New York, October 24th, 1893.

A P P E A R A N C E S:

For the People, Assistant District Attorney
Henry D. Macdona;

For the defendant, J. Oliver Keane.

PETER W. UFAW, a witness for the people, sworn, testified:

I am employed by the People's Bank as assistant paying teller. I saw this defendant at that bank on October 4th, or some day early in October. As soon as he offered the cheque which I now produce at the paying teller's window, I telephoned for a police officer, detained him there, and when the officer came had him placed under arrest. I had previously received notice from Mr. Roberts in relation to the loss of the cheque which the defendant presented.

DAVID H. ROBERTS, a witness for the People, sworn, testified:

I live at No. 72 West 94th Street in this city. My business is at 159 and 161 South Fifth Avenue. The cheque which is now shown me was drawn by me to the order of my wife. It is No. 974, is dated, New York, September 21st, 1893, drawn on the People's Bank, corner of Canal and Thompson Streets, and reads: "Pay to the order of A. A. Roberts, four hundred dollars. D. H. Roberts-- D. H. Roberts, 159 and 161 South Fifth Avenue." I drew that cheque and gave it to my wife, either that evening or the next day. She carried it in her pocket-book. The following Saturday we started for the World's Fair. She carried it in her pocketbook all the time we were there, two weeks. On our return to the city about the second of October, we took a drive across the McComb's Dam Bridge into Jerome Avenue. The horses got frightened at something and the carriage was smashed and my wife and myself thrown out. My wife lost her pocket-book with the cheque in it. I went back afterwards and looked over the ground very carefully, but could find no trace of it. I then gave notice to the Bank of the loss of the cheque. The signature purporting to be that of my wife on the back of the cheque is not in her handwriting.

POOR QUALITY

ANNIE A. ROBERTS, a witness for the People, sworn testified:

I am the wife of the last witness. I remember receiving the cheque which is in evidence from my husband about the date on which it is dated. I put it in my pocketbook. It remained in my pocketbook two weeks or more. One afternoon in the early part of October my husband and I were driving on Jerome Avenue and were thrown out. After we got home I missed my pocketbook containing the cheque. The signature of A. A. Roberts on the back of the cheque is not in my handwriting. I never wrote it, nor did I authorize any other person to write it. I don't sign my initials when I sign my name but sign it Annie A. Roberts.

POOR QUALITY ORIGINAL

D E F E N S E.

RICHARD RASCHEN, a witness for the People, sworn, testified:

I live at 409 West 24th Street, and have lived there for three months. Prior to that time I lived in 59th Street for five months. I am employed as a driver by J. T. Hildebrand, street sprinkler. I have been engaged by him for three seasons. I went to the People's Bank, corner of Canal and Thompson Street with the cheque which has been produced here. I did not get any money on it. I presented it at the Bank for payment. I did not find the cheque on Jerome Avenue or anywhere else; it was handed to me by a man on the street, who asked me if I would go into the Bank and have it cashed for him. I told him yes, and he said he would give me a dollar. The man was standing on the same corner on which the Bank was located. I did not look at the cheque. I had never handled a cheque before in my life. I did not write the endorsement, "A. A. Roberts" on that back of that cheque.

I had never seen the man before and have not seen him since. I was never up on Jerome Avenue to my knowledge.
I did not find any pocketbook containing this cheque or any other money.

The Jury returned a verdict convicting the defendant of the crime of forgery in the second degree.
