INDICTED FOR GRAND LARCENY IN THE FIRST DEGREE.

INDICTMENT FILED JUNE 22ND, 1893.

*****

APPEARANCES:

ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEY HARRY W. MACDONA,

For THE PEOPLE.

JAMES W. McLAUGHLIN, ESQ.,

For THE DEFENSE.

PETER GROSS, the complainant, testified that he lived at 222 Summit Avenue, West Hoboken. He is a silk weaver. On June 18th, he saw the defendant at Tompkins Square. The complainant did not know the exact time, whether it was 9, 10, or 11 o'clock, but it was at night, and before 1 o'clock in the morning. The witness testified, "I was sitting on a bench, and the defendant came up and pushed against me, very close to me. I said, 'What is the matter?' then he got up and went away. I remained sitting that way (illustrating), and with my head turned to my right, and looked over at the other side, and all at once I felt on my vest pocket that some one is pushing out of my vest pocket something, and I put my hand to my vest pocket, and saw him running away from me, and I run after him. And when I put my hand to my vest pocket, the watch was gone. And then I ran after him, and immediately I ran after him when I was nearing him, then I see him put the watch at the base of the tree. He stooped down and put the watch there, as he was running, and then he commenced to run again, and he ran a short distance, and a policeman came from this side, (indicating) and I was on this side. We had him between us. And then came this policeman who is present. When he was seized by the policeman, they asked him, 'Where is that watch?' then I said, 'He put it there, close to the tree.' And whilst I was saying that, another man came up and gave the watch to the policeman. He picked it up and gave it to the policeman." The complainant identified a watch and chain produced in court as the stolen property in question. To the question, "What is the value of the watch?" The complainant answered, "$2.---$3.---5 marks--about "$1.25. I paid that for it in Germany." In the witness testified that he was not asleep in the park; but he was only leaning his head on his arm. At noon, he, the complainant, had some drink, but not in the evening. He did not take enough to make him sleepy. The complainant testified, "I did not see actually his hand at my pocket, pulling at the watch, but I felt the pull, and I saw him running away from me. And immediately I ran after him. Maybe he was at a distance of 4 or 5 feet from me, when I got up and ran after him." After putting the watch at the base of the tree, the complainant ran around the tree after the defendant, to catch him.

JOHN McKENNA testified that he was attached to the Park Police, and was on duty, in Tompkins Square, on June 18th, between 12 and 1 in the morning. He saw the defendant in the park, at that time, running North, towards 10th Street, out of the Park, and he saw the complainant right after the defendant. The witness, continuing, testified, "I was on the East side of the music stand, going around the circle, when I heard shouts, and saw the running, and they ran into 10th Street, and the complainant was not two yards behind the defendant, and when the defendant saw me, he wheeled, and went towards Avenue A--- West; and, in wheeling, he saw this witness(indicating)---he is not here---he wheels around the tree; and, it seems, that he dropped the watch, but I did not see him drop it, and I caught him about 5 yards from the tree. He ran into another officer's arms, and I was right behind him. And we held him, and the officer asked him where was the watch, and he said he did not have it, and he was not the man, and the other man went over and picked it up." The man referred to was Metcalfe Thwaite, of the Coleman House, who is missing. Thwaite said, 'That is the man that dropped the watch.' and the watch was in his hand, and he gave it to me. The defendant said that statement was wrong, and that he was not the man. And the complainant then accused him right then and there, in the presence of the witness. In the witness testified that the occurrence took place at about a quarter to 1 o'clock. The first that the witness saw was the running of the defendant out of the park, with the complainant in close pursuit. There was no doubt whatever in the mind of the witness as to the identity of the defendant." It did not take a minute from the time it happened until the defendant was caught. There wasn't much time for running".

