with short gold chain of the value of about twenty five dollars - all together of the value of about three hundred and fifty five dollars

the property of Deponent and deponent further says, that he has great cause to believe, and does believe, that the aforesaid BURGLARY was committed and the aforesaid property taken, stolen, and carried away by

William Hickey - Howard Hawk and John for the reasons following, to wit: that on the said twenty fourth day of August about three o'clock in the morning, deponent was awakened from her sleep and discovered a man in her room - at premises 21 East 24th Street. the said man approached deponent's bed side and pointing a pistol at Defendant is informed by Dennis Grady and George Drann both of the Central Office Detective Office that the defendants Cross and Hawk admitted to them that they assisted the defendant Hickley in obtaining an entrance into defendant's premises on the aforesaid date. New York, Dec 8th/93.

Mon. Frederick Smythe,

Recorder.

My Dear Sir:-

In reference to the case of John J. Cross/William Hickey and Harry Hawk, I beg to state that they were arrested on the 19th of October on the charge of having committed a burglary in the first degree at the residence of Mrs. V. G. Hall No 21 East 24th street, this city, at three o'clock in the morning. Hickey stood on the shoulders of Cross climbed up on the front porch opened a window on the 2d floor, went in, found the woman asleep, put his head out of the window and asked his companions on the outside if he would hold her up. They said yes, then he went back, awoke the woman put his pistol to her head and while she was sitting up in bed made her take the diamond earrings out of her ears and the diamond brooch from her night dress and hand them over to him, he then took some other valuables from the room-- a ring, silver watch and other jewelry.

The nurse attracted by Mrs Hall's scream came into the room and she too was held up at the point of the pistol, in escaping Hickey dropped one of the Diamond earrings on the inside of the room and dropped his revolver in the areaway the other earring was recovered by me and identified by Mrs Hall as one of the diamond earrings taken from her on the night of the burglary, the remainder of the jewelry has not been recovered, Hickey gave some information as to where the ring was pawned and the officers went there and found it had been released two days after it was pawned.

Hickey is one of the most desperate criminals I know of at the present time, his specialty was burglary in the first degree and robbing people at night time at the point of a pistol. He has been interested in several cases of that kind, and was arrested at different times but in each case from want of identification he escaped punishment.

He was arrested by Captain McAvoy's men for burglary of $500. in cash from a widow woman in W. 56th St., he climbed a fire escape to the 4th story to get this money and was identified by the woman. He was held for trial on that case but it never came up, at the time of Hickey's arrest on this charge he was confined in the Tombs on charge of robbing an Italian in the Prison Pen at Jefferson Market Court, while he was confined at the latter place for disorderly conduct.

I made an investigation relative to Cross's character and can only find that he originally came from Chicago and worked for 5 or 6 years in the neighborhood of 6th Ave., & 33rd St. as a boot black & porter.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF	:	INDICTMENT FILED SEPTEMBER
NEW YORK	:	7th, 1893. INDICTED FOR
vs	:	ASSAULT IN THE FIRST DEGREE
CHARLES HOLED.	:

BEFORE

HON. RANDOLPH P. MARTINE AND A JURY.

A P P E A R A N C E S.

FOR THE PEOPLE, ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEY, BARTOW S. WEEKS.
FOR THE DEFENDANT, HENRY PRESPRITH.

New York, December 14th, 1893.

ANTON NOUVOUKY, the complainant in this action, being duly sworn, testifies as follows:
I am a tailor by occupation and am employed by Miss Murray, No. 9 East 38th Street. The defendant now at the bar was in the employ of the same lady on the second of December, this year. On that day, it was a Saturday, I came into my work-room and began to take off my coat.
Just as I began to take off my coat the defendant began to curse and call me names. He said to me "Are you here?
I will break every bone in your body to-day" and all the time he was swearing.

I did not pay any attention to him at all because I was astonished that he began to talk in that way. This was at eight o' clock in the morning. I took my coat off and walked over to my cutting table intending to begin to work, to begin to cut. He damned all the time but I did not mind him. He did not start to work but sat down in a chair with his arms folded. He said several times, "I will fix you today. I will break every bone in your body today."

