, sworn and examined, testified.
 I live 175 North St., on the 4th of January, the time this assault took place, I was standing at my own door on the sidewalk; there was a woman lying across the other side of North St., near the glass factory; the woman was sitting down there; she had a shawl on; the prisoner had a comrade, a taller man, along with him; they were standing alongside the Lager beer saloon and they went in several times to this saloon; the rest of the people were watching them as well as I was.
 They were kicking and picking at the woman and dragging the shawl; they were tantalizing her. she was intoxicated sitting down on the front door. This was on the opposite side from where I live. I halloed at him to let the poor woman alone; that was all I said; the two men came across the street and the prisoner said, "What are you halloing at me for?" I said, "I am not halloing at you at all, only to let the poor woman alone and go about your business." He called me an Irish son of a b— and he stuck this into my arm; the other fellow said, "you are cut." I saw this weapon in his hand, he was making the second blow I knocked him down. I never left my own side; he cut me in the arm, I was four days idle, I work at cellar digging; the doctor told me the cut was about an inch deep. I don't know what kind of a weapon it was; I don't know whether it was iron or steel, it was hollow inside, something like a turn screw brought to a little point; it had a handle, but the handle could not be found. When I struck him he fell and this affair was in his hand and it broke; then the crowd came. No one was listening to how it commenced; it was only between ourselves. We were standing close together, I never thought he would stick me. Cross Examined. I did not knock him down or choke him before I got cut. John Roach Sr. examined. I am the uncle of the boy who has been on the stand. I saw where he was standing when he was stabbed; he was on his own side of the street. The two men were "picking" at the woman, who was an unfortunate woman; They went in once or twice to the lager beer saloon and came out again. My nephew asked the prisoner why he did not let the young woman alone? The prisoner came over after that, and I could not say which of them struck first, he came over to where my nephew was standing; the instrument that the prisoner used was ^{like} a little bit of a razor that they try butter with down at the market, but there was no handle to it; it was filed down to a sharp point and I think it was about three or four inches long. Mary Marinello sworn and examined for the defence testified. I work in a tobacco factory in the New Bowery. There was a lady sitting down; she was kind of tight, and these two gentlemen came out of the bar, and the prisoner touched her on the face and said, "What is the matter with you?" The lady says, "I am sick." He went away and as the Frenchman came across Mr. Roach spoke to him and the prisoner. He said, "What did you want to hit that woman for and steal her shawl?" The prisoner said, "No." The prisoner struck him two or three times in the face. Of course he did not move himself at all; there came another one behind him and tripped him and knocked him down. When he was down that other fellow kicked him two or three times in the face as hard as he could and ran away. I ran to call his sister, "Your brother is getting killed." She came over, I seen him lying on the ground, the other young fellow run away; he came back five minutes afterwards and said he was cut in the arm. Julia Varnia and Oscara Marinellie and Jennie Dundera also testified that the complainant struck the prisoner first. Charles Maynolds sworn. I and the Frenchman went to 174 89th a glass of beer and coming out the Frenchman saw that woman just in front of the door. He said to the woman, "Get up, get away from the door," and the woman said, "Let me alone, I am sick." I looked at her and saw she had a veil over her face. I said, "What have you got?" She said again, "I am sick." Then I said to the Frenchman, taking his arm, "let us go." We crossed the street just in the direction to go to Mulberry St.; there is a kind of wood fence; in passing that fence I heard somebody talk to me; it was the complainant and another man; they both talked to us. I stopped to see what they wanted of me. I could not understand what they were saying. Whilst he was talking I had my hands in my pockets and all at once he jumped at me and said, "you son of a b---"; then he hit me several times in the ~~face~~ ^{eye}, so that my eye got black; they knocked me down, I fell to the ground; when I was lying on the ground he kicked me several times in the private parts. Then the women came out and began to hallow. If not, they would have kicked me more yet. I did not enthrin.

