To His Honor:

Sir:

I understand that Henry Parker will be arraigned before you for an offence committed some time ago in your state. I of course do not wish to dictate to your Honor, but I presume to take the liberty to ask your clemency as far as possible in his behalf. I have observed him closely during all the time of his imprisonment here and he has been an industrious, quiet and courteous man. He has worked very hard and sent through me his overwork money, earned beyond the performance of his daily task, to his family. He has been exemplary not only at work, but everywhere and always. He has shown himself in my estimation as a man worthy of a new chance in the world's activities and I trust am determined to make an honest and earnest effort to regain his place lost by crime. If you can in accordance with your duty give him an opportunity to regain his manhood I will be glad. I have confidence that he means to struggle nobly for it and with a fair chance will succeed.

Very Respectfully J. H. Milligan

DOC BUNTON'S TRIAL

Henry Harrison, alias "Doc" Bunton, who, with a pal, was arrested some few weeks ago for attempting to steal Detective Frink's watch and chain in the clothing store under the Grand Opera House, was arraigned at the bar of the Special Sessions Court to-day. Since his incarceration for the crime mentioned he has been identified as the person who about three months ago called on Mrs. Lena Shirk, at No. 177 East Broadway, and represented himself as an insurance agent. The woman had a policy on the Germania Fire Insurance Company, which, however, was invalid, as it specified the former residence of Mrs. Shirk. On his statement that he would have the necessary alteration made she handed it to him. He did not return it, but it was presented by a woman to William Sohner, Manager of the Company, who inquired as to its worth. The name of "M. Shirk" had been covered with a slip of paper on which were the names Kemigunde Fiege and Rosine Schneider, No. 101 East First street. The date had been erased and a later one substituted, while the amount of the insurance had been changed from $600 to $400. Mr. Sohner readily detected the fraud and so informed the woman, who said that she had obtained it for $5. These facts were testified to at the trial, during which the prisoner conducted his defence, cross-examining witnesses in a manner that showed that he was no novice at the business. The magistrate decided that the case was one of felony, and accordingly directed that it be placed before the Grand Jury.

at the 14th Ward of the City of New York, in the County of New York, was feloniously taken, stolen, and carried away, from the person of deponent, by force and violence, without his consent and against his will, the following property viz:

Good and lawful money of the United States consisting of one note of the denomination and value of one dollar and five nickel coins
of the denomination and value of five cents each in all of the value of One dollar and twenty five cents the property of deponent and that this deponent has a probable cause to suspect, and does suspect, that the said property was feloniously taken, stolen, and carried away by force and violence as aforesaid, by

Sarah Hart and Frances Arnold Allen (both now here) from the fact that at or about the hour of one o'clock and fifteen minutes on the morning of said day while deponent was walking along Elizabeth Street in said city said defendants stopped deponent then said Arnold seized deponent by the arms and the said deponent while said Hart thrust her hand into the right hand side pocket of the pantaloons then and there worn by deponent and did take therefrom the aforesaid money then said defendants ran away deponent pursued said defendants and caused their arrest wherefore deponent charges said defendants with acting in concert with each other in feloniously taking stealing and carrying away the aforesaid money from the person of deponent by force and violence without deponents consent and against deponents will as aforesaid wherefore deponent prays that said defendants may be held to answer and dealt with according to law
