Fishman

New York, Dec 2 1886

Randolph B. Martine Esq
District Attorney

Dear Sir: The above named defendant was indicted for violation of the medical acts. Although technically guilty he showed evidence of having studied medicine abroad and asked permission to pass the Regents' examination. The Medical Society assented to this. He passed an examination, registered, and I withdrew the prosecution in open court when it came on for trial. I must have been understood as consenting to a postponement, as he tells me he could not get his bail bond released without my statement of the above facts.

The County Society who lodged the complaint consent to a dismissal of the indictment

I am very truly yours

State of New York City and County of New York } ss:

Information of Alexander Ross taken on oath before me this 2nd day of June 1886 touching a charge of grand larceny in the first degree.

Alexander Ross being duly sworn did depose and say: I am 42 years of age. I reside at number 434 West 83rd Street in the City County and State of New York. On the 17th day of March 1886 I was the owner of seven hundred and fifty dollars in bank bills lawful money of the United States of America. On the said 17th day of March 1886 at the said City County and State of New York to wit at number 23 Chambers Street in said City the said seven hundred and fifty dollars, bank bills, lawful money as aforesaid, was feloniously taken stolen and carried away by Horace W.
Flanders, who resides at No 265, ~~Oriskany~~ Avenue in said City and Frederick D. Smith who resides at No 332 W 26th Street in said City, with intent to deprive me of the possession thereof and to feloniously convert the same to their own use, said money being taken from me by said Flanders and Smith by color and aid of false and fraudulent representations as hereinafter set forth.

On the 28th day of February 1886 thro appeared in the edition of the New York Herald published on that day an advertisement of which the following is a copy.

"A copartner required with $1000 cash in a ~~thoroughly~~ thoroughly established, genteel office business paying large profits; best references; entire satisfaction warranted. Fred. R. Donuth, Attorney-at-Law 23 Chambers St."

that in answer to said advertisement I called upon said Donuth at his office at 23 Chambers street, and was then informed by him that the above advertisement had been inserted by him and that he wished to secure a partner for an old friend of his who was engaged in the business of selling a patented pillow sham holder; a few days thereafter at the suggestion of said Donuth I again called at said office and was introduced by said Donuth to Horace R. Flanders at the friend above referred to.

Said Flanders then stated to me that he had the territory for the sale of a patented pillow sham holder, which territory was worth at least five or six thousand dollars; that he was also the owner of 300 000 ~~thousand~~ letters used by merchants for advertising purposes which letters were worth at least three thousand dollars that the profits derived from the said business amounted to at least twenty five dollars per day and often amounted to seventy-five dollars per day and that he said Flinders had been engaged in said business for the past six months and that the said business was a staple one and that he had over one hundred agents distributed over his said territory selling said patented pillow sham holders that said statements were made to me in presence of said Smith by said Flinders and that said Smith then said to me that he knew that all of said statements were true.

Said Smith and Flinders then offered to sell me a one half interest in said business for one thousand dollars and relying solely on the truth of the statements so made by them I agreed to <sup>and did</sup> purchase the same for said sum and then and there paid to them <sup>the said</sup> seven hundred and fifty dollars in cash and also gave them my promissory note for two hundred and fifty dollars. The statements so made by said Smith and Flinders were all false and untrue that said Flinders has since admitted to me that such was the fact and that Smith has told me that he had no personal knowledge of what he said to me, was true and Flinders purchased said territory for the sale of said patented pillow sham holders from me for $1.00 for an amount not exceeding one hundred and fifty dollars and that the same

What
Blair told
Henry

was not worth even a cent. I am as dependent as informed by said Henry and verily believes that as said Henry has also told me that he was in business with said Flanders until he succeeded in depriving me of my money and that from November 20th 1885 to March 17th 1886 the profits in said business did not amount altogether to one hundred and fifty dollars.

Said Flanders
also informed said Henry that he had succeeded in selling me a one half interest in said business and that Smith had drawn an agreement for said one that was merely a blind. That Smith share of what they received from me was $1000 and that I would become disgusted in a short time and sell out for $25 that he Flanders would give Henry $25 to buy me out. I would never have parted with my money except on the faith of the representations made by Smith and Flanders as above set forth. They entered into a scheme or conspiracy to cheat and defraud me of the aforesaid sum of money. I therefore pray for a warrant for their arrest on a charge of larceny in the first degree.

At the request of Mr the within case. Both Depts. Flanely, & Smith should be indicted.

Smith was the lawyer.
and should not be allowed to escape.
It is an old old would be convicted.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

Steadiness and Firmness the Characteristics of the Market.

Prices STRUGGLE UPWARD.

