Indictment filed January 7, 1891.

Indicted for robbery in the first degree.

A P P E A R A N C E S:

For the People,

Asst. District Atty. Henry B.B. Stapler;

For the Defendant,

John R. Fellows, Esq.

New York, Feb. 16, 1891.

EWALD BEALL, a witness for the People, sworn, testified:

I reside in West Morrisania. I am a show-case maker at No. 45 West Broadway. On the evening of December 21 last I left my business downtown at half past eight o'clock and I went to see a friend of mine in Broome St by the name of Schreiber. I remained there until about 11 o'clock. At 11 o'clock I went in company with Schreiber to see another friend. We walked up to the corner of 8th. Street and Third Avenue. We met our other friend and he was then in company with us. On the southeast corner of 8th. St. and Third Avenue we stood for a few minutes in conversation. While we stood there three young men came behind us. One young man, Hayes, ran up against me and kind of pushed me. I thought it was accidental. I apologized to him for being in his way. He was in company with Dickens at this time. We got into conversation and upon the invitation of Hayes and Dickens we went into a saloon and had two or three drinks together. When we came out the five of us started to walk down the Bowery. We got down as far as No. 355 when the two defendants suggested that we go in and have a drink. Hayes said that a friend of his ran the place and we went in the side door. It was after one o'clock. When we got inside we sat down at a table and I ordered drinks for the party. We all drank beer. After that we had another drink. There was some quarrel about who should pay for the drinks. Dickens left the table and went to a rear room. The bar-tender said he would put us all out unless the drinks were paid for. I said that I had paid for the drinks which I ordered, and I did not propose to pay for any others. The bar-tender said: "If you don't pay for it I will club the head off you". A crowd got around and one man stood at the door so that we could not get out. All of a sudden without any reason my friend Schreiber got hit right in the face by some man in the crowd. In order to avoid further trouble I put down two twenty-five cent pieces and paid for the drinks. I then started to come out into the hall in order to get to the street. My friend Schreiber was directly after me. Dickens and Hayes followed directly behind us into the hall. As soon as we got into the hall Dickens caught hold of my arms and held me so that I could not move and Hayes got in front of me and pulled and tugged at my diamond scarf pin until he secured it. There was a gas-jet burning in the hall in one corner. I am positive that I saw the faces of the two men and that they performed the action which I have just described. We were then hustled out on to the street. I called an officer and we went back and searched the place. The two defendants were found by the officer upstairs on the roof back of the pool room. I positively identify the two defendants now at the bar as the men whom I was with on the occasion of which I spoke.

CROSS-EXAMINATION:

- Q What time was it when you entered this saloon that night?
A It was about half past one.
- Q How long did you remain in that saloon ? A About twenty-five or thirty minutes.
- Q During that time did you play any pool ? A No, sir.
- Q The five of you sat down at a table? A Yes, sir.
- Q Do you remember the face of the bar-tender on that night?
A I do not know that I would know him if I saw him .
- Q Did you make an outcry in the hallway when you were attacked and robbed ? A Yes, sir.
- Q Did anybody come to your assistance ? A No, sir.
- Q After the defendants, as you so charge, robbed you, where did they go ? A They ran upstairs and Schreiber and my-

GUSTAV SCHREIBER, a witness for the People, sworn, testified:

I am a jeweler residing at No. 215 Forsythe St. in this city. I remember the evening of the 21st. of December. On that evening I called in to see a friend in Broome Street and there I met Mr. Beall. We stayed there until a little after 11 o'clock. We walked out through Essex Street to Avenue A and then up to 8th. St. We were conversing at the corner of 8th. St. and Third Avenue for a short time when the two defendants Dickens and Hayes and another young man, whom I don't know, came behind us. Through an accident Mr. Beall happened to step on Mr. Hayes' foot. Mr. Beall apologized and we all went into a saloon and had a drink together. Some one of the party suggested that we walk down to the Bowery. We walked as far as No. 355 and on the invitation of Hayes we went in there. He told us that the proprietor of the place was a friend of his. We sat down at a table and had two or three drinks. Mr. Beall paid for one drink. I ordered another drink and there was some dispute about the payment. The bar-tender said that he would put us all out if the drinks were not settled for.

