Hon. Delancy Nicholl

Dear Sir

In Conformity with your instruction I have made a close examination of the mental Condition of Ernest Hertigman a Prisoner Confined in the Tombs and have found him insane.

He is under the delusion that a Conspiracy existed against him and that certain persons were plotting to take his money and his life.

Naturally he is of the easily over wrought nervous sanguine Temperament; and his actual difficulties so unbalanced him as to occasion the insane impulses. I shall have the pleasure to be subject at times to specially potent morbid impulses, that render him uncontrollable by reason, and thus irresponsible and so, report-

him

New York, March 7th 1891

Hon. Delancey Nicoll

Dear Sir,

As you requested,
I visited Earnest Hutterman who is now confined in the City Prison.
A careful inquiry into his mental condition, showed him to be of unsound mind. He has delusions of sight and sound. He thinks that people are following him
all the time; that they prevent him from getting work and try to do him bodily injury.
The girls are a great source of trouble to him. They are after him all the time; trying to seduce him from the "paths of virtue". It was to truly that

0663

J. G. TRUAX, M. D.,

New York.

he made the attempt upon his life. His mania is of the kind called suicidal. I do not believe he is capable of making a proper defense. He does not try to conceal the fact of his attempt to commit suicide. And has not the slightest idea that he did anything wrong in trying to kill himself. It would not be safe for him to be at large. He is very easily excited. My examination was made this the 7th day of March 1891.

Very truly yours
J. G. Truax M.D.

OFFICER HENRY MASSON, of the 23rd Precinct, testified that he had been in the Precinct about four years and eight months. On January 25th, 1891, his ^{post}~~precinct~~ extended from 51st Street to 54th Street on 3rd Avenue, and half-way to 2nd Avenue and half-way to Lexington Avenue. The premises known as 875 3rd Avenue were on his post. The premises were occupied as a liquor store. They were on the Southeast corner of 53rd Street and 3rd Avenue, and were kept by a man named Boylan. On the morning of January 25th, at about a quarter of 2 o'clock, he was patrolling his post, and, as he reached the corner of 53rd Street, he tried the glass door on the 3rd Avenue side of Boylan's saloon. The door was locked. Then he started to go around the corner. As he did so he saw a man step out of the hallway of the house, it being the corner house, and dodge back. It was the doorway of the entry leading to the upper part of the house. He, the witness, went down to the doorway, and found a man standing there, who gave the name of Murray. He, the witness, then closed the door with a snap lock, and Murray went away. He, the witness, then walked towards 3rd Avenue and, as he passed the weather door of the saloon, the defendant stepped out of the door, and then jumped back. He, the witness, made a grab at the defendant, but the defendant was too quick for him. He, the witness, had on his rubber coat, as it was snowing hard. The defendant jumped inside of the glass door, and he, the witness, tried the glass door inside of the weather door. He could not push the glass door open. He, the witness, then went to the corner, about ten feet from the storm door, and sent out an alarm rap. The roundsman came to his, the witness's, assistance. Then the roundsman ordered him, the witness, to arrest the man Murray, who had meanwhile gone up on the elevated station at the corner. He arrested Murray and took him to the police station, and found 45 cents in his pocket. Then he, the witness, went back to Boylan's saloon, and entered the saloon through the weather door, and the glass door behind it, and then passed through a door opening from the back part of the saloon into the hallway of the house. In the hallway he found the roundsman and the defendant. He, the witness, said, "That's the man." Thereupon the roundsman ordered him, the witness, to search the stairs upstairs. He, the witness, did so, but did not find anything. At the station house the roundsman searched the defendant. The roundsman found some money and some papers in the possession of the defendant. The defendant said as to one of the papers, "That's what will convict me. That is what will hang me."

