The People
vs.
Henry L. Jordan.

Court of General Sessions, Part 1.
Before Judge Cowing.

February 11, 1936.

Indictment for robbery in the first degree.

Joseph Wedlock sworn and examined. I am a laborer but at the time this happened I kept a lager beer saloon at 438 East 15th Street. I was in my saloon on the 11th of August, 1933, the saloon was in 13th Street between First and Avenue A; this happened some time in the afternoon between two and three o'clock; the prisoner and a man named James Tully, an ex-policeman came in there and they asked me would I allow them to play a sociable game of cards for drinks. I says, I have no objection; they both looked respectable and well dressed men; they sat down and there was a little stout built man came in after that; he asked me who owned the place and I told him I did; he asked me for a cigar and I gave him a cigar, he asked me to take something and I took a whiskey glass of lager and drank it with him; with that Tully and Jordan jumped up from the table and one of them says, I am stuck for the drink. He told me he was a cattle dealer from Georgia; so we took the drinks; after I gave him his change Jordan put his hand in his pocket and he told me he wanted these five cent nickel plates; that was the time the new nickels came out; he ducked it down on the bar and said, it is a bad one; he called me then out of my name, I went over the bar and said I would not let the three of them out until they paid for the drinks; the stout short one pulled a stick from under his coat and handed it to Jordan and Tully and Jordan went for me and the little fellow caught me by the legs and the three laid on me; as quick as I could I got up and I missed seventy dollars which I had in my pants pocket which I was going to pay Henry Clauson, the brewer. I made a jump for the prisoner and he skered up around First Avenue and Tully was coming out, I said I will catch one of them anyway, I gave Tully the club and I was clubbed pretty well too and Tully and I were both taken in the Ambulance to Bellevue Hospital. The prisoner got the seventy dollars. I had no clothes on me only my shirts and pants and with the missing the white shirt was taken off me, I was all covered over with blood, I went to the door after the prisoner and he jumped and I went after him, there was another fellow followed him too. I took a black thorn stick off the prisoner and gave it to Judge Duffy in Essex Market the next morning. The three of them knocked me down, the prisoner had a black thorn stick and Tully had a lager beer vent, this was the 11th of August and hot weather, I swear the prisoner took the seventy dollars from my pants pocket, I made a grab for his hand & ing out.

Cross Examined. I made a complaint against Tully for this assault but I do not know that he was acquitted, I did not play cards with these men, I did not loose any money that day playing cards, I never said that I had only ten dollars, this row lasted about twenty minutes, the mark of the blood is on the walls yet, I am not sure in which pocket the money was but to the best of my opinion it was in my right hand pants pocket, I collared him when he was going down in my pocket. My wife and I counted the money before that; a man came in for the change of ten dollars, his name was McCabe, I changed the ten dollar bill for him and they were sitting down playing cards during the time, this McCabe left the country and went home to Europe some time ago, I did not say, I want that ten dollars back and did not say to my wife, hand me the club before this row commenced. I went to the Station House to make my complaint against Tully and went to the Police Court also, I do not know whether the prisoner came there as a witness or not but I saw him there and had him arrested.

Annie Wedlock sworn. I am the wife of the previous witness and was on the premises at the time of the trouble in August 1883. I saw this prisoner and Tully come in and sit down and play cards and after they were through playing cards some one holloed that they were stuck and then they went to pass a bad five cent nickle on my husband, he said it was a bad one and that he would not take it and then they called him out of his name; he said he wanted to get paid for the drinks and he jumped across the bar and I jumped behind the bar and gave him the club that was behind there. There was a third man came in and they pretended that he was a stranger to them, he had a short, black thorn stick under his coat and the prisoner took it off him and was beating my husband on the head, the three of them beat him as much as they could and when they could not throw him down they caught him by the pants and were beating him on the head and the three were on top of him on the floor. All the help I could give him was not much; my husband did his best to try to get up and when he got up he put his hands in his pocket and said "that man there has got my money." My husband meant to go out of the door after him and the other short fellow was ahead of him, this man the prisoner went after him and as soon as he cleared away Tully was going out, my husband said he would hold one of them anyhow and my husband and Tully had it; they done their best to kill him, I am sure that the prisoner is one of the three men, I knew him the minute I seen him, he is the man that my husband charged with having stolen seventy dollars when he got up.