0558

0559

The jury rendered a verdict of guilty of assault with intent to do bodily harm. He was sent to the State prison for three years.

The People
vs. James M. Carthy Indictment

Court of General Sessions. Before Recorder Smythe. February 2, nd 1880. for attempt at larceny from the person.
Solomona W. Jewett, sworn and examined.
I have been living in Philadelphia, I was on my way to Vermont; ostensibly my home is in Vermont at Rutland. I was passing through the city at this time. I was stopping at the Howard House on Fulton St. On Wednesday the 24th of January, the fore part of the evening I was at the American Institute, and as soon as the lecture closed I walked down on the west side of the Bowery and when I came down to Chatham Square, there was a light complexioned well dressed gentleman, genteel and that was good language. He says, "Hallo, how are you?" He came up and grabbed my hand and said, "I know you." I think not, I said, and kept walking along. Finally I said, I am from Philadelphia; of course you don't know me. Have you seen you in Philadelphia, he says. I kept walking along; he said, "good bye." I do not think I had passed more than twenty or thirty feet before I was struck by something like a slung shot. I had on a silk hat, it was pretty heavy and just struck the top of my head and glanced up; it did not hurt me any but smashed my hat. I turned around to see who the guilty parties were; there was several stood there about the size of the prisoners. They got a kind of a pigeon stool, a boy playing back and forth; he dodged behind to have me start after him. I made a start toward the boy; they hustled in front of me. Lepke and said, "I wish there was police here." I turned around coming down this way. I did not pass further than from hear to you before they hustled in front of me and this prisoner stood square in front of me, he put up his hand and came and touched my vest here pretty strong and the chain was in here. I supposed I had lost my watch; the chain was hooked in the upper button of my vest and the watch was in the watch pocket. Did they take the watch out? No sir, it was a regular twitch, very hard, and the twitch called my attention to it because I should not have noticed it if it had been taken out light because I was so excited. I gave the prisoner a crack on the head, and he leaned partly over and some of them caught me. I had not more than done before the policeman came and said, "What is up here." I told him there had been a man attempting to steal my watch, and he just told me to walk down with him to the station.

and so I walked right off. My watch cost me $4.05 and the chain $1.14. I paid that for them years ago. It is worth more than $25. It keeps time correctly; when I felt the twitch I did not turn around to see whether my watch was gone. I only dropped my head; the prisoner stood close to me facing me right square in front. I think there was several all around me at the time. I thought I would give the prisoner a crack anyhow. If I had any doubt it was the prisoner, I would not have struck him; it is the first one I have struck since I was of age. Cross examined I should think there was six or eight boys present when my watch was snatched. I was only five or ten feet from where I was first attacked to the place where I was attacked again. I recognized some of the persons around me when the chain was snatched as were there when my hat was struck. I am a man. I never look at a person but what I can read a man. I can read every man in this room and give his character by some intuitive means. The moment I look at a man I know his character the first thing. The instrument that struck my hat gave it quite a rap. If it had been an inch or two lower I do not know but it would knock me down. I was sure it was the prisoner's hand was in front of me I saw the prisoner before, at the time when I started for the little fellow. James M. Farthy sworn and examined for the defence.

 I live at 183 Clinton St. with my married brother. I saw the complainant that night on Chatham between Mulberry and Baxter Sts. I was coming out of a saloon after playing a game of polo with some young men.
 I was going towards Catherine St. up East Broadway towards Clinton St. when this man Jewett was coming down. I seen a lot of little boys fooling with him. It attracted my attention. I stood looking on, me and half a dozen more; one struck his high hat. I seen Mr. Jewett rear after the other boys. One little boy stood in front of him and snatched his chain, and he hit me a crack in the side of the face. I asked him what he was doing. The officer came up; he said it was me that touched the chain. I am just as innocent of this charge as any man in this court room. I did not pull his chain. I was charged once with stealing shoes, but I was innocent of it.
 Julia M. Farthy sworn that the prisoner knew anything bad about him.