ROUNDSMAN THOMAS J. EGAN, of the 23rd Precinct, testified that he heard the previous witness's alarm rap, at about 2 o'clock on the morning of January 25th. He found Officer Masson standing at the side door of the liquor store, S75 3rd Avenue. After a conversation with Officer Masson, he, the witness, entered the side door of the saloon, and searched the saloon. He found no one there. Then he went into the hall of the building, through a rear door leading into the saloon. The hall was dark. He, the witness, then procured the assistance of Officer Phillips, and directed him to search the premises. He, the witness, remained on the ground floor in the hallway at the time. Then they returned to the saloon, and lit a candle and went back into the hall. A citizen who had assisted them, went upstairs with Officer Phillips. Officer Phillips then said when he entered the hall way first, "Here he is."

The defendant replied, "Yes, here I am. Here I am, Tommy." The witness understood the defendant to address him, the witness. It was then the Officer Phillips and the citizen went upstairs to make a further search. When they returned to the hall, he, the witness, went to the station house with the defendant. In the station house the defendant was searched, and he, the witness, found in his possession a memorandum book and four silver dollars. He also had in his possession a pocket knife and two keys. The defendant said that he had been chased into the saloon by the officer on post, and he pointed to Officer Phillips. The defendant was covered with dust, and his hat was dented in at the top. There was no dust on his back, but it was all on the front of his clothing. He, the witness, then returned to the saloon and looked on the top of the ice-box, and found that the dust which had accumulated there had been recently disturbed.

None of the doors or windows of the saloon had been broken open, as far as the witness could ascertain.

OFFICER JAMES E. PHILLIPS, testified to the same effect.

He, the witness, searched the upper hall, and found two cigar boxes containing money. On the window sill in the hallway on the second floor he found the key of the saloon. When he and the citizen first went into the hall, accompanied by Roundsman Egan, and then returned to the store to light the candle, he saw nothing of the defendant. At that time he, the witness, lit the gas, as he went upstairs, and searched even an empty room on the top floor, but saw no trace of the defendant.

0675

8

JOHN SPARKS, Clerk of the Court of General Sessions, testified that he produced from the files of the Clerk's Office of the Court an indictment and the minutes of Part II of the Court, showing that on the 29th day of March, 1888, before Honorable Rufus B. Cowing, Alexander Hetherington was arraigned at the bar of the Court on an indictment charging him with burglary in the third degree, and that Hetherington pleaded guilty, and was sentenced by Judge Cowing to State prison at hard labor for four years.

OFFICER JOHN T. CUFF, of the 23rd Precinct, testified that he knew the defendant and arrested him prior to March 29th, 1886, and was in the Court of General Sessions, Part 2, when the defendant pleaded guilty on March 29th, 1886, of Burglary in the Third Degree, and was sentenced by Judge Cowing to State prison for four years. He had known the defendant for about ten years, and had no doubt about his identity.

ROUNDSMAN EGAN, being recalled, testified, that Officer Phillips handed the cigar boxes to him, the witness. He, the witness, took the boxes to the station house, and examined them, and found that they contained money, and he immediately turned them over to Sergeant Ronk, who counted the money in his, the witness's presence. The boxes contained $43.95.

MICHAEL CASSIDY, testified that he lived at 222 East 57th Street, and was a bartender for Christopher Boylan, at 875 3rd Avenue. He, the witness, had been employed there for nearly three years. Boylan had six stores altogether. He, the witness, closed the store at midnight on January 24th, 1891. He, the witness, knew the defendant at the bar, and had frequently seen him in Mr. Boylan's saloon. The defendant was in the saloon on the night of January 24th, with two others, and the three men drank up to midnight. Of the other two men he, the witness, knew one only by sight. The other was Murray. He, the witness, was not positive, but he believed it was Murray. At the time of the closing of the store at midnight on January 24th, he, the witness, had $97. of his employer's money in his possession. He left the silver, amounting to $15, in change, for the use of the bartender who was to come on in the morning. He left the silver in the cigar box, under the bar. The remainder of the silver, $39, was made up in packages of quarters, ten-cent pieces and there were some five-cent pieces and a few pennies. This money was also in a cigar box. He, the witness, took the bills away with him. He, the witness, could swear to the boxes in which he had put the two sums of money. He identified the packages of silver, because he put the figures on the packages himself. He put one box on a whiskey keg in the back closet, and the other box, containing the $15, under the bar. When he was called to the saloon at about 8 o'clock in the morning, by the police, he could not find the cigar boxes. He next saw them in the police court. He, the witness, locked the glass door inside the storm door with a key, and took out the key and put it in a drawer---the third drawer from the end of the bar. The front door had a snap lock, and the door leading into the hallway was kept fastened all the time.

