Murder in the First Degree.

In this case the defendant was tried in April 1889 and the jury disagreed. An examination of the case, after consultation with Hon. I went to see what it was and found the deceased Antonio Glocchino lying on the sidewalk dead with a stab wound in his left breast. Officer Stall was standing there having a knife in his hand. He informed me that the knife was found about 3 feet away from where the deceased was lying. I ascertained that the deceased had been in the Restaurant No 8 E. 8th Street in company with other men up to nearly 9 o'clock P.M. and left in company of seven men of whom Natalie Sabatino was one. The knife was claimed by Joseph Canizzaro, one of the proprietors of the restaurant, as belonging to him. They were laughing and talking together and seemed to be friendly. They began to play "Jocco" and one of them Sabatino was stuck to pay in the game. I left that party about 7:30 PM ^{or 8 PM.} and went to wait on another party in another room. Then another party of three came in and they went into a little room. I waited on them. Then I went in the front room ^{again} and took an order from the party there. I then went through the back room on my way to the kitchen and saw that the party that the deceased was with had left. One of this party I saw put his coat on and leave. The next thing I knew was the policeman coming in and asking for the proprietor. It was then that I was told that a man had been killed at the corner of the street. The Officer took me to the Statler House where I recognized the deceased man as one of the party that was in the back room. This party left the Restaurant between 8:30 + 9 PM.

The two Quarateras, 3 Diego, 4 Giuseppe Limaro, 5 Genoa, 6 Gerolamo, 7 Flaccornio the deceased, 9 Giovanni Alee, 10 Aita were with me while we were playing with the fingers and wadded to play. 10 Palazzo came in, + Carlo Quaraterano said to Palazzo objected and a quarrel ensued. When Palazzo saw that he could not play he left, then Flaccornio the deceased + Carlo Quaraterano quarrelled together. Then ~~the~~ ^{saw the} deceased ^{having} picked up a knife ^{in his hand, where he got it I don't know} and went into the hallway. The two brothers Quaraterano went after him, first Flaccornio went out then Aita followed him, then the two brothers Quaraterano went out after Aita, then I went out myself. after them and Gerolamo was with me. They went from the restaurant to the Cor (S.W.) of 3rd Ave & 8th Streets.
I saw from a distance Aita & Flaccornio together. I saw Vincenzo Quarteraro with a big knife in his hand, running towards the deceased saying "I am going to give it to you". Then I saw Aita stop Vincenzo Quarteraro.
I also saw Carlo ~~Quarteraro~~ Quarteraro stab the deceased Flaccornio.
While Aita was preventing Vincenzo from injuring the deceased, Carlo Quarteraro got behind Aita & stabbed the deceased. I was about 5 or 6 feet away when Carlo it. After the deceased was stabbed the stabbing we went back to the first instance before the Coroner as I did not know what to do.

I do not know if deceased & the Quarateranos belonged to a secret Society. I had no quarrel with the deceased. When I told the policeman that I knew nothing about the stabbing I told a lie. Now I tell the truth.
I told a lie to the policeman because I was afraid. The deceased & the Quarateranos quarrelled about the game with the fingers, because Palazzo was not allowed to play. The knife produced belongs to the Cook of the Restaurant.
I saw a knife in Vincenzo Quaraterano's hand but could not say if it is the knife produced. I could not describe ~~the~~ the knife in the hands of Carlo Quaraterano. The deceased Giacomo had a knife in his hand at the corner.
I saw Carlo Quaraterano plunge the knife into the deceased.
