Edward Walsh

As complainant in the above case, I beg to recommend the defendant to such leniency and clemency as the Court and District Attorney may see fit to show; but I expressly assert that my reasons for so doing are not controlled by any advantage to myself.

I ~~know~~ ^{know} him for over a year and his reputation in the neighborhood is excellent, both for peace and quietness. He is hard working and industrious man and is the only support of his wife and children.

We have been good friends and there was ^{no} cause of a quarrel between us. After mature deliberation I am satisfied that the defendant did not shoot at me or intend to injure me in any way

THE PEOPLE,

BEFORE JUDGE COWING.

GERTRUDE WILLIAMS.

Tuesday, May 2nd, 1893.

Indictment for GRAND LARCENY, in the SECOND DEGREE.

Assistant District Attorney Macdonna, for the People.

Mr. Cowan, for the Defendant.

A Jury was empanelled and sworn.

CHARLES B. REED, sworn, and examined by Mr. Macdonna:

Q. Mr. Reed, where do you live?

A. 51st street and Broadway, Albany flats.

By the Court:

Q. In New York city?

A. In this city.

By Mr. Macdonna:

Q. How long have you lived there, Mr. Reed?

A. About fourteen months.

By the Court:

Q. Last past?

A. Last past.

By Mr. Macdonna:

Q. With whom did you live?

A. With Mr. and Mrs.

Fletcher.

Q. Do you know this defendant, Gertrude Williams?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you first meet Gertrude Williams?

A. When she was hired, in the early part of March.

Q. Do you know what she was hired to do?

A. She was hired as a general servant---she was hired specifically, at first, to do washing and ironing, but, she did it so badly, we were compelled to hire another servant, and then she was kept on, owing to sickness in the house, to do general work in the house.

Q. In doing this general work in the house did she have access to your room?

A. Absolutely, yes.

Q. Made up your room?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And how long did she remain in the house, from the time of her employment until she left, until she was arrested?

A. I think, about three weeks more, or less; I can't give the exact number of days.

Q. I hand you a silver chain; is that your property, Mr. Reed?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. The silver belt named in the indictment?

A. Yes, sir; a silver belt.

Q. What is the value of that silver belt?

A. The value of that belt is two hundred dollars, but I paid ten guineas for it.

Mr. Cowan: Objected to.

By the Court:

Q. How much would that be in our money?

A. About fifty dollars.

By Mr. Macdonna:

Q. Where was this kept in your room, Mr. Reed?

A. It was kept in a box, in my closet.

By the Court:

Q. It belonged to you?

A. Belonged to me.

By Mr. Macdonna:

Q. Kept in a box, in your closet?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever give it to Gertrude Williams?

A. I never did.

Q. You remember the fact that Gertrude Williams was accused, in the house, of stealing things, property belonging to Mrs.

Fletcher; do you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You remember she was arrested?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What became of her trunk?

A. Her trunk was held in the house, by direction of Inspector McLaughlin.

Q. What was done with it ultimately, I want to know?

A. Ultimately, it was taken to Police Headquarters, and opened.

Q. Were you present when it was opened?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who opened it?

A. It was opened by Sergeant O'Brien.

Q. And did you examine the contents, or see the contents of the trunk examined?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was found in the trunk?

A. Well, there was found -- some handkerchiefs of mine, and that belt.

By the Court:

Q. Is this the belt (belt shown)?

A. Yes, sir; this is the belt.

Q. And also some articles which I hand you, from the peculiar workmanship of which you identify them?

A. Yes, sir; such as Indian embroideries, to belong to Mr. Fletcher's wife.

Q. You saw this belt in question was found in her trunk?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You had never given it to her, or given her permission to take it?

A. No, sir.

Q. Or given any person else permission to take it?

A. No, sir.

Q. It was taken without your consent?

A. Yes, sir.

CROSS EXAMINATION:

By Mr. Cowan:

Q. Do I understand you to say you lived in the house of Mrs. Fletcher?

A. I live in the Albany flats, 51st street and Broadway.

Q. Do you pay the rent?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you hire the help?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you hire the defendamt?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you pay her?

A. Yes, sir -- that is, Mr. Fletcher handed her the money, by my direction. I have the leases in my pocket, if that is the question you wish to prove.