In the excitement I got struck and I was stunned. Then Mr. Beall paid the fifty cents and said to me: "Come on. Let us get out of here." We went out into the hall, Mr. Beall and myself and Mr. Hayes and Dickens followed us. When we got out in the hall about half way toward the door I saw Mr. Beall kind of crouch down at the door. He was held by Mr. Dickens. I saw Mr. Hayes standing in front of him, having his hand in the direction of the scarf. Of course Mr. Beall had his back partially to me and I could not say whether the defendant Hayes had his hand right on the pin, but I know he had it in the direction of the scarf. I heard Mr. Beall shout: "Schreiber, my pin is gone". Then he called "Police". At the same moment I felt a hand in my left hand pants pocket. I held my pants pocket and was anxious to get out of the place. I called "Police". Then the two men, Dickens and Hayes, ran upstairs. We got outside on the street and called "Police". The Roundsman came running over and he gave me orders to go down Houston Street and get an officer. I met the officer and told him what occurred. I went, in company with him, back to the place. I stayed down in the hall while the officer and Mr. Beall went upstairs. While I was standing in the hall-way several parties came in and walked into the saloon. The officer in a few moments came down with the two defendants and we all went together to the Station House. We arrived at the Police Station at about quarter of three o'clock. Mr. Beall made a complaint that he was robbed of a pin and also that I was struck by another party. We could not find the party that struck me. We were told to appear the next day for examination and we did.

CROSS-EXAMINATION:

- Q You have never had any doubt about your identification of these men? A No, sir.

- Q Do you remember to have told Judge Duffy that you could not tell anything about who took this pin, that there were five or six persons who had hold of Beall? A No, sir; I didn't say that.
- Q Did you say how a number of persons had hold of him? A I said that there was a number of persons in the hall, but not that a number of persons had hold of him.
- Q Didn't you tell Judge Duffy that you knew nothing about who took the pin ? A Not to my recollection.
- Q Were you and Beall intoxicated that evening ? A I was not intoxicated. I was perfectly sober.
- Q Were you ever in this saloon 355 Bowery before ? A No, sir.
- Q You are quite sure that your friend Beall had the pin when he was in the saloon? A Yes, sir; I saw it on

EMIL L. PHALER, a witness for the People, sworn, testified:

I am a Police Officer connected with the 15th. Precinct. On the 21st. of December last I was on patrol on Fourth Street near the Bowery. I heard the cry of "Police" at about 12 o'clock. I ran over to see where the sound came from. I found these two men there. I asked them what was the matter and one of them told me that he had been robbed of a diamond pin. I immediately rapped for assistance, covered the door and waited until a policeman came. When he came I told him what had occurred. I stated the case to the officer and told him to go inside.

and I would watch the outside. The men to whom I refer are the complainant and his witness Schreiber. I remained at the door until the officer came down with the two prisoners.

JOHN HOOCK, a witness for the People, sworn, testified:

I am a Police Officer attached to the 14th. Precinct. I was on duty on the 21st. of December after 12 o'clock on the Bowery and Fourth Street. While in the performance of my duty my services were called for by the witness Schreiber. He came to me and told me of an occurrence at No. 355 Bowery. I went to that number. I saw the Roundsman Phaler there and also Mr. Beall. Mr. Beall told me that he was robbed of a diamond pin in the hallway. I went inside. I knocked at the door and was admitted. Mr. Beall did not see the two men in the saloon. I then walked upstairs with him to a pool room. There were four or five men engaged in playing pool. I looked around the room but could see no one that Mr. Beall could identify. My intention was then called to the roof of an extension in the rear. I went to the window looking out on this extension and I saw four or five men out there. I pulled out my pistol and I ordered the men to come in. The four of them filed in. As they came in the complainant picked out Hayes and Dickens and said that they were the two men who had robbed him. He claimed that one of them had held him while the other took his pin.

CROSS-EXAMINATION:

- Q What time was it that you were called upon? A At about half past two o'clock.
- Q How far was it from this saloon where you were found ? A About three blocks.
- Q Did you endeavor to find out the names of the people who were at that place on that night ? A Yes, sir; I found out all I could about it.

