William Harrington (vs.)
Indictment for petty larceny from the person John Ehmann, sworn and examined. I am the complainant and live at 429 East Fifteenth St.
I had a watch taken from me on the 18th of April.
It was worth five dollars. I kept it in the left hand vest pocket; it was fastened to the first button of the vest by a chain; the prisoner took it from me. I was in the water closet of Mr. Smith's saloon in Battery Place opposite the Castle Garden; this was between six and seven o'clock in the evening. I went into Smith's place to take a glass of beer and then I went to the water closet, and as I was in the water closet the prisoner beckoned to me, calling me out.
Then I could not understand him very well and I answered, "I am not ready yet, I will come soon." Then I left the water closet to go to the door all at once he (the prisoner) held me by the shoulder and snatched my watch and he was about to run away. I got hold of him; he got away from me, and the door was locked, the front door, he ran to the door and I got hold of him again. I got hold of him near the door and then he pushed me and we fell together to the ground. The noise when we fell attracted the persons that were inside and they came out. Mr. Smith, the owner of the place, and other people in the saloon came out when they heard the noise; the prisoner was arrested; he was held there on the spot and Smith sent for a policeman. He tore the watch out of my pocket; he broke the chain; the chain is lost, I don't know where the chain is; the policeman took charge of the watch (the watch was produced); that is my watch. Cross examined. This happened on Monday evening fourteen days ago. I had only two or three glasses of beer the whole of the day. I am not used to drinking whiskey. As soon as I got out of the water closet the prisoner got hold of my shoulder with one hand and the other hand he had on my watch; he tried to get away.

Sinclair Glass, sworn and examined, testified.

Officer, what kind of a place is 9 Battery Place? A lager beer saloon; it is an emigrant boarding house. I was around the corner in West St. and I heard somebody holler, "Stop thief."

I was some distance away. I ran around I saw the crowd in front of 9 Battery Place and ran up and asked what was the matter? Smith said that the prisoner stole the complainant's watch. I spoke to the complainant and he could not speak English. I said to him, through Smith, are you sure this is the man? Can you pick out the man that took it?

He picked out Harrington. I took him up to the station house, and a man named O'Brien, a longshore man came to the station house and gave the watch to the Sergeant and said he found it on the sidewalk. I said to O'Brien, "Can you identify the prisoner if you were to see him?" He said, "yes." The Sergeant told me to fetch the prisoner up, and as soon as I did, he said, "that is the man."

William Harrington, sworn and examined, in his own behalf testified. I am 30 years old and a butcher by trade. I was at Battery Place on this evening. A friend and I went over to Brooklyn, and I guess it was half past six when I started to come to New York. I walked up Whitehall St. and when I got to Battery Place I was taken with a call of nature. I went into the store and bought a glass of beer and asked where the water closet was. They pointed out this door to the back of the hallway. I went in. I seen this complainant in a compartment and beckoned him to hurry up; he said something I did not understand, I looked and there was another compartment. I went in, and after satisfying the call of nature I came out and the complainant was in the hallway. I adjusted my vest and had passed him, and the first thing I knew there was an arm put around my shoulder, and such a muttering I never heard before. The man was perfectly drunk at the time and he could not hardly stand up. I turned round as best as I could, I gave him a shove and he fell down. There is a middle door that leads out. I tried to get this door open; he got hold of it, I gave him another shove and opened the door and said to the people in the bar room, "There is a crazy man there." He got hold of me and threw me down and when I went to get up all the people got hold of me. They got questioning me where the watch was. I told them I did not know anything about it; the proprietor of the place sent for an officer and when he came in he asked the complainant who it was that stole the watch. I was not standing behind him, I was standing alongside of him; he deliberately pointed to a man who was there, "Yes," he said, "No," said the people, "there he is," pointing to me. They questioned him through the interpreter, Mr. Smith, and he told him I was the man. I was brought to the station house. He naturally does believe that I am the man; that is all that I know about it. I did not take the watch. I merely shoved him away from me; the watch was not found on me. I left my friend John Dacey in Brooklyn; he is a stereotyper on the Herald and lives in Warren St.

The jury rendered a verdict of guilty of petty larceny from the person.

The prisoner was sentenced to the State prison for four years and six months, he having served a term in the State prison for a similar crime.

