The People
vs.
John Walsh.

Court of General Sessions, Part II.
Before Judge Cowing.

January 10, 1887.

Indictment for grand larceny in the first degree.

Thomas Dowd sworn and examined. Where do you live 446 Washington Street in this city. On Christmas evening you were under the influence of liquor? Yes sir. You were pretty drunk? Yes sir. What did you have in your vest pocket about eight o'clock in the evening when you were standing in front of 446 Washington Street in this city?
I was keeping Christmas, I had my watch and chain which was worth ten dollars, it was my property. When you were in that condition looking at this parade passing your premises did anybody take that chain from you? Yes sir, somebody took it. Did you permit them to do it? No sir.

Cross Examined. You had been drinking during that day? Yes sir, I had been drinking during that day, that is pretty well, I drink Christmas day, Patrick's day and 4th of July, I keep them three days up. When did you notice that you had this watch and chain last, when did you see it last before it was taken? I seen it just ten minutes before the time on Sunday, ten minutes before I lost it I had it in my hand. What time of day was that? It was pretty near eight o'clock in the evening I had my hand on the watch. Where was it? It was in my left pocket. Where were you? I was right at the store door 446 Washington Street in the city of New York. There was quite a crowd of people there going back and forward around where you were? Yes sir, You do not know who took this watch? No, I do not, I could not tell who took it.

Augustus J. Thorne sworn and examined. What precinct do you belong to? Fifth precinct. Were you on duty about eight o'clock on the night of the 25th of December in this city in the neighborhood of 146 Washington Street? Yes sir,,on special duty. Did you see the defendant at the bar and the complainant? Yes sir. In what condition was that man, the complainant? He had been drinking, he was standing in front of his liquor store, he keeps a liquor store. There was a parade of the Starks Target Company, I followed them along and while passing along I noticed a whole crowd of young fellows shoving along one way and another, I was only two feet from the back of the defendant, the complainant was standing in his doorway looking at the procession passing by when the defendant snatched the chain and started to run, I hit him a slap on the back of the neck and down he went, I grabbed hold of him and he had the chain in his hand, I took the chain to the Station House and the complainant identified it, I saw the defendant take it off the person of the complainant, the watch remained in the complainant's pocket.

Cross Examined. I went on duty at six o'clock and was following the parade in citizen's clothes, I suppose there was about sixty or seventy members, there was a big crowd following along; it was about eight o'clock when I arrested the defendant. Was it dark? Not at that place, the complainant's place was all lit up, there is also a lamp-post right in front of the place just as plain as day. Was there not quite a number of youngmen of which this boy was one there? Yes sir. You say you saw this boy reach out and take this chain, you are sure of that?

Yes sir without a doubt. You had some trouble with this young man after you arrested him in which you slapped him because he would not plead guilty in the Police Court, did not you strike and club him? No, he called me a liar going down stairs, I just shoved him on the shoulder but did not strike him, I did not ask him to plead guilty.

John Walsh sworn and examined in his own behalf, testified: I was going along through Washington Street with this parade, there was a number of boys around me and some of them snatched the watch and the officer was behind me and caught me, he hit me on the neck and knocked me on the street, the chain was lying about four feet away from me when the officer picked it up and he fetched me to the Station House and when he caught me in the court-room I told Judge Duffy that I did not take the watch and when the officer fetched me down to put me in the cell he said, you say you did not take the watch? I said yes; he hit me on the neck and mostly knocked me down stairs.

By the Court. The watch was not taken at all by anybody, the complainant has his watch in his pocket? It was not took it your Honor, some one must have took the watch and dropped the chain, I did not have hold of the watch or chain, I worked for three months for Slater and Reed but had not been doing anything for three months.

James Walsh sworn. I am the step-father of this boy, he has always worked and has been a good boy, he has never been accused of stealing before, his mother sent him to the Catholic Protectory for one year.

The Jury rendered a verdict of guilty.