DEFENSE:

JAMES R. DICKENS, a defendant, sworn, testified:

I am 21 years of age and was born in Illinois. My family now live at Eureka Springs, Arkansas. I have lived in the City of New York going on four months. I have worked in different places since I arrived in this city. I remember the evening of the 21st. of December when this occurrence took place. On that evening I went, in company with a friend, to the Union Square Theatre to see The County Fair. I left at the conclusion of the performance about 11 o'clock. I went down-town, met a few friends and walked uptown again to the corner of 8th. Street and Third Avenue. On my way up I met the defendant Hayes. He asked me to take a walk with him. On the corner of 8th. Street one of the complainants stepped on the foot of Mr. Hayes who was walking with me. We then had a conversation and on the invitation of Mr. Beall went into a saloon and had a couple of drinks. After we had come out of there Mr. Hayes suggested that we go down to the Bowery to No. 355. As we passed the saloon we saw a light in there and went in the side door. We sat down at a table in the back room and had a few drinks. Some argument came up as to who should pay for some of the drinks and I said that I would pay for them. There was a dispute about the second round of drinks. Beall paid for the third round and then Schreiber, who ordered the next round, said he would not pay for them. There was a fight then in which Schreiber got struck. After that Mr. Beall, in order to avoid further trouble, stepped up and paid for the drinks. While the disturbance was going on myself and Hayes walked upstairs and joined in a game of pool which was being played there. We had just started the fourth game when a policeman came up. Thinking that the place was going to be pulled on account of being open after hours, myself and Hayes and some others got out on the roof. We were called in by the policeman and when we came in Hayes and myself were placed under arrest. We were then accused of stealing this man's diamond pin. I did not take his pin, nor was I present in the hall at the time it was taken.

CROSS-EXAMINATION:

- Q What time was it that you met the complainants? A I should say probably two o'clock.
- Q At 8th. Street and Third Avenue? A Yes, sir.
- Q One of the men stepped on your foot? A Yes, sir.
- Q You all walked down the Bowery together? A Yes, sir. Mr. Beall and Mr. Schreiber were walking together and Hayes and I were behind them. It was at Hayes' suggestion that we went into the saloon No. 355 Bowery. He said he was acquainted with the man who kept the saloon. I paid for the first round of drinks. It was the round that Schreiber ordered about which there was a dispute. Schreiber is the only one of the party who was struck. I think it was the bar-tender who struck him because he said he would not pay for the drinks.

Q Had you known Hayes before this night ? A For about two weeks, I think .

Q Did you know anybody else in that bar room besides the men who were with you? A No, sir, except a boy named Johnny Ford. He had charge of the pool room. We played four games of pool upstairs before the policeman came up and arrested us. The reason we went out on the roof was that we were afraid we would be arrested for being in the place after hours.

CHARLES HAYES, a defendant, sworn, testified:

I am 23 years of age. I am a theatrical performer by occupation. I reside at No. 114 Conselyea Street, Brooklyn. On the evening of December 21, I met Mr. Dickens on the Bowery at probably about 12 o'clock. I did not know his name then but I said "Helloa". I told him I was going home and asked him to walk with me as far as 14th. Street, that I wanted to see a performer up there. He said he would walk up with me. When we got to the corner of 8th. Street Mr. Beall staggered and stepped on my foot. It was very painful for the moment and I made an insulting remark to him. I said: "You big loafer, why don't you look out where you are walking?" He says: "Oh, that's all right". I saw that the man was kind of intoxicated and I accepted the apology. Mr. Beall then asked us to come in and have a drink. We went in to this store and had a drink. When we came outside of the door Mr. Beall was talking about being a broker for show-cases and that he had a large store on West Broadway. His friend, Mr. Schreiber, did not seem to have anything to say at all. We then walked down Third Avenue and into the Bowery. On the Bowery he invited us in to have a drink and I then said if he would come down a little further we would go into the store of a friend of mine. When we reached 355 we went in. We sat down at a table in the back room and Mr. Beall ordered a round of drinks and then Mr. Dickens ordered a round of drinks. I think we had five rounds altogether. At the fifth round there was a dispute between Mr. Schreiber and the bar-tender about the payment for the drinks. The bar-tender struck Schreiber. After that Mr. Beall paid fifty cents in order to avoid further trouble. As soon as this dispute was over we thought it best to go out. Mr. Dickens and myself went out and went upstairs to the pool room. When we got upstairs we immediately engaged in a game of pool. When we were about at the fourth game we heard the noise of "Police". Several of us, becoming frightened, ran out on the roof of an extension that was there. When the officer came in the room he compelled us to come in and we were placed in custody on the charge of robbery.

