Court General Sessions

Charles W. Fuller, office No. 120 Broadway, New-York City, residence Bergen Point, New-Jersey, makes the following statement:

I was formerly Colonel commanding the 55th New-York and am now Corporation Counsel to the City of Bayonne, N. J. On the 15th day of March, 1881, the "Truth" newspaper, published in New-York City by Hart, Post and Byrne, published an article entitled "Wiles of a Philistine; The Wife of Solomon loveth the Man of War", which purported to be an account of the differences between a husband and his wife, written in a Biblical style, a paraphrase on Solomon's Song and alluding to the said Col. Charles W. Fuller as the man who occasioned the trouble in these words "And it came to pass that Solomon brought into his tent a Philistine, a great warrior, a man of iron, even Col. Charles W. Fuller, who dwelleth in a tent and in the Way which is called Broadway, at the No. 120"; that on the 15th day of March, 1881, George Isaacs, formerly of No. 190 East 75th Street, New-York City, but now of New-Haven, Conn., employed a man named Harry Enton to take a copy of this paper to the home of said Fuller and deliver the same to his wife and directing him to give it into her hands and call her attention to the article, and also directing him to purchase some copies of the paper and give them away at Bergen Point, the place of residence of said Fuller, and gave Mr. Enton the money to purchase the papers; that Mr. Enton delivered a copy of this paper to Mrs. Fuller.

0668

Harry Enton, of No. 164 Union Street, Brooklyn, makes the following statement:

On the 15th day of March, 1881, I happened in the office of Edward Dunphy, 304 Broadway, by whom I had been previously employed, and there met and was introduced to a man by the name of George Isaacs; Mr. Dunphy said "Enton, you are just the man I want to see; Mr. Isaacs wants you to take a run down into New-Jersey, to Col. Fuller's house". He then introduced me to Mr. Isaacs; I asked what was wanted and Mr. Isaacs, who was reading a paper called "Truth", pointed to an article with a wood cut of a woman's face at the top, and said "I want you to take this down to Col. Fuller's house, ask for his wife, show her this article and ask if she knows who was the cause of its publication, or whether she had anything to do with it". The impression that I got at that time was that that was to be my excuse for showing the article to Mrs. Fuller. He then said that this one copy was not enough and told me to buy several copies and take them down there; that "We will have a hurrah over it", or words to that effect; he felt in his pockets and found no change and then borrowed twenty five cents from Mr. Dunphy with which to purchase extra copies of "Truth"; he then gave me the copy of the paper he held in his hand and which contained an article alluding to Col. Fuller, and to which he had called my attention and which he wanted me to call to the attention of Mrs. Fuller; he also gave me the twenty five cents which he had borrowed from Mr. Dunphy to purchase extra copies of the paper, and I purchased two copies at the office of "Truth", which were all I could get. I then went to Col. Fuller's house, in New-Jersey, asked for Mrs. Fuller, sent up my card and waited in the sitting room for her; Mrs. Fuller came into the room, I showed her the article, as Mr. Isaacs had instructed me, asked her if she knew who was the author of it or whether she had anything to do with it; I don't recollect what reply she made at the time; I left the paper with her but didn't deliver the other two; I came back to New-York, went to Mr. Dunphy's office, saw him and reported to him the result of my trip. Dunphy then paid me for Mr. Isaacs $2.50 in addition to my Railroad expenses and ferrriage. Mr. Dunphy has offered to corroborate my testimony as to Isaacs's giving me the paper and as to what happened in New-York City, paying the money, &c.

OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF NEW YORK.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK

against

George Draeger

The Grand Jury of the City and County of New York, by this indictment, accuse

George Draeger

of the CRIME OF Seditious Libel committed as follows:

The said

George Draeger

late of the City and County of New York, on the 27th day of March in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, at the City and County aforesaid, with force and arms being a person of envious, evil and wicked mind, and of a malicious disposition, and maliciously and unlawfully minding, intending and contriving, as much as in him lay to injure, oppress, aggrieve and vilify the good name, fame, credit and reputation of one Charles W. Fuller, ~~a good and worthy~~ ~~citizen of said State~~, and to bring him into public scandal, contempt, infamy and disgrace, with force and arms, at the City and County aforesaid unlawfully and maliciously did publish and did cause, and procure to be published, a certain false, scandalous, malicious and defamatory libel of and concerning him the said Charles W. Fuller, which said false, scandalous malicious, and defamatory libel contained the false, malicious, defamatory and seditious matter following, that is to say:

Wife of the President.

One wife of Solomon Love a man of war.

Solomon desired the aid of the Law and brought a Suit for Absolute Divorce - Israel Exited.

Moreover, the Law-giver said unto me, take thee a great roll and write in it with a man's pen concerning Solomon of the tribe of Simeon. And I took with me faithful witnesses, even Benjamin and Michael, the same who is called Haggai, and did write in the great roll with a man's pen.

And the Law-giver spoke unto me, saying, Solomon of the tribe of Simeon dwelleth in this tent even in the way which is called Fifth Avenue and at number 1,195, and with him did dwell in harmony his wife Jeanne and his children, even Alfred and Beatrice Eleanor; but they dwell there no longer, for do! sorrow hath entered into the household of Solomon and peace hath departed therefrom.

Now Solomon is a man well known in Israel and hath wondrous wisdom concerning camels' shoes and the hair and tails of fatted oxen, for Solomon travelleth into foreign countries, even unto Cincinnati, to sell varnish and glue unto the Gentiles and the ungodly.

The Flight of Love.

Three and ten years have passed since Solomon took Jeanne unto wife, and she was given unto him in marriage even in the citied of evil, the same which is called Chicago.

Now Jeanne was fair to look upon and Solomon feasted his eyes upon her and spoke unto her saying: "Set me kiss thee with the kisses of my mouth, for thy love is better than mine."

And there were kissing unto the eve of Jeane and she replied saying: "Amen, amen. Because of the favor of thy good eyes, therefore the virgins do love thee."

And it came to pass that as Jeane did speak, Solomon embraced her and spoke saying: "I will sing a new song unto thee."

And she answered saying: "all on account of Eliza."

And when Solomon had sung this song, he gathered together his eyes and varnishes and went out among the Gentiles, saying: "I go forth to depose the heathen that our garners may be full in all manner of store and that our oxen may be strong to labor."

Jeane Cried.

And it came to pass that when Solomon had gone forth upon his journey to sell of the wisdom of Jeane was disconsolate and beat her breast and tore her hair in great affliction, and cried out saying: "O, Solomon, could I but have thee I would cause thee to drink of the wine of the joy of the home."

"My left hand should be under my head and my right hand should embrace me."

But Solomon was afar off and could not hear the voice of Jeanne.

And it came to pass that when he had sold his furs and returned into his tent laden with much fine gold from the Gentiles, he awoke and Jeanne saying: "Behold thou art fair, my love, thou art unto me as a cluster of camphire in the vineyard of En-gedi."

And Jeanne lifted up her voice and said: "I should thank to murmur."

Jeanne Findeth Comfort.

Now the heart of Solomon was moved with compassion, when he heard of Jeanne's loneliness and he comforted her.

And it came to pass that Solomon brought into his tent a Philistine, a great warrior, a master of horse, even Colonel Charles W. Finner. When he said Charles W. Finner thereby meaning who dwelleth in a tent in the way which is called Broadway, at the number 120.

Now Solomon went again into the country of the Egyptians to sell sheep, and he journeyed a long time, and while he was gone the Philistine did come unto his tent many times and did hold sweet converse with Jeane and spoke unto her saying:

"Thy cheeks are comely with rows of jewels, thy neck with chains of gold." And Jeane spoke not, but looked upon the ground.

Then spoke the Philistine saying: "Tell me, O thou fair^{er than when my soul loveth} ^{where I feed} ^{the} ^{among women} ^{thou art as} the lily among thorns, stay me with flagons, comfort me with apples."

