vs.
John Davis
and Thomas Smith.

Court of General Sessions, Part I.

Before Judge Cowing.

Indictment for assault in the first degree. July 13-85

Maurice Reed sworn and examined. I am an officer of the 17th precinct police and know the defendants, I was assaulted by them on the 26th of May, 1885. About a quarter after six I was in 14th Street on post, I saw those two men were acting in a suspicious manner in front of a store and I watched them for a while and I saw this man Davis go in the store, go behind the counter and pull out the money drawer, I started over to catch this prisoner inside and two parties outside gave him warning that I was coming, I pursued him and he ran across 14th Street and coming across I struck my foot against the track and fell and sprained my arm, I got up again and pursued him and he ran into the hallway of 515 East 14th Street, I went after him and caught him in the yard, I got hold of him and he grabbed my stick and wrenched it out of my hand and struck me a blow in the head. I grappled him and before I could recover myself I got struck twice again; this Davis struck me twice again and while I was tussling with him this Smith caught hold of me and struck me twice in the face with his fist, he compelled me to let go of the prisoner and they both ran away, I was arresting Davis for an attempt at larceny; this was a quarter after six in the morning, I was taken to Bellevue Hospital and was there about an hour, I was taken home and I was laid up sick twenty-two days.

Cross Examined. I saw Davis pull the money drawer open but I do not know whether he took anything, Frederick Apple, a butcher owns the store. Apple did not make a complaint, he refused to come down here, he said he missed nothing and would not make any complaint, I brought Mr Apple's brother and son to the Police Court and he said he had not seen the parties and the Judge did not take the charge, the Judge told me to make the charge of felonious assault and I did so, Justice O'Reilly I believe was the justice, the store door was broken and the boy said Mr Apple was eating his breakfast upstairs, the boy was in the back room. No one came to my help and there is no other witness to the assault; one of my arms was sprained as I was attempting to catch this party, I am perfectly sure Davis is the man. I did not see Apple for a couple of days afterwards for I was in bed, I took Mr Apple to the Police Court on the 22nd of June, I was in bed about a week, I came down from the hospital in a car and an officer brought me home. I did not strike the prisoner first.

The Case for the Defence.

Maggie Lewis sworn. I live at 712 East 12th Street my husband drives a car on the Second Avenue Road, I have a baby and its last birthday was the 25th of May; we had a christening party on the night of the 25th and the two defendants, my sister, Mrs. Brady and some others were there; the defendants arrived about eight o'clock and they left about eight or nine o'clock in the morning, remaining all night, the party was not over until twelve o'clock and my husband ~~and~~ and I asked those two men to stay all night, they were in bed in one room, I saw them early in the morning of the 26th about six o'clock in bed in one room, I got up at that time to get my sister's breakfast who works in Stern's silk mill, 42nd Street.

Cross Examined. There were about thirteen in this christening party; the defendants went to bed before I did, I have known them about three years I guess, nobody stopped over night at our house but them, Annie Lynch is my sister's name.

Annie Lynch sworn. I live with my sister Mrs. Lewis at 712 East 18th Street and work in a silk mill in 42nd Street, I am required to be at work at seven o'clock in the morning. I was at the christening party of my sister's baby on the 25th of May last and saw the defendant's there. They staid there all night, I went to bed before them and the next morning when I got up I saw them in bed, I passed through the room into the front room to get my hat a little after six. The christening party was on Monday night and there were about fourteen persons present. I have not spoken to anybody about this case, I am going on seventeen years old.

Mary Brady sworn. I am a married woman and live at 712 East 18th Street. I was at this birthday party and saw the defendants there that night and saw them in Mrs. Lewis's the next morning between eight and nine o'clock.

Maurice Reed recalled. I did not know the prisoners before the assault, I saw these men twice that morning

Patrick Galligan sworn. I am an officer of the 18th precinct and saw these two men on the 26th of May ten minutes to six in the morning, leaning on a lamp-post two hundred yards from where the assault was made.

The Jury rendered a verdict of guilty.

JAMES N. DAY

City and County of New York, ss :-

ENOS RUNYON, being duly sworn, deposes and says :

I reside at Newark, New Jersey. I am a member of the firm of Martin & Runyon doing business at No. 100 Broadway in the City of New York.