CROSS-EXAMINATION:

On that evening I had been performing out in Elizabeth, New Jersey. I arrived in the City at about 11 o'clock. I was on my way up to 14th. Street to meet a friend at the time I met Dickens. I had known Dickens about two months before but did not know his name exactly. I drank whiskey at each of the times that I was treated in these saloons. I was slightly under the influence of liquor. Mr. Beall did most of the talking while we were together. He told us all about the show-case business. I was not present in the hallway at the time Mr. Beall was deprived of his diamond pin. I did not steal it, nor did I aid or assist any other person in taking it from him.

WESLEY BENNETT, a witness for the defendant, sworn, testified:

I had charge of the pool tables on the second floor of 355 Bowery on the night of the 21st. of December. I saw the two defendants Hayes and Dickens come up into that room and start to play pool. They had just got to the fourth game when the officer came in and they were arrested out on the roof. They had been in the room at least fifteen minutes before the officer came up and arrested them.

JOHN FORD, a witness for the defendant, sworn, testified:

I was present in the pool room of the saloon No. 355 Bowery on the night of the 21st. of December. I saw the two defendants Hayes and Dickens come into that room on that evening. They played three games of pool and were about to start the fourth game when the officer came in. I heard some one shout "Police" and the two defendants, in company with three or four others, ran out on the roof. The officer took out his pistol and ordered them back. When they came in he placed the two defendants under arrest.

WILLIAM A. LINCOLN, a witness for the defendant, sworn, testified:

I am the proprietor of the saloon No. 355 Bowery. I got rid of it since this occurrence. I was in the saloon on the night of the 21st. of December. There was a disturbance in there and when I saw the disturbance I left the saloon and went and stood on the opposite corner. I saw the complainants and the defendants in that saloon on that night. I witnessed the dispute about the drinks and when it was settled I saw the two defendants leave the saloon. I could not positively say whether they went upstairs or not. I waited on the opposite corner until the police came. Then I went off and told the police that I was the proprietor of the saloon.

The People of the Court of General Sessions. Part I vs. John Hitchens Defendant. Smyth. January, 27, 1891.
 Indictment for Robbery in the second degree.
 Jacob Weinmann, sworn and examined through the Interpreter. I live at 290 Eighth ave.
 and am a porter; on the 15th of January
 I remember I was on Seventh Avenue I think it was near Thirtieth street. I came from Broadway. I was on my way home. I come into that neighborhood very seldom, so I do not know exactly where I was. It was midnight. I did not see the defendant till he hit me in the face. I saw him in the house, one flight up stairs; the policeman knows the place. A woman met me in the street and she urged me to come in, and I went with her into the house; we went one flight of stairs up; we went into a room.
 She asked me for two dollars when we entered the room and I offered only one dollar. There were several women in the room at the time, and one called out and when she called out this young man (the defendant) came in in a very angry mood, wild, he blew out the light and locked the door and I tried to get out, but I could not open the door then he fumbled all over my clothing and felt into my pockets and he tried to get the ring from my finger and in the struggle the stone, the initials fell out. He immediately seized me by the neck, he hit me with a chair, he hit me over my forehead, over my face. I always tried to get out of the door so as to call "police." Then all at once he put his hand into my pantaloons pocket and took my pocketbook in which were two dollars at that time. I was not intoxicated at the time, and I do not know how I came out of that room. I cannot lift my arm where he hit me. The money was in my outside pocket, he tore the pocket of my pantaloons, he took the money out of the coat. The two dollars were in change, quarters and ten cent pieces. I had three rings on my fingers at the time, and he tried to get the rings off, but I resisted and he could not do it. Then I was outside of the house I called for a policeman and then the policeman came. Then I went with the policeman into the room, and I showed him who assaulted me. The defendant was in the room when I and the policeman came in. It was in the same room in which the defendant was when I first entered the house and where he took the money. This was about one or half past one o'clock.

