The People
 James Brady vs. Court of General Sessions. Part I.
 Before Recorder Smythe. Nov. 27. 1882 Indictment for robbery in the first degree Albert Keller, sworn and examined. I was in Christie St. on the 15th of this month about three o'clock in the morning. I had a silver watch on my person, it belonged to me and was worth six dollars. I saw the prisoner at that place. There were two or three together including this prisoner. I was on my way home and was seized by this prisoner from behind; he threw his arms around me and held me; then one of his companions, I do not know which, took my watch and I lost at the same time twenty five dollars. I carried the watch in the left side vest pocket and the money in the right side inside vest pocket; the prisoner put his arms around my chest.
 They seized the chain and took the watch.
 It was a plated chain. This happened in Christie St. I could not tell exactly which part, but I passed Broome St. It was dark, but it was not far away from a lamp post where it happened - about ten or fifteen paces from the lamp post. They only passed about two paces away from me and the police came. I had ~~no~~ seen the prisoner before. He held me from behind. I turned my head around and I saw him and the others; he was a little sideways when he held me and I could see him. I called out "Police" and then the police came up; the prisoner was seized by the policeman. I don't know what became of the other two persons. Cross Examined.

 I came from 157th Street and was on my way home; I was at Mr. Thurkenacker's silk factory. I had some drinks that night, but I knew what I was about. I could walk and nobody would have seen that I was drunk. The policeman was on the spot about one or two minutes after I lost my property. I live on Durham Avenue, Jersey City. I went astray and got into Christie Street. I am not well acquainted in the city; my intention was to go to the ferry; the Hoboken ferry. I have been in this country eleven months. I could only leave the place where I live at six o'clock to visit my friends and when I was there they detained me. I came down from 157th St. upon the Elevated Railroad on the Bowery. I think I left the Elevated too soon and I believe I got down at Houston St. I drank about six glasses of beer that day. I was not in the company of many women that night, but I was addressed by women passing by. I did not go anywhere with me. There were women in a saloon where I had a glass of beer; the women came after me into the saloon. George S. Smock, sworn and examined, testified. I was a member of the police force on the 15th of Nov. I arrested the prisoner about halfway of the block between Hester and Christie Sts. right in front of an oyster saloon in Hester St. I saw the complainant at the time. Not more than a minute before I arrested the prisoner I heard an outcry. I was in Christie St. about the middle of the block between Grand and Hester Sts. half a block away. I went immediately and saw the complainant. I did not see the prisoner at the time I saw the complainant; he (the complainant) was in Christie St. near the corner of Hester St.; the prisoner had gone around in Hester St.; he immediately ran in Hester St. and this prisoner and another one were going by the oyster saloon, and immediately as soon as I came up to the prisoner the complainant and the witnesses that is here both said that this was the man that held him while the other one robbed him. I immediately arrested this man and the other one who was with him and took them to the station house and searched them there and found nothing on them; they did not positively identify the other man, but this man both witness and the complainant positively identified as the man that held him while he was robbed. Then I got to the corner of Mester and Christie St. the prisoner was not in sight; we ran around into Mester St. and when we got near to the oyster saloon the prisoner and the other man came up the steps, and immediately as soon as the complainant and the witness saw him they both said that this was the man; the prisoner said at that time that he and his friend had been in the saloon eating oysters. I did not take him into the saloon. The other man was held all night and was discharged the next morning at the police Court; they could not identify him. Cross Examined. Mr. Bang the witness was near the complainant when I came up to him. There were two other officers in uniform there, but I was not in uniform. I did not see anybody run around the corner. I do not speak German, but the complainant does; I did not converse with him. Mr. Bang was standing on the stoop of his residence at the time this occurred. right in front of this house where this man was robbed I spoke with Mr. Bangs but not with the complainant at that time. I started around into Chester St. accompanied by the complainant and Mr. Bangs and two other officers. I saw this prisoner coming out of the basement with another man. I saw no other person in the street. The prisoner was arrested right at the oyster saloon door. He did not turn away from the door hardly. The complainant had been drinking but he could run and walk straight.

Charles W. Bangs sworn. I live at 75 Christie St.; on the morning of the 15th of this month about 3 o'clock I saw the complainant and the prisoner. In front of the house 79 Christie St. I saw a scuffle; there was four men engaged in it; as I came along they broke but I saw the prisoner distinctly holding the complainant; as I came along he had him around the waist as I thought. They broke as I came along and two ran; the eldest one ran out halfway into the street and the prisoner stood still; he made the remark to the man who was in the centre of the street as I passed him, "It is all right, he has got it." I walked on a short distance when the complainant cried "Police", and the officers immediately came. I had a sore foot at the time, so that I could not run as rapidly as they did, but the officers arrested the prisoner and I identified him. That remark which I have mentioned was positively made by the prisoner as I came along. There was then one of the men in the middle of the street and I saw the other one run around the corner of Christie and Bester sts. towards the Bowery. Cross Examined. I was present when the prisoner was arrested. I did not see him come up out of the oyster saloon. I saw him run.

James Brady, sworn and examined in his own defence testified. I am a book canvasser and live near 214 Elizabeth St., near Spring. I was on this night to a benefit in 39 Bowery and at 25 minutes past two o'clock when I left there I left some gentlemen of the 8th assembly district at the corner of Christie and Bester Sts. I went into Mr. Dick's saloon and asked the night bartender if he would allow me to get my hat that I left the previous day. He said, you will have to come tomorrow, I know nothing about it. "While opening the door I heard a cry of "Murder, Police." I stood at the step of the door, and while standing there this gentleman, Mr. Bang came along with his hand in his overcoat pocket and his head downwards. I say to him, "What is the matter? This man is making a terrible noise here. He never spoke or said a word but passed by. I say to myself, This is no place for me to be, I had better go home. I went into the basement where this saloon was. I opened the door and looked and there was nobody in but the proprietor. I shut the door and came up stairs about twenty feet and was arrested by the officer. Then the officers came up with the man that complains I robbed him of the watch and money. I say to the officer that has hold of me, "It is a falsehood, I have not taken anything off this gentleman. I insist upon ^{you} searching ~~me~~." He says, "I have no privilege or authority to search you." I said, "I will give you the privilege, it is a grave charge against me. You will have to come to the station house; he took hold of me by the hand. I said, 'Let go of me, I will walk.'" Then I got to the station house the complainant and Bangs made a charge I robbed this man.

I had nothing to do with the man. Before God and man today I never saw the man in my life before he came for me this night in Hester St and accused me of taking his valuables. Cross Examined. "Murder" and "Police" were the cries I heard. I was not alone when I came out of the saloon. This man that he arrested ~~was~~ with me was coming down through Hester St. when I spoke to him. I don't know what name he gave in; there was nobody with me. I met this man in Hester St. I only know him by sight and bidding him, "good evening," on account of him being Marshal at the election under the United States Marshal for five or six months. I did not hear him give his name at the Police Station. I was not paying attention. I saw him in the Court the next day; he was discharged; he had a lawyer to defend him. Had none. I do not believe the man was in the saloon. I have been canvassing for the last two years the life of Mr. Van Hamburg. I got the books from Hyatt. Most. Stone & Co. running Van Hamburgs circus. I bought them for ten cents and sold them for 25 cents. I have never been convicted of keeping a disorderly house. My wife was under the Excise law. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty of petty larceny from the person