And Jeane comforted him saying: "Eat thy honeycomb with thy honey, drink thy wine with thy milk, beloved."

And Solomon wist not of it.
Solomon Returneth.

And it came to pass, after many days, that Solomon returned to his tent, and found Jeane not there, and he went forth into the rulers of the City and hired a man to watch his wife.

And it came to pass that as the man watched he did behold Jeane go forth with the Philistine into a strange tent, which standeth in the way, the same which is called Thirty-seventh street, and they did remain there together a long time. And when the man saw this he ran straightway and told it unto Solomon.

And Solomon's soul was filled with woe and his head was rent down with grief as he cried out that Jeane and the Philistine had committed an abomination in the sight of the Lord.

And it came to pass that he went into his tent and did privily steal away his children, even Asahel and Beatrix Eleanor, and did take them into Bethlehem, the same which standeth in Pennsylvania.

Now when Jeannette found that Solomon had stolen away her children, her heart smote her and her soul was as wormwood and gall.

And she went unto the great Law-giver, even unto Donothine, who sitteth high in the temple, and brought him to give her children back to her, and Jeannette was moved with great joy and went forth saying, "Thou hast spoken wisely, Oh! Judge; for a wrathful husband stirreth up needless strife, and is it not written 'He that speaketh lies shall perish?'"

And the stomach of the great Law-giver was moved with compassion and he gave her children back to her.

Solomon Seeketh Wisdom.

And it came to pass that when Solomon knew, that the straightway went to another great Law-giver even to Abraham of the tribe of Shummel, than whom there is none greater in Israel. And when Abraham heard the story of Solomon, he went straightway unto Hove, the Amorite, a man wiser than his generation, and spake unto him saying:

"Most potent Amorite Solomon has come unto us charming his wife, Jeannette, and she warring with him with committing an abomination in the sight of the Lord. What shall we do?"

And Hove the Amorite lifted up his voice and spake saying: "I am not, ahey I mighta mit for a divorce."

And it came to pass that the words of Hove, the Amorite, were good to Solomon's heart and he hearkened unto them and forthwith took from his wallet a shekel of silver and fine gold and laid them as an offering at the feet of the Amomite.

And straightway the Amosite stretched forth his hands and lifting up his eyes spake in a loud voice, saying:

It is the intent and purpose in the name of the Law. This is the day the Lord hath made: we will rejoice and be glad in it against the form of the Statute in such case made and provided and against the peace of the People of the State of New York and their dignity.

Edward Lyman of No. 279 East 37th Street in the City of New York, being duly sworn deposes and says, that on the first day of April in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty two, at the City and County of New York, Charles W. James, did unlawfully, corruptly swear falsely to a material matter upon oath legally administered by Edward L. Greenwood then and there being a Notary Public of the State of New York, for the County of Kings in the said State of New York, a certificate of his said Notary's appointment having been duly filed in the office of the Clerk of the County of New York in a case where an oath is required by law and is necessary for the prosecution of a private right and for the ends of public justice in this, to wit: Charles W. James at the time and place if first above mentioned and before the said Edward P. Greenwood as Notary Public aforesaid did willfully corruptly swear falsely to a certain complaint upon oath administered to him, said James by said Greenwood as Notary aforesaid and which said complaint was entitled, and was and is in a certain action in the Superior Court of the City of Newport in which said action and complaint the said Charles W. James was and is the plaintiff and John W. Satter and Jasper Nichols were and are defendants and in which said complaint the material matter were fully and corruptly by said James sworn to falsely as aforesaid are as follows.

That a certain horse of and belonging to the said John W.
 Satter and Jasper Nichols, attached to a certain cart of and belonging to the said John W. Satter and Jasper Nichols, forced itself into a certain street railroad car wherein the said Charles W. James was a passenger going South and up to his very knees, sitting on the east side of the car and that he said James was so violently thrown down upon the hard flooring of said car that his bowels were ruptured and lacer-ated and his whole mental and physical system terribly shocked & injured in so much that he thereupon commenced to vomit blood and suffer violent pains and that he said James from thence hitherto ~~and~~ has continued at times to suffer great & severe pain in the abdomen resulting from such rupture that he has been confined to his bed in great physical pain and mental anguish and obliged to employ medical and surgical care and attendance at his great expense.