THE DEFENSE

AUGUST REICHERT testified, "I am a travelling jeweler and watchmaker. Sometimes I stop in Newark, and one night in Harlem. I ain't got any residence where I stop. I stop in different places. That night I got arrested I been enjoying myself. I been in the Atlantic Garden, the Volk's Garden, and in Houston Street, in concert saloons, and I passed through Houston Street, and I had in my mind to go up to 10th Street and Third Avenue, and I got acquainted with some young lady, in the concern saloon, and she said, 'meet me at 10th Street and Third Avenue, at sharp 12 o'clock,' and I know I am a little late and I am in a hurry, and I walked out on 10th Street, between Avenue A and B, in the middle of the block. I passed then on Avenue B and 7th Street. I passed into the park that way, and I walked right straight from the park, and I walked out of the park, that is between---in the same block, 10th Street, between Ave B and A. That is where I walked out of the park. And I noticed a man stretched out on the bench, laying there, snoring. And I thought it was some tramp. I did not know what he was. I could not tell if the man looks respectable, or what kind of man he is. I did not pay no notice to that party at all. I just walked up in 10th street, about my business, and I noticed behind me two young men, just close to me, calling me, and when I got up on 10th Street and Avenue A, I heard somebody holloaing 'Police! Police! My watch is gone!' And this was the same tramp I noticed on the bench---I could not tell if he was a tramp or what he was, because it is so dark in that place. And so when I got to Avenue A and 10th Street and heard this cry, 'Police! Police! My watch is gone!' and two officers jumped down from Ave A, and they looked at me. I was not running. I was walking fast. And so the officers looked at me and they said, 'I suppose you are the party that took that fellow's watch.' And so they brought me back to the place where it happened, brought me back to the same place where that man be laying on the bench stretched out; two officers brought me back, and, after a while I found there was three or four officers, I could not say whether it was three or four, but I am sure it was three officers. So they brought me back to the place where the man jumped up from the bench, and they asked me if I knew something about the watch, and I said, I did not know anything about the watch. And they said you must got the watch, and I said, I did not know anything about the man's watch, and was passing from the park. As soon as the officers grabbed me he got me like that(indicating). He said, 'I suppose you are the party that took the watch.' and I said, No, sir. Do you see that young man going down 10th Street and the other going into the park again; they did that. As soon as the officer grabbed me, and so the officer says, 'Well, we will make sure of it. We will bring you back to the place and see if you are the party or not.' And so the officer brought me to the place where that man jumped up from the bench. There is about three officers around there; this night there was four, I think, and the park officer, he came across the park. And they said to everybody, 'Did you see this young man take the watch? Where is the watch?' And nobody knew anything about the watch. The officer searched me with his hands but he could not find any watch. And I said I did not know anything about the watch. And they talked for several minutes. And one officer said, to the other, 'What can we do? Will we lock him up?' And one officer said, 'Well, he ain't got the watch, and it is no use to arrest him.' And so they talked for about 10 minutes and 50 or 100 people gathered around, and everybody was looking for the watch, and so, after a while, they find the watch laying on the tree. Somebody picked it up." The defendant denied that he took the watch; or that he dropped it behind the tree. In the witness testified that he was convicted of an attempt at larceny from the person, in stealing a watch, and sentenced in the Court of General Sessions to three months and got out of jail on April 27th. He had been in the Penitentiary twice.

The People
Joseph Rossi

Court of General Sessions. Part I
Before Judge Martine Oct. 3. 1893

Indictment for assault in the first degree.
Francis McBrov, sworn and examined, testified. I live at 253 West Thirtieth street and am a cab driver. On the morning of the 8th of June I was in a saloon at the corner of Thirtieth street and Seventh Avenue.
I went in there about five o'clock in the morning. What time on the morning of the 8th of June did you see this defendant for the first time? About 20 minutes past six o'clock. I saw him in the saloon. He came in while I was there.
He spoke some words in Italian, but I could not understand him; he seemed to be vexed. He spoke to me. I pushed him out as far as the door; there are two half doors, swinging doors; he came back and jumped at me and cut me with a razor in the hand - two cuts on the forehead and one on the left fore arm. I put up my hand to guard myself. Had you struck him before he cut you. Did you do anything <sup>to him</sup> before he cut you? No. What did he do after he cut you? I just put up my hand. I was all covered with blood and ran out after him; he was just caught down the street; he ran down Thirtieth street towards Eighth avenue. I followed him to the middle of the block. Did you have your wounds dressed? I had to go to the hospital and had them stitched up. I came home the same day.