Q. Now, this trouble began about some money of Mrs. Fletcher; did it not?

A. About stealing ten dollars, yes.

Q. Mrs. Fletcher put the matter in your hands, when she found that the girl would not admit the matter; did she not?

A. Mrs. Fletcher had nothing to do with it, putting it into my hands; I made the complaint, on the property which had been stolen--my shirts, neck-ties and handkerchiefs.

Q. How long did you have this trunk in your possession after taking the key to the room where it was supposed to be?

A. Do you mean how long was the trunk in the house?

Q. Yes--how long was it in your possession?

A. It was in the house two or three days.

Q. Was the key to the house in the room?

A. At that time, I don't know; it was discovered by one of the detectives, they found it.

Q. Do you know whether the trunk was opened or not?

A. The trunk was not opened, because, when they took it down to Headquarters, they were compelled to use a key to open it.

Q. Did you go into the room after it--who did you get the key of the room from?

A. I got the key of the room from Mr. Fletcher, who discovered she had a skeleton key to the room, I saw the key there; we asked her where she got it, and she said she got it from a machinist; she said that Mr. Fletcher told her to go down and get a key; we proved that to be an absolute lie; I discovered she was in the habit of staying out nights; I suppose it was convenient for her-----

Q. You say this trunk was in your possession there two or three days, you don't know the exact time?

A. Oh, no, it was not in my possession, it was in the possession of the Police Department. The key of the room was in the private desk, in my safe, in the office, 206 Fulton street; I could have access to the room.

Q. You knew the key was in the room, the key to the trunk?

A. I didn't know it at that time.

Q. The key was in the room? A. I suppose it was.

Q. And the trunk was unlocked?

A. The trunk was not unlocked, because the trunk was taken into the private room, at Police Headquarters, and they opened it themselves.

Q. Do you remember me calling at your house, to see Mrs. Fletcher?

A. Yes, I recollect very insulting--

Q. Do you remember me going there? A. I do.

Q. Do you remember the interview, which we had in your house?

A. I recollect that we had an interview, yes.

Q. Do you remember giving me a list of the things that you claimed that were stolen?

A. Yes, I gave you a partial list.

Q. Oh! A partial list?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Didn't you tell me that was absolutely all--that three hundred dollars would settle it, if I would give you three hundred dollars?

A. No, sir; I did not.

Q. Did you tell me you considered the amounts of things lost, and if I would give you three hundred dollars, you would not do anything about the matter?

A. No, sir, I didn't say anything of the kind.

Q. Didn't you tell me that if I would bring the girl there, and that if she would consent to having committed this crime, that you would let her have her trunk?

A. I said if you would bring the girl I would deliver the trunk, but I had an officer in waiting at all times.

Q. Didn't you tell me it was not your purpose to prosecute this girl, if she would come there and say that she did it, you would have sympathy for her if she would acknowledge it and would let her go?

A. I did not.

Q. Didn't you tell me that?

A. I did not.

Q. What is your faith?

A. I am a Catholic.

Objected to.

Q. What is your religion?

A. I am a Roman Catholic, and a member of Saint Vincent's de Paul's church.

Q. Do you believe in spiritualism?

Objected to.

Objection sustained.

Q. Didn't you tell me, in the presence of Mrs. Fletcher, that you would not prosecute this girl, if she would come there and acknowledge this crime?

A. I did not.

Q. Did you write me a letter, stating that you would not deliver that trunk, unless you had a conference with the girl, because, if she obtained information which was absolutely necessary for you-----

Objected to.

The Court: The letter speaks for itself. You can hand him that, and ask him if he wrote it; and, if he did, you may read the letter.

By Mr. Cowan:

Q. Did you write that letter (Letter handed to witness)?

A. Yes, I wrote this.

Q. Will you please read it?

A. "New York, April 3rd, 1893. Alfred Cowan, Esq.,

Sir: I understand, from the servant, that you called at my house to-day, and insisted upon being admitted. How you presume upon such unheard of and ungentlemanly conduct, I can scarcely understand; and which I would suggest you do not repeat again. Having failed to keep your appointment with me Saturday evening last, what you could have done would have been to explain, apologize, and, if you desired another interview, to consult my convenience regarding time and place. As I told you on Friday, I will not deliver the article you desire until I have a consultation with the girl. This is the last time I shall request to see her, for there is information which I believe she can give me, the importance of which makes the interview absolutely necessary.

