Court of General Sessions. Part I Before Judge Sewing Sept. 18, 1882 John Keck, sworn. On the 14th day of August last I had a bay horse, wagon and harness of the value of $300; about one o'clock I had him tied on Whitehall st. near State st. to the elevated post. I am collector for Roberts, Collins & Co's Mount St. I went into my place of business and when I came out about three o'clock it was gone. I have seen it since it has been stolen; the Captain of the 59th St. station took me into a livery stable where they had put him over night and I identified the horse and wagon as my property. This prisoner and the other one who got away when I got out of my wagon and took my silver out of the box they asked me if they would not mind my horse?
I said, No, I am in the habit of leaving my horse all the time in fact when I am in business. So they walked away together. I went into my place of business and when I got out the horse and wagon was gone. I went to the station house and about three o'clock a general alarm was sent out. I saw the horse in a livery stable in 64th St and Avenue A or First Avenue Cross Examined. One of the truckmen tied the horse when I took the strap out. The prisoner had a jumping jacket and the same pants on now and he had a straw hat. I know that the horse was firmly tied. It was the other one who got away that spoke to me and asked if I did not want my horse minded. I remember the prisoner's face as being a great deal round the Battery Park. I have seen him frequently before.

John Breer sworn. I saw the prisoner on the 14th of August. I am a member of the Police force. Between half past four and 4.45 I was in the vicinity of Seventy Sixth St and Fifth Ave. I was on duty and I saw the prisoner coming up the avenue. He was driving a bay horse and phaeton accompanied by another young man who sat beside him. They were driving faster than the law allowed. I hailed them, and he drove faster. He got about a block and a half ahead of me. I pursued him and he ran his horse at a gallop. I followed him three a few blocks and had to catch the horse's head to make him stop. I went down to the 28th Precinct station house in 59th St. I reported to the roundsman in charge of the desk that I arrested him for reckless driving. I suspected the "rig" had been stolen. The prisoner said he hired it 5 Hamilton St. for the afternoon. The Sergeant looked at the blotter and found that a general alarm was about a horse and wagon answered the description of this horse and wagon. I saw the prisoner again in the cell and told him of this; he said he was only taking a ride with a young man whose name he gave as George Cummings, 27 or 31 Monroe St. In the station house Nolan gave his address as 47 Hamilton St. and in the Police Court as 136 Madison St. The horse was put in a stable on 64th St. between First and Second Avenues. The prisoner pretended to be drunk but in my opinion he was not. The complainant identified the horse and wagon. Michael Nolan, sworn and examined in his own behalf testified. I never was arrested before except once for being drunk. I was working up to the night before this for Mr. Ginner in a tin factory.

I got paid off and I went to see my brother and was drinking with the boys in the shop. I woke up next morning in the street. I went to Chatham Square and had my breakfast. I went to the shop but was too sick to go to work, and as I turned out of East Broadway into Catherine St. I met George Cummings. I knew him around the neighborhood; he was in the wagon and he asked me to have a ride. I got in and we rode up the Bowery to the Central Park. He let me drive when we got on the Road and he grabbed the reins which made the horse go faster. The officer came up and arrested us for careless driving. When I got to the station house they asked me where I stole the horse and wagon? I told them I did not steal it, I got in with Cummings (When the officer came up Cummings jumped out of the wagon and cleared down the street) He had told me on the way up that he hired it at 5 Hamilton St. The complainant said in the Court room that he had seen me in my shirt sleeves around the Park. I never saw him before in my life.