Cross Examined. I am employed by my brother at Delmonicos; my brother is Jimmy Hebron. I drive one of his cabs. I have been driving for him lately about two or three years. I am driving right along this ten or eleven years. I went home and came back again to drive for him. I got a call in the street about half past one o'clock and left my fare about four o'clock and went to the stable. I went directly from the stable to this saloon. I was perfectly sober. How far was the stable from the saloon? It was only just two blocks. How many drinks did you take in the saloon before this defendant came in? I had three or four drinks. I drank beer and whiskey. I was very little under the influence of liquor. I had drink taken but I was not drunk. I recollect exactly what happened I am after stating what happened. There were three or four men in the saloon. I did not know them - only the bartender. The stable is on the same block as the saloon. I live on the corner. I used to visit the saloon, but I do not go there now, for I am not drinking. The men in the saloon were strangers to me. I was talking to the bartender. I never saw the defendant before he ran into the saloon with the razor. He spoke kind of angry in Italian. The bartender was coming to the end of the bar where I put the defendant out. He was not out more than a second; when he came back the second time I did not have time to speak to him. Had you talked with anybody in that saloon beside the bartender before the defendant came in? Yes, I did; it was another bartender who happened to come in there. He was the only man I remember speaking to (The witness exhibited his cuts to the jury.) I did not get into fights before I stopped drinking. I went into this saloon about five o'clock in the morning. I was.

in there until 20 minutes past six o'clock. Did you speak to anybody in that saloon on that night except the bartender and Rossi up to the time that Rossi came? I did to the other Italian that kept a shoe blacking stand outside. When was it that the other Italian spoke to you or you to him? Previous to the assault. Was the defendant there when you spoke to the other one? No, he was not. Had you had any difficulty with anybody prior to Rossi coming in? No. Did you have any trouble with the other Italian? I just pushed him; the bartender was sending him out for something to eat for his breakfast. I was just harrying him up, fooling with him. How soon after you pushed the other Italian out was it that Rossi came in? About a few minutes. Did you push him out forcibly, tell us what happened between you and the other Italian? I was fooling with him, the bartender was sending him out for something to eat. I caught him around the waist and told him to hurry up. He went outside and Rossi came in in a minute or two. I had often seen the other Italian; he was a shoe black at the corner. When I drove him out he made no resistance, he got a little angry but made no trouble.

 Edmond Huber sworn. I am an officer attached to the 20th precinct. On the morning of the 8th of June I was going down Seventh Avenue on the way to my post about 20 minutes after six o'clock. When I neared the corner of Thirtieth street
 I was told that there was a man cut by an Italian boy. This boy (the defendant) was pointed out to me and I ran after him; he was running, and when I overtook him I spoke to him in English and asked him if he was the man who cut this man (the complainant) and he said, Yes. I brought him back to the complainant who was bleeding freely. I got another officer and sent him to the station house.
 I found a razor on the street; it had something moist on it that looked like blood. I showed the razor to Rossi and he said it was his. When you arrested Rossi did you notice any wound upon him or bruises? I cannot say that there was any wound on him. I just took a casual glance and handed him over to the other officer, so I could go up and investigate the case. If there were any wounds I did not see them.

By Counsel Did you notice anything else about the condition of the complainant besides the fact that he was bleeding? He looked like a man that had taken liquor - not Rossi, but the other man. Have been on the police force seven years.