Heretofore and prior to the 19th day of February 1885, the above-named James N. Day was in the employ of my said firm as counter clerk, and, as such counter clerk, it was his duty to buy and sell specie over the counter, government bonds and such like, and keep a correct account of the cash that came over the counter, and he was also custodian of such cash. As part of his employment, for the purpose of keeping a record of the transactions which took place over the counter, he had the custody of a certain book called the counter book in which were recorded the transactions which took place over the counter.

On the 8th day of August 1883, while having the charge and custody of the above mentioned counter book, the said Day made a false entry in the sum and wilfully omitted to make a true entry by omitting to properly add the charge side of the said book and by entering as the footing of the charge side of said book an amount which was six thousand dollars in excess of the true and correct footing to wit, the sum of $

These false entries and omissions to make correct and true entries were continued by the said Day in said book down to and including the 19th day of February 1885, until they reached the sum of ~~XXXXXXX~~ Thirteen thousand dollars.

Deponent further says that it was the duty of the said Day each night before leaving his place of business to count the amount of cash which he, the said Day, had received in his custody, and to put the same in a box, and to deposit said box within the vault of ~~Bankers'~~ Bankers' Safe Deposit Company.

On the 19th day of February 1885, the said defendant had in his custody belonging to the firm of Martin & Runyon money, goods and valuable property to the value of $58,824.38 which it was his duty to place in the said box, and to deposit with the Safe Deposit Company. That on said day, having in his possession the said money and goods, he failed to deposit the whole of said property but took away and converted to his own use forty-two thousand four hundred and fifteen 37-100 Dollars ($42,415.37)

Deponent further says, upon information and belief, that the property taken by the said Day consisted of government bonds, gold and silver coin of the United States, United States Treasury notes, bank notes, English coin, French coin and German coin. & U.S. gold mint bars.

Honored Sir

It is with deep solicitude that I take the liberty to address you in behalf of J. M. Day who soon comes before you for sentence for an act that must have been committed when he was not himself mentally.
Having known him for the last ten years. I had learned to repose the utmost confidence in him as a man and as a father. For he at all times seemed to have the most tender regard for his family and they

Dear Sir

We are informed that J. M. Day who pleaded guilty of grand larceny in the second degree will be brought before you tomorrow for sentence

His friends have asked us to intercede in his behalf and while we feel most deeply the wrong done us, we have consented to act upon their suggestion, and make for the sake of his wife and children an appeal to you for as light a sentence as the crime will permit

He has made to us
since his imprisonment, a full confession of his misdeeds and we have satisfied ourselves that 0730

none of the money abstracted has been saved and he is without means to provide for his wife & family.

The disgrace of an arrest, the publicity given to his crime, and the constant reminder within him of his wrong doings must already have punished him in part.

Dear Sir:

It will afford us much pleasure to speak a good word for Mr James V. Day, whom we have known for more than twelve years and in whom we had implicit confidence. We were very much surprised to learn of his present trouble but feel that it must be due to the stress of great temptation, which so often overcomes the strongest.

If any words of ours could lessen his punishment, we would gladly say them, knowing his anguish of mind is a severer punishment than any court can inflict. We trust the Judge will give his former good character full weight in imposing sentence and temper justice with mercy.

Yours truly

TO The Hon. Henry A. Gildersleeve,

Judge of The Court of General Sessions.

Dear Sir;- Mr. James N. Day, who comes before you this morning for sentence has been known to me for a period of twenty years. I have always found him to be upright and honorable in all his business transactions and career. From what I know of him I believe that he has already suffered very much and that so far as the salutary effect which a term of imprisonment is supposed to accomplish, that the lightest punishment which the law permits you to impose, will vindicate justice.

I have the pleasure to enclose you herewith, letters from Messrs. Overton & Co.; also Wm. H. Stiner, who have also know Mr. Day for many years with the hope that you will temper your justice with mercy and thereby afford Mr. Day an opportunity to retrieve himself and to make another home for his wife and family who will be left entirely dependent upon strangers during the time that he is imprisoned.

I hope you will find it consistent, with your sense of justice.

to impose upon him the lightest sentence of which the law will permit and that you will save him the disgrace of going to State's Prison.