You suggest my meeting her at your office. As my office is as convenient to you as yours is to me, I will ^{see} you and the girl at 12:30, to-morrow (Tuesday) at my office, 206 Fulton street. If you do not desire to keep this appointment, kindly send a reply at once upon receipt of this, by messenger.

Respectfully, Charles B. Read."

By Mr. Cowan:

Q. Now, that does lead to the idea-----

Objected to.

Q. You did promise to have a conference with me?

A. I wanted to recover the property, or try to recover it, in some way.

Q. You say the object of the conference was to try to get this property which you had missed?

A. Which she had stolen--yes.

Q. Do you know she stole that property?

A. Yes, she stole this.

How
Q. ^{Do you know} [^] she stole them?
her trunk.

A. Because I found them in

Q. Did you see her take them?

A. It is not necessary for me to see her take them.

Q. You know that; do you?

A. Know what?

Q. You know that is a point of law?

A. I don't know anything about that, if the property was simply discovered in her trunk--that was my property.

Q. How many servants did you have in your employ at the time this difficulty arose?

A. We had a cook besides this servant.

Q. You had a cook beside this servant?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How many cooks did you have during the time she was employed in your service?

A. There was one other,

I believe, who was discharged almost immediately after she came there, a man.

Q. A man cook?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long was he in your employ?

A. I really couldn't tell you, not very long, perhaps six weeks or so.

Q. Do you remember the day you discharged him?

A. No, I don't recollect the time.

Q. The time of the month?

A. It was in March, somewhere in the early part of March.

Q. Now, when did you first discover that some of your property had been taken?

A. About two or three days after this servant was hired.

Q. You speak of the defendant?

A. Yes, sir, I am speaking of this defendant.

Q. How long do you say she was in your employ?

A. I should think about three weeks.

Q. During this time you were not aware she had taken them, you had never caught her taking them?

A. I wouldn't be in a position to see her, because my business is down town.

Q. How did you know that she did take them at that time, when you missed these things-- there were other servants there?

A. Yes, there was a cook there.

Q. They had access to the house?

A. All persons have access to the house, within the house, because the doors are never locked; the doors are open, the front doors are always locked.

Q. What do you mean by the front doors?

A. The door which leads out in the hall, by which you have access to the street.

Q. The inner door, which leads to your apartment, is never locked?

A. No, sir; never.

Q. The people in the flat had access to your room?

A. The people in which flat?

Q. In the flat where you live?

A. Oh, yes, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher had access, certainly.

Q. Couldn't people outside go in the flat?

A. No, sir.

Q. I understand you to say the doors were never locked?

A. I said the doors within the house.

Q. Now, do you remember saying to me that this girl stole nine shirts from you-- do you remember telling me that?

A. Yes, I told you I missed them--

Mr. Macdonna: I object. She is not charged with stealing shirts.

By Mr. Cowan:

Q. You told me, at the flat there, that this girl stole nine shirts from you, and other articles?

A. I told you, at the flat--I gave you a list of things which had been missed since she came there, and among the twenty items was an item of a shirt, and also forty yards of Indian silk.

Q. You said that those shirts were valued at eight dollars apiece?

A. I did not. I didn't pay dollars for shirts. The Inspector said that.

Q. Five dollars?

A. Yes, five dollars apiece.

I also told you there was three or four kinds of shirts.

I had some outing shirts, which cost $2.50 a piece.

Q. Didn't you mention that those shirts were missed when you went down to Police Headquarters--didn't you give to the Clerk there a list, and didn't you say that the defendant had stolen the shirts from you?

A. I have no recollection of saying anything of the kind.

Q. Didn't you tell me that the girl stole shirts from you?

A. No, sir; I did not.

Q. Didn't you swear, down at the Tombs Police Court, that those gloves, and those napkins and things were your property?

A. I told you specifically I knew nothing about the gloves; Officer O'Brien got up and swore that he himself put those gloves in.

By the court:

Q. Did you swear it?

A. No, sir; I did not.

By Mr. Cowan:

Q. Those gloves--you didn't?

A. No, sir, I did not. I claimed these handkerchiefs and this belt, this property here. That is one of them (pointing to a handkerchief.).

