George Moore.

Hon. Randolph B. Martine,
District Attorney &c.,

Dear Sir:

The above defendant was indicted January 28, 1885, on a charge of selling liquor to a minor. The boy was picked up drunk in the street, stated where he had procured the liquor and identified the defendant who was thereupon arrested. The boy has been duly committed to the Roman Catholic Protectory. As his evidence does not seem to be corroborated, I think it would be extremely difficult to obtain a conviction, at this late day, more than eighteen months having elapsed since the indictment was found.

I have the honor to remain,

With great respect,

Minio D. Gerry

Dr Sir.

Relying upon our acquaintance I venture to intercede with you in behalf of Louis Striffler a young man of respectable family and acquaintance and reputably known by many of your and my acquaintances as well as by myself having known him since childhood up and during his life he has borne a good character.

I am loth to believe that you would be wilfully guilty of the charge against him and I feel that justice would best be accomplished by a suspension of sentence

and to that end hope for your intercession.

It would be exerted
in a worthy cause and justly commendation.

He may be called

in writing you.

I dislike troubling
you but I feel so interested in the young man's future and for

for your compliance

The People } Court of General Sessions. Part I
 v. Mary Moran } Before Judge Cowing. Jan. 27. 1883.
 Indictment for robbery in the first degree.
 Ernest Washburn sworn. I am a druggist at 289 Broadway. I recollect seeing this woman on the 31st of Dec. about one o'clock at night. I first saw her in "The Allen's" place, Bleeker St. and Broadway. I did not speak to her there, but on the corner of South Fifth Ave. and Bleeker St. in this city I spoke to her. I had been drinking excessively that evening, but I knew what I was about. I went into a saloon corner of South Fifth Ave. and Bleeker St. and she asked me to treat her. I did so twice. I could not find any change in my change pocket and opened my vest and pulled out a roll of bills.
 I offered the bar tender a ten dollar bill;
 he went out, came back and said, "I cannot give you change." He gave me the bill back and I put it in my pocket. She asked me to give her the change. I said, "No." She wanted me to go with her some place and I would not go. I walked down Bleeker to Wooster St. I thought I would cross the Park and take the Elevated. All the time she was trying to induce me to go with her and I was trying to induce her to leave me alone.
 On the corner of Third St. and Wooster I said

0084

I was going home. She said, I was not going home; she jumped on me and held me by the neck, and a strange man came and took my watch and chain. She said, "inside of the vest pocket." He ran in his hand and took my money and ran down the street; she stayed there. I did not do anything for two minutes; she went around the corner and I went to the police station. I was too much under the influence of liquor. I thought I had better not go into the police station; the next afternoon I made the complaint. She took $50 in money and the watch and chain. Cross Examined. I left my place about five o'clock and drank spirituous liquors five or six times up to 8 o'clock when I went to Niblo's Theatre and drank afterwards. I knew the Allen's had the reputation of being a bad place. I had been there two or three times in the year. I never drank with the defendant before. The man I charge with robbing me is Michael Healey; he is now in prison. I will not swear that the man now shown me is the man. Lost an umbrella that night. I have no recollection of being in a bed house. I do not go in such places. I will swear I was not in any bed house. This is the first time I ever was robbed.

Thomas Reynolds sworn I am an officer of the 15th Precinct and went with Mr. Washburn to Russell's saloon in South Fifth Ave. I had a conversation with the bar tender and could not find him. I got a description from the complainant of the woman who robbed him. I gave a description of her to the officer on post and he arrested her.

Mary Moran, sworn and examined in her own behalf. I am the wife of a policeman but am not living with him. About half past one or a quarter to two o'clock I stood outside of Allen's saloon talking to a policeman. The complainant came along so drunk that the policeman and me commenced to laugh. He asked me where he could get a drink. I took him to Burns' corner of Bleeker and Greene Sts. The bar keeper said, "that man is not in a fit condition to give him a drink." The boss ordered him out. He asked me if there was any other place? I said, "yes." I went to South Fifth Avenue and Bleeker St. He sat in a private box more than half an hour. He wanted to get into the Rochester hotel and they would not let him in because he was too drunk. We went to a bed house and the woman could not change a ten dollar bill, and she kept the man's umbrella I suppose to be sure of her pay. The next night I asked her for the umbrella. Saturday night I was arrested. She says, "you might as well pay the bed money." She gave me the umbrella and I paid the money. The man changed a ten dollar bill corner of South Fifth ave and Third St. and he stayed there for about half an hour, and we went back to Russell's again and drank in the same place after being in the bed house an hour.

When that man was robbed it was going on four o'clock. I went back the second time to Russell's. If I wanted to rob that man a child of six or seven years of age could rob him in Burns's store, the first store I brought him into; the back room you could not see from the street; the man was stupid drunk. I did not rob him. Cross Examined. We were up stairs in this bed house in a room by ourselves. After I parted with him he picked up Healey's woman on the corner; he had a diamond ring on his finger. I did not see any watch on him but I saw a heavy, thick chain. I was convicted of stealing $40 from a man about a year ago under the name of Laura Watson and was sentenced to one year. I was never convicted before that.

The jury rendered a verdict of guilty.