The Case for the Defence

Joseph Rossi, sworn and examined, testified. I have been a barber for about five months. How long have you been in this country? Three years and a half. Have you ever been in trouble? Never in my life, neither here nor in my own country. I have attended to my business. What were you doing that morning that you saw this complainant? The boss was sending me into the razor shop where they sharpen razors. Where were you working then? I was working down Seventh Avenue between Thirty fourth and Thirty fifth sts. What was the name of the man you worked for? I cannot tell you the name now. I only worked for him a month. You were walking from there to go where the razor was to be sharpened? Yes. You passed by the saloon where this complainant was? I was on the sidewalk and I saw a crowd standing in front of the saloon. The boot black fellow went out of the saloon and he was crying. I asked him what was the matter? He said a drunken fellow in there was punching and slapping him and a gentleman from behind the bar chucked him out of the door. I went into the saloon with him and he asked me what I would have to drink? I said, "a little whiskey." The complainant said to me, "You Italian son of a b—h you have come in here to take that fellow's part." I said, "What the hell do I know about you and him? I came in here to get a drink." He grabbed me by the throat. There were three or four fellows there and the barkeeper—he said, "I want to choke that God damned Italian", and he jumped on me and punched me and knocked me down. I got up and was running out when he caught me by the neck. I had a razor in my pocket and I hit him. As soon as he seen the Hood he let me alone and I ran out. The policeman caught me in the middle of the block. I did not <sup>try to</sup> run away.

Cross Examined. I was taking the razors to Ninth Avenue and Thirty fourth Street. I live in Harlem, 335 East 106th Street. The boss gave me the razors the night before and told me to get them sharpened. I left the razor on the counter of a grocery store and the policeman got it. The complainant held me tight by the throat and I drew the razor out and shook it open. I could do it very easily. I had hold of the handle. Did you try to get away from the complainant before you used the razor, before you cut the man with the razor? Yes, I tried; he was squeezing me very much and I cut him. I was not acquainted with the foot block, I knew him about two months. Officer Hahn recalled. I found the razor on the street outside of the grocery store. I do not know the defendant. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty of assault in the third degree with a recommendation to mercy.

the grand jury will be required to the finding of this indictment. The best information that can be obtained at this late date, shows that the defendant immediately upon the finding of this indictment gave up the business, and the testimony now at hand is of such a character as would not justify the District At-recommend the discharge of Defendant Rumble

POLICE COURT
SECOND DISTRICT

THE PEOPLE &c.
WILLIAM J. CLARK

against

GEORGE W. RUMPLE and CHARLES
Matthews

-----
For the defendant Mr. HOUSE and Mr. WARREN

W. J. CLARK, the complaining witness, being further examined by the Court, deposes and says:

Q. You are a detective Sergeant of the Municipal Police Department?
A. Yes sir.

Q. On or about the 18th day of May of this year did you have any transaction with these defendants? A. Yes sir.

Q. Just state exactly what took place? A. At 11.30 o'clock in the morning I went to the place, I went to a desk, there was a young man standing there calling off a board. I said
"Two shares of Orange Mining Stock". I put down a five dollar bill. He said "Balance" "$2.25." He gave me the paper attached to the affidavit there and $2.75 change and then I waited for a short time. The stock was quoted at 97 on the board. It then went to 98, then to 97 and a moment after to 96. I <sup>asked</sup> ~~asked~~ him about it. He said "You are wiped out E 17". There was a difference of about three moments between the time I paid and the time he informed me that I had lost.

Q. Was the cylinder of the phonograph changed in the mean time?
A. No, sir, I did not see it.

CROSS-EXAMINED by Mr. WARREN:

- Q. Was there a black board upon the wall upon which the prices were being marked with chalk? A. Yes sir.
- Q. Did you see the phonograph that was in the room? A. Yes sir.
- Q. Where was it sitting? A. Right under the board.
- Q. On a table? A. On a table.
- Q. And when the phonograph -- the man made an announcement it was plain to be heard as to the stock that was offered to be sold and the price? A. I could not distinguish what the phonograph said.
- Q. Did you see it? A. Yes sir. All I heard was the man sitting at the phonograph dictating to the man who was writing on the board.
- Q. Do you mean the man sitting at the phonograph telling the one placing upon the board the quotations as they came off? A. Yes sir.
- Q. Did you read the paper that was handed to you when you purchased the shares? A. Yes sir.
- Q. You saw that it was an invoice, a receipt that was delivered to you on which was a notice "All stock subject to immediate delivery to the purchaser"? A. Yes.
- Q. Did you ask for the stock? A. No sir.
- Q. Do you say that the cylinder was not changed? A. I did not see it.
- Q. I did not ask you that, I ask you do you say that the cylinder was not changed from the time you purchased it until the stock was marked at the price of 96? A. I did not see it changed. I do not say that it was not.