0648

I was at Miner's theatre in Eighth Avenue No. 240. Eighth Avenue is where I live, and it is not far from Miner's theatre. I worked the whole of the day and I went out to take a walk after I left the theatre. This woman came up to me; she was a little dark. I only understood what she said, "go on, go on." There were three or four women in this room when we got there. I thought I would have some fun. I went with her; she asked two dollars and I offered her a dollar. The defendant was not in the room when I came in. When the girl called out he came in like a madman; he locked the door and blew out the light; the women were all inside at the time. I called out when the defendant was fumbling around his clothes. I did not fall, but I was bleeding all over my face and I had several foils from the chair that he hit me on the head with. It was all dark in the room when I was struck by the stool. How do you know it was this boy that struck ~~him~~ with a stool? He put the light out and then he turned towards me and he took the chair and hit me. When he turned out the light there was sufficient light reflected from the lamp in the street, so that I could see I do not know if I broke the door through or how I did it. I was very much excited at the time, but I got out anyhow. On the stairs I was hit again and I fell three or four steps down the stairs again. I caught myself on a railing; the same man hit me on the stairs with his fist

Cross Examined. I was sitting on the bed and just fumbling the woman; that is all I was doing. I only took my overcoat off. Is it not true that this ^{colored} woman asked you for two dollars and that you struck her and commenced to fight with her in that room alone? Never. Is it not true that you threw this lamp at this woman? No. I did not throw it. I did not like to fight. I did not try to fight; all I tried to do is to get to the door and get out of the room. I am thirty years old. I have a family in Germany

Edward McGowan, sworn and examined, testified. I am a police officer of the 30th precinct; on the 15th of January between twelve and one o'clock I arrested the prisoner at 201 West Thirtieth street on the corner of Seventh Avenue; it was about 1.20 when I was arrested. I saw the complainant before making the arrest of the defendant.

J. H. Schump

I saw him at the door of the stairs without hat or coat or vest on him, and the coat came tumbling down on top of him. That attracted my attention to it was when I was going by patrolling my post. I heard a racket down stairs in this house. I put my hand to the door and opened it and I saw the complainant standing in a bewildered manner without a hat or coat or vest on him. In the mean time his overcoat came down stairs on top of him; it was thrown down. I looked up and I saw the defendant about two steps from the top going into the room. I hastily followed him and took him out into the hall until the complainant came up stairs. He identified him as the man that assaulted him; he also made motions that he had lost money out of his right hand sack pocket, and he pulled out his side pants pocket and made a motion as if they had tried to get at that pocket. I took him to the station house, and we sent for a German officer to get all the possible information that we could, and he also accused the defendant of robbing him of two dollars and endeavoring to take two rings from his fingers. There was blood on his face. The prisoner did not have any conversation with me after I arrested him. I told him I arrested him on complaint of this man. What did he say in response to that? He told me he did not do it. When you got to the station house what did he say? He said he was innocent, he did not do it. He did not say who did though? No sir. Any women in the room? There was three women when I went up stairs; they were in the back room, commonly known as the kitchen. They were colored women, were they? Yes sir.

Cross Examined. What was the complainant's appearance with respect to sobriety in your judgment? He was sober. Was the defendant sober? Yes sir, apparently. You searched the defendant did you not? Yes. when I brought him to the station house. Did you find any two dollars on him? I found $1.15 in small change - ten cents, a couple of dimes and five pennies. But did you find any bills? No sir. Where was this ring called to your attention, when you got to the station house or where? No sir, up stairs in the hall; the complainant pointed to it. Was it on his finger that time? Yes sir, on his finger. Did you notice the filling as if it was out at that time? Yes sir, it was

Did you go in this room? I went in the room after this man, I kept my eye on him. I entered the room, the bed room is off the parlor. He wanted his coat and vest. I brought him in to look for it; both of them were lying on the bed. You heard the complainant's testimony here this morning, that he had only taken off his overcoat. What he had done up stairs I do not know. I saw him without any coat - either undercoat, overcoat, vest & hat when I saw him first. I found these up stairs on the bed. His overcoat was thrown down stairs on top of him.

