at the City of New York, in the County of New York, deponent was and is now the paying teller of the Germania Bank, doing business as a Bank of discount and deposit at the premises aforesaid that said Bank is duly organized and incorporated under the laws of the State of New York

That on said 13th day of July 1881 Louis Haas and Ernest Haas (both now here) did feloniously and knowingly utter as true and said Ernest did present to deponent and did demand from deponent, as such Paying teller payment of that certain token and instrument in writing hereto annexed and marked Exhibit A, and purporting to be a check made and drawn by Simon Manges on the said Germania Bank dated New York July 13 1881 payable to Bearer in the sum of fifty five ²⁰/₁₀₀ dollars

That deponent is informed by Simon Manges (now here) that said instrument is false, forged, fraudulent and counterfeit and deponent believes the same to be true

That on said 13th day of July 1881 said Manges was a depositor of money with said Bank and did have right to draw upon the funds of said ^{Bank} of money to the amount of such deposit,

Deponent is informed by Charles Heidelberg of the Central office police that when said Louis Haas was arrested he acknowledge in the presence of witnesses that he made the aforesaid check and three other checks previously for which he received the money and that he gave them to Ernest Haas his brother to get the money and that said Ernest acknowledged in the presence of witnesses that he received said check from Louis Haas, and that he received ~~these~~ ^{other} checks on said Bank previously for which he got the money and that said Louis gave him Ernest five dollars of the money as appears by his letter annexed.

on the 26th of July 1881 I called on Harris. he said he remembered Mr Kings paying the bill to him. he said it was paid in bills. I asked him to show me the entry in the bill book. I examined the bill book with him and found no entry of the amount.

Harris then stated that he would make it good -

I laid down halfpast three and I woke up half past five; when I laid down I had my watch and chain; it was in my vest coat pocket. That kind of a watch and chain was it? It was one of the double case gold English watches. How much was the watch and chain worth? About one hundred and twenty five dollars. When you woke up did you have your watch and chain? No sir, it was gone. Have you since seen it? I saw it on the next day in the station house where I recognized it to be mine. Do you know these two prisoners? No sir, I never saw them before only in the station house the next day.
You did not see them? I did not see them you were asleep? Yes sir. They had no business with you on board that ship, they did not belong there? No sir. Deidrich Magaler sworn and examined through the interpreter. I am the steward of the Magdalene, I recognize this prisoner; on the 25th of July I saw him coming on board the ship and he went down into the cabin and I went after him. I asked him what he wanted there? He said he wanted to see the Captain, and I told him that the Captain was on deck; then he left and went on deck. Then he came out of the room the other one was standing on the head of the stairs. I did not look at them any more. I left them on deck, I don't know what they did afterwards. This was between four and five o'clock; I saw them afterwards in the station house; the Captain was lying on a bench near the wheel. Cross Examined The vessel was lying at pier 47 East River, I saw the prisoner on the day that the watch was taken in the cabin; he immediately left when I told him the Captain was on deck. I was facing the prisoner when I saw him. It was about an hour or an hour and a half after the prisoner went away that I heard the Captain lost his watch. Both prisoners were brought out into the room in the station house. I went there for the purpose of identifying them. I was informed that they were arrested. They were brought out but not ~~introduced~~ ^{presented} out to me, yet as soon as they came out I recognized them. I saw Sergeant Crowley when he was at the station house. I do not remember his getting hold of the prisoner by the arm and saying, "Is not this the man?" I cannot recollect that.

David H. Cawley sworn and examined. Officer Cauty arrested the prisoner, I was with him. I went up after Henry Clay and when I arrested him this prisoner turned around and started to go back and Cauty arrested him. I first saw Henry Clay and another one coming up Rutger St. I stood at the corner of Rutger and Monroe Sts; the other party got away, they were all coming up towards Monroe St in the same direction from the river. This vessel was lying at pier 47, between Hudson and Clinton Sts. one block and a half from Rutger St. This prisoner and two others were coming up Rutger St. when I first saw them; that was about half past four in the afternoon on the 25th of July. I said to Hyer, "What are you doing here?" He said, "Nothing". I saw the other two ahead; they turned around and they commenced to walk fast; so did I; afterwards they commenced to run and so did I. I passed this prisoner and Cauty followed him. I caught Henry Clay at the corner of Montgomery and Cherry Sts. I turned him over to Officer Bean. The prisoner Clay was searched when he got to the station house and a watch and chain and locket were found on him. They were not identified at that time by the Captain of the vessel. We sent out a general alarm for an owner, and the next day the Captain came and identified it. I arrested them on suspicion. The steward of the vessel was sent for and the Captain brought him up there. I was not in the room when he identified the prisoner. I came in after they were identified. Cross Examined. I did not ask the prisoner in the street who the other two men were because I knew one of them. I asked him what he was doing and he said "nothing." Louis Byer ^{sworn} and examined in his own behalf testified. I was not on board of the vessel on the day the steward says I was there. I had nothing to do with stealing or attempting to steal the watch from the complainant. I don't know who took it. Cross Examined. I served a term of six months for assault and battery. I was arrested for having counterfeit money in my possession about two months and a half ago and judgment was suspended. I was sent to the Island by Judge Bixby. Sergeant Crowley asked me if I knew the two men walking ahead. I says, "no sir." I followed with the crowd to see what was the matter and the Sergeant told the officer to arrest me. Crowley in the station house caught hold of me by the arm and said to the complainant, "Is not this the man whom you saw in the cabin." David H. Crowley recalled. I was not present when the prisoner was identified. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty.