That by reason of such shock his brain has been so injured that he continually suffers from dizziness and dimness of sight, that his strength & vital powers have thereby become greatly weakened and impaired in so much that that he cannot pursue his business but is obliged to employ others to perform his work at great expense: that at times he still suffers from acute pains in the sides and breast and after discharge^{ing} of blood from the bowels, living in daily fear of the surgical appearances necessarily wrought by him, giving way and causing what the surgeons denominate strangulated hernia, a result of rupture causing death and that the said James has been informed and verily believes that by reason of the premises he has been permanently injured.

That the said injuries were caused wholly & entirely by reason of the gross negligence carelessness and heedlessness of the said John W. Baxter and Jasper Nichols, their agents and servants, in allowing the said horse harnessed to said cart to stand unguarded, unattended unhitched & unsecured as alleged in the said complaint in that behalf.

Dependent further said upon his information and belief that the said Charles W. James was not in the said car at the time and place alleged by him in the said complaint, but on the contrary he was in a car which was behind the said car referred to in the said complaint and that he left the car in which he then was and went into the car referred to and mentioned by him in the said complaint after the collision referred to and therein mentioned, had occurred and that the said James then and there threw or prostrated himself on the floor of said car referred to and mentioned in said complaint & pretended to have a fit and foam at the mouth and that whilst in that car he purposely pierced or lacerated his gums so a portion of his mouth so that he was saturated with blood in order to give the appearance he was wounded or had been wounded by the collision referred to in the said complaint in the action by said James against said Doctors Nichols, which action is now pending ^{as reported it is informed and very likely believed} that he, the said Charles W. James repaired to a neighboring drug store and falsely pretended to suffer from hemorrhage caused by said accident and then falsely pretended to be ruptured by reason thereof and subsequently he, said Charles W. James, repaired to his place of residence and went to bed and remained on the pretence of being ill, injured and suffering severe bodily pains the consequence of said ^{injuries} injury.

Depoent further said upon his information & belief that the said Charles W. James in or about April in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty nine in the Court of Common Pleas in and for the City & County of New York commenced an action against The New York East Broadway and Battery Railroad Company for injuries by reason of the collision of a car in which

He also alleged he was a passenger with a cart, and whereby he, said James has ruptured and caused to be a cripple for life in which he claimed damages to the amount of Ten Thousand dollars. whereby he obtained a settlement of the said action last mentioned the said company paying him the sum of ~~seven~~ hundred dollars in settlement thereof.

Wherefore deponent asks that the said Charles W. James for the perjury and felony aforesaid ~~be~~ ^{may} be arrested and dealt with according to law. Edward, Sykes

City and County of New York, ss.

G. H. Janneman being duly sworn, says: I reside at No. 244 East 57th Street. In March, 1882 I was a clerk in Mr. Woodcock's Drug Store, No. 250, 4th Avenue. I remember the accident which happened near the store on March 28th 1882. A butcher cart ran into a street-car near the corner. The side of the car was stove in by the shock, and some of the persons ⁱⁿ it were more or less injured. I jumped out ⁱⁿ of the store, and I saw three women lying there. I also saw some children in the car. I am very certain that I did not see James there. The three women were brought into the store and I attended them. Two of them were only slightly cut about the face. The third was more seriously injured, and, I believe, was laid up for some time. I saw nothing of James at the time. I think it was at least twenty-five minutes after the accident happened, when James came into the store. He told me he was hurt. I took him into the back room and examined him. He had been bleeding at the mouth. I examined his mouth, and satisfied myself that the blood came from his gums. I am positive there had been no hemorrhage, causing this flow of blood, from any of the internal organs.

G.W.V.

G.W.V.