John Hutchings, sworn and examined, in his own behalf testified: What is your business? I am a bell boy. How long were you living in New York city before you were arrested? Two weeks. Where did you come from? I came from Saratoga. I worked at the Columbian from June, while the season lasted. I came down to New York to go to work and to go to night school. Where did you go to when you came to New York to board? I went to a house in Thirtieth street. Did you know anybody there? No sir. I had a room there; it was a two story house. I had been rooming there for about two weeks before I was arrested. I had not succeeded in getting work during these two weeks. I want you to tell the jury in your own way what occurred between yourself and the complainant between twelve and one o'clock. This man and woman was hallooing and fighting; she called for assistance, and I went in there, and this man had the woman by the neck and by her dress; he had struck her while I was there. He saw me coming in and he let go of her and went after me. He struck me in the eye and kicked me in the thigh and knocked me in the corner. Then he picked up his clothes. I suppose he thought he had them all, and started out of the house, and left me in the room lying in the corner. Afterwards he came up with the officer and pointed to the woman that was standing there. He said that was the woman that had struck and robbed him. She said, no, she just came off the street. I am sure he said that in the way that he talked. I don't understand German; he said, "That is the woman; that is the woman that struck me", and put his hand like that (showing) to the side of his pants. Was there a lamp or a light in the room? No, the lamp had got knocked over.

Had the lamp been knocked over before you went into the room or afterwards?
After I went into the room; after he let go of the woman and started after me, he knocked the lamp over. Q He says you turned the lamp down and deliberately blew it out? A No. I did not touch the lamp. Did you strike him? A No, sir. He says you put your hand into his pockets, he saw you disappear, that you robbed him of two dollars and attempted to rob him of his ring and succeeded in taking a stone out of one of the rings? A No, he did not give me a chance. The officer asked the complainant who struck him, and he pointed to the woman and then he pointed to the side of his pocket. I don't know the names of the women who were there, but the name of the woman who keeps the house is Bliss. I think there is a Mr. Bliss; she was not in the room, she had gone out the time of this row. I never saw the woman before that the complainant was in the room with. They let rooms to prostitutes at any hour of the night or morning. They also have furnished rooms which they let by the week.

Cross examined. I was engaged in the Columbian

0655

Hotel for the season, commencing from June ^{to the} latter part of August. I was in this house in Thirtieth St. two weeks before this happened and during that time I had not been doing anything. I was living with my aunt in Saratoga. I had the promise of a situation at the Cherrywood hotel thirty fourth St. and Fifth Avenue. I lodged in this house where the thing occurred. I met a colored man in the street and asked him if he knew where I could get lodging. I paid $1.25 for the room a week. I had never seen anything wrong going on there. I have never been arrested before in my life. I was a week in Saratoga before I got employment at the Columbian Hotel, and before that I worked in the Windsor hotel, Montreal. I got a recommendation for two years service there. The night I was in this house where the complainant was there with a woman I heard a noise. The woman called out, "Help, help, he is murdering me!" she did not call me by name. I went to the room. I did not do anything to the door, it was wide open; the complainant is wrong when he testifies that the door was closed. The lamp was on a small stand, and when I went in the complainant had the woman by the throat up in a corner of the room. I did not do anything. I did not have time, he started for me as soon as he saw me and he came and kicked me; then I started to go out and he struck me in the eye. I went in the hall, and he grabbed his clothes and went out. He kicked the lamp over where he started for me. Had you any means of support at that time? I had some money that my aunt had given me. How much money had she given you? She gave me fourteen or fifteen dollars.