I was very much astonished, but I did not mind him and I began to work. All at once he took out a brass handled pocket knife from his pocket and made a jump for me. He took hold of me by the back of the neck. He jumped between eight or ten feet for me. He caught me by the back of the neck. I put up my hand and he drew the knife right across my fingers. Each of my fingers were cut seriously.

I shouted out, help, this man wants to murder me. A number of the ladies employed by Mrs. Murray, came into the room when they heard my cry for help. Then I saw that my hand was cut. I went to the wash basin, and washed the blood off of it. I had been cutting and I had a large pair of shears in my hand. When the Defendant caught me by the back of the neck, I threw up my hands with the shears in them. If the Defendant got cut on the forehead, it may have happened by the shears, which were in my hand, coming in contact with his forehead. I did not deliberately strike him with the shears, and I do not know that I cut him with the shears at any time. I had the Defendant arrested. I then went to the hospital and had my hand dressed. I was at the hospital four times altogether; my hand is not quite well yet and one of my fingers will be useless; as it is now I can not use it at all. After the cutting I was in the room with the defendant alone. There were no witnesses present. A number of the ladies employed by Miss Murray came into the room after the fight was all over. They saw my hand covered with blood. None of them know what took place before they came into the room as the door was closed. The women work in a different part of the building from the men. The defendant and myself were the only two men employed by Miss Murray.

CROSS-EXAMINATION.

- Q. Who got there first on that Saturday morning? A. The defendant got there first.
- Q. What was he doing when you came into the room? A. He was not doing anything but sitting down in the chair. I could not tell whether he had started to work or not before I came there. As soon as I came in the door on that morning, he began to curse and damn. I paid no attention
- Q. How long was he swearing before he came over to where you were? A. About three minutes.
- Q. What time did you get to work on that Saturday morning?
- A. Eight o'clock.
- Q. Is it not a fact that when you sit at this cutting table you have your back to the wall of the room? A. I had my back to the wall, yes sir.
- Q. Between that wall and the door is where the defendant was sitting? A. He was sitting on the side by the window.

- Q. Between you and the door? A. No sir, between the door and the window.
- Q. Your back was turned to the wall? A. Yes sir.
- Q. Did you see any blood on the defendant on that day? A. No.
- Q. Were you not discharged after this fight by Miss Murray?
- A. Yes sir, I was discharged a few days after. She said she did not want anybody in her place who was fighting.
- Q. Did Mr. Holed have the knife you have spoken about?
- A. Yes sir.
- Q. What did the defendant use that knife for? A. He used it in his business as a tailor for ripping and so on.
- Q. Was he using his scissors at the time this occurred? this assaulting? A. He was not using his scissors, he was sitting down in a chair doing nothing.
- Q. After you complained to Miss Murray about the defendant's workmanship? A. Yes sir, he had made a cloak too long and I told him about it.
- Q. Didn't you say to him about nine days before the 2nd of December, that he was a very unskillful tailor, that he was no good as a tailor, that he made a great many mistakes on the goods that he was working on for Miss Murray and that you could get a better workman in his place, a friend of yours for the wages he was receiving from Miss Murray? A. No sir, I never had any trouble with him before.
- Q. Never before that Friday? A. No sir, I was all the time friendly with him.

- Q. Did you take a jacket to Miss Murray and complain about it? A. Yes sir.
- Q. When was that? A. On a Friday.
- Q. Had you spoken to the defendant about it? A. Yes sir.
- Q. You are positive that you didn't say a word to him on that Saturday morning of this difficulty? A. I am positive I did not say a word to him. He was cursing and swearing all the time, but I paid no attention to him.
- Q. You did not say this to him: I will tell Miss Murray that you are a thief and have served a term of several years in prison as a criminal? A. No sir, I never talked in that way.
- Q. Now is n't it a fact that when Holed got up from his chair and walked down the room, that he went toward the door where your coat was hanging or the coats of both of you were hanging at the back of the door, and took hold of his coat preparing to go out of the shop, saying, I am going to make you prove these accusations in court? A. No sir.
- Q. Did he make any efforts to go out of the room? A. No sir.
- Q. Did you stop him from going out of the room? A. No sir, I did not.
- Q. Are you sure that you did not cut him with your scissors? A. I am certain I did not cut him intentionally with my scissors, but my hand was raised in the air, the scissors were open in it, and he may have been cut in that way. I will illustrate to the jury just how that might occur. The defendant had been employed by Miss Murray several years before I was. During all the time I have been in her employ, he was there and we were very friendly together. I never had occasion to make any complaint to Miss Murray before this day.