- Q. I ask you will you swear that it was not changed? A. No sir, I will not swear that it was not changed.
- Q. So that whether the cylinder from the time you purchased to the time of the last quotation had been changed, you do not know? A. No sir, I do not know.
- Q. Now did you ask him what the price of Orange stock was? A. I saw it on the board.
- Q. Do you know what the 25 cents, when he stated what the price was, what it was for? A. No sir. He informed me after.
- Q. Did you ask? A. No sir.
- Q. Did you ask him what commission he charged? A. No sir.
- Q. You went there Sergeant for the purpose of ascertaining just what the business was, and if it was illegitimate to have it broken up; that was the purpose-- to get evidence? A. Yes sir.
- Q. Did you see Mr. Rumble? A. Yes sir.
- Q. This gentleman the defendant? A. Yes sir.
- Q. Was he the man who sold you the stock? A. No sir.
- Q. This one that you talked with, he was this young man? A. Yes sir.
- Q. Mr. Matthews? A. Yes sir.
- Q. In that conversation did not he tell you that the margin that you put up was wiped out? A. No sir.
- Q. Did you offer to pay for any stock? A. No sir.
- Q. Did you make any offer to pay for this stock or take it? A. No sir.
- Q. And whether it was there ready to deliver or not, you do not know? A. No sir.
- Q. Did you buy the stock with the expectation of winning or losing yourself? A. Yes sir.

Q. When you got that notice that the price went up one per cent why didn't you sell? A. I was waiting to see how much over it would go up.

Q. Waiting for a higher margin, is that it? A. Yes sir.

Q. You waited a little too long as it turned out? A. The whole transaction was in about three minutes.

Q. Why didn't you go and demand the stock and buy it at the price for which you had purchased it? A. I was told I was wiped out and I thought that was the end of it.

Q. You didn't make any inquiry what that meant? A. That I had lost the margin. Was wiped out.

Q. Why didn't you put up more? A. I didn't care about it.

RE-DIRECT BY THE COURT:

Q. At the time you said you wanted two shares of Orange Mining stock and <sup>laid</sup> ~~had~~ down a $5 bill <sup>were</sup> ~~was~~ you asked how much you desired to pay on account of the stock? A. No sir.

Q. Was there any explanation made or offered to be made as to why they took out $2.25 out of your five dollars?

A. No sir.

Q. Was there any inquiry made of you as to the time when you would probably call for the stock? A. No sir.

Q. Anything said about the length of time you might have within which to come with the balance of money and pay for the stock?

A. No sir.

RE-DIRECT by Mr. HOUSE:

Q. At the time that you went up to this young man and stated that you would take two shares of Orange Mining Stock and laid down your $5 and got $2.75 change, was that paper given to you? A. Yes sir.

Q. Now you understand the English language when it is spoken?

A. Yes sir.

Q. You also understand it when it is printed? A. Yes sir.

Q. Did you look at this paper when it was handed to you?

A. Yes sir.

Q. You saw at the head of it "All stock subject to immediate delivery" A. Yes sir.

Q. When you had got that $2.75 back and had received this paper, was there anything to prevent your asking this man to deliver the stock to you? A. No sir.

Q. You knew that was your contract, didn't you? A. That was on the paper, yes.

Q. There was nothing there that prevented you from asking for this stock, was there? A. No sir.

Q. There was nothing there when you got this $2.75 which prevented you from demanding this stock? A. I didn't suppose the written notice had --

Q. I ask you the plain and simple question, was there anything which prevented you at the time you read that piece of paper with the statement at the head of it -- which prevented you from demanding the stock? A. Yes sir.

Q. What was it? A. I hadn't the money to pay for it.

Q. Did you tell this young man there from whom you purchased that stock that you hadn't the money to pay for it?

A. No sir.

Q. And with the exception that you did not have in your possession at that time money to pay for the stock, there was no other fact that prevented you from demanding it, was there?