James also said he had been ~~ruptured~~, and indicated his right groin, which I examined. I asked him at once, had he ever been ruptured before. He said "no." I said, "that looks to me like an old rupture." "No," he said, "I don't know what a rupture is." ~~He~~ He said he wanted a brass.

G.W.V.

I believe I took some measurements then, being anxious to sell him a brass, if he wanted it; ~~whether~~ ~~I thought~~ ~~it~~ ~~was~~ ~~necessary~~ ~~or~~ ~~not~~, not long after he left the store in company with the policeman who had ^{come} ~~brought~~ him in. Before he went he treated the policeman, and me I believe, to soda-water, and paid for it. The bill for my attendance upon the three ladies I sent to Mr. Salter. That for my services to James I did not. The next day I called at James' house, but found him out. Several times after that I called, but as a rule he was not-at-home. Once when I found him in I offered him the brass which I had procured for him, on condition of immediate payment. He did not pay me for it, and in fact he never took the brass. On one of these visits to his room, I noticed a brass lying on his bed. It was evidently an old one and very much worn.

G.W.V.

G.W.V.

G.W.V. I have always thought, from the time I first examined James, in the store, that he had been ruptured at some time before. I am positive of this because at my first examination of him, I saw on his body the marks of an old brass. I also then saw the evidence of a rupture, upon the skin of his abdomen. It had the appearance of an old rupture. This was only about ^{thirty} ~~half~~ hours after the accident, and I do not believe that external evidence of a rupture could be so soon visible. It is often many days before there are any external tokens of a rupture. I have been in the drug business for fourteen years, and during

most of that time have made a specialty of ruptures, and fitting trusses for them.

The plaintiff complains of the defendants abovenamed and alleges and avers

I. That the defendants are engaged in business in the City of New York as market and provision dealers, ^{and as such dealers} are the owners of and have in their possession, or under their control and management a number of horses and carts used in their business aforesaid, and that on the 28th day of March 1882, the said defendants, their agents and servants in possession of one of such horses and carts, and then using the same in the business of the said defendants at or near the market of said defendants in Broadway near 21st Street in said city, carelessly, negligently and heedlessly permitted the horse to such cart harnessed, to stand unhitched, unsecured and free in such public and populous highway in the daytime, while such thoroughfare was crowded with vehicles, passing and re-passing wholly unguarded, unwatched, and unattended, to the great danger of other conveyances, and riders and pedestrians on the sidewalks, and all with full knowledge on the part of the defendants, their agents and servants of the vicious nature and habits of the said animal which this plaintiff is informed and believes were restive, excitable and wild

II. That said horse so unguarded and unattended, there and then suddenly dashed off with said cart at his greatest speed through Broadway and ^{into} 20th Street in an Easterly direction towards Fourth Avenue, striking the Westerly side of a street railroad car, wherein this plaintiff was a passenger going south with such ^{great} violence and ^{force} effect, that a large part of the side of such car was completely torn out and shattered, and the horse itself forced into the car among the passengers, and up to the very knees of this plaintiff sitting on the east side of said car, and that this plaintiff was thereby so violently thrown down upon the hard flooring of said car, that his bowels were ruptured and lacerated, and his whole mental and physical system terribly shocked and injured, inasmuch, that he thereupon commenced to vomit blood and suffer violent pain and that this plaintiff from thence hitherto has and still continues at times to suffer great and severe pains in the abdomen resulting from such rupture, that he has been confined to his bed in great physical pain and mental anguish and obliged to employ medical and surgical care and attendance at his great expense. That by reason of such shock his brain has been so injured that he continually suffers ^{from} dizziness and dimness of sight. That his strength and vital powers have thereby become greatly weakened and impaired inasmuch that he cannot pursue his business, but is obliged to employ others to perform his work at great expense, that at times he still suffers from acute pains in the sides and breast and often discharging blood from the bowels, living in daily fear of the surgical appliances necessarily worn by him giving way, and causing what the surgeons denominate strangulated hernia, a result of rupture causing death, and this plaintiff has been informed and verily believes, that by reason of the premises he has been permanently injured