Cross Examined. I did not talk this matter over with anybody, my husband was knocked down before anybody was, these three men had him down.

Daniel J. McInerney sworn. I am at present an officer of the 13th precinct but in August 1893 was in the 17th precinct, I arrested the prisoner on the 15th of August in Essex Market Police Court on the charge of knocking Wedlock down and robbing him of seventy dollars, the complainant identified him there and charged him with being one of the three men who actually took the seventy dollars out of his pocket, I arrested Tully in Wedlock's saloon, 428 East 13th Street and took him to the 17th precinct Station House and Tully was held on the charge of assaulting Wedlock and he made a counter-charge of assault by Wedlock. The next morning Judge Duffy refused to entertain any charge of assault against Wedlock, this was on the 12th and on the morning of the 15th the prisoner appeared as a witness against Wedlock for assault, I took him by the collar as he was going out of court because Wedlock said, that is the man who took the money.

The Case for the Defence.

Henry McDermott sworn and examined in his own behalf, testified. On the 11th of August James Tully and myself went into this man's place, we had two cigars and sat down at the table and called for a deck of cards, we played a game and during the time that we took to play the game another man came in and he and Mr. Wedlock got in conversation we got through with the game and went up to the bar and had a drink and the other man who came in joined us in another game of cards and he asked Wedlock to join us and we sat down and played a four handed game of euchre. Wedlock's friend put up five dollars in Wedlock's hand and his partner won the ten dollars and he handed it to him; then Wedlock said to me I will play you a game alone and bet me ten that I would not euchre him, I says I bet you fifty and he says, I haven't got fifty, so he put his hand in his pocket and pulled out ~~eighteen~~ dollars in silver and wanted to bet that, he went to the drawer and got two dollars more and he got euchred. I says there is no bad feeling over this and he shook hands to make it sociable, I said, whoever loses treats, he says very well, so he lost and he never said a word only got up and went behind the bar and says, after picking two glasses up, I want that ten dollars back. I says, didn't you lose it? He says yes, but you will not leave this house with it, you will never leave this house until you give that ten dollars back, he called his wife and told her to give him a club. She handed him a policeman's night stick and he jumped out from behind the bar and hit Tully on the head with a stick and knocked him down. So he says, now you son of a b-- to me, I will kill you, and this Hogan stood over against the wall, the complainant made a crack of the club at me, I jumped away and pulled this stick out of Hogan's hand and I hit the complainant with a stick and the minute he got hit with the stick he and his wife hollered murder, she got the door open and there must have been five hundred people around, I went out of the place to look for a policeman to try to get Tully out but there was not a policeman to be found, Tully and him were taken to the Station House and then to the hospital and then I appeared as a witness in the case three or four days afterwards and was arrested when Wedlock jumped up and said to the Judge, I make a charge against this man of knocking me down and putting his hand in my left hand pocket and taking seventy dollars. That was the first time that I heard anything said about the seventy dollars or heard anything of him getting robbed.

Cross Examined. I served a term once in the penitentiary for gambling, I have not been considered by the police of this city for years as being a confidence man, I play cards of all kinds, I swear that I was never in the State Prison, in 1879 I was arrested under the name of McDermott on the charge of robbing Mrs. James A. Page of Russville, Ill., I was jointly charged with Thomas Lynch who pleaded guilty and I was found guilty, I did not go to New Orleans to avoid arrest in this robbery case, I never went South until last winter, I was in New York during the years 1883, 1884, 1885.

The Jury rendered a verdict of guilty.
