City and County
of New York, } ss.

Charles H. Reinisch, a Sergeant of No. Police, attached to said Court Street, aged 41 years, occupation Sergeant of Police being duly sworn deposes and says, that on the 16th day of March 1886 at the City of New York, in the County of New York, was feloniously taken, stolen and carried away from the possession of deponent, in the day time, the following property viz: an envelope containing gold and lawful money to the amount and value of Sixty-one $41.00 dollars, and a number of paper packages said to contain money the amount and value of which is unknown to deponent, and a pistol, said property being at the time in deponent's care and charge as exhibits in the case of one Wah Kee charged with gambling; also a bond book being a Court record of marriages, the property of the City of New York, and a pistol of the value of ten dollars the property of deponent.

and that this deponent
has a probable cause to suspect, and does suspect, that the said property was feloniously taken, stolen, and carried away by Frank Nelson, now here, for the reasons following, to wit: That said deponent was employed by the Janitor of said Court and had access to said property. That on the 19th inst.

deponent discovered that drawers in the desk of deponent in his office had been opened with false keys and said money and pistols taken therefrom.
That deponent thereafter found a key in a best pocket of a vest belonging to said deponent which has been filed and altered and which fitted and opened the said drawers in deponent's desk. That after the arrest of said deponent he 0586

admitted to deponent that he stole said property and spent the money and pawned the pistols, and the Court record-book of marriages aforesaid was found by officer John McCormack, (husband), in the ~~bedroom~~^{locker} occupied by said defendant in his lodging house at 28 East Broadway, after the arrest of said defendant on the night of the 18th inst., as said officer informs deponent.

That the said Max Neuman stole and took from defendant the following property the property of defendant to wit: one silk mantle lambrequen or mantle cover, one pair of lace curtains 5 yards of white goods, some lace bureau cover all of the value of Fifteen dollars, and one pair of lace curtains worth $8.00

That defendant caused the arrest of said Max Neuman for the larceny of one carpet of the value of Fifteen dollars.

That after such arrest one Catharine Rosenbaum brought the said articles hereinbefore first enumerated to defendant & stated that the same had been received by her from said Max Neuman & defendant identified the said goods as defendant's property and having been stolen from defendant.

That upon said arrest aforesaid defendant was informed by said Max Neuman that he had taken a pair of curtains from defendant store which were then in possession of his mother.

PEOPLE ON MY COMPLAINT, VERSUS

Max Neuman.

Grand Larceny.

As complainant in the above case, I beg to recommend the defendant to such leniency and clemency as the Court and District Attorney may see fit to show; but I expressly assert that my reasons for so doing are not controlled by any advantage to myself.

My reasons for such recommendation are as follows:

I have been informed by one Mrs. Hepler, who resides at No. 12 Ludlow St., that the goods in question, which were found in the possession of Sophie Stein, given to her by defendant, were sold to defendant by said Mrs. Hepler, who states that she bought said goods from me. This statement I cannot deny as I sold Mrs. Hepler similar goods, at about the time in question. I rely upon Mrs. Hepler's statements, as I have known her for ten years last past as an honest, trustworthy woman, who has dealt with me continually for that length of time.

I accordingly request permission to withdraw my complaint.

Max Newman.

Defendant

City and County of New York ss:

Henry Herzog being duly sworn says, that he resides at No 214 East 114th Street, ——— in said City, and that during the years 1884 & 1885, deponent carried on the business of dry goods and notions, at Nos. 100 & 102 Essex Street, in said City,

That the defendant Max Newman, entered the employment of deponent as salesman in the month of May 1884, and continued in deponent's place of business until October 1885, and that during this period of time, deponent always found the defendant perfectly honest and honorable in his transactions, and had no reason whatever to suspect him of having committed larceny.

That the first suspicions that deponent received of alleged larcenies by the defendant, ^{were} statements made to him by third parties; and deponent has since learned that said third parties had personal and selfish motives in making these statements, and that if deponent had at said time known this fact, he would not have credited these statements, in the face of the good record which the defendant had made, while in deponent's employment.

That deponent upon a closer and more extended examination, of all the facts and circumstances surrounding this case, and the subject of the alleged larcenies

on account of which two indictments have been found, is now of the opinion that he must have been mistaken, in believing the defendant guilty, and that the story related by the defendant and corroborated by his witnesses upon his arraignment, must have been true; that deponent could not now ~~con-~~^{scientiously} identify the goods, mentioned in the said indictments, and ought not to have done so in the case of the goods, which were produced in the Police Court,

That deponent has taken the trouble to find out the character of the defendant, and the reputation which he has sustained since the defendant left the employment of deponent, and deponent finds that the defendant's character and reputation for honesty and integrity has been excellent.

That deponent makes this affidavit without any consideration or promise of consideration or reward, but only from the motive that the charges preferred against the defendant originated from a mistake, and ought not to have been made and for the purpose of ~~writing the wrong~~^{righting the wrong} which deponent was led in to making.