On the night in question how much money did you have? I don't know. I had it in my trunk. I had I think on my person a dollar and fifteen or sixteen cents on my person in silver; the officer found that money on me when he searched me in the station house. There was blood on the face of the complainant, but I do not know how he got it. When I went into the room there was blood on his face. When the officer came into the room the complainant pointed out the woman and said that she was the one, and he pointed toward his pocket, he did not say that she had taken some money. I am not acquainted with the German language.

In the way that he spoke did he speak equally intelligible as you? No, he said, "this woman", and then he pointed to his pocket. Indicated that there had been some money taken from his pocket? Yes. The officer did not arrest that woman then and there? No sir, she said she just came out of the street. He came out with the officer and arrested you? He turned around and said, "there is a little man". He said that the little man had taken his money? He said, "the little man, the little man;" he did not say that I had taken his money. Did he make any sign? He said, "the little man". The officer did not make any effort in my presence to arrest the woman. The officer came and took me when the complainant motioned and said, "the little man". There were no things thrown down stairs. I was writing some letters in my room when this woman halloed and I heard the noise. I had not gone to bed; she did not call me by name. The lock of the door of the room was broken; they asked me to fix the lock in the morning - the lady of the house, there was no bolt on the door; it stayed shut if you closed it.

The jury rendered a verdict of guilty of robbery in the second degree.

Recorder Court of Sessions

Dear Sir

I was one of the Jurors who convicted that Negro of robbery yesterday.

Had I been free to suspend my decision I would have neither convicted nor acquitted him until I had obtained some information if possible as to truth of his story was true.

The Complainant & defendant both had motives to lie and perjure themselves and which did the most of it is a question.

The emotion of the fleeing

German was evidence that he was getting the worst of a fight but I don't think he told the whole truth about it.

The demeanor of defendant on the stand, his ready answers (not contradicted) together with his easy quiet manner and apparent sincerity impressed me; I hardly believe him capable of its being all a sham and dissimulation.

It was his environment as much as the evidence that convicted him.

I notice 'Your Honor's' fairness and effort to give every indicted person the utmost opportunity to produce some person or evidence in their favor. I hope you can find it consistent and proper before reaching the

I think he said one of his objects in coming here was to go to night school; no one asked him whether he did go or not.

Certainly his demeanor was not what one naturally would expect from a baggie bully and thief.

...685 Third Avenue ...
...tenement was ...
...reporter's visit to ...

...and ...
...as the "reporter" ...

Hughes's hiding place is in a little room on the third floor of an old tenement up town. The place was reached by a circuitous route and the young man let himself in with a key. The reporter was close behind him. The hallways were dark. At the head of the stairs on the third floor is a door, and the young man knocked three times, paused a moment, and knocked again. There was no answer. After a minute's wait he shook the door knob and knocked again. This time a voice from the inside asked, "Who is it?"

"It's me—Jim," replied the young man.
"Well, go around and come in," said the voice.

Jim and the reporter went to the rear of the hall and knocked at the rear door. A woman opened it just a crack. When she saw Jim she let him in, eyeing the reporter suspiciously. Jim was familiar with the place and walked around through the kitchen, dining room, and bedroom to the front room. He knocked again, and the door was opened by Hughes.

"I've got company," said Jim.
Hughes looked weary. Then he saw the reporter. He hesitated a moment, then pu

"Well, old man, you ran me to earth at last. Didn't you?"

The room was scantily furnished. It was in the front of the house and the shades pulled down so that there was no chance for any one on the outside to look in. There was a copy of THE SUN and a Bible on the table. Hughes was in his shirt sleeves. "He's been here since Monday morning," said Jim.

"READY TO PLEAD GUILTY," "I'M DONE FOR," Hughes sat down on a sofa and the reporter on a broken rocking chair. Jim sat by one of the curtained windows. Hughes trembled perceptibly. He folded his arms tightly to conceal it. After several questions had been asked he said:

"I've about concluded to go down to the Recorder and tell him all I know—tell him all about this business from the first. I've about concluded to go down and plead guilty. I'm done for—that's certain. My business is all gone. I've got nerve, but that's no use, now it's all out, and I'll come to the front, grin and take my medicine like a man. There's nothing more to be made public now. I'm done for, and that ends it."