A. No sir.

Q. You naver have demanded that stock either from Mr. Rumble or from any one, have you? A. No sir.

Mr. HOUSE: The stock is here now and you can have it.

The paper referred to by witness is marked
"Defendant's Exhibit 1, May 18, O.Jr."

INSPECTOR William W. McLOUGHLIN being duly sworn as a witness for the people, deposes and says:

EXAMINED by the COURT:

Q. You are Chief Inspector of the Police Department?

A. I am inspector of the Detective Bureau.

Q. Are you acquainted with the defendant? A. Mr. Rumble I know for some time.

Q. Did you at any time since the 15th day of May, have any conversation with Mr. Rumble relative to the subject matter of this complaint. A. I was present and made the arrest myself with three others of the Detective Bureau. I had a conversation with him in the back room.

Q. State what that conversation was? A. He stated that he was responsible for everything there, that he didn't want any body arrested there but himself; that if anybody had done wrong it was him. We removed these machines. There was one of them in a back room that stood on a kind of a table, possibly a little higher than the desk here. He was very particular about removing that. He said that that was the machine- the phonograph into which <sup>he</sup> they talked all these quotations of stock on these cylinders. There was two or three machines in different places, one in a back room, these cylinders and these books also in a back room. I also asked him about his previous arrest.

Objected to.

THE COURT: That is proper. That is a part of the conversation?

A. I refer to the time when he was at 15 New Street, at that time he was selling some Mining Stock, didn't have any listed prices, took them out of a box, subsequently he was discharged at the Court of Special Sessions.

CROSS-EXAMINED BY Mr. WARREN:

Q. Is that all the conversation? A. That is all I remember.

Q. And at the time he was arrested before for selling Mining Stock he was tried at the Court of Special Sessions?

A. Yes.

Q. And he was acquitted? A. I think he was. If I remember he was acquitted at the Court of Special Sessions.

The People Rest.

Mr. WARREN: We move for the discharge of the prisoners upon the ground that there is no proof of the commission of criminal offense by the defendants or either of them.

THE COURT: I think there is proof <sup>here</sup> ~~there~~.

Mr. WARREN: We think that Mr. Matthews ought to be discharged as he is merely a clerk and Mr. Bumble assumes the responsibility.

The COURT: The complainant swears that Mr. Matthews is the one with whom he had the transaction.

Adjourned to May 19 at 10 A.M.

EXAMINATION CONTINUED May 19th 1893.

GEORGE W. RUMBLE, being duly sworn as a witness in his own behalf deposes and says.

Examined by MR. Warren.

Question. And Mr. Matthews who is also one of the defendants, is a clerk in your employ? A. Yes sir, he is simply a clerk.

Question. The cylinders which are placed upon these phonographs and give the quotations of stock that you sell where are they dictated to? A. They come to me from Chicago and are dictated to the phonograph in Chicago.

Question. By whom? A. By Mr. Rogers the owner of the stock.

Question. When these cylinders are forwarded to you from Chicago are they accompanied with the stock that you offered to sell as appears by the dictation upon the phonograph.

A. They were, and the stock is now in my possession ready for delivery?

Question. Have you the certificate of stock ready for delivery which were purchased by Mr. Clark? A. Yes sir.

Question. Did you know what the quotations were upon the cylinders until they were announced by the phonograph in the public room? A. I did not.

CROSS EXAMINED BY THE COURT:

Question. When you speak of quotations on the cylinder you mean the statement of Mr. Rogers as to the prices at which he would buy or sell certain stocks? A. yes sir.

Question These statements or offers of purchase or sale were in no wise a market price except as applied to Mr. Rogers individually? A. They were the market prices in San Francisco; also Mr. Rogers price at which he was willing to make the transfers.

Question How can they be regulated by the market price in San Francisco if upon a day certain they were dictated in Chicago and afterwards transmitted to you, allowing for the fluctuations of market prices in San Francisco in the mean time.