Michael Hefferan
I found of General Sessions, Part I.
Before Judge Cowing. April 26, 1884.
Indictment for petty larceny from the person Frederick Weidmann, sworn and examined testified. I was in the Central Park on the 17th April; that was on a Sunday. Thereabouts in the Park were you? That they call the Lion house, the menagerie at Sixty Second St. Did you have a watch and chain there? Yes sir. Did you see this prisoner there? Yes sir. I felt a pull. I looked down, I saw this young fellow had my chain in his hand, and the same moment he moved with his hand this way (showing); he had the watch off already. I took the chain out of his hand and I kept him, I handed him over to this police officer. You got your chain back then? Yes sir. Did you get the watch back too? No, the watch was off the same moment the watch was off when I caught him.
Did you get the watch back afterwards? No sir, he had the watch no more when he came over to the station house. The chain you grabbed out of his hand? Yes sir. With the right hand I took the chain and with the left I caught him. The watch was a silver one and the chain was a gold one; the watch was worth about ten dollars and the chain forty dollars.
Cross Examined this happened on Sunday between four and five o'clock. Here a good 0495

many people around there? Yes sir, a large crowd you were looking at the animals? Yes sir. A good many people were looking at the same time? Yes sir. How many people were standing next to you, how many were around you?
It was a crowd, the whole house was filled up.
Were there any women standing near you?
I do not know. You are sure you caught the chain in his hand, might you be mistaken about that? Yes sir, I am sure of that. How many people were right by him? I cannot say that, it was full. I arrested him right there.
Did the officer come right in? No, the officer stood outside the door. Did the officer come in or did you go out? I went out with the prisoner. Before you got to the officer did you take the chain and put it in your pocket? No, I had it in my hand. You caught him right away? Yes sir. Thomas Hawley sworn and examined, testified. You are a Park Police officer? Yes sir. Were you on duty in the vicinity of the lion house on the 17th of April? Yes sir, on duty in the lion house and the cattle building, all around the Museum. Did you arrest this prisoner, was he handed over you?
Just as I was entering the door of the lion house this man Heidmann had the prisoner by the breast holding him firm and he had a gold chain in his other hand. He says to me, "Officer, I want you to arrest this man for me," I said, "What is the trouble?" He said, "he stole my watch." I said, "What is that there, is that your chain?" He says, "yes, but he has succeeded in unhooking the watch from the chain and passing it with the left hand to somebody in the crowd. I don't know who." I said, "All right." I took him into the station house. Did you get him into the station house without any trouble? No trouble at all in taking him into the station house. He searched him there; we could not find this man's watch with him. So this man made his statement positively that he caught him in the act and took his gold chain out of his hand. So, of course, the sergeant ordered him to be locked up in the 28th Precinct station, and on my way to the station passing under the stair case of the Elevated Road he bucked his shoulders back and he went out of his coat like the shot out of a gun. He ran six blocks and one of the officers of the 28th Precinct jumped off the third ave. car and headed him off. The chances are he would have abducted himself in some other way. That is all I know about the case. What other police officer arrested him did he? Yes sir

Did you get him then safely landed? Yes sir. Cross Examined. You had no trouble in taking him ^{and} to the station house in the first place? Not a bit bit, no trouble at all.

Michael McEfferan, sworn and examined ^{and} in his own behalf. How old are you, Michael? ^{you?} Eighteen. Where did you live before you were up locked up? No 27 Mulberry St. With whom did you live? With my father and mother. With your step father, your father is dead? Yes What is your step father's business? Oyster business; his name is Patrick Glavenon ^{my} Where is his place? North St. North and Chatham sts. at the junction of the Rutgers Fire Insurance Co.? Yes sir. What have you been doing for a living? Working for my father as an oyster man taking care of the place.
How long have you been in that business?
About seven years. On this Sunday did you go to Central Park? Yes sir. Did you go there all alone? Yes sir. Did you steal this man's watch and chain? No sir. Did you have ^{your} hand in his pocket? No sir. Did you have anybody in that crowd that you knew? No sir. Was anybody with you in this crowd there? No sir, none that I knew. What did you go there for? To see the animals.
Did you have any intention of stealing anything, or did you steal anything? No sir.

Tell the Court and jury how you came to be arrested? I was arrested, I was in the menagerie here was a big crowd there, and I was among all the people. The first thing I knew this man (the complainant) caught hold of me by the wrist and by the coat and says, "you stole my watch." Says I, "I did not." He says, "yes, you did." "If I stole your watch bring me to a policeman," I says. So he brought me over to a policeman. I went with the policeman and he told me I stole the watch. He brought me to the station house, he searched me and did not find anything on me. After I seen I was going to be arrested and the man making a charge against me when I was going to the fifty ninth street station house I ran away from him. Did you from the time the man grabbed you go voluntarily? I told him I will go to a policeman, he took me to a policeman. Did you make any resistance to going to a policeman? No sir. I made no attempt to escape. Did you have that man's watch a chain in your hand? No sir. How many people were around that menagerie at the time? It was crowded so much if you wanted to go out you would have to push your way through. Men, women and children standing around where you were? There

