PEOPLE ON MY COMPLAINT, VERSUS

James Kerrigan

As complainant in the above case, I beg to recommend the defendant to such leniency and clemency as the Court and District Attorney may see fit to show; but I expressly assert that my reasons for so doing are not controlled by any advantage to myself.

The defendant is my husband, whom I charged with assaulting me - Since making the charge, I have come to the conclusion, I in a manner instigated the assault by both my manner and talk to the defendant. We have been married since 1874. and never had any trouble before - The issue of our marriage is five children all living at this time the youngest being a little over two years of age - My husband has always worked and at all times supported myself and his children to the best of his ability - I have every reason to believe that never again will the defendant have cause or will he will assault me.

I have enquired into this man's character &c and found he is a very hard working man, having a wife & children who are solely dependant on him for their support, and should they be dependant of him they must be dependant on charity only.

It was a drunken quarrel and I was not sick or confined to my bed one day by it, so I must respectfully solicit your leniency in this case as I really think him worthy of it.

of No. 444 Grand Street, aged 40 years, occupation Shoe dealer being duly sworn, deposes and says, that on the 8th day of July 1892, at the City of New York, in the County of New York, Max Kurtz with intent to defraud did make, forge and utter an instrument in writing to wit: a check whereby a pecuniary demand was increased; and with like intent did alter said check so that deponent was injured in his property in violation of Section 511 of the Penal Code. Deponent further says; that the defendant was in deponent's employ and from time to time requested deponent to give him checks payable to his order. That on said day defendant requested deponent to give him a check for the sum of Three dollars and under deponent's instructions the defendant drew the amended check upon the The East Side Bank where deponent has an account, for the sum of three dollars payable to the order of the defendant; that deponent signed said check and delivered it to the defendant. That said check has been returned to deponent as a voucher for the payment of ninety three dollars which amount has been charged against deponent's account. Deponent is informed by James J. Dunn (now here) the paying teller of said Bank that he paid the defendant the sum of ninety three dollars in payment for said check which was endorsed by the defendant and presented by the