Q. Did you read a letter that was written to this defendant from a lady in Brooklyn?

Objected to.

Objection overruled.

A. I never heard of a letter.

Q. I am talking about a letter sent to the flat, written there from a lady that was in Brooklyn, telling her to come over to Brooklyn--you mentioned that to me?

A. I never did, because I never knew such a letter existed; I never heard of it before.

By Mr. Macdonna:

Q. Mr. Reed, you didn't put that belt in that girl's trunk?

A. No, sir.

JOHN J. O'BRIEN, sworn, and examined by Mr. Macdonna:

Q. Officer O'Brien, you are attached to the Central Office, as a detective?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you arrest this defendant, Gertrude Williams?

A. Yes, sir.

- Q. When? A. During the month of April.
- Q. Early in April? A. Yes, sir.
- Q. On whose complaint? A. Mr. Reed's.
- Q. Did you go to the house that Mr. Reed lived in, where this girl had been employed? A. Yes, sir.
- Q. Did you give orders to have the trunk brought down out of her room to Police Headquarters?
- A. Yes, sir.
- Q. It was brought down; was it? A. Yes, sir.
- Q. Were you present when it was opened?
- A. Yes, sir.
- Q. Now, was that silver belt found in the trunk, and was Mr. Reed there? A. Yes, sir.
- Q. Did he identify that as his property? A. He did.
- Q. There are some handkerchiefs here, and a piece of lace, were those also in this trunk which was taken out of this girl's room? A. Yes, sir.
- Q. Were those gloves in her trunk?
- A. Yes, sir; wrapped up in a piece of paper.
- Q. And this pair of gloves in her trunk, and this lace, these stockings, these ladies undergarments, and these napkins?
- A. Yes, sir.
- Q. Was any of this property identified at Police Headquarters?
- A. Yes, sir.
- Q. By Mrs. Fletcher, part of it?
- A. Not in Police Headquarters, Mrs. Fletcher didn't identify those gloves, because she was sick; she was not able to come.
- Q. And she is sick now? A. Yes, sir.
- Q. Were they taken to her -- these gloves?
- A. Yes, sir.

Q. Those were identified by her, as her property?

A. Yes, sir; driving gloves, she said they were.

Q. How about these undergarments?

A. They were identified by a lady.

Q. Do you know the lady's name--- was it Mrs. Sangster or Mrs. Cremers?

A. Mrs. Cremers, I believe, some one of the two ladies-- I didn't know their names, Mrs. Cremers and Mrs. Sangster.

Q. Living at 213 West 48th street, in this city?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. After those articles had been identified by Mrs. Cremers, who lives in 48th street, did you go to this defendant and have a talk with her, about where she got this property?

A. I had a talk before I met these people, before the other stuff was identified, and the only thing she told me was that somebody else must have put them in her trunk, she didn't.

Q. Somebody else put them in her trunk?

A. Somebody else must have put them in her trunk, she didn't.

Mr. Cowan: As to those things, I don't think it is necessary to put them in issue.

Mr. Macdonna: I offer the lot of things here, as found in her possession.

The court: The jury are only to find whether or not she stole the belt.

CROSS EXAMINATION.

By Mr. Cowan:

Q. Where did you arrest the defendant?

A. In your office.

13 Q. On what day was that?

A. The early part of April.

Q. Do you remember my calling to your place, and speaking to you in reference to this girl meeting you at Headquarters?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did you say to me, do you remember?

A. You wanted to know what was the complaint against this lady, and I asked what business was it of yours, and you told me you were her counsellor; I told you I had a complaint against her for larceny; you told me if it was necessary I could find her in your office.

Q. Or I would produce her at any time to you, so that she might not be arrested?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did I bring her?

A. You did, after we found out where she was before this; she was in Brooklyn.

Q. Whereabouts?

A. My partner will tell you that.

Q. She was not evading arrest?

A. Yes, sir; she told me, in front of you, that she didn't want to be arrested. She said that I could meet her in the day-time, where she wouldn't be locked up over night; she didn't want to spend all night in prison, she told me that, and she told you that.

Q. I had no bondsman there to go her bond, and I didn't want her to be incarcerated in prison, because I believed she was an innocent girl?