FRANK GOEBER, a witness for the people sworn testified:

I live at number 236 Crescent St., Dutch Kills, Long Island. On the 1st. of December of this year, I met the defendant, Holed, in 41st.St., near Lexington Ave., in a saloon; I had a conversation with him about Nouvouny. He told me Mr. Nouvouny had found fault with him for working on a coat, saying he had made one side longer than another. He told me "I have had trouble this morning with Mr. Nouvouny. I was working on a coat and he charged that I made one side longer than it should be. The defendant then said to me "I will fix him for that, I will fix Nouvouny because the jacket is not so bad as he told Miss Murray it was."

CROSS-EXAMINATION.

- Q. How long have you known Mr. Nouvouny? A. I cannot tell exactly but about six years.
- Q. How long have you known the defendant? A. I may say over a year.
- Q. Are you a friend of his? A. I know Mr. Nouvouny longer than I know the defendant, but I am no particular friend of one more than the other.
- Q. Didn't Holed say that he was going to fix the jacket and not Mr. Nouvouny? A. He told me he would fix Mr. Nouvouny for what he had said to Miss Murray.

HENRY LANG, a witness for the people, sworn, testified:

I am a police officer attached to the Fourteenth Precinct in this City; that Station-house is at the corner of Fifth Street and First Ave., in this City. I arrested the defendant, Holed on the 2nd of December this year in a beer-saloon at No. 337 East Fifth St.; it was about eleven-twenty in the morning; I spoke to him in German; when I entered the saloon, I asked for the boss and when the defendant saw me he walked rapidly towards the rear door; I was in citizen's clothes; as soon as I saw the defendant walk towards the rear door I stopped him and asked him his name; he told me his name was Charles Holed and I placed him under arrest. I asked him whether he had any trouble with anybody on that day and he told me that he had not; he said that if the complainant was cut, he had cut himself with his own shears. I brought him to the station-house, and when I entered the station-house the complainant was there he having returned from the hospital with his hands all bandaged up. I searched the defendant and I found a knife which is produced in evidence on his person. The complainant identified that knife as the one with which he was stabbed on that morning at No. 9 East 38th St.. I inquired how he knew that that was the knife and he said that he knew it because he had seen the defendant use it on several occasions in his shop. I opened the knife and while I was opening the blade the defendant told me in German that I could search the knife and

I could not find anything on it;; I did examine the blade of the knife and I found a red substance on it which I took to be dry blood.

CROSS-EXAMINATION.

- Q. Did you notice the defendant's shirt when you arrested him? A. Yes sir.
- Q. Is that the bloody shirt he had on at that time? A. Yes sir, that is the shirt; it was all covered with blood at the time I arrested him; the defendant had a cut on his forehead; I found no other instrument on the defendant except the knife. The defendant denied having cut the complainant with that knife and insisted that if the complainant was cut he must have cut himself with his own shears. He admitted to me that they had a struggle.

DEFENSE.

MARY FINN, a witness for the defendant, sworn, testified:

I am a dress-maker and live at No. 242 East 32nd Street in this City. On the morning of the 2nd of December last I was employed by Miss Murray, a dress-maker at No. 9 East 38th Street; I know the complainant, Mr. Nouvouny and I know the defendant, Mr. Holed. Both those gentlemen were in the employ of Miss Murray on the morning of the 2nd of December this year. I work in a different room from them on the same floor. Shortly before eight o'clock on that morning my attention was attracted by a mumbly noise in the room where the two men were employed; they spoke in their own language, Bohemian, I did not hear anything in English at all; I heard no cry of help or murder at any time while that skuffle was going on; in a short time Miss Murray burst open the door and when the door was open, the defendant was seen with his forehead cut and all covered with blood. The complainant was behind the door; I did not see any knife in the hands of the defendant, on the floor or anywhere about the room; I did see a pair of shears which belong to the complainant; they were lying on a table. In a short while the complainant came out from behind the door, went outside and washed the blood off his hands; after he had finished washing the blood from his hands, the defendant went outside and washed the blood off.