If you will permit me to say so, I think a term of imprisonment upon Blackwell's Island will save Mr. Day considerable mental and bodily suffering and at the same time afford him an opportunity to make a new departure upon his release.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient Servant,,

I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your favor of even date, and at the same time to inform you that I had numerous occasions to meet Mr James O Day, in the course of my business, for a period of about eight years. I was at all times well impressed with his business capacity and deemed him as correct and upright as possibly could be. As far as I am concerned I should have trusted him beyond limit. I was greatly grieved as well as shocked to hear of his misfortune, and I believe to this day, that he is a victim of circumstances - I trust the Court will deal gently with him.

The People
 vs. William Donohue } Court of General Sessions. Part II
 Before Judge Cowing. July 14. 1885.
 Indictment for grand larceny in the 2nd degree.

Sophia Weiss sworn. I live 353 Bowery in this city. Charles Weiss is my husband. I have seen the defendant W^m Donohue on the 28th of June. I lost a broche shawl on that day worth fifty dollars and my son lost a new pair of pants and a new flannel vest. and I lost my gaiters. He left (the prisoner) his shoes and pants on my bed. I think my son paid ten dollars for the pants and seven dollars for the vest. My shoes were not new, I paid $5.25 for them, I had worn them a good while. The defendant was working two days in my house. I saw him go into my room, I thought he was going to clean up, and once he came down with a pail of water and slipped it in the hall. I said to him, "My husband told you to wait till he came back and he would pay you two dollars; don't run away." He had his coat buttoned up. I was busy in the store, and he ran out as fast as he could; he says, "I will come back for my wages." He came back at twelve o'clock and I said, "My husband wants to see you, he wants to pay you, he is down in the kitchen." He went down stairs. The things that were stolen were in my wardrobe in my room: He put my son's pants on and left his own under the bed. My cook saw him with ladies gaiters and asked him where he got them? He said he bought them for thirty five cents.

Cross Examined. I saw my shawl that same morning before the boy left the house; he left the house about nine o'clock. I was up there at 8 1/2 and the shawl and everything was in the wardrobe; at nine the prisoner and the things were gone. The prisoner did not wait for my husband to come back from market. The prisoner did not sleep in my house the night before; he came in the morning. There is nobody living in the house but ourselves; he came in from the street. He went away in the evening and came in the morning. I said, I did not like it when he told me he was going away and would come back in the morning. The next day he said he did not like the place because the hours were too long. He was engaged for one week. I asked him to stay until his week was up, and he said, "all right." The next morning he did not come till between 8 and 9 o'clock. My husband told him to stay till he came back from market and he would pay him. He did not stay; he ran away; he was altogether about an hour and a quarter in the house; he got a few scuttles of coal for the cook and washed a couple of dishes and went up stairs and emptied the dirty water and cleaned up the room. He came down, put the pail of water on the floor and ran out as fast as he could. I says to my son, "the boy has stolen the thing; go up to Headquarters. He was not two minutes gone till we missed the clothes; there was nobody in the room except him; he was not 15 minutes gone when I missed the shawl.

John Seery sworn and examined. I am a Police officer of the 17th precinct and arrested the defendant; he said he did not do it; he was searched at the station house and nothing was found on him. The complainant said she saw him going out with a bundle under his coat.

Richard Carey, sworn and examined for the defence, testified. I gave the name of ~~Wm~~ Donohue when arrested; my true name is Richard Carey. I gave that name because I did not want to disgrace my friends. I worked for the complainant two days. I was passing by this lady's door when a man called me and asked me if I wanted to work? I told him, 'yes' and he brought me down stairs. Did you ~~run~~ out of the place, did you have anything in your clothes? No sir. You did not have anything of her's? No sir. That woman was coaxing me all day one day to come down and perjure myself and swear that the man next door called her a Dutch girl; and I would not do it. When you were arrested were any pawn tickets found? No sir. Were any of the stolen coats found on you? No sir. I was in the kitchen of the complainant's house, down in the kitchen, when you were arrested. I live with my parents. My sister came down yesterday to see me and said she would be down today. Mya Jura Q You heard the lady say that you had on the young man's vest and his pants. Is that the pants and vest you had on the morning you were arrested? Yes sir, the morning I left the place; those are my own pants and vest. I was arrested three or four years ago for stealing. Boys put me up to go in a place and steal money. I had a lawyer and a character and got only five days. I was arrested once for disorderly conduct and got one month. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty.

