Brief for the People

N. Y. GENERAL SESSIONS.

The People

v.

Richard McKeever.

FELONIOUS ASSAULT.

BRIEF FOR THE PEOPLE.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE.

Henry Bergh Jr. is an officer of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and special deputy sheriff. On Monday, May 1st, 1882, he arrested the driver of a truck for violation of the law relating to animals. The prisoner came up with another man, and assaulted and beat Mr. Bergh about the face, knocking him down, breaking his nose, rupturing a small blood vessel in his eye and cutting his ear severely. He struck him from behind, and his fist evidently contained some concealed substance or weapon. Before the assault the prisoner stated that Bergh "never would get to the station house with the driver."

EVIDENCE FOR THE PEOPLE.

HENRY BERGH JR. I am a special deputy sheriff of the City and County of New York, and a special officer of The American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. On Monday May 1, I noticed a badly crippled horse being worked before a furniture truck at 75th St. and 3rd Ave. Recognized the driver and horse as being the same arrested by the Police of the 5th Precinct on the previous Thursday. I showed the driver, Richard Clark, my badge, and taking him by the arm told him he was under arrest. Richard McKeever came up with another man and began to interfere, tried to take away the horses, prevented people whom I requested to lead the horses to a stable, from doing so. I told McKeever to go about his business, that the prisoner and lame horse were in my charge (the other horse I did not take charge of) and I intended to take the prisoner, Clark, to the station house. McKeever replied in a threatening way "You will never get to the station house with him," and then went off with the horse that was not disabled. I took the prisoner, Clark, and the disabled horse to Dr. Middlebrook's stable in 78th St. near 3rd Avenue, and left the horse there and then started with Clark for the station house. Clark resisted just after leaving Dr. Middlebrook's, and I only used sufficient force to make him proceed, when he said "I will go along with you." I then released my hold on him saying "Come along with me quietly and there will be no trouble." We had proceeded but a few steps in that manner together when I noticed a quick movement behind me and partially turned my head in time to recognize McKeever behind me in the act of striking, at the same moment receiving a severe blow on the back of the head which knocked me down, cut a gash back of my right ear, badly contusing the same and rendering me unconscious for a moment or so. I then staggered to my feet in a half conscious condition and turned towards him, when I received a second blow from him on the forehead which knocked me down a second time and, while down, several more blows or kicks, one of which broke and knocked in the right side of my nose, broke one of my back teeth, ruptured a blood vessel in my eye and contused the flesh around the same. The remaining blows inflicted contusions on the right side of my head. / I also received contusions on my elbow and left side of my body from falling on the cobble stones. Some gentlemen then helped me to my feet (in a partially conscious condition) and assisted me back to Dr. Middlebrook's. After some little time McKeever was brought in by two policemen. As soon as he entered I recognized him and said, "That is the man who struck me." I was then driven in Dr. Middlebrook's carriage to the Police station in East 87th Street. From there I went to Dr. Janvrin's, to have my nose set and the cut on the back of my ear dressed. After leaving Dr. Janvrin's I proceeded home. I suffered severely from internal pains in the head accompanied by nausea and vomiting all night. The pains in the head continued all the next day but in a less degree. On May 2nd, at the 4th District Police Court McKeever pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery. I had the regulation cap and uniform on at the time I was assaulted.

ALFRED MEEKS (171 East 80th Street). Saw the whole of the assault - saw the prisoner strike Mr. Bergh a blow behind the ear, which knocked him down, and when he (Mr. B) attempted to get up on one hand the prisoner knocked him down again, and then struck him several times when down.

OSCAR SIMMONS (104 East 78th Street, 3rd floor, place of business with E. S. MILLS & CO 354 Broadway). Saw the whole of the assault - saw prisoner strike Mr. Bergh from behind, which knocked him down, and while down strike him several blows.

WILLIAM FARREL (202 East 77th Street 2nd floor rear). Saw the whole of the assault - saw prisoner strike Mr. Bergh when down.

EVA KELLY (179 East 78th Street 2nd floor). Saw prisoner knock Mr. Bergh down and strike him when down.

ANNIE DEPEW (171 East 78th Street). Saw Prisoner knock Mr. Bergh down and strike him several blows while down.

Mrs. Mc QUADE (181 East 78th Street 2nd floor). Saw prisoner knock Mr. Bergh down, and strike him several blows while down - "felt sickened at the sight and had to turn away."

FRANK L. WELLS (170 East 78th Street). Witnessed latter part of the assault, and when prisoner ran away, witness pursued him on horseback, and assisted Officer Bruns of the Mounted Squad to make arrest.

OFFICER BRUNS (Mounted Squad). Arrested prisoner while running away - prisoner resisted arrest. Before the magistrate prisoner said he was guilty.

DR. J. E. JANVRIN (191 Madison Avenue), dressed Bergh's wounds and will testify to the severity of their character.

DR. CHARLES MIDDLEBROOK (170 East 78th Street). Was the Veterinary surgeon who examined the horse for the misuse of which Bergh had arrested the driver. Will testify to the condition of the animal and disprove any theory that the arrest of the driver was not justified. He had known the horse for some time, and this was the second time the driver had been arrested for ill-treatment.