A. They were within twenty-four hours of the San Francisco market prices.

Question. But were not the prices simply Mr. Rogers individual offers to purchase or sell? A. These identical ones were Mr. Rogers's offers to sell precisely as he would offer, himself, to sell.

Street, aged 29 years,

being duly sworn, deposes and says, that on the 15 day of May 1897, at the City of New York, in the County of New York, George W. Rumble and Charles Matthews now here, did keep a gambling establishment at No 40 New Street, in violation of Section 343 of the Penal Code of the City of New York, under the following circumstances. On said date, the said Rumble was in charge of said place, and there were signs affixed thereto, and a bill of sale hereto annexed was issued from said place, signed by the said Rumble in a printed form. Deponent entered the said place about the hour of 11.30 O'clock <sup>A.M.</sup> and there found the said place being used for the purpose of making wagers or bets on the future price of stocks. There was a blackboard on which was recorded from time to time figures purporting to represent the prices of certain stocks on the stock exchange, and the fluctuations thereon, and deponent saw various persons there, practically making bets by making pretended purchases and sales of stocks, and deponent then and there practically made a bet on the future price of Orange Mining Co. stock, in the following manner to wit: Deponent went to a desk where the said Matthews was, and deponent said "Two shares of Orange" the defendant Matthews said "Two dollars and twenty five cents". At the time deponent paid the said Matthews the said money, the said stock was quoted at 97, and a few minutes thereafter the said stock was quoted at 96, and the said Matthews then said to deponent "You are 'wiped out'" meaning thereby that deponent had lost the said money. At the time of the said transaction the Defendant Matthews gave to Deponent the annexed paper marked No 528, which Deponent charges is a pretended bill of sale for said stock and a mere subterfuge to evade the law and to conceal the fact that the said transaction was a mere bet. And the Defendant Rumble was in room and within hearing of the transaction and within ten feet of where Deponent stood. The said stock was never delivered to Deponent, and Deponent saw that the prices placed on the blackboard were called off from a phonograph, a talking machine, placed in the said room.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEWYORK

Against
JAMES RUSSELL

-----X
To the

Honorable Frederick Smyth,

Recorder.

Sir:-

In regard to the above-named defendant, James Russell, who was tried and convicted before you, I have the honor to submit the following report:

Mr. Wolcott, of No. 326 Pearl Street stated; James Russell worked for me about ten days last May, just before he was arrested. Previous to six years ago he worked for my father in Rose Street, about eighteen months.

Peter Russell, brother of James Russell, the defendant, who works for American Press Association, 34 Vesey St., stated:

My brother worked for Mr. Walcott about one year ago for a period of two months and left to go with the American Press Association to better himself. He was discharged for absenting himself one day. He worked for them seven or eight months. He has always lived at No. 102 James St.

Thomas Allison, Shipping Clerk for American Press Association, stated:

James Russell worked for us about eight months previous to February 15th 1893. He was a good worker and apparently honest.

Russell's mother died about three years ago; his father disappeared about six years since and his whereabouts are unknown.

On June 27th 1890, Russell was sent to the Catholic Protectory, by Justice Gorman, on a charge of vagrancy, and was discharged December 1st 1891. He has a brother John, now in the Catholic Protectory doing his second term. First time for burglary and the second time for petit larceny.

Respectfully submitted

INDICTED FOR GRAND LARCENY IN THE SECOND DEGREE.

INDICTMENT FILED JUNE 7TH, 1893.

*****

APPEARANCES:

ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEY HARRY W. MACDONA,

For THE PEOPLE.

FREDERICK B. HOUSE, ESQ.,

For THE DEFENSE.