Hon. Judge, I take the liberty of asking great clemency in behalf of Miss Amanda West who was arrested last week for stealing (?) a seal skin sack.

I hear that her trial is to take place to-morrow. On Monday last I wrote appealingly for her to Judge Murray at Jefferson Market, but fearing my letter to him would not be available at the time, I make known to you my conviction regarding her and her act.

I know her to be a good person, but one who is affected in the head, weak and simple

0262

minuted, and one whom I believe would not be guilty of a known theft. She got it in her head somehow, that she would be justified in taking an article from her debtor to pawn, to the extent of what was due her, returning the ticket to the owner of the thing taken. If she were not a foolish thing she certainly would never have told a pawnbroker the story she did. A thief would have acted differently. Of course technically she is a thief, but in reality not. It is a case of "occult compensation" in a way which the law I suppose does not cover. The present one is her

0263 first offense, and besides her good character and honesty are attested by those who employed her.

This fact coupled with the state of her mind and upset disposition leads me to ask, your Honor, to suspend judgment in her case, as to my mind she is deserving of not much more than a reprimand, considering that she has suffered her deserts already in prison.

She is one of my flock; hence the interest I take in her. Dear, Amable Sir

Yours respectfully

vs.

Court of General Sessions Part I
Before Judge Cowing.
January 27. 1887.

Amanda West

Indictment for grand larceny.

Minnie Nash sworn and examined, testified I live 309 West Twenty Third St. I employed the defendant as a domestic; she lived with me eight days. I engaged her with the understanding that I would pay her fourteen dollars a month and if she was not satisfied to live with me she could leave at the end of the week. Thursday morning her week was up and she did not say anything about pay nor I did not. She had finished her week's washing and ironing and Friday morning as she was getting breakfast she said, "Mrs Nash, will you give me ^{my} ~~money~~ money this morning. I have to pay my friend." I said, "Why didn't you speak to me last night? I will give you two dollars this morning, and when you finish the ironing I will give you the balance. I want to pay my rent, I cannot spare you Sunday; she wanted to go to the dispensary. She said, "I am going to get another place." I said, "Very well; finish up the washing and ironing and I will pay you." She did not make any reply. I sat reading the morning paper in the dining room. I noticed she went down stairs several times, which was not necessary. I went down stairs and stood in the back door; she came up and said, "I am going, in five or ten minutes I will be back;" the cloak laid on the table. I went down stairs and looked around. I filled an empty soap box full of wet underclothing belonging to me. I came up stairs and when I came up she was gone. I ran out of the front door and did not see anything of her and came back again and the first thing I thought that she might have stolen was my cloak which was hanging on the wall. Hooked and it was gone. I ran to the corner of Eighth Avenue and Twenty Third St. and called an officer and he told an officer on the opposite side of the street. He told me to dress and go to the 20th precinct station house. I returned home, and shortly after an officer came and told me they had arrested the prisoner coming out of a pawn shop. This was a seal skin cloak worth about two hundred dollars; it was my property and was taken without my permission. I saw the cloak a few moments before the prisoner left and I missed it a few minutes after. I got it that very day in her presence at the police station. The Sergeant at the Police Station said he knew me to be Mrs. Nash and I got the cloak. I lost underclothing also worth fifty dollars. I did not lose them, I found them in the basement. Cross Examined. I live at 369 West Twenty Third St. between 8th and 9th Ave., it is a flat; about seven families live in the house; the defendant came to me from an intelligence office on 23rd St.; she told me she lived at the Cumberland flats. I would not like to swear that no one walked through the hall while I was going down stairs.

