COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS-Part III.

-----x
The People of the State of New York, : Before Hon. JAMES against : FITZGERALD, and HARRY J. KENNEDY. : a Jury.

Indictment filed November 4th 1891.

Indicted for Grand Larceny in the 2nd degree.

New York, November 9th 1891.

APPEARANCES: For the People Asst. Dist. Atty. BEDFORD
For the defendant Mr. E. S. MASHBIR.

MARTHA E. PINKHAM, a witness for the People sworn, testified:

I live at No. 4 West 22nd street in this city. I a a married lady. On the 26th of October I was on 6th avenue between 22nd and 23rd street-near O'Neill's restaurant. I had my pocket book in my left hand and an umbrella and some other things in my right. I had some eighty three or eighty four dollars in the pocket book.
I had seen the money in the pocket about twenty minutes before it was taken from me. Suddenly as I walked along I met three men and one of them grabbed my pocket book and ran away. The defendant is one of the three men. I cannot say that the defendant is the man who took the pocket book but he was one of three men who approached me. I dropped my parcels and as soon as I could collect myself I shouted "Stop thief". I ran through 23rd street after this man and he was arrested at the corner of Broadway by an officer . iI identifiedehim as one of the three men at that time . I am positive he was one of the men. I have never seen the pocket book since it was taken from me .

CROSS EXAMINATION:

I was nearly opposite Bristow's oyster house at the time this pocket book was taken from me. I saw the prisoner Kennedy right after he was arrested by the officer. He told me that he was the wrong man and that I was mistaken in my identification of him . I saw the defendant at the moment the book was snatched from me. He was partly to the side and behind me. Two other men were more in front of him. I got frightened as soon as they took the pocket book. I saw that the other men ran through 23rd street towards 5th avenue.

MARTIN McDONALD, a witness for the People, sworn, testified:

I live at No. 152 West 20th street in this city. I recollect the afternoon of the 26th of October. I was standing outside of No. 66 West 23rd street on that afternoon. I was about to go into the building and upstairs when my attention was called to two men running at a furious speed through 23rd street. I saw the lady and she was shouting "Stop Thief". I ran along with several other people and I caught up with this defendant at the corner of 23rd street and Fifth avenue and turned him over to a police officer. One of the prisoners went down 5th avenue, another up the avenue and this man was caught.

3

I did not lose sight of this man all the time I was running . The woman identified him as one of the men who had robbed her on 6th avenue of her pocket book. I did not wait to hear any further conversation .

CROSS EXAMINATION:

Kennedy and another man were running together . Kennedy was not running after anybody. I am positive that they were running side by side and that Kennedy did not make any effort to catch the other man . I called to the officer as we approached 5th avenue and he was able to stop Kennedy. When I reached the officer I told him to hold, the defendant and the lady would be up in a moment and explain. I dont know the defendant and had never seen him before .

CHARLES DAVIS , a witness for the People, sworn, testified:

I am a police officer attached to the 17th precinct. I was on duty at 23rd street and 5th avenue on the 26th of October . I stood there and arrested this defendant . McDonald came up to me and asked me to hold the man until a lady came . I held him and when the lady came she said that he was one of three men who stole her pocket book on 6th avenue. She i did not identify him as the man who stole it, but as one of three men. I did not notice Kennedy running before he got up to me.

CROSS EXAMINATION:

The woman could not identify the man as the one who took her pocket book. She said he was one of the three that were there at the time . The defefendant told me that he was chasing McDonald thinking that he had something to do with this matter . The defendant denied taking the lady's pocket book at the time she came up. I asked the lady if she would make a complaint against this man . She said she would and I took him to the station house . He was locked up .

HARRY J. KENNEDY, the defendant, sworn, testified:

I am the deefendant . I have been in this city since the latter part of May this year . I have been a bartender and a waiter . On the day of my arrest I was on my way to O'Neill's restaurant on 8th avenue to see a man about getting a job there . There was quite a crowd in the restaurant at the time I passed it and I did not care to go in . I was simply walking up and down the avenue waiting for a chance to go in when I heard this lady who has testified against me shout "Stop Thief". I started and chased after one of the men as fast as I could. I saw him turn around the corner of 2 rd street and I started rapidly after him. There was only one man running that I saw and it was after him that I was going . I could not catch him . When I reached 5th avenue I turned on my foot and in that way Mr. McDonald put his hand on my shoulder . He told the officer to hold me until this lady came up. The officer asked the lady as soon as she came up if she identified me as the man who stole her pocket book; the lady said she did not; then I turned around and she said "I think he is the man". I did not steal the lady's pocket book; I had nothing to do with it; I did not know the man or men who did steal it and I was not acting in concert with them. In the station house the lady said she did not think it was necessary to press the charge against me as I was not the one who stole the pocket book. I was absolutely alone on the day of my arrest. I came from Albany and had only been in the city a few months. I expected to get a job in O'Neill's restaurant on 6th avenue on the day I was arrested. I ran for the purpose of capturing the man who took this lady's pocket book. I do not believe that McDonald was the thief now.