*****

GEORGE W. WAGNER testified that he was a driver for a newspaper wagon, and his business brings him into town early in the morning. He lives at 101 3rd Street, Brooklyn, and lived there on May 21st. On that day he brought to New York a sorrel horse and a wagon. On the wagon was painted, "The Brooklyn Daily Citizen", and his employer's name and address, Slickerman, 329 16th Street. The value of the horse and wagon was $200. At half-past 2 o'clock in the morning, he left the wagon in front of Nos. 1 and 3 North William Street, in this City, and he did not see it again until Monday morning, when he got it up in 124th Street, in a stable. The witness missed the wagon about 4 o'clock that morning, when he came out to get it. Officer Coleman, who arrested the defendant, showed him where the wagon was. The loss was reported at the Oak Street Police Station. In the witness testified that the property did not belong to him, but to Alexander Slickerman, who resides in Brooklyn. The witness did not fasten his horse in front of 1 and 3 North William Street but simply allowed him to stand there. While he left his horse there he went for his breakfast at Dolan's restaurant in Park Row, about three blocks distant. The exact time that he left the horse and wagon there was 25 minutes after two o'clock. He returned to the basement, and, at 4 o'clock, when he was ready to return to Brooklyn, he missed the horse and wagon. The witness authorized nobody to take that horse and wagon away.

C r o s s   E x a m i n a t i o n

LAWRENCE F. COLEMAN testified that he is attached to the 29th precinct, and that the station-house is at 148 East 116th Street. He was on duty on the morning in question, on Third Avenue from 122 to 126th Street. He saw the defendant that morning between 4 and 5 o'clock at 125th Street and 3rd Avenue, driving a horse and wagon. On the wagon was painted, "The Brooklyn Citizen," and "Slickerman, 329 16th Street, South Brooklyn." The defendant was driving the wagon, at a moderate gait, in a Northerly direction. There were two more in the wagon, and when they were pursued, they ran towards Lexington Avenue. The defendant made an attempt to get out of the wagon, but the newspaper delivery man, who was waiting there, grabbed him, and the officer came up and took him into custody. He was sober. The witness took charge of the horse and wagon, and notified the owner. When the witness arrested the defendant, he had a conversation with him. The witness asked, what he was doing with the wagon. The defendant said, "I am taking it to the stable." The witness asked, "Where is the stable?" The defendant said, 16th Street. The witness inquired, "Why didn't you stop there?"

The defendant answered, "I fell asleep." The witness asked, "How did you come by the wagon?" The defendant answered, "I took it from three boys." The defendant said that one of the boys lived in Oliver Street, but that he could not give him the number, so that the witness could find him. In the witness testified that, at the time of the foregoing conversation, the defendant was on the corner of 125th Street, on the way to the station house. The horse was very much heated, and the defendant was giving him a chance to cool off. The witness was somewhat of a horseman. He made the same statement in the station-house and in the police court.

*****

THE DEFENSE

JAMES RUSSELL, the defendant, testified that he is 17 years of age, was born in New York City, and lived at 102 James Street, and lived there, with his sister-in-law, about 9 months, and prior to this time he had never before been arrested, or charged with the commission of any crime. He worked for Elbridge E. Walcott, 326 Pearl Street as a label printer. He denied that he stole the horse and wagon in question. He admitted that he drove a horse and wagon, but he denied that he took them from in front of Nos. 1 and 3 North William Street. He testified that he took the horse and wagon from several boys, in Spruce Street. He testified, further, "Two little boys were going through Spruce Street with the wagon. I said, 'Where did you get it?' they said, 'in North William Street, No. 5.' I said, 'You get off there and I will take it to the stable.' and I was going to take it to the stable, and I fell asleep, and the man woke me up, and he said, where did I get it, and I told him. I told him I was going to take it to the stable, in 16th Street and he held me till the officer came." He did not see the "South Brooklyn" part of the sign on the wagon. When he saw "16th Street", on the sign he supposed it was in this City. The boys said that they took the horse and wagon from 5 North William Street. They said that they stole the wagon. In answer to the question, "Why didn't you take the horse and wagon right around to the Oak Street station-house?" The defendant said, "I brought it up to the stable. I thought I would get something for taking it up", and, therefore, he did not take it to the police station, which was nearby, or deliver it to the first policeman that he met. In the witness testified in answer to his counsel's question, "Why didn't you drive it around the corner from Spruce Street into North William" that,

"I passed the door, and asked a couple of fellows who owns this wagon, and they told me to bring it up to the stable, and I would get something for bringing it up." He admitted that the wagon had on it, in big letters, the words, "The Brooklyn Citizen."