George Connor sworn. I am an officer of the 16th precinct and arrested the prisoner as she was coming out of Mr. Loran's pawn shop with a seal skin sash on her arm. Mrs. Nash afterwards claimed it as her property. The defendant told me when I arrested her that she was trying to pawn the sash to get what she claimed was three dollars wages which was coming to her and the pawn broker would not receive it. Cross Examined. Did not this woman tell you she took this seal skin sash for the reason that Mrs. Nash owed her some money? Yes, she did. Did she say she intended to return it to Mrs. Nash? She did not do nothing of the kind. Are you sure about that? I am certain of it; she intended she told me to pawn the sash and return the ticket to Mrs. Nash, but she would not because the pawn broker would not receive it.

Amanda West, sworn and examined in her own behalf testified. I went to Mrs. Nash Thursday before Christmas to work after being out of work two months; she promised to pay me four dollars and a half a week and after being there on a Friday night I found that she was a "disrespectful" woman and when my week was up I wanted to leave. When I asked for my money if I went out of the house without my money, I knew the law did not take sides with me if she was a respectable woman. I took the satchel, I know now I was wrong but I had no intention of stealing it. She never paid her debts. I knew if I left the house without my money, she would never let me in again. I called a policeman and told him the pawnbroker told me not to do it, that I was wrong. I am 30 years old and was raised in a convent. I told the pawn broker that here was a ladies' satchel and I wanted to pawn it for the $3.50 which she owed me and that I would return her the ticket. He said he did not do business in that way. The policeman charged me with stealing the satchel and I said I did not. I knew it is wrong to steal, but I did not intend to steal the satchel.

The jury rendered a verdict of guilty with a recommendation to mercy.

Court of General Sessions. Part I
Before Judge Cowing.
January 27. th 1887.

Indictment for grand larceny in first degree.

Alfred Pellens sworn. I am a cook and used to work in 90 Vesey St. I was in New York on January 8th and saw the prisoner. I was on the Bowery between Canal and Nester Sts.; the prisoner was a stranger to me; he came up and spoke to me. I cannot recall what he said. He took nine dollars in money and a double case gold watch out of my pocket and ran away; the chain did not amount to much. I caught him in a moment when he took the watch; he started to run and I ran after him; he ran about half a block and was arrested by the officer. I did not lose sight of him while I was chasing him. I cannot say if any person was near the prisoner when he took the watch and the money. This was 1/4 past eleven at night. Cross Examined. I was coming from my work at this time at 90 Vesey St. I had been drinking and was a little intoxicated. The night was cold. I was dressed as I am now; the ~~coater~~ coat was buttoned. I had my watch in my vest pocket; he took the money out of my trousers first and then took the watch. I felt him taking the watch. I stopped him and he ran. I stopped him too late. I did not notice exactly which way he came when I first saw the defendant. I did not feel him put his hand in my pants pocket, but I felt him taking my watch. I had some silver money in my left hand pocket and bills in my small pocket.

Benny Chapin sworn. I am an officer of the Eleventh precinct and arrested the prisoner on the night of January 8th at a quarter past eleven o'clock; he was running and the complainant was chasing him. The prisoner was about ten feet from the complainant when I saw them running. The complainant halloed, "Stop thief" and in the presence and hearing of the prisoner said, "he stole my watch." The prisoner said, "you can search me; he did not have the watch. Cross examined. The complainant was running up the Bowery; I arrested the prisoner on the corner of Hester st. and the Bowery; the complainant said to me he was robbed of a gold watch; I found on the person of the prisoner $2.89 but no watch. It was a very cold night and the complainant was under the influence of liquor; when he ran he did not stagger; he was very excited and he would not let go of the prisoner. In the Station house the Sergeant asked the complainant where he lost his watch and how much he paid for it; he did not say to me that he did not know where he lost it; he stated in his statement that he lost his watch between Canal and Rester, etc. and I arrested him within half a block of there. The prisoner did not cease running till I got hold of him; he said the man was running after him for stealing the watch. The complainant halloed, "Stop thief, I have lost my watch"; there were a good many people in the street that hour of the night, but I did not see anybody running except these two.