CROSS-EXAMINATION.

I am head trimmer in Miss Murray's establishment. When I got into the room all I saw was that Holed, the defendant, was covered with blood. I did not see any blood on the complainant; I was so shocked when I saw the blood that I cannot remember distinctly anything that took place after that. The defendant's character for peace and quiet while he has been employed in our establishment is exceptionally good.

KATIE MULLIGAN, a witness for the defendant, sworn, testified:

I am a dress-maker employed by Miss Murray, No. 9 East 38th St., in this City. I have been in her employ for seven years. I am acquainted with the defendant and I also know the complainant; both of the men were employed at Miss Murray's establishment where I have been employed by her for seven years. I remember distinctly the circumstances when the assault took place. I was in the place before eight o'clock on that day; my attention was attracted to this room by a loud noise; I could not understand anything that was said as it was in the Bohemian language. I did not hear the complainant shout out help, help, this man wants to murder me or any other cry for help. As soon as Miss Murray burst in the door I went in after her; all I saw was the defendant with his forehead covered with blood and the blood streaming down his face. The complainant was behind the door and I did not see him; I did not hear any of the conversation that occurred between Miss Murray and these two men when she got into the room; both of the men went to the hydrant and washed the blood off themselves.

MARY CRONSON, a witness for the people, sworn, testified:

I live at No. 2045 First Ave., I am employed by Miss Murray at No. 9 East 38th Street in this City, and have been there for about two years; I know both the complainant and the defendant in this case. The character of the defendant for peace and quietness during the time I have known him is very good; he was a very quiet and peaceful workman and an obliging man during the time he was in Miss Murray's employ. On the morning of the 2nd of December I came up stairs and found the complainant washing his hands; I did not see anything of the assault and I was not present at the time Miss Murray first went into the room.

JOSEPHINE DEIBOCHLON, a witness for the defendant, sworn, testified:

I live at No. 337 East 5th Street in this City. My husband and I have a saloon and a boarding-house at that number; I know the defendant, Holed, and have known him for over a year; his character for peace and quietness is good; I know the complainant; he came down to my place after this occurrence and was looking for some information about Holed; he told me he had a fight with him; I told him I was sorry for Holed because he is a very trustworthy man. Nouvouny answered and said to me, if you knew more about him you would talk differently. Then he wanted to tell me that the defendant hadn't paid any money for board and I told him that that was not true that the defendant had paid me. He endeavored in every way to give me a bad impression of the defendant.

JOHN DEIBOCHLON, testified to the good character of the defendant.

BERNARD SCHULICH, a witness for the defendant,
sworn, testified:

I live at 120 W 47th St., in this City. I know the defendant; he has been in my employ; I know about his character; it is good; he is a peaceable and quiet man.

HENRY BIRBERICK, a witness for the defendant,
sworn, testified:

I live at No. 337 East Fifth St., I know the defendant and have known him about five years; his character for piece and quietness is good.

CHARLES HOLED, the defendant, sworn in his own behalf, testified:

I live at No. 337 East Fifth St., in this City. I have lived in this City about six years; I am thirty-two years of age and am unmarried; I am a ladies' tailor by occupation; I have known the complainant, Anton Nouvouky about a year and a half; I first met him in 121st Street in Harlem; I saw him about four or five times before he came into the employ of Miss Murray; I remember the 2nd day of December; the trouble commenced about two days before the 2nd of December on account of a jacket; he said that the work was not perfectly done; I answered that the work is perfectly done and I know my business; then for the whole day we were quarreling and we did not speak together again he would not say anything to me and I would not say anything to him.