was men, women and children, everything standing around; we were very close to each other; we were right alongside each other; we were looking at some kind of racoons. I could not say the name of them, something like that. I did not take the man's watch, I did not put my hand in his pocket, I did not pass the watch to anybody, there was no one with me, I did not throw it away. Cross-examined. As soon as the complainant saw his watch was gone, he grabbed hold of my hand by the coat, he had his chain on him; it was fastened on him; he said, "you have got my watch," and he held his chain in his hand. He grabbed me with his right hand. Says I, "No sir, I have not got your watch, bring me over to a police man." So he brought me over to a policeman. I did not go to the park with any one. Why did you say you lived at 37 White St. when you were arrested? I did not want the people I was acquainted with to know that I was arrested. Where do you live? No 27 Mulberry St. When the policeman was taking you from the station house you say you ran away from him? Yes sir you were entirely innocent of any offence? Yes sir, I was innocent. Why did you run away? When I seen the man was making a charge against me after I went to the station house. How old do you say you are?

Eighteen. You say the gentleman had his chain hanging in his vest and the other part of it in his hand, it was hanging from his clothes and he had the other part in his hand? Yes sir.
He did not have the whole of his chain in his hand? No sir, the bar was right here in his vest. By Mr. Bell. Have you been here before in this Court? Yes sir, once for assault and battery. What did we do with you that time?
I got three months in the penitentiary. It is somewhere around three years ago. I have not been in trouble since that time. I have been working steady. You were not charged with larceny at that time? No sir. I was under the name of Michael Hefferann. I could not say the judge's name who sentenced me.
Patrick H. Glavanan sworn. I am in the oyster business at 202 North St. for seven years. I married the prisoner's mother, he worked for me about six years opening oysters.
I have entrusted him with money and never found anything wrong with him. Cross Examined. He was in my employ at the time he was sent to the Penitentiary, he was sent for cutting a fellow with an oyster knife.
And he got a year for that? Yes sir.
By Counsel. Do you mean by that that he did not come home for a year? He was home before a year.

^{I children ever there}
He got two months off for good behavior? ^{as per} John R. Joyce sworn. I am out of business now. I know the prisoner three years, he was opening oysters for his father. I saw him every day attentive to his work. I heard for the first time last night that he had been in the penitentiary. Frederick Beverley, a church and opera singer, testified that he knew the prisoner by sight for two years. I always saw him at work; he seemed to be a very honest respectable young fellow. Michael Nefferman recalled by Mr. Bell. Were you not tried and convicted in this Court on the 11th of Oct.
1877. Assault in this Court? About three years ago. I could not say whether it was October or not. I was sentenced for three months. I have been in steady employment since that time. I could not say where I said I resided when I was arrested on the former charge. Frederick Neidman recalled. When I grabbed the prisoner my chain was hanging in the button hole and the other part was in his hand; the chain was not loose-ened from my vest, but the watch was gone.
I had seen my watch about five minutes before that; he had the chain in his right hand. I felt the pull. I was too quick for him, he had the watch in his hand already and he handed it over. I did not see the watch

in his hand.

The jury rendered a verdict of guilty of petty larceny from the person.

He was sent to the State prison for three years.

Court of General Sessions, Part I
Before Judge Cowing. April 26, 1888.
Indictment for petty larceny from the person
Frederick Weidmann, sworn and examined testified. I was in the Central Park on the 17th of April; that was on a Sunday. Thereabouts in the
menagerie at Sixty Second St. Did you have a
had the watch off already. I took the chain
out of his hand and I kept him, I handed
him over to this police officer. You got your chain
moment the watch was off when I caught him.
out of his hand? Yes sir. With the right hand
I took the chain and with the left I caught
him. The watch was a silver one and the
chain was a gold one; the watch was worth
about ten dollars and the chain forty dollars.

many people around there? Yes sir, a large crowd.
good many people were looking at the same time? Yes sir. How many people were standing next to you, how many were around you?
It was a crowd, the whole house was filled up.
Were there any women standing near you?
about that? Yes sir, I am sure of that. How
that, it was full. I arrested him right there.
stood outside the door. Did the officer come in
or did you go out? I went out with the prisoner. Before you got to the officer did you take the chain and put it in your pocket? No, I had it in my hand. You caught him right away? Yes sir. Thomas Hawley, sworn and
examined, testified. You are a Park Police officer? Yes sir. Were you on duty in the vicinity of the lion house on the 17th of April? Yes sir,
on duty in the lion house and the cattle
arrest this prisoner, was he handed over you?
Just as I was entering the door of the lion house this man Meidmann had the prisoner

a gold chain in his other hand. He says to me, "Officer, I want you to arrest this man for me." I said, "What is the trouble?" He said, "He stole my watch." I said, "What is that there, is that your chain?" He says, "yes, but he has succeeded in unhooking the watch from the chain and passing it with the left hand to somebody in the crowd. I don't know who." I said, "All right." I took him into the station house. Did you get him into the station house without any trouble? No trouble at all in taking him into the station house. He searched him there; we could not find this man's watch with him. So this man made his statement positively that he caught him in the act and took his gold chain out of his hand. So, of course, the Sergeant ordered him to be locked up in the 28th Precinct station, and on my way to the station passing under the stair case of the Elevated Road he bucked his shoulders back and he went out of his coat like the shot out of a gun. He ran six blocks and one of the officers of the 28th Precinct jumped off the third ave. car and headed him off. The chances are he would have abducted himself in some other way. That is all I know about the case. That other police officer arrested him did he? Yes sir