III That said injuries were caused wholly and entirely by reason of the gross negligence, ^{and} carelessness ^{and heedlessness} of the defendants, their agents and servants, in that they allowed the horse harnessed to the cart aforesaid, to stand unguarded unattended, unhitched and unsecured as aforesaid in a populous and public highway in the day time, and that said injuries were not caused in any way by the negligence of this plaintiff, nor did he in any manner contribute thereto

IV That by reason of the premises this plaintiff has suffered damages in the sum of Ten thousand dollars

Whereupon this plaintiff prays judgment against said defendants in said sum of Ten thousand dollars besides the costs of this action

Edwin Hopps, being duly sworn, says. I reside at No. 149, East-38th St.
I am well acquainted with Charles W. James, plaintiff in the action of James against Palters and Nichols. He became my partner, in the upholstery business, in February, 1882, & continued such until September last. In the course of our business I became well acquainted with his handwriting. I have seen and examined the signature, purporting to be his, attached to the verification of the complaint in his action against Palters & Nichols, now on file in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court. I have no hesitation in saying that it is his,

Affidavit

City and County of New York ss:

Sarah E. Hopps being duly sworn say: I reside at 149 East 38th Street, am the wife of Edwin Hopps. I have known Charles St. James since about the 20th February 1887, when he went into partnership with my husband. We moved to 231 East 22 St. on the first floor, about the middle of March and about a week after that James came to live at the same place and boarded with a Mrs. Ninter who had rooms on the second floor.

I remember when he claimed to have been hurt by the horse running into the car.

I saw him when he came home with the officer. the door of my room was open. I asked James - what are you arrested for? he said he was not arrested but had been hurt by a butcher wagon running into a car of the 42nd Street line in which he was.

He said "you & your mother come upstairs and I will tell you all about it. We went up I asked how it happened, he would not tell but said to the officer am I not hurt? The officer replied yes - more than you think - He the officer then turned to go and James said to him, "you stick to me I am going to make a lot of money off this - The officer then went away. He said he had been thrown off the car and was hurt in the leg and asked my mother to bring up a cup of tea and take care of him. My mother said No. When I nurse anyone my meals are always furnished. He replied, "The butcher will settle for all that." We began to make fun of him, saying he was not hurt - he had been walking lame until then, when he took my baby and danced about the room.

He had no more talk until I went to the store in the evening I was mad because he was not there. About half an hour after, he came and fixed a pair of parlors Rates & walked as well as any one - I told him I did not think he was hurt and then he sat down ^{and} told me he was out canvassing with his two books and did not have any luck & while sitting in the back car and was wondering what to do to make some money, when all at once he saw this accident in the front car. He got out of the rear car and stood about until everybody had gone, when he went into the car which was damaged & threw himself down in the bottom of it and pretended he was in a fit. Then he picked his gums with a pin and made his nose bleed until his handkerchief was saturated and as no one seemed to come to him he got up and went into the drug store and told the clerk he was hurt and ruptured and felt dizzy and faint & ordered a truss.

The clerk put him up a bottle of paragonic took the order for the truss. (He afterwards told my mother in self the same story.)

While we were talking, came Mr. Nichols and asked for James. James pretended that he was light-headed and could not get his brains together. Nichols offered to get a truss: he refused to accept it.

Nichols said to him you don't want to make anything out of this do you? He replied that it would be a matter of $5 a day for two or three weeks, that he was faint from loss of blood and had not eaten anything.

Nichols went out as soon as he did, James asked me, - did I walk lame? and then said he would settle with Nichols for $250 and if he got it and I would send to his business he would give me $100.

Then my husband came in and we went home. That night he boiled and eat eleven eggs.

— While we were talking with the store he said he pretended to have been hurt in order to make some money out of it.

The next morning he sent for his lawyer.

Anna M. McDowell being duly sworn says: I reside at No 149 East 38th Street in the City of New York: I am the mother of Mrs Sarah E. Hopps. I have known Charles W. James since last March - I first became acquainted with him through his being a partner of my daughter's husband, and a lodger in the house where he lived at No 131 East 22 Street.

