Sir

I hereby certify that you were abroad the years 1878 & 1879 in the meat & provision business at 446 High St in this City, and that I traded with you, for supplies for my family, for some time.

I had you were then considered an upright and honest dealer and as such was recommended to me, by my friend John

Dear Sir

With reference to the case of George Reynolds, I would state that upon as full an investigation as it was possible for me to make I firmly believe that he is innocent of the crime charged & for which he is now imprisoned. I have been the Pastor of the young man's mother for nearly 10 years & have known her for a longer time than that. She is an upright, trustworthy woman, who is a widow & in very delicate health. Her son, never had any vicious habits nor have I ever heard of his keeping bad company, his being left fatherless at an early age, perhaps made him a little wild. His wife (a bad woman) who is now dead, was no doubt the cause of his trouble. Previous to this trouble he was the entire support of his sick mother, whom we have taken care of since, & should he be released would I know do so again, & from the report of the blasphemy of Siry Siry, become a good citizen. As a Minister in this City of 18 years standing, & a lover of the strict enforcement of law & order, I would not request clemency in this case did I not believe in the innocence of the young man.

Respectfully
Samuel Munn

that on the 10th day of January 18*82*

at the City of New York, in the County of New York, he was violently and feloniously assaulted and beaten by

now present.

That said Ross, did wilfully and maliciously point and aim a pistol loaded with powder and lead at deponent's head as deponent was quietly passing along Buxton Street in company with a friend that the defendant violently caught deponent by the shoulder & pointing the pistol as aforesaid at deponent's head spoke with vehemence & rage in a language deponent did not understand

Deponent believes that said injury, as above set forth, was inflicted by said

with the felonious intent to take the life of deponent, or to do him bodily harm, and without any justification on the part of the said assailant:

Wherefore this deponent prays that the said assailant may be apprehended, and dealt with according to law.

Complainant further explains and says in relation to the assault William Sherman & I went together to buy some tobacco. We passed through several streets and going along Baxter Street I saw the defendant & a woman walking ahead of us. As we were about passing by them, a boy ran past us and putting his hand on the woman's shoulder as he passed, continued to run. The woman turned and addressing herself to me said "You dirty little puppy if I get a hold of you I will pull the stuffing out of you." I replied "Madam excuse yourself we did not do anything to you and passed on." We had proceeded but a short distance when the defendant leaving the woman followed us and coming up took hold of me by the shoulder & speaking in an angry & threatening manner took the pistol from his pocket and pointed it at my head. I then broke from his grasp and ran away.

of Julia Ryan
filed Jan. 1882

46

The People's Court of General Sessions Part I Julia Kyare v. Before Recorder Smyth. February 2 1882 Indictment for grand larceny and receiving stolen goods Gregory Wnzer, sworn and examined, testified.
 I was stopping at the Merchants Hotel in Portland Ct. on the 29th of last month. I had a package of bills from $50 to $500 amounting to $5,000 and among them was a five hundred dollar bill. This was Saturday night, and when I went to bed I put them under the mattress. I woke up about seven o'clock the next morning, left the bills under the mattress and went out. I was out about an hour. I did not lock the door. When I came back I did not go to the mattress for my bills. In the afternoon I went up stairs for my money, it was where I left it under the mattress. I did not count it except in the night after one o'clock when I missed a five hundred dollar bill, this was Sunday night. I did not leave the bills under the mattress all day Sunday. I took them out about two o'clock and when I counted the money at one o'clock at night there was a five hundred dollar missing. I have seen that bill since, it was showed to me by Detective Mulvey, who is in Court, the bill was on the Phillipsburgh bank of New York.

I had a settlement with the bank last week and the cashier gave it to me in a package. I keep a bank account in the Phillipsburgh bank, but I live in Canada; the detective showed me the bill I missed on Monday morning about 9 or 10 o'clock. Cross Examined. My home is three miles from Toronto, a place called Eglinton. I arrived in New York Friday night from Easton Pa. I remained in Easton two days. I sold a house there, and the money for it was paid into the Phillipsburgh bank $5.100. I only had about $5 with me when I left Toronto. I got altogether in money from the bank $5.27.99. I had an account in the bank for many years. I lived in Easton before. I had $5.200 in a package. I last counted the money when I went for the detective Sunday night at one o'clock. I laid over the bed at 8 o'clock with my pants on. That time when I found the money the prisoner came in and gave me advice two minutes afterwards, that I shall not let the door be open any more because the things are unsafe &c and I thanked her for that; she said something might happen. This was two o'clock in the day when she gave me this advice after my arrival.

in New York I went to my room, but I did not count my money. I never counted my money from the time I left Easton, Pa., until the time ~~you~~ missed it. I am a carpet manufacturer in Toronto.

Thomas Mulvey sworn. I am a police officer. I spoke to the prisoner on Monday morning in relation to the lost bill at the Merchants hotel. The complainant told me he lost five hundred dollars and that he considered he lost it in his room. I went up stairs and found out who the chambermaid was on the floor where he slept and found that the prisoner was. I told her, "You stole this man's money," she said she did not steal his money, but that she found it in his room. If I would accompany her she would fetch me and show me where it was; she did so, and she took it from underneath the carpet in another room and handed the five hundred dollar note to me. I should judge the room was about fifteen feet from the room occupied by the complainant. I showed the note to the complainant and he identified it as his property. I think he said it was on a Phillipsburgh bank but I paid no attention to the bank; he was on the corner of Cortland and Greenwich Streets.

Julia Ryan, sworn and examined in her own behalf testified. I have never been arrested before for any crime. I worked in private families, I worked for Mr. Town, Jersey City and worked at the Merchants Union hotel in this city. I went into the complainant's room about four o'clock to up the room, I took all the bed clothes off and laid them on a chair and then I did not shake up the mattress. I then put all the clothes on again. I went to the stand that was there with towels on it. I just stepped down to pick up the matches and the things and I got the bill at the foot of the stand. I picked the bill up and opened it half ways. I did not think at the time it was any amount. I said, "I will keep this money." I supposed he dropped it in the room out of his money. I then went into No 90; his was 84, I put the money there for safety as I thought nobody else could take it in their hands until I would give it to him again. I did not put it in my pocket. I did not see any sign of him in the hotel that afternoon. I was going to see a sister of mine, I would not go because I wanted to return it to him if he dropped it. I went into 90 and put

0765

it right beside the carpet where no one was occupying. From the time I picked the bill up until the detective came to me no one had spoken to me. I had no intention of keeping the bill.
The jury rendered a verdict of guilty with a recommendation to mercy.