 did feloniously seduce and have carnal connection with deponent
 under the promise of marriage previously

 Hofer and deponent. That on or

 of defendant receiving music lessons.
 That defendant by inducements and with his mother. That deponent's father caused a summons to be issued for defendant also appeared at the 3rd District Police Court and to deponent's

 reason that defendant had deponent
 at his mother's house was that he intended to marry deponent in a short

 to be under his mother's charge and

That the defendant was not under arrest at the time he made such statement. but was at Court to explain why it was that deponent was at defendants Mothers house in place of being at her own home. That the defendant further said that it gave him pleasure to know that deponents Father had no objection to such marriage. Deponent further says that she is now unmarried and that previous to her acquaintance with said William she was chaste and virtuous, wherefore deponent charges the defendant with Seduction under promise of marriage in violation of section 284 of the Penal Code and prays that he be held to answer.

Indicted for carrying burglars tools,
as a Second Offense.

Indictment filed February 16th, 1891.

Tried February 25th, 1891.

Appearances:

Assistant District-Attorney Weeks for the People.
Levy, Friend & House for the Defense.

Thomas B. Madden a witness for the People testified that he was turnkey at the New Jersey State prison. His official title was Doorkeeper. He knew the defendant, George Houghton, under the name of George W. Edwards, as a prisoner in the New Jersey State prison, at Trenton. He knew him from about 1880 or 1881 and 1887. The witness then identified an exemplified copy of the record of the conviction.

tion of George W. Edwards, in the Court of Oyer & Terminer, in the County of Middlesex, New Jersey.

In cross-examination, the witness testified that he had known the defendant certainly for fully five years as a prisoner in the prison.

Detective-Sergeant Michael J. Lyman testified that he and Detective Mc Ginness arrested the defendant on the evening of January 26th, 1891, at about 6 o'clock in the evening, in 30th street, near Fourth avenue, on the stoop of 205 East 30th street. At the time of the arrest, the defendant was in company with Patrick Robertson. The defendant had a bundle of burglars tools, wrapped up in paper, under his right arm. He, the witness, and his brother-officer took the defendant and Robertson to Police Headquarters. When they were arrested, the defendant and Robertson wanted to know why they were arrested, and he, the witness, told them that the Inspector would tell them why they were arrested. On the following morning the defendant and Robertson were taken to the Jefferson Market Police Court. On the day of the arrest he, the witness, and Detective Mc Ginness saw Robertson and Houghton meet in Third avenue. The first time that he, the witness, saw Houghton, on that day, was when he saw Houghton and Robertson going through the Bowery towards Bleecker street. They went into a place in Bleecker street. Then they went through Lafayette Place and up the Bowery and went into a saloon in Fourth street and then returned to the same place in Bleecker street. When they came out of the place in Bleecker street, they had bundles with them. They took a Fourth avenue car and rode up to 30th street. He, the witness, and Detective Mc Ginness rode up town on the same car. As the defendant and Robertson were going up the stoop of 205 East 30th street they were arrested. When he, the witness, caught hold of Robertson, Robertson threw a jimmy that he had in his hand into the vestibule of the house. In the presence of the defendant, Houghton, he, the witness, asked Robertson what they were going to do with the tools. Robertson said that they did not intend to do anything with them in New York, but that they were to be used out side of New York, and that if the witness and Detective Mc Ginness had waited until the following morning, he, Robertson would have been out of the city of New York, and that he intended to go 1,400 miles away from New York. Robertson also said that he would take the whole brunt of the matter upon his shoulders, because Houghton had served terms in State prison amounting to 18 years. He, the witness, had been a Detective Sergeant for over five years, and was familiar with the tools used by burglars. The tools that were found in the possession of the defendant and Robertson were first-class burglars tools.