He at that time boarded with Mr & Mrs Hunter; he afterwards gave up boarding with them & took his meals with them.

I recollect the time he claimed to be hurt in an accident that occurred by a butcher's horse running into a car of the Grand St & 42nd Street line.

0716

The first I knew of his being hurt he came home with a policeman and I saw him going up stairs. The woman he boarded with was down in my apartment and we heard some one going up stairs, we went to the door ^{and} I then saw James and the policeman. I said What is the matter?

James says. I have been arrested.

I then said to him if you have been doing anything for which you have been arrested it serves you right. He then said.

No I have not been arrested but I have been hurt very bad. We had then gotten up stairs to the rooms occupied by the woman he boarded with. he then began to tell us about the accident how a butchers cart had run into the car where he was and that a number of James had been hurt, had their limbs broken - — The woman in the how he boarded then asked him where he was hurt and he said that he had been impaled -

She then said - "Well James you are the great— est light I ever heard of — James then said "I was hurt very bad - I was picked up out of the cave and carried to Woodcock's drug store and he then pulled out a bottle of medicine

I said to him - What is that medicine for. and he said I asked the druggist to put up something to make me sleep -

I then said to him
"Why that is paregoric, is what they give —

0718

babies for the stomach ache he then said that he had ordered a truss, and would cost him six dollars. I then said to him why don't you require a truss any more than I do. he then said oh: hush up keep this quiet. I am going to make a good pile off that butcher, and you won't lose anything by keeping still! he then said that he wanted to hire a nurse. I told him that I was a nurse and made a business of it: he then wanted to know what I charged a week for my services, and I told him nine dollars; he says you will get it if you will only bring me a bowl of gruel and a cup of tea every day. I then said I don't furnish the food for any patients he said "You do it, and it will all come out of the butcher". I then said no, I would have to be paid in advance; he then wanted to know if that was the way I did. I told him no; but that was the way I would have to be paid by him, — a part of the time during this conversation he had my grand-child - a baby seven months old in his arms waltzing around the room with it.

He told us that the way he pretended to be hurt was this he said that he was in the care behind the one that was damaged and just as soon as all the passengers had left he went forward and got into the damaged care threw himself down on the bottom of it, and pretended to have a fit, and in order to bleed, stuck a pin into his gums - so as to show on his handkerchief blood. he then told me further that he afterwards got up and went into the drug-store and asked for some medicine, and ordered the truss, and the drug clerk asked him, how it was that he was so late in coming in to be attended to, and he told the druggist that he had had a fit. From the time of his being brought home by the policeman for about three hours or ~~four~~

about four until seven o'clock he was in Mrs Hunter's apartment.

I know he went out that night and I know he came home with Mr & Mrs Hoffs. but where he had been I of course did not ~~at~~ know.

When he first began to tell me about being hurt and how he was going to make something out of the butcher for all of us he said that he had been out with his sample books trying to do some business -

When he came home with the policeman he had been drinking but I can't say that he was intoxicated. I asked him during the conversa- tion if he thought Sutter was a fool - and he said No. I don't think him a fool but I can make him believe that I am hurt, and I can make a pile off him. I then said "Now James do you think of seeing the bullet and he said "yes" I do" I made five hundred dollars a short time ago out of a railroad for being rap--tured and no doctor can tell whether its an old rupture or a new one.

The next day after this conversation a doctor called but he never called a second time, he didn't come from Nichols it was a doctor that Hunters folks went for - I don't know his name.

Court of General Sessions of the Peace of the City and County of New-York.

-----x
The People of the State of New-York :

- against -

Charles W. James.

