Christian Kalbfleisch sworn, & Cof examined by Counselor James Oliver. says. The vest was on the shelf behind the bar counter, which is divided from another bar behind it by a wooden partition about 7 feet high. The defendant was laying on a table behind the partition - the first thing I saw was a hand and arm passed through a hole about 18 inches square in the partition and grasp the vest which contained the ~~Witch~~ & chain I looked through the hole and saw the defendant lay ^{and close his eyes} down ^{under} the table - I reached through the hole in the partition, I took the vest from him with one hand and held him tightly by the sleeve of his coat with the other hand. The defendant did not say anything nor did he make any resistance. I do not know how the defendant was cut in the head - I went with the defendant until he was 0835

Police
Cocked up in the Station House, I did not see the defendant struck by anyone. I took the vest and handed it to the Cashier. I have directed my associate barkeeper Fred ~~to go~~ around and take hold of the defendant. He stood by him. I then went around and handed him to officer Alexander Hughes 31st precinct who then took the defendant to the Police Station.