Robert White, sworn and examined in his own behalf testified. I will be 18 the 25th of August. I have never been arrested before. I am engaged in printing. This night in question I was on my way home from Miner's theatre on the Bowery. This was a cold night. I was running with a boy that works in the same office with me. I went up to his house and had my supper; the two of us went up to the theatre together and when I came to the corner of Rester St this complainant was stupidly drunk, rolling around the street halloing, "My watch," and the officer held me. I was willing to strip that he might search me, and he would not do it; he went round to the station house. I did not take the complainant's watch or his money; what money I had I earned it. I never saw the complainant until I was arrested; I was running because it was raining and it was a cold night. Cross examined. I had not seen the complainant until I reached him, and then he was hallooing "My watch," and then the officer held me for it. It is not true that I had a conversation with him before the watch was taken. I did not take his watch, I was running home all the way after I came out of Hilliers Theatre. There was only one boy with me Willie Kenny; we left the theatre together; he is not in Court, he is at his work. I had no way of sending to him to be a witness. I made no effort to get him. I worked for Munroe who publishes the Family Story paper. I worked altogether six months for him. I was working at 33 Barclay St. across the street from there. The money I had was part of my wages. I live 162 Duane St. Jersey City. I did not hand the watch over to the other boy.

Henry Chapman recalled. The defendant was running up the Bowery from Canal St. towards the theatre.

The jury rendered a verdict of guilty.

vs.
William Williams.

Court of General Sessions, Part I.
Before Judge Cowing.

Friday, January 14, 1887.

Indictment for burglary in the second degree.

Caroline Dinsler sworn and examined by Mr Bedford.

Where do you live? 535 11th Avenue in this city. What is your business? Fishing tackle, bait, sand worms, cigars, tobacco, candies and a quantity of fishing tackles; there is at present in the store cigars and tobacco. On the night of January 6th was that establishment closed and fastened at ten o'clock? Yes sir, at four o'clock in the morning the door was locked. And it had been locked the night before and the shutters secured? Yes sir and the shutters secured. You went to bed about what time that night? I suppose about half past ten. When were you awakened and what awakened you if anything? I was awakened at four o'clock by parties upstairs rapping at the door who came home from a ball and they could not get in and the man next door to me let them pass through there. Your door was not unlocked for them to get in? Not unlocked at all, they could not get in the hall door and that is the way I knew the hall door was locked still. I was in bed at the time they came home. What happened when you were awakened again and what awakened you? At about five o'clock the breaking of a pane of glass in my show window. When you were awakened by that noise what did you do immediately? I jumped out of bed and I saw all the shutters were off the show window. Had you placed the shutters on the night before? Yes sir, my husband did. Who did you see if anybody at that show window?

0335

I opened the door and the prisoner was the first man I saw. You are sure he is the man? Yes sir. When you first saw him what was he doing? Nothing at all, he was going by the show window and I halloed for a policeman. He was on the sidewalk? Yes sir, right past me, the same as this was the show window and he come right by. He was going by the show window? Yes sir. Anybody prese nt except him? Anoth man was right after him, one was after the other, he was the first one and I says, can't you call a policeman for me? They did not attempt to call any policeman. How long a time elapsed from the time you heard that window break to the time you saw this man immediately in front of it? I suppose it could not have been more than a minutes or two. How far was that bed from the window? It is a partition off the store. How many feet did you have to run? I could not tell, I suppose the space from my door would not be much further than from here to that railing. Immediately upon hearing this noise you went as fast as you could? Yes sir. How large was this show window? It is quite a large show window. Large enough for a man to enter? Any big man can enter through the pane of glass. What was the prisoner doing when you saw him? He was not ding anything when I saw him. Could you see whether he came from the window or whether he was going by the window? He was going right by the window. Your show case is about the width of those two windows? Yes sir, somewheres near that. The other man was behind this one. I ran behind the counter to take away my goods from the breaking of the glass and as I was there the officer came along. I says, I have been broke in here; so he searched around and he went in the hall and then the hall door was open, my husband went in the hall to carry the shutters which were carried on the sidewalk. I did not miss anything, the shutters were up the night before; the prisoner was arrested in the hall at five o'clock in the morning by the policeman, he was arrested I suppose two or three minutes after I saw him pass by the window, the prisoner was not in the room at all, I left him on the sidewalk when I closed my door, he was concealed in the hallway, the hallway is a common hallway belonging to me and the other tenants. Was that door locked at the time that window was broken? I am not positive, I know it was locked at a quarter past four in the morning.