The Grand Jury of the City and County of New-York, by this indictment, accuse the said Charles W. James of the crime of Perjury, committed as follows:

The said Charles W. James, late of the City and County aforesaid, on the First day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty two, commenced an action at law in the Superior Court of the City of New-York, wherein the said Charles W. James was plaintiff and John W. Salter and Jasper Nichols were defendants, and upon said day, at the City and County aforesaid, the said Charles W. James appeared in his own proper person before Edward L. Greenwood, Esq., then being a Notary Public duly authorized and empowered to administer oaths in the City and County of New-York, and then and there did exhibit to the said Edward L. Greenwood his complaint in the action at law aforesaid, in which said complaint, among other material matters, it was alleged against the said defendants John W. Salter and Jasper Nichols in substance and effect following, that is to say:

That a certain horse of and belonging to the said John W. Salter and Jasper Nichols, attached to a certain cart of and belonging to the said John W. Salter and Jasper Nichols, forced itself into a certain street railroad car wherein the said Charles W. James was a passenger going south, and up to his very knees, sitting on the east side of the car, and that the said James was so violently thrown down upon the hard flooring of said car that his bowels were ruptured and lacerated, and his whole mental and physical system terribly shocked and injured, inasmuch that he thereupon commenced to vomit blood and suffer violent pains, and that he, the said James, from thence hitherto has and still continues at times to suffer great pains in the abdomen, resulting from such rupture; that he has been confined to his bed in great physical pain and mental anguish, and obliged to employ medical and surgical care and attendance, at his great expense; that by reason of such shock his brain has been so injured that he continually suffers from dizziness and dimness of sight; that his strength and vital powers have thereby become greatly weakened and impaired, insomuch that he cannot pursue his business but is obliged to employ others to perform his work at great expense; that at times he still suffers from acute pains in the sides and breast and often discharges blood from the bowels, living in daily fear of the surgical appliances necessarily worn by him giving way and causing what the surgeons denominate strangulated hernia, a result of rupture, causing death, and that the said James has been informed and verily believes that by reason of the premises he has been permanently injured; that the said injuries were caused wholly and entirely by reason of the gross negligence, carelessness and heedlessness of the said John W. Salter and Jasper Nichols, their agents and servants in allowing the said horse, harnessed to said cart, to stand unguarded, unattended, unhitched or unsecured, as alleged in the said complaint in that behalf.

And the said Charles W. James then and there, upon so exhibiting the said complaint in the said action at law to the said Edward L. Greenwood, Notary Public as aforesaid, was in due form of law sworn by and before the said Edward L. Greenwood, Notary Public as aforesaid, and did take his corporal oath of and concerning the truth of a certain affidavit of verification of the said complaint in the said action, the said Edward L. Greenwood, as such Notary Public, then and there having full and competent power and authority to administer the said oath to the said Charles W. James in that behalf, and the said Charles W. James, being so sworn as aforesaid, and wickedly intending and contriving to injure and oppress the said John W. Salter and Jasper Nichols, unlawfully did then and there knowingly, falsely, corruptly, wilfully and wickedly swear and make affidavit in writing of and concerning the said several material matters contained in the said complaint, in substance and to the effect following, that is to say:

That the said complaint was true of his own knowledge, except as to those matters which were therein stated to be alleged on information and belief, and that as to those matters he believed it to be true, whereas in truth and in fact the said Charles W. James then and there did not believe the matters in the said complaint alleged to be on information and belief to be true, and whereas in truth and in fact the said complaint was not true to the knowledge of the said Charles W. James, and whereas in truth and in fact the said Charles W. James was not a passenger in any street railroad car when any horse and cart of and belonging to the said John W. Salter and Jasper Nichols forced itself into the said car; and the said Charles W. James was not violently thrown down upon the flooring of the said car and was not ruptured or lacerated or in any way damaged, physically or mentally, by reason of any acts or negligence or carelessness on the part of the said John W. Salter and Jasper Nichols.

And so the Grand Jury aforesaid do say, that the said Charles W. James, in manner and form aforesaid, on the day and in the year aforesaid, at the City and County aforesaid, unlawfully, knowingly, wilfully and falsely did commit wilful and corrupt perjury against the form of the statute in such case made and provided and against the peace of The People of the State of New-York and their dignity.