Officer John D. Mc Ginness testified that he was a Detective Officer attached to the Police Central Office. The witness corroborated the testimony of Detective-Sergeant Lyman.

EMANUEL H. FRIEND being duly sworn says that he is the Attorney of the above defendant. That the said defendant was indicted by the Grand Jury on the 3^d day of February 1891, charged with the crime of carrying burglar's tools as a second offense and in the said indictment it is laid as a first offense. That the said defendant was convicted on the 16th day of December 1891. On information and belief, deponent alleges that no evidence was before the Grand Jury authorizing said indictment and especially no evidence to show the allegations laid in the indictment as to the former offense, and the grounds of deponent's belief are that the name of MICHAEL LYMAN who to deponent's knowledge is a detective
on the Police Force of the City of New York and who resides in said City. Therefore, deponent charges the fact to be that there was not any legal evidence before the Grand Jury to authorize the indictment of the defendant and especially to authorize the fact alleged in the indictment of his former conviction for crime, or his identity
as the person who had committed said former alleged crime,

and deponent further says, that if the facts alleged in this affidavit are not true, the District Attorney being in possession of the minutes of the Grand Jury and having official knowledge of what took place before the Grand Inquest can readily disprove them.

GEORGE HOUGHTON being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is the defendant above-named.

That on information and belief, he was indicted by the Grand Jury of the City and County of New York, on the 3^d day of February 189/, charged with the crime of feloniously possessing instruments of burglary and larceny, charged as a second offense, and in the said indictment it is laid as a first offense, that the said defendant was convicted at a Court of Oyer & Terminer and a General Jail Delivery held in and for the County of Middlesex, in the State of New Jersey, on the 26th day of December, 1871, by and under the name and description of GEORGE W. EDWARDS, having on the 16th day of November, 1871 at the Township of Monroe, in the County of Middlesex aforesaid, at about the hour of 11 o'clock at the night of the said last mentioned day, with force and arms, a certain building, commonly called a bank, which was the building and bank of FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF JAMESBURG, a body corporate incorporated and existing by and under the laws and authority of the United States there situate, by night, wilfully and maliciously broken and entered with intent the certificates and other public securities of the United States, for payment of money, moneys, goods and chattels of the said the FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF JAMESBURG, in the said building, commonly called a bank, then and there being found, then and there feloniously to steal, take and carry away, contrary to the form of the statute of the said State of New Jersey, in such case made and provided, and against the peace of the said State, the government and dignity of the same.

On information and belief, deponent alleges that no evidence was before the Grand Jury, aforementioned, authorizing said indictment and especially no evidence to show or prove or establish the allegations laid in the indictment as to the former offense, as therein charged.

On information and belief, deponent alleges that no testimony was introduced before the said Grand Jury that he, deponent, was the GEORGE W. EDWARDS so alleged to have been so convicted, under such name, in the said State of New Jersey.

On information and belief, deponent is informed and has reason to believe that the only name on the indictment so found against him as above mentioned is that of one, MICHAEL LYMAN, whom deponent is informed and verily believes to be a detective on the Police force of the City of New York and who resides in said City.

Deponent further alleges that he has no acquaintance with the person named as a witness, on the back of said indictment. That for the reasons above mentioned, deponent charges the fact to be that there was no legal evidence before the said Grand Jury to authorize his indictment and especially to authorize the fact alleged in the indictment of his former conviction for crime or his identity as the person who had committed said former alleged crime, and deponent further says that if the facts alleged in this indictment are not true, the District Attorney being in possession of the minutes of the said Grand Jury and having official knowledge of what took place before the said Grand Jury can readily disprove them.

Wherefore, by reason of the premises above set forth, and on all the proceedings had herein, deponent asks that the said Indictment be dismissed as having been found without there being legal proof before the said Grand Jury.
