APPEARANCES:

ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEY JOHN F. MCINTYRE,

For THE PEOPLE.

JACOB BERLINGER, ESQ.,

For THE DEFENSE.

LOUIS WAGNER, a witness for The People, sworn, testified that he lived at 795 9th Avenue. On March 22nd he worked for G. DEPNER, 795 9th Avenue. He drove a wagon for him. He drove it from about 9 o'clock that morning. He did not see the defendant at the bar on that day. His horse and wagon were taken that day between 11 and 12 o'clock. He left his horse at 56th Street and Broadway and went to deliver groceries, and, while there, a clerk called him upstairs and said that he got "The fellow what stole the horse and wagon." The value of the groceries was $50 or $60. He next saw the wagon at 55th Street and Broadway and the defendant was in the custody of a policeman.

HENRY WAHMAN, a witness for The People, sworn, testified that he is a grocer, employed by Gerhard Depner, at 795 9th Avenue. He was employed by him in March. He sent his boy out with groceries about 11 o'clock on March 22nd. The value of the horse was about $175, the wagon $200 and the groceries $25 or $30. He saw the defendant take the horse and wagon and drive off on the occasion in question. The boy was then in the cellar. The witness pursued the defendant and caught him. The defendant asked, "What do you want?" and the witness answered, "You will find out."

In

the witness testified that he was standing on the corner of Broadway and 56th Street. He did not have a fight with the defendant.

In

R E - D I R E C T - E X A M I N A T I O N

the witness testified that the value of the grocery orders in the wagon was about $50.

EDWARD O'NEILL, a witness for The People, sworn, testified, that he is attached to the 22nd Precinct. He arrested the defendant at the bar at the corner of 55th Street and Broadway. The complainant asked him, the witness, to arrest the defendant; that he, the complainant, saw the defendant steal his, the complainant's, horse and wagon, and the defendant denied that he stole the property in question.

C R O S S - E X A M I N A T I O N.

N o n e.

THE DEFENSE.

--

LOUIS WAGNER, recalled by The Defense, testified that he left the wagon in 56th Street between Broadway and 7th Avenue. and he found it on the corner of 55th Street and Broadway.

JOSEPH C. HICKEY, the Defendant, sworn, testified in his own behalf, that he is 22 years of age, and was never before arrested. He was going down Broadway to 236 West 54th Street and saw the horse running away. He could not step the horse from the front so he jumped in the wagon at the back and tried to turn the horse around. The wagon was not full. There were only three orders and a bushel of coal, and he, the defendant, went through the wagon, and took hold of the lines. The defendant testified that he was in the wagon and was going to get out when the complainant pulled him out of the wagon and had him arrested.

In

the witness testified that he worked at mason work and sometimes he drove a contractor's cart for Patrick Foy, of 65th Street and the Western Boulevard. He worked for Foy the day before his arrest. He did mason work for his father. He, the defendant, lived at 535 East 135th Street; he also lived with his aunt at 1091 First Avenue. The horse was just starting on a good run when he jumped in. He left the horse and wagon to take the defendant to the policeman and the horse did not run away while left alone. He denied that he stole the horse and wagon. He had not lived with his father for nine years before, as he had a "little kick" with him. His father knew he was in the present trouble, but had not been to see him about it, although he, the defendant, had written to his father. He, the defendant, had worked since he was 12 years of age.

EDWARD O'NEILL, recalled, testified that the wagon was almost full of groceries, and that a person could not get in the wagon at the tail end and go to the front of it. The defendant did not say anything about jumping into the wagon to stop the horse.

In

the witness testified that he looked into the wagon twice. A person might get through, but he would have considerable difficulty, especially if the horse was running away. The defendant stated to the sergeant at the desk that he did not steal the horse and wagon, and that he was a boss plasterer up at 135th Street.

HENRY WAHMAN, recalled, testified, that he went to the station-house at the time of the defendant's arrest, and stated to the sergeant at the desk that the defendant jumped into the wagon and drove off with it, and the defendant said that the complainant pulled him all around the sidewalk and knocked him down, and he said that he was not in the wagon at all; that he was only stopping the horse. There were about 15 orders in the wagon, with a basket to every order. The tail-board was up.

(The Jury returned a verdict of Guilty of Grand Larceny in the Second Degree.)

Your Honor Sir

I have been over to see Mr. Deffen the groceryman several times also were many more men to intercede for Joe. He told me he had lost a considerable amount of property and he would be very sorry to have the boy prosecuted if he was not the right party.

Your Honor Sir

The policeman said he knew him and that he belonged to the Gas House Gang on the West side. Mr. Deffen told me have been told he has been enquiring about his character. But he cannot find a blemish in it. And I think the policeman wants

to prosecute him anyhow.
As the boy has always been sick and delicate
I hope your honor will consider and give him
a light sentence and

it was in the District Attorneys Office and the policeman told him if he let up on the boy they would do nothing more
for him if he got into any more trouble. Joe said the policeman never saw him on the wagon
when he arrested him. He said he was glad that he had caught ~~Thought~~ Wilson at last. It seems the policeman wanted Joe to pay his way to the court
when he arrested him I don't know whether the boy had any money or not, but it made the policeman
very angry.

Long passed due. I have a proposition to make, and the last one, You probably will send me out again, and I don't know you if you don't.
So to say you up, you had better send me a good sample line of goods & E.G. also one sample of flat work, and a small sample line of Cough & Collas Butters such as to allow me a fair share of commission, and the rest commission. In this way I can save you, and this

My dear Sir:-

Geo Hiez, alias Howard, alias Woods, first became prominent in Police Annals in 1880, when he was arrested in company with "Kid" Kelly, for waylaying and robbing the paymaster of John E. Devlin, the contractor of $400.00

For this offence he served 2 1/2 years in State Prison. Upon his release he was caught in the attempt to rob a house in East 75th St, and sent to the Penitentiary for a short term.

On May 24th 1885 he was arrested by Detectives Sergeant O'Brien, and James Vallely, in company with Francis Kenny, alias Gainer, on complaints of E.W. Gooding 30 E 4th St. Thos James 151 Green St, and E. Van Alward 748 6th Ave.

On each of these cases their watches, chains and lockets were stolen from their persons on the night previous while riding on 3rd Ave Horse Car. The property was recovered in the room occupied by Hiez at 75 1/2 Bowry. On June 12th/85 he was sentenced to 3 yrs state prison by Judge Eldersburg.

On Oct. 7th 1890 he was again arrested by Det. Sergts O'Brien and McCauley, for sneak robbery, on complaint of M. J. Deery, 170 Leonard St. and on Nov 8th/90 he was sentenced to 2 yrs and 4 months in Penitentiary by Judge Fitzgerald.

In the present case he was arrested on February 1st 1893 by Det. Sergts O'Brien and McCauley, on the 23rd St station of the 3rd Ave Elevated Road, in company with Jos McElmornack a professional pick pocket, alias "Goog" McElmornack, and upon being