Objected to.

Q. When did this trunk come to Headquarters?

A. I believe, the first week of April.

Q. That would be coming on Monday?

A. I don't remember the day.

Q. I got the Property Clerk's paper; he has got it on the 7th of April?

A. I ain't exactly sure of the date.

Q. Did you search it on the day it came there?

A. Yes, sir; that afternoon.

Q. On the 7th?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You had never seen it before the 7th?

A. No, I didn't.

Q. Where did you get it from?

A. I was in court, and the Inspector gave orders to have the trunk fetched to Police Headquarters, I was not there, I was at the Tombs at the time, at the Police court, in an examination case; and he sent up Detective Sheldon, and Detective Sheldon fetched the trunk down, and left it there until I got there.

Q. Is Detective Sheldon here?

A. No, sir; he is out of town.

Q. You don't know what part of the house he got it in?

A. He didn't say.

Mr. Macdonna: I offer this stuff, found in the woman's trunk--- the whole thing.

CHARLES B. REED, recalled by Mr. Cowan:

Q. Mr. Reed do you remember the day I called down to your office, 206 Fulton street?

A. I recollect that you did call, yes.

Q. Do you remember what day that was?

A. No, I do not.

Q. Was this trunk in your possession the day that I called there?

A. I really couldn't say.

Q. It was on the 7th?

A. I claim the trunk has never been in my possession after I notified the police.

By Mr. Macdonna:

Q. Was it in the flat?

A. I really couldn't tell you.

By Mr. Cowan:

Q. I called on the 7th?

A. On the 7th the trunk was in Police Headquarters.

Q. I called on the 6th or 7th?

A. It was in Police Headquarters.

Q. Do you remember the Marshall serving you with an assignment of the trunk, and the goods therein, on the 7th of April?

A. No, the Marshall didn't serve me with any papers at all, not in my office. My detective discovered-----

Q. Anywhere?

A. My detective discovered that she had sold the trunk for a dollar; my detective asked me to go over to the court and see the Marshall, so as to produce the girl, so that we might arrest her then and there.

Q. Didn't the Marshall serve you with a complaint?

A. The Marshall was in my office, but I was not there.

Q. Didn't he serve you with a complaint?

A. We went to his office and he handed me a paper; I went there to see him.

Q. Immediately upon that you issued a warrant for the arrest of this girl?

A. No warrant was issued at all. The matter was in the hands of Inspector Byrnes since the night of the 27th.

Q. Since the night of the 27th of March?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well, then, in that case, why was it that you refused to deliver this trunk up?

A. Because it belonged to the Police Department.

VICTORIA CREMERS, sworn, and examined by Mr. Macdonna:

Q. Mrs. Cremers, where do you live?

A. I live now at 100 West 57th street.

Q. How long have you lived there?

A. Only since yesterday.

Q. Where did you live, previous to yesterday?

A. No. 213 West 48th street.

Q. Did you ever live at the corner of 51st street and Broadway, in the flat of Mr. John W. Fletcher?

A. No.

Q. Never lived in his house?

A. Never.

Q. Ever have any of your personal property in his house?

A. No, none whatever.

Q. Were you called to Police Headquarters, sometime early last month, or was some property brought to you?

A. No; I went down to Police Headquarters, where I identified two pieces of my property.

Q. Two pieces of your property?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Are any of these your property (showing witness articles)?

A. Yes, sir; a pair of stockings and a towel.

Objected to.

Objection overruled.

Q. Will you kindly tell me which of these articles you identify as yours?

A. A pair of black stockings, and a small towel. These are the stockings (pointing to a pair of stockings).

Q. Did you lose a tie?

A. No, a towel; it is a very fine towel, and small; it doesn't amount to anything. The reason I went down to Headquarters was I had missed-----

Q. Never mind. But you identify this as your property (pointing to the articles)?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, while you lived at this house at 213 West 48th street, in this city, did you know this defendant?

A. I didn't know her at all, but she was in the house, and I gave her mother a letter a year before to these friends of mine, the Fletchers, to get her a position.

Q. Her mother was employed then in this place that you lived in?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. This girl was coming in and out all the time; was she?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. In your flat?