Figures Strong and Showing a Moderate Amount of Improvement.

WALL STREET, SATURDAY, MAY 15—6 P. M.
The market closed in a so-so sort of way, occurred to make it better or worse. Actually, it closed neither better nor worse than it began at it from a microscopical point of view, here and there some infinitesimal changes in a small way these changes were for the better, the leading stocks ended the day fractionally higher than they opened at.

Reason for their doing so, except that Board members thought there was a better chance of getting an eighth or a quarter by pushing stocks downward. Generally speaking, the market was right, but as an actual matter of fact the declines and the petty advances of the day were of no significance whatever. As to-day's financial news of any significance, possibly to the greatest extent, but nothing of it was that the selling of Lake Shore, and Erie was based on the statement that the tonnage this week will be very light and large comparative falling off. Another part of it was that the Oregon and Transcontinental Railroad expect to do something at the coming directors' meeting in June which will greatly increase the property. To secure a vote at the meeting, the stockholders must get themselves registered or transfer books before May 20. What they do or expect to do is so far a dead secret, market closed sluggish, inactive and barely

In United States government the four and a half declined ¼, to 128½; the 4½'s sold, ex coupon, at 113½. The exchange market was quiet but steady, with nominal asking quotations unchanged at 4.87 for sixty days and 4.89 for demand. Actual business was done at the close at 4.86½ and 4.88½ for sixty day bills, 4.88½ and 4.89 for demand, 4.89½ and 4.89½ for cables and 4.88½ and 4.88½ for commercial. COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS.

THE PEOPLE
vs.
FREDERICK P. SMITH.
-----x

GRAND LARCENY.

The defendant stands indicted since the 17th of June, 1886, for Grand Larceny in the first degree, having been co-indicted with Horace N. Flanders. On September 10th, 1886, Flanders' bail was forfeited. On October 5th, 1886, as the result of a trial of the indictment against Smith, there was a disagreement of the Jury, and on March 29th ult. his bail was discharged. Application is now made for the dismissal of the indictment against Smith, and the case is referred to me for examination and report.

As disclosed by the information, the following are the circumstances upon which the indictment was based:

One Alexander Ross, the complainant, residing in this city, answered, by calling at the office of defendant a few days after its publication, the following advertisement, which appeared in the New York Herald of February 28, 1886:

"A Co-partner required with $1000 cash in a thoroughly established genteel office business paying large profits; best references; entire satisfaction warranted. Fred P. Smith, Attorney at law, 23 Chambers St."

The defendant, who is an attorney at law, then told him that he had inserted the advertisement, and that he wished to procure a partner for an old friend of his who was engaged in the business of selling a patented pillow sham holder. A few days thereafter, at the solicitation of this defendant, complainant again called at said office, and was introduced by this defendant to Horace N. Flanders as the friend above referred to, when, as alleged by complainant, Flanders stated to complainant that he had the territory for the sale of a patented pillow sham holder, which territory was worth at least Five or Six thousand dollars; that he was also the owner of 300,000 letters used by merchants for advertising purposes, which letters were worth at least $3000; that the profits derived from said business amounted to at least $25 per day, and often amounted to $75 per day, and that he, said Flanders, had been engaged in said business for the six months previous to said time, and that the said business was a staple one, and that he had over one hundred agents distributed over his said territory selling such patented pillow sham holders. Said statements, it is alleged by the information, were made to complainant in the presence of defendant Smith by said Flanders, and said Flanders then said to plaintiff that he knew that all of said statements were true, and that complainant, relying solely upon the truth of the above statements, purchased one half interest in said business for $1000, paying the same in $750 cash and a promissory note for $250; that all said statements were untrue, and known by Smith and Flanders to be so; that said Flanders, subsequent to the transaction, so admitted to complainant, and that defendant Smith also told complainant

POOR QUALITY
ORIGINAL

0568

that he had no personal knowledge that what he had said to complainant was true. The information further states, presumably as evidence of the falsity of the alleged representations, that the said business theretofore had been purchased by Flanders from one John N. Henry for an amount not exceeding $150, and that said Henry has informed complainant that from November 20th, 1885, to March 17th, 1886, the profits of said business did not amount altogether to $150, and that said Flanders had also informed said Henry that he had succeeded in selling complainant a one half interest in said business; that defendant Smith had drawn an agreement for said sale that was merely a blind, and that Smith's share of what they received from complainant was $100, and that complainant would become disgusted in a short time and sell out for $25, and that Flanders would give Henry $25 to buy complainant out.

There is annexed to the information an affidavit of Henry confirming all that is alleged in the complainant's affidavit as having been said by Henry.

