entered by means of unbolting a ~~lock~~ <sup>lock</sup> attached to the outer door of the said building, with intent to commit a crime therein on the ~~day~~ <sup>day</sup> of the 26th day of December 1879 and the following property feloniously taken, stolen and carried away, viz:

One single set of harness marked "R" on the winter of the said harness - and of the value of thirty dollars the property of William Rutter and in deponent's care and charge and deponent further says, that he has great cause to believe, and does believe that the aforesaid BURGLARY was committed, and the aforesaid property taken, stolen and carried away by (now here) John M. Grath for the reasons following to wit: That on the ~~day~~ <sup>afternoon of the 26th</sup> day of December 1879, ~~at about~~ <sup>at about</sup> the hour of half past five o'clock, deponent locked and securely fastened the outer door of the said building with ~~a~~ <sup>a</sup> lock, and that about three hours before locking the said door as aforesaid, deponent <sup>saw</sup> the said set of harness hanging on a hook in a closet in the said stable That <sup>when</sup> deponent returned to the said building at about the hour of half past six o'clock on the afternoon of the said day deponent discovered that the said set of harness was missing.

That on the afternoon of the 23rd day of April 1880, deponent found the said set of harness hanging in the harness closet of the stable kept by Edija B. Middlebrook at No. 170 East 70th Street, and that he, the said Middlebrook - afterwards informed deponent that he obtained the said property from the said John <sup>about January 1st 1880</sup> McBroth by paying Mr. Broth a loan of five dollars. That the said property is now in Court and deponent fully identifies it as the property of William Luther Tatum, stolen and carried away as aforesaid. Deponent therefore charges the said John W. Broth with the burglary and larceny as aforesaid.

Court of General Sessions. Before Recorder John M. Keuna (Smythe). May 13, 1880. Indictment for assault and battery. Thomas B. Fargy, sworn and examined. I am connected with Baker, Pratt & Co., wholesale book house and publishers. I was in the vicinity of Broadway and Third St. on the 5th of April last. I saw the defendant there. I was on the left hand corner going up Broadway when I first noticed him. My attention was attracted to the defendant by his rapid way of driving and the exclamation of the people on the street halloing and making a noise; he was driving across Broadway from Great Jones St; there were quite a number of people in the street that hour of the day. I should judge it was about 5 1/2 o'clock in the afternoon; it was light. I presume there was seventy five or one hundred people passing along on Broadway. I should think the defendant was going at the rate of six or eight miles an hour; the rapidity of his speed attracted my attention and the cries of the people halloing to the lady. I saw his horses strike this lady and knock her I should say four or five feet, and both wheels of the carriage passed over her; she was on the sidewalk; she just stepped from the curb on the upper side of Third St on to the sidewalk or to the walk crossing the street. I met her; she was going towards the St. Nicholas hotel and I was going up Broadway; it was a covered carriage with two horses. I think there were people in it. I ran and helped her to her feet and assisted in getting her into the corner store, the flower store there; the prisoner drove on, took his whip and rather urged his horses to go still faster after he had struck this lady. I should say that he went at least half a block before the officer succeeded in stopping him; the officer called to him to stop several times, in fact, ran along side of his carriage; the lady gave me her name as C. M. Parks. I never saw her husband, I had a letter from him since he returned home. I considered she was in a very dangerous condition at that time; she was very badly mussed up; her dress and hat were muddy; she was suffering from nervous excitement. I presume she stayed in the flower store half or three quarters of an hour. I remained with her and accompanied her then to the St. Nicholas; she told me that her husband was sick at the hotel. I was at the station house when the prisoner was arrested; he was under the influence of liquor. I judged that from the manner in which he walked and talked. Cross Examined. He asked if that was the lady who was hurt; The lady made an effort to stop and then the horse struck her. Then the defendant was driving rapidly the people halloed, "Look out there, look out." I heard them calling that before the lady was struck, and I halloed myself. I should judge at that time he was as far as from here, to where he sits; he whipped the horses and went faster.

Cornelius Leary, sworn and examined. I am an officer attached to the fifteenth precinct; on the 5th of April I was in West Third St. the time Mrs. Parks was run over. I was in uniform at the time and about seventy-five feet from the corner of Broadway. I was going west towards Mercer St.; my attention was attracted by loud hallooing. I turned round and saw the wheels of this coach going over the lady; at the time I looked around the wheels struck her; the defendant was coming towards me. I ran towards him. I told him to stop, and he did not pretend to notice me and drove on. I ran along side of him and stopped him. I ran about 50 or 75 feet and then ran back to where I was at first. I called to him in a very loud tone to stop. He said, "What for?" I says, I want you to stop, and held my hand up at the same time. I made him drive in along side the sidewalk. I told him to get down off the coach; he stayed on the coach. I told him to drive around the corner to the Station House and he did so. How fast was he going when you told him to stop? Apparently six or seven miles an hour.
 I have been an officer of the police nine years; the defendant was driving unusually fast. Cross Examined. I did not see the defendant when he approached the lady, nor did I see her when she was struck. Then I turned around I saw the wheels passing over the lady, the defendant drove fifty feet or 75 feet before I got him after I cautioned him to stop.

feet and assisted in getting her into the corner store, the flower store there; the prisoner drove on,

Emil Ehrlich, sworn. I am a salesman in a fancy dry goods store at 476 Broadway. I was in the vicinity of Broadway and Third St. on the 5th of April at the time of the happening of this matter. I was walking up on the East side of Broadway and getting very near the corner of Great Jones St. I saw this carriage driving across Broadway at a speed which I noticed was very fast, and some people on the other side of Third St. tried to avoid it and I ran and just as I got across I saw the wheels pass over the lady and the carriage drove on. I saw the officer running after the defendant to stop him; he did not stop until he got half a block down. John M. Kern was sworn and examined in his own behalf testified that he had been driving a coach for the last 23 years; on the day in question I was driving for Mr. Bamfield and was returning from the Evergreen Cemetery; it was about 5 1/2 to 6 o'clock when I reached Broadway and Third St. I was not driving at a high rate of speed. I was crossing Broadway into West Third St. and on the northwest corner of course the thoroughfare kind of divided to let the coach through. This lady had been a little bit apart from the rest; she made a motion to stand still and I did the same.

I pulled my horses up, thinking she would stand I started again, and about the same instant she started the offhorse that I was driving struck her with his shoulder and she fell. I tried to save her, but I could not do it. I had not come exactly to a full stop, but I pulled my horses up. I tried to save her by pulling up the horses. There was a wagon right on the corner, I could not pull into the sidewalk. As soon as I got clear of that wagon that was standing there, I got clear of the sidewalk for the coach to be out of the way of injury. I suppose I went down for a few doors. I was not intoxicated. I was sorry the lady was hurt.

The jury rendered a verdict of guilty of assault.

He was sentenced to the penitentiary for one month and fined fifty dollars.