That deponent has since learned from Mrs Louisa Hesler of No 90 Ludlow Street in said City, who ~~is a~~^{has} ~~deposited similar goods from the defendant~~^{purchased similar goods from the defendant} ~~seller in dry goods and notions~~, sold the very articles which are made the subject of the alleged larcenies to the defendant, Max Newman and that deponent in his business, always had on stock goods similar to the ones referred to; and the reason that deponent believed that these goods were once deponent's property, was the similarity between them. —

vs.
John T. Norton.

Court of General Sessions, Part I.
Before Judge Gildersleeve.

March 12, 1886.

Indictment for petty larceny.

Georgie E. Crawford sworn. I reside 150 East 21st Street and lived there on the 9th of February; the defendant was in the same house as a servant; on that day I lost a five dollar goldpiece which had a small chain attached and a monogram G.E.C. in old English letters, I suppose it was worth seven dollars, I saw it since at Stone's pawn broker's shop in Third Avenue and I identified it as mine. He served my breakfast and lunch to me every day upstairs in my room and he came in to bring my letters and cards and things like that. When I left my room it was not my custom to lock the door, I missed this gold piece about eight o'clock in the evening on the 9th of February, I suppose I had been out of my room down stairs or through the house that day.

Cross examined. The defendant brought my breakfast to my room every morning when he was able to, when he was not intoxicated. I could not say positively that he brought my breakfast to me on the 9th, I could not say how long before February 9th that I had seen the gold piece I was in the habit of wearing it most of the time, the chain to which it was attached was taken also; I saw the defendant in the house on the 9th, 8th and 7th, I usually put the gold piece on every day, I kept it in a toilet case on my bureau which was not locked. I wore it on Sunday and I missed it on the Tuesday following. I suppose I saw him on the 11th because he did not leave the house until the 12th.

Samuel H. Stone sworn. I am a clerk with my father at 239 Third Avenue for the last five months, I have seen the defendant in the store, he pawned a coat, but when I cannot say, he also pawned a bangle which I would recognize if I saw it again, the bangle and gold piece now shown me is the piece that he pawned in February, I cannot say exactly when but it was before the 15th. The complainant and Detective Dolan came into the store one evening and asked whether a gold watch which she had lost was pawned there, I looked at my books and found there was none, so she remarked about a gold bangle being lost and Mr Stone did not recollect any and after she had left I looked through the books and under instructions from Mr Stone I found there was a gold bangle pawned there the previous week, then I wrote a letter to Mr Dolan at Police Headquarters and the next day Dolan and the complainant came and she identified it as hers, Mr Nolan took it from the store. The first time after the defendant visited our store I saw him at Police Headquarters, I identified him then and there, I think I said, that is the man, I was confronted with him afterwards at the Police Court. I do not recollect saying to him when he came to our place to take out the coat that he had not left it in very long, that it was hardly cold yet.

Patrick Dolan sworn. I am a police officer attached to Police Headquarters and arrested the defendant on the 3rd of March at 11 West Street in a restaurant. Miss Crawford came to Police Headquarters and made a report of losing a gold watch and chain, a bracelet and some other trinkets, I went around with this lady to three or four pawn brokers on Third Avenue the day after she made the report to see if I could find any of her property. I went into Mr Stone's 239 Third Avenue and described the property she had lost, he looked over his books and could not find anything that answered the description. This was about the 8th or 9th of February; the day after there was a postal card came to Police Headquarters stating there was some property found, I went to Miss Crawford's 150 East 21st Street and notified her and both of us went to the pawn broker's and Miss Crawford identified the bangle as her property.

John T. Norton sworn and examined in his own behalf, testified: I lived 11 West Street when I was arrested, I have never been arrested before for anything, I did not steal the gold piece from Miss Crawford and did not pawn it at 239 Third Avenue, I was in the pawn shop three times and pawned coats there, I came after the second coat and he said, you did not give it a chance to get cold yet, I recollect the witness Stone said at police Headquarters, that looks like the man and when I was brought before him again he said, I do not know what to say, Judge. My month was up with Mrs. Raynor on the 14th and I had given her notice two days before that that I was going to another place..

Emily C. Raynor sworn. I live at 150 East 21st Street, the defendant was employed in my house, he left on the 12th of February and his month was up on the 14th, I owed him somewhere from five to eight dollars when he left. The Jury rendered a verdict of guilty.

Probably the first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the car was the humidity. It was a warm blanket, wrapping around me in a way that felt both comforting and overwhelming. The air was thick with the scent of tropical flowers and the distant hum of city life. I took a deep breath, savoring the unfamiliar atmosphere. The sun was high in the sky, casting a golden glow over the scene. I could see the outlines of buildings and palm trees in the distance, but the focus was on the immediate surroundings. The ground beneath my feet was soft and uneven, a mix of dirt and small stones. I felt a sense of adventure, of being in a new world. The humidity was a constant presence, a reminder of the tropical climate. It was a unique experience, one that I would never forget.