Court of General Sessions, Part I.
Before Judge Gildersleeve.

June 26, 1895 .

Indictment for robbery in the first degree.

William S. S. Atmore sworn . I am stopping at the Tremont Hotel, Broadway, I arrived in New York early on Friday morning from Savannah, Georgia, the 19th of June. I met this man Dugan on the same day in Sixth Avenue, he was alone, I did not know him, I asked him the way to the Tremont House, he replied that he would show me; we walked down as I supposed to the Tremont House, he did not show me the Tremont House, he took me along as well as I can express it, being a stranger in the city, towards 16th Street to 147, we went into the basement afterwards and Margaret Graham was there, I attempted to go out but the door was locked and could not; he pushed me down and tried to make for my pocket, I opened my pocket-book and gave him a twenty dollar bill, I did not give it, I was obliged to on account of fright. This was in the basement 147 East 16th Street, he pushed me down on the bed on my back, he was holding me down, I was frightened and I gave him the money; she participated in the act, she received the money, she was standing on the other side of the room a few steps off, he handed the money to her, I got out of the room by turning the handle of the door when they were scuffling over the money, I expected a row had I left then I was two hours or two hours and a half in this room, I left once and came back in about twenty minutes because they offered to give me some money back and I went back to get it; they took money on two occasions; when I got back they got more, they got me down the second time; the woman was in the room when Dugan put me on the bed and there was no other person there; she said very little while I was there; she said, don't be alarmed, no one will hurt you; she did not put hands on me at all; she did not say anything when Dugan gave her the money, I had about forty dollars more when I went out. This was about half past five or six o'clock at night, I went back to the Tremont House, I spoke to the clerk of the hotel the next morning and he took me down to the Detective Agency, I did not pass a policeman on my way down 10th Street. Dugan when he had me down on the bed asked me for money for the woman, I said that I could not give her money as all my money was in large change; with that he threw me down on the bed and said he would have it, I got frightened and gave him the twenty dollar bill the first time. Dugan did not put his hand in my pocket. He took me down in the basement and introduced me to Margaret, he said that was a friend of his. I had no relations with the woman at all, I had been down but three minutes before I found I was a prisoner, I left the house alone the first time and went to see if I could find a policeman but did not find any. I went back and stood outside waiting for a policeman and Dugan came up and said that the woman would give me the change back, I went down again to get the change and they took the twenty dollars and gave me no change.

Cross Examined. I did not voluntarily part with the twenty dollars the first time, I went to look for a policeman the first time I left the house but could not find any, I returned to the house the second time and lost the twenty dollar bill. He asked for money for the woman because she was poor, I gave the money because I was afraid of not getting out again.

Charles Heidleberg sworn. I am a member of the municipal police attached to the Central office and I arrested the prisoners on Saturday morning, on the complaint of the previous witness who made a complaint at headquarters. I went with him up Third Avenue and found the house which he described, 147 East 16th Street and we let him wait out in the street and we went the same way that he was let in through the hall; it was a small basement, the house standing back from the street about twelve feet. We knocked at the door and when I got in I found a woman standing up in her chemise and Dugan was stripped locked up in a closet. I asked him what did you do with that Englishman you had here yesterday afternoon? Both of them replied, we never saw an Englishman, we did not do nothing with him. We said, you robbed him out of forty dollars. They said, we never took a cent from him. With that I went outside and left Officer Mc Closkey inside and brought the Englishman inside. I said, do you identify these people? He said, yes, that is the woman and that is the man that brought me in. We told the woman to dress herself and while dressing a roll of bills fell out of her pocket under her clothes, it was a twenty and a five dollar bill, I took them to headquarters; they did not know I had it, this is the first time I ever told that I had the money.

While the woman was dressing she was fumbling around and the money fell on the floor, I picked it up without anybody seeing it. They both denied having any money in their possession. At police headquarters I asked them again, did you ever have any money? He says yes, I have had some money, some remittance was sent to me from England and I have got twenty five to thirty dollars left. He says, we had about a hundred dollars six weeks ago and it is in the bank, we have not got any in the house, the complainant said he could not identify the money, he would not want to swear to the twenty dollar bill. This is a furnished room house, they paid three dollars a week for the basement, they pick up women, cruisers in the street.