CROSS EXAMINATION:

McDonald caught me just as I was getting near the officer. I intended telling the officer about the men who had done this thing. I did not say anything to the officer, only when the lady came up and then I said I had nothing to do with it. I admit that I was running at a great rate of speed through 23rd street but the reason of my running was that I was chasing after this man that I supposed stole the lady's pocket book.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty of Grand larceny in the 2nd degree.

New York, December 4th 1891.

Hon. James Fitzgerald,
Judge of General Sessions:

Sir:

Pursuant to your request we beg to submit the following report on HARRY J. KENNEDY, charged with larceny.

He boarded with Mrs. Galvin, 29 East Broadway. She says that while there he paid all bills and when unemployed he would rise at 5 o'clock in the morning to get the newspaper to look for work. She gives him a good character.

He worked for two or three months for Peter Woods, 474 Grand Street. He says he discharged Kennedy and after his discharge his place was broken into twice and money taken and nobody knew where the money was but Kennedy and he suspects him of taking it.

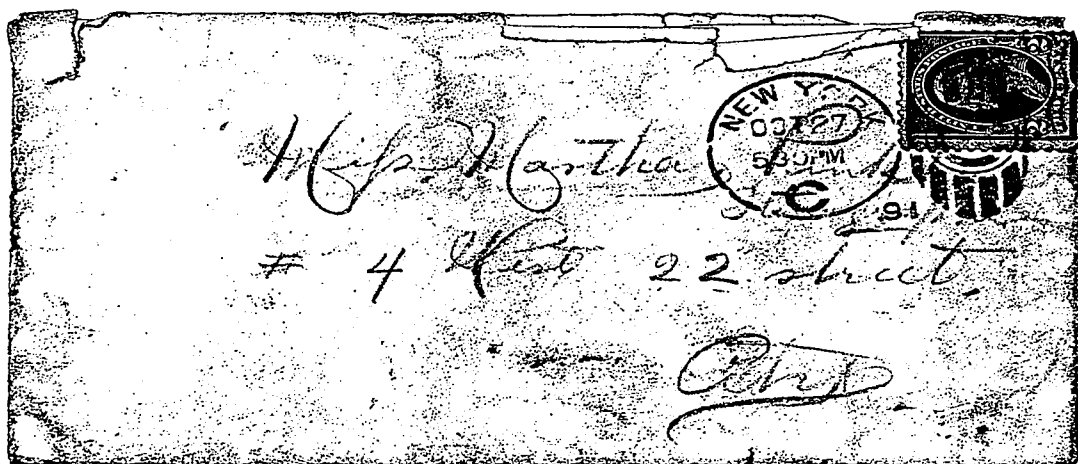

There is no such man as McVeedy employed in the Hotel Normandie.

Very respectfully,

THE MAN IN THE LIGHT SUIT WANTED.

He Played Policeman, and Pretended to Catch a Pocketbook Thief.

Sixth avenue, near Twenty-third street, was crowded with shoppers at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Miss Martha Pinkham, a stenographer living at 4 West Twenty-second street, left the elevated station and was walking down Sixth avenue, when three men, who were coming up the street, crowded around her, and while one grabbed her pocketbook containing $75, the others held her until the thief got well around the corner of Twenty-third street. Then they gave her a shove and followed the man with the money.

Miss Pinkham started after the trio. The cry was taken up and a crowd joined in the chase. Officer Davis of the Broadway squad, who was standing at Twenty-third street and Fifth avenue, saw the crowd coming toward him, and ran down to meet it. A young man wearing a light suit seized another young man by the collar, and shoving him into the policeman's arms, cried: "Here, hold on to him. He snatched a woman's pocketbook." Davis seized the young man in the light suit, but he broke away and disappeared in the crowd.

The man who had been pushed into Davis's arms declared that he had been trying to catch the thieves. He said he was Harry Kennedy, a bartender, of 201 East Broadway. Miss Pinkham could not identify him, and he was taken to the Jefferson Market Police Court, where he was committed until Officer Davis can find the man in the light suit. The officer says he knows the fugitive by sight and promised to have him in court to-day.

SNATCHED HER PURSE AND RAN.

THE MAN WHO WAS CAUGHT SAID THE MAN WHO CAUGHT HIM DID IT.

A daring theft occurred yesterday afternoon on the busiest part of Sixth avenue. Miss Martha Pinkham, a stenographer and typewriter, who lives at No. 4 West Twenty-second street, was walking along Sixth avenue when at Twenty-third street three men approached her, and one snatched her pocketbook from her hand. They ran down Twenty-third street toward Broadway. Miss Pinkham chased them, screaming "Stop thief!" At Broadway a citizen seized one of the men and held him until the arrival of Policeman Davis. He said his name was Henry Kennedy, that he was twenty-six years old and lived at No. 291 East Broadway.

He was arraigned before Justice Hogan in the Jefferson Market Police Court. There he told a very ingenious story. He said that he saw the men running away and gave chase. He was about to seize one of them, when he was himself seized by the citizen. He suggested to Justice Hogan that the citizen was one of the thieves and that he ought to have been arrested. Davis said that he did not know the name of the man who had assisted him. Policeman Kemp said that his name was Murphy and that he could find him and bring him to court. Justice Hogan held Kennedy for examination to-day.