On the 2nd day of December, Saturday morning, he came in, in an angry way and said that he wanted the work done in his way. On the previous Friday he had complained to Miss Murray that I had made a jacket up wrong, that it was too long on one side and too short on the other; I myself went to the lady and I apologised and I told her that if everything was not right I would willingly pay and fix it all right. She said that everything was all right except one jacket and I promised that I would fix that all right for her. On Saturday morning I came in the shop about five minutes before eight o'clock in order to get as soon as possible to my work; the complainant came in about ten minutes later; when he had taken off his garment I asked him who was to make the trimmings on that jacket and he answered that I was to do it myself; that I ought to know how to do my work and that if I did not understand the business I had no right to go into it; then he reproached me as to my salary and said that I did not deserve the money that Miss Murray was paying me; I answered to him that if he said that I didn't deserve the money that I received that he did not deserve his nearly as well and that he had better stop telling all these stories to Miss Murray about me. I also added that I wanted to settle the matter with him and he answered saying that I had been in prison for several crimes for a number of years, and that such a man as I was he wanted nothing whatever to do with; he said he would tell everybody what sort of a fellow I was; then I rose up and required from him that he should withdraw every word that he had uttered. Before that we had some other words on the same subject which are not proper to be repeated in this place; I told him to withdraw such words as he had said. I had hardly got finished saying what I had to say, when he flew up with his shears in his hand and while I was advancing towards him he attacked me with his shears. In the Bohemian language he said, "You damned loafer" and he gave me a blow with his shears; while he was aiming the second blow I checked his blow and repelled his hand. Then while he was trying to hit me a third time I again checked him. If the defendant cut himself at all it was with his own shears during the struggle we had; he was trying to cut me all the time; I had nothing in my hand but simply took hold of him here on the arm and I held his arm away from me so that he would not cut me with his shears. He managed however, to give me one serious cut on my forehead; we had a struggle for the possession of the shears and it was during the progress of that struggle that his hand got cut. After I was cut some one came into the room including Miss Murray and Miss Finn. Miss Murray asked us how we dared to fight in her rooms; as soon as she came he abandoned the attack on me and went out into the hall to wash his hands; I went out afterwards and washed the blood off my face. The shirt which I now produce in Court is the shirt which I had on that day and it is all covered with blood. I did not go to any hospital to have my wound attended to but got a piece of plaster in a drug-store and put it on myself; I did not have hold of the defendant by the back of the neck at any time as he has testified; I made no attempt whatever to assault him. I did not have the knife which is produced here, in my possession on that day; at the time of this assault it was home in my house in Fifth Street; I do not use a knife of that sort in my business as a tailor; I did not have any scissors in my hand at the time the defendant attacked me with his scissors.

NO CROSS-EXAMINATION.

The Jury returned a verdict convicting the defendant of the crime of assault in the second degree.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK,

against JAMES P. HYLAND.

THE GRAND JURY OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF NEW YORK, by this indictment accuse James P. Hyland of the crime of omitting and neglecting to perform a duty required of him by the election law as a poll clerk, at an election, committed as follows:-

Heretofore, to wit: on Tuesday the seventh day of year aforesaid, and at the said election, the said James P. Hyland late of the City and County aforesaid, was a poll clerk of the ^{Twenty-sixth} ~~said~~ election district, ^{of the Eighth Assembly District of said City and County} duly appointed, qualified and then and there acting as such and then and there kept one of the poll lists of and for the said election district, and was present in the polling place thereof during the said election.

And on the day and in the year aforesaid, divers

Hall, Martin Higgins, Henry Stannard, Maurice Ward, Robert Keenan, Patrick Roche, John Nelson and divers other persons to the Grand Jury aforesaid unknown, received the assistance of other persons in the voting booths of the said polling place in the preparation of their ballots, such voters having sworn before the Inspectors of Election of the said Election District to certain reasons for requiring such assistance.

And the said James P. Hyland, - being such poll clerk as aforesaid, it then and there was his duty to make a memorandum of the said poll list so kept by him as aforesaid, and of every instance of a voter receiving such assistance of another person in a voting booth of the said polling place in the preparation of his ballot, stating the name of such voter, the substance briefly of the reasons requiring such assistance as sworn to by the voter, and the name of the person rendering such assistance, and such duty was then and there enjoined upon him the said James P. Hyland by the election law.

Nevertheless, the said James P. Hyland, well knowing the premises, did then and there feloniously omit, refuse and neglect to perform the said duty, and