The Case for the Defence.

William S. S. Athmore recalled. The first time I met the defendant was about half past four and I left the house for the last time about seven o'clock. When he had me in the basement I did not scream or struggle, I was not afraid of my life but I knew I was caged in anyhow. While I was there the defendant Dugan went out for ale but while I was in this basement nothing occurred between me and the woman, I tried to get out several times but I found the door barred. I had been out with a friend that day, I was not drunk all day; the Tremont House is 668 Broadway. Dugan went out and brought in bottles of Bass' Ale, I tried to get out of the window but could not push it open.

0001

James Dugan sworn. I have lived in this city about twenty-eight years and never was arrested in my life. I worked for George H. Kitching, for Warren, Fuller & Lang and worked in the New York Post Office for Jordon of Brooklyn. I am a steam-fitter by trade and worked in different shops. When there is plenty of work I work and when the work gets slack I am laid off. I am living with this woman as my wife at 147 East 16th Street. I met this gentleman last Friday about three o'clock and he asked me if I could tell him where the Tremont House was, I could not exactly tell him. He got talking about Savanna that he had property down there and he was after coming from there. So after that getting me by the arm he said, come in and have a drink with me. I went in and had a drink; I said I would have a glass of lager and he said, take the best in the house, I took a glass of lager and he called for a bottle of Bass' Ale. We came out on the sidewalk and he bought a white hat across the way. He caught me by the arm and walked along 14th Street; I said, this is Broadway and there is an officer who will tell you exactly where the Tremont House is. He said, I don't mind that, where can we go and have a good sociable game of pool. I told him there was big stores around here and that the Third Avenue saloons kept pool tables. I said I never played pool but that there was always someone around there to play. He asked me did I have a room? I told him I am married and she is an English girl. He said, supposing we go to the house and have a rest, I have got a headache. I says, don't you want to go and have a game of pool and he said no. I told him that we were not legally married but lived together as man and wife, I told him her name was Mrs. Graham and introduced him to her as Mrs. Graham. There was a lounge there and he threw himself on it and commenced smoking a cigar. He says to me, will you go out and get something to drink and he gave me a dollar bill to get Bass' Ale. I went out four or five times for ale and he commenced to complain and told me that he had given her twenty dollars and he promised ten dollars of it as a friend. So she spoke up to me and said, Jimmy he wanted to do something wrong. I said to him, I did not bring you in here for that, I did not think you would do anything behind my back, I told you I looked on her as my wife. He says, O Pshaw, don't get mad Mr Dugan, patting me on the shoulder, come out and we will have a drink. We went around the corner and had a couple of drinks. He wanted to go down Elecker Street to see a couple of young ladies that he was in the habit of going to see. I told him no; he says, we will go back to the house and go down to the theater together. I says, all right and I went back in the house with him. He sent out for drinks again and then we went out together in the neighborhood of eight o'clock as far as 14th Street and Third Ave ne. I said, I will bid you good-night you are going to your hotel. He said, no, I will take a ride down on the cars. I did not throw him on the bed and did not threaten him. about money, he could have got out of that room any time he chose. I never received any money from him.

0002

The Jury rendered a verdict of guilty of petty larceny.

Court of General Sessions of the Peace

OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF NEW YORK.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK

against

James Dragan and Margaret Pipelham

The Grand Jury of the City and County of New York, by this indictment, accuse James Dragan and Margaret Pipelham

of the CRIME OF ROBBERY in the First degree, committed as follows:

The said James Dragan and Margaret Pipelham, each — late of the First Ward of the City of New York, in the County of New York aforesaid, on the nineteenth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five, in the day/time of the said day, at the Ward, City and County aforesaid, with force and arms, in and upon one William S. S. O'Connor, in the peace of the said People, then and there being, feloniously did make an assault, and one Promissory Note for the payment of money, the same being then and there due and unsatisfied, and of the kind known as United States Treasury Notes, of the denomination of Twenty dollars, and of the value of Twenty dollars, and one Promissory Note for the payment of money, the same being then and there due and unsatisfied, and of the kind known as Bank Notes, of the denomination of