Michael Malone sworn and examined, testified

What precinct do you belong to? The 22nd precinct.

You were on duty about five o'clock in the morning were you not on January 6? Yes sir. You were in the neighborhood of 535 Eleventh Avenue about five o'clock in the morning were you not? Yes sir. State what occurred? While patrolling my post on the west side of 11th Avenue this window, I saw a light, I saw the glass broken, I saw the lady inside and asked her what happened. After she told you something what did you next do? I was making an examination around the place and all of a sudden this woman's husband went into the hall and he said there was somebody in the hall. I went right in and saw the prisoner coming from the back stairs. He said he belonged there but the complainant said he did not. The prisoner said he lived at 544 West 44th Street. He says, I am a convict and I suppose I have to suffer for it.

The Jury rendered a verdict of guilty of attempt to burglary.

Hyman found living daily seven deposits of pay.

Pass. Examined. on his affidavit:

The prisoner was a salesman and collector in every place possible. Some time in 1854, there was no agreement made & fixed as to the compensation he worked for us without knowing what he was going to get he worked there under that arrangement for 3 months, during that time we paid him from time to time I don't know what amount, I didn't pay him every Saturday; after he sold a certain amount of goods he would hand in a slip and ask me to check it - for a certain amount of money, he always drew that over since he was with us, we would allow him at times to overdraw the amount. his account was always paid up, all the commissions that he earned were always paid to him before he earned them 0358

2
 After the 3 months of his first employment made up we gave him a commission in lieu of salary that same portion of, I cannot be mistaken about that you said a moment ago that the first 3 months that there was no arrangement at all in regard to any salary?
 A. Yes.

We continued giving him commission on the sales of goods whilst he made up to the time that he left when he was arrested January 10th 1886, we paid him either 20 or 25% cent commission on sales when we paid him 50% out commission on flour, I have not got the Book in which showing the amount of sales he made; It would take a double time to bring all the books here showing the amount of his sales, I was not present at the time that Mr. Webb paid him any money.

0359

I want to correct my testimony in regard to the commissions paid him in this way. That when I said that he got fifty-^{or 110%} I meant that he got that commission on the net profits of all the sales he made;

Q. Now each salesman has what is called a sales book. So he has; A. He has an order book but no sales book.

Q. I meant an order book;
 A. Yes sir.

Q. You have that order book?

A. I think so. I think it is at the store, that book shows the amount of his orders, I have not got it but; the last I know I saw it I think was last week at the store; I never paid nor will pay any money to him now; he had authority to collect money.

To the Honorable Randolph B. Martine District Attorney of the City and County of New York

Sir

I have been indicted for the offence of receiving stolen goods the offence consisting of buying a carpenter's plane from a little girl. It is true that I purchased it in the course of my business as a second hand dealer and general furnitureman but when I purchased it, I did so with the most innocent motives or intention, the child having told me in response to my inquiries that her father sent her with it for the purpose of selling it.
I have never been accused of any crime until the present occasion, and have always borne a good reputation, as the subjoined certificate signed by my neighbors will show

I am now under bail and believing that you do not intend to let an innocent man be oppressed, I respectfully ask that you exercise the discretion reposed in you, and 0388 have the indictment against me dismissed, or my bail discharged

Respectfully Yours
James Woods

2122-2^d Avenue

We the undersigned certify that we are well acquainted with the above mentioned James Woods

And that his reputation in the community in which he resides is that of an honest man and an abiding citizen