Of course, upon the truth or falsity of the alleged representations, and the defendant's reliance thereon, depends the case for the People. I have sent in vain several times to secure the attendance of the complainant upon this consideration. In response to one of those messages, his attorney called, and I requested him on that occasion to procure his presence, which he then promised me, but failed to do. I have accordingly been compelled to infer the merits of the case from other facts, unaided by his personal statement.

ORIGINAL

Among the papers submitted by the counsel for defendant Smith upon this application is a Bill of Sale of the business alluded to from the complainant, in consideration of the sum of $650, and divers other good and valuable considerations. The said bill of sale is dated the 9th of October, 1886, seven months after the purchase by complainant from defendant Flanders. The Bill of Sale is proper in form, and during his call upon me the counsel for complainant admitted the correctness and validity of the said bill of sale, and the delivery to him of the consideration mentioned.

Annexed hereto is the affidavit of William S. McPheeters attorney for defendant Smith, who drew the said Bill of Sale, reciting the fact of its delivery and the form of the consideration therein expressed.

I have also conversed with defendant Smith, whose affidavit is hereto annexed. Contrary to the allegations of the information, Mr. Smith, in his affidavit, declares that he does not know that any one of said alleged representations were made; that the conversation between Mr. Flanders and Mr. Ross, at which such alleged representations were made, was held in a different room from that wherein he was, and he could not hear any of the conversation so held; that if such representations were made, he did not know anything as to their truth or falsity; that his relation with Mr. Flanders was that of an attorney towards his client, and that any step he took in the matter on behalf of Mr. Flanders was simply in that relation; that he had no interest in any business affair of Mr.

0570

Flanders except in that relation; that he was not interested in the profits of any transaction with Mr. Flanders; that the only interest he had in the matter of the transaction between Ross and Flanders was the receipt of his professional fees as an attorney, and the only compensation he received in that shape was $10 from each of the parties concerned, namely, Ross and Flanders.

The gist of the falsity of the representations made, consists if falsity there be, in the statements as to the value. It is impracticable to test the truth of such general statements as that the business was a staple one, and that Flanders had over one hundred agents therein distributed over any certain territory. Nor if ~~they~~ a standard of their verification or disproof were at hand would they necessarily touch the question in point. The specific statements as to the profits derived from said business furnish the only tangible utterance whereby to test the fraud or good faith of the representations. It seems to me that the best test of whether statements as to value were correct is furnished by subsequent developments showing the marketable value of that in regard to which such statements were made. In March, the complainant purchases a certain thing for $750 cash and a note of $250. He holds that thing for seven months and meanwhile, as appears from the minutes of the trial, he collects, by virtue of its ownership, some $275. At the end of that seven months he re-conveys the thing in question for $650 and his said note. Surely, if the sale and purchase price of the thing furnish any criterion of the truth or falsity of the statements as to its value, then the fraud alleged in this transaction fails of proof. Complainant appears to have made rather than to have lost money, and even if he had lost more or less, that fact would not prove the fraudulent intent of defendant. His loss might arise from a dozen other and independent reasons. But at present, that fact does not enter in to complicate the decision in this matter. The complainant is in a more advantageous position pecuniarily by reason of the agreement than he was before.

I have been unable to find out the whereabouts of Henry. He is not at the address given in his affidavit. I have consequently been unable to estimate by an examination of either him or the complainant what weight is to be accorded to the statements attributed to him by the information. Even if substantiated, they are very remote proof to connect the defendant Smith with any possible fraudulent intent on the part of Flanders. The only statement therein referring to him, namely, that his share of the proceeds of the sale was $100, would not be at all inconsistent with absolute good faith on his part.

Upon the affidavits herewith, and upon all the foregoing facts, I accordingly recommend that the indictment against said defendant Smith be dismissed.

Frederick P. Smith, being duly sworn, deposes and says: I am the defendant above named. I have read the information in this case, and the statement therein contained of alleged representations made by Horace N.
Flanders, defendant herein, to Alexander Ross, complainant.
I do not know of my own knowledge that any one of the said alleged representations were made. The conversation between Mr. Flanders and Mr. Ross, at which such alleged representations were made, was held in a different room from that wherein I was, and I could not hear any of the conversation so held. If such representations were made I do not know anything as to their truth or falsity. My relation with Mr. Flanders was that of attorney towards his client; and any step I took in the matter on behalf of Mr. Flanders was simply in that relation. I had no interest in any business affair of Mr. Flanders, except in that relation. I was not interested in the profits of any transaction with Mr. Flanders. The only interest I had in the matter of the transaction between Ross and Flanders was the receipt of my professional fees as an attorney, and the only compensation I received in that shape was ten dollars from each of the parties concerned,