"There seems to be a disposition on the part of certain other persons to make a scapegoat of you and shield themselves," said the reporter.

"I know, but what do I care now," said Hughes. "You've done for me, and that settles it. I have had this thing hanging over me for five months. I have felt that it was coming. Three months ago I was on the point of going to Recorder Smyth and confessing everything to him. I am not a natural born criminal. I never committed any crime before this miserable business, and I was drawn into this. What's the use of talking, though? I am a man of intelligence, and should have had the strength of mind not to be drawn into it. Now I shouldn't complain that I am caught. I ought to take my punishment like a man, and by God I will."

Mr. Hughes talked about THE SUN's story then. He admired it he said. "I can admire a good thing, I tell you, even if it does hit me," he said. "Jackson, the printer, though, made a mistake. I didn't have 500 of those blanks printed. It was only 250. There are only 200 of these in my trunk with the seal."

"SIX OR EIGHT DIVORCES OUT," asked the reporter.

"I don't know the exact number," said Hughes. "but I don't think there are more than six or eight."

"Where are they?" asked the reporter.

"Well, they are all Chicago papers," said Hughes. "but I think all the parties except Fendleton are New Yorkers. That's my recollection. If you could mention the names of those you have in your possession I could tell you whether they are ours or not. It's a little strange that the one that was 1,000 miles away was the one that settled me, wasn't it? I will tell you this, though. You have been deceived in Fendleton. Fendleton knew that that divorce was fraudulent. We told him, right in our office, and Campbell was present at the time, that we couldn't get him a court divorce, but we could get him something that would answer him just the same, provided there was no woman in the case. This is God's truth."

"I said," he said, "Fendleton, is there any woman behind this? Are you going to marry some one?" "No, no," he said. "I'm not." "Then I said to him: 'If your wife is satisfied as you say, I can give you this paper and you can separate and keep away from each other two years, and then you can marry if you want to.' He said: 'That's all right. He knew very well that we couldn't get a good divorce in the time we did that work, even if he didn't understand it from what we said to him. He didn't make an affidavit of any kind, and he got the papers ten days after we got the job. I'll tell you just how it was. He sent on the complaint—or bill, he called it—which we were to file with the application. He said that what he sent was about what he wanted, but if any changes were necessary we could make them. Needless to say, no changes were necessary."

"CAMPBELL WROTE THE DECREE—I FORGED THE SIGNATURE."

"Who wrote the divorce decrees?" asked the reporter.

"Campbell," said Hughes.

"And you forged Clerk McGrath's name?" asked the reporter.

"Yes," said Hughes.

"I notice Fendleton was very careful to conceal the fact that he knew that the divorce wasn't straight," Hughes added. "Our correspondence will prove what I say. I was down to the office on Sunday and all that matter is being copied now."

"That doesn't agree with the statement you made to Fendleton in my presence, on Saturday afternoon," said the reporter. "You said then, 'Fendleton, I thought that divorce was straight. Our Chicago man deceived us.'"

"I'll explain that," said Hughes. "When Fendleton came in with you I thought he was in custody. I thought you were an officer and what you described in THE SUN as my embarrassment wasn't exactly that. I was thinking just how to act. If you were not an officer I knew that you were at least a friend of Fendleton and I didn't want to give either Fendleton or myself away, so I laid it on the Chicago man. If you were not an officer I thought that after Fendleton went out with you he would come back alone and talk the matter over. Jim, here, found out who you were and then I knew the lie was up."

"BUTNER GOT TWO-THIRDS."

"In what way was Mr. William Buttner interested in your mill?" asked the reporter.

"Only in the line of cash," replied Hughes. "He got two-thirds of the cash for all the divorces that we issued."

"He said yesterday that he didn't know anything about any divorces that were out," said the reporter.

"Well, he's a liar," said Hughes. "I would to God I'd never seen that man. Thank God, I'm not as bad as he is. I am not naturally a criminal as I said before, but he ought to be in—well, where I will be," he concluded, bitterly.

The reporter asked Hughes whether he had