Did you get him then safely landed? Yes sir. Cross Examined. You had no trouble in taking him to the station house in the first place? Not a bit, no trouble at all.

Michael Pfefferman, sworn and examined in his own behalf. How old are you, Michael? Eighteen. Where did you live before you were locked up? No 27 Mulberry St. With whom did you live? With my father and mother. With your step father, your father is dead? Yes. What is your step father's business? Oyster business; his name is Patrick Glavann. Where is his place? North St. North and Flatbush Sts. at the junction of the Rutgers Fire Insurance Co.? Yes sir. What have you been doing for a living? Working for my father as an oyster man taking care of the place. How long have you been in that business? About seven years. On this Sunday did you go to Central Park? Yes sir. Did you go there all alone? Yes sir. Did you steal this man's watch and chain? No sir. Did you have ^{your} hand in his pocket? No sir. Did you have anybody in that crowd that you knew? No sir. Was anybody with you in this crowd there? No sir, none that I knew. What did you go there for? To see the animals. Did you have any intention of stealing anything, or did you steal anything? No sir.

Tell the Court and jury how you came to be arrested? I was arrested, I was in the menagerie here was a big crowd there, and I was am-
by the wrist and by the coat and says, "you stole
my watch." Says I, "I did not." He says, "yes, you did." "If I stole your watch bring me to a
a policeman. I went with the policeman and
the station house; he searched me and did
I will go to a policeman; he took me to a policeman. Did you make any resistance
attempt to escape. Did you have that man's watch a chain in your hand? No sir. How

was men, women and children, everything standing around; we were very close to each other; we were right alongside each other; we were looking at some kind of racoons. I could not say the name of them, something like that. I did not take the man's watch, I did not put my hand in his pocket, I did not pass the watch to anybody, there was no one with me, I did not throw it away. Cross Examined. As soon as the complainant saw his watch was gone, he grabbed hold of my hand by the coat, he had his chain on him; it was fastened on him; he said, "you have got my watch," and he held his chain in his hand. He grabbed me with his right hand. Says I, "No sir, I have not got your watch, bring me over to a policeman." So he brought me over to a policeman. I did not go to the park with any one. Why did you say you lived at 57 White St. when you were arrested? I did not want the people I was acquainted with to know that I was arrested. Where do you live? No 27 Mulberry St. When the policeman was taking you from the station house you say you ran away from him? Yes sir you were entirely innocent of any offence? Yes sir, I was innocent. Why did you run away? When I seen the man was making a charge against me after I went to the station house. How old do you say you are?

Eighteen. You say the gentleman had his chain
in his hand, it was hanging from his clothes
and he had the other part in his hand? Yes sir.
hand? No sir, the bar was right here in his vest. By Mr. Bell. Have you been here before
in this Court? Yes sir, once for assault and battery. What did we do with you that time?
with larceny at that time? No sir. I was under the name of Michael Hefferann. I could not say the judge's name who sentenced me.
Patrick H. Glavanan sworn. I am in the
years. I married the prisoner's mother, he worked for me about six years opening oysters.
I have entrusted him with money and never
found anything wrong with him. Cross Examined. He was in my employ at the
sent for cutting a fellow with an oyster knife.
And he got a year for that? Yes sir.
home for a year? He was home before a year.

...and children were there.
He got two months off for good behavior? as per John R. Joyce sworn. I am out of business
now. I know the prisoner three years, he was
time last night that he had been in the
prisoner by sight for two years. I always saw
respectable young fellow. Michael Hefferman recalled by Mr. Bell. Were you not tried
and convicted in this Court on the 11th of Oct.
1877. Assault in this Court? About three years ago. I could not say whether it was October or not. I was sentenced for three months. I
resided when I was arrested on the former charge. Frederick Heiderman recalled. When I grabbed the prisoner my chain was hanging in the button hole and the other part
was in his hand; the chain was not loose-
ened from my vest, but the watch was gone.
I had seen my watch about five minutes
hand. I felt the pull. I was too quick for him,

in his hand.

of petty larceny from the person.
He was sent to the State prison for
three years.