A. No, it isn't a flat of mine, I lived with Mrs. Sangster, who occupied the house at 48th street.

Q. She was there?

A. She was there, yes, sir.

Q. How long before she went to the Fletchers?

A. That I couldn't tell you.

Q. About how long?

A. Well, I went into the house the end of February.

Q. Was she there then?

A. Yes, sir; she was there then.

By Mr. Cowan:

Q. You say these things are yours?

A. I do.

Q. How do you know they are?

A. I know that very well, because I have it for several years; there is no mark whatever on it. If you will look at it, you will find it is European goods. I bought it myself, at the Louvre, in Paris; it is very old, it is my property.

Q. You have no mark on that?

A. No, I am very careless-- not in the habit of putting marks on my clothes, but I can recognize them.

Q. It is possible that it came from there, by somebody else than you? A. Not that, I don't think.

Q. It is possible that somebody else might have bought those goods? A. It is very possible--I am sure it is mine, I am sure for three years this towel has been in my possession, and I have used it.

Q. What mark have you on it?

A. Things are identified with your own personality--- people know these things; I know it by that hole, right there in the corner.

Q. Dozens of other towels have holes? A. Yes, sir.

Q. These hose are yours?

A. Yes, sir; those are my stockings.

Q. How do you know that they are yours?

A. I know that they are mine.

Q. Is there any mark on them?

A. No, I don't think so.

Q. You just know the goods are black, and that you bought them at a certain place -- you have no special mark upon them by which you could positively identify them?

Objected to.

Objection sustained.

ALICE H. SANGSTER, sworn, and examined by Mr. Macdonna:

Q. Where do you live? A. No. 100 West 57th street.

Q. Where did you live, previous to moving there?

A. 213 West 48th street.

Q. How long did you live there? A. Two years.

Q. Do you know this defendant, Gertrude Williams?

A. Yes, sir; I know her.

Q. Her mother was employed by you at that place?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was she (the defendant) in your house?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Previous to the month of February?

A. No, I engaged her mother in March.

Q. She stayed with you how long?

A. Three weeks.

Q. During the three weeks she was there was this girl with her in your house?

A. Yes, sir-- not all the three weeks.

Q. Off and on?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. She had access to your house?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you miss any things?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. I will ask you to please step here and pick out the things, in this package, you identify?

A. I identify just two articles.

Q. What are they?

A. Two articles of underwear.

Q. Ladies' underwear?

A. Yes, sir; the two I picked out of the trunk.

Q. They both belong to you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you give them to Gertrude Williams?

A. No, sir.

Q. Or her mother?

A. No, sir.

Q. You never gave them to anybody?

A. No, sir.

Q. They were taken from your possession?

A. Taken out of my drawer.

Q. Without your consent?

A. Certainly.

CROSS EXAMINATION.

By Mr. Cowan:

Q. Did you see the defendant take these things?

A. No, I didn't see any one take them.

Q. What marks have you on them?

Q. I haven't all my clothing marked.

Q. No designation whatever -- do you have your things made to order?

A. Yes, I had those things made to order.

Q. You only know those things by your acquaintance with them?

A. I knew the two garments I picked out of the trunk at Headquarters; I know they belonged to me.

Q. How many garments do you generally have of that kind?

A. I had three made to order of that kind. I missed two; I have one left.

Q. When did you miss two?

A. As soon as I heard Gertrude had been stealing I looked around. We missed several things out of the house.

Q. You had servants in the house, too?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Men servants?

A. I had Gertrude's mother, and a cook, and Gertrude in the house.

JOHN W. FLETCHER, sworn, and examined by Mr. Macdonald:-

Q Mr. Fletcher, where do you live?

A. At 51st Street and Broadway, in the Albany Flats.

Q You live there with your wife?

A. Yes, sir.

Q Mr. Reed was a boarder with you?

A. No; Mr. Reed had the flat before I was there, I afterwards.

Q You lived together?

A. We lived together; yes, sir.

Q Did you employ this girl, Gertrude Williams?

A. I did not.

Q Who did?

A. I didn't see her until I found her there in the house; I had nothing to do with her employment whatever.

Q She was employed in your house; was she?

A. Yes, sir.

Q As a servant?

A. As a servant.

Q Now, do you remember when she was arrested?

A. Yes, sir.

Q When was that?

A. I think it was the 7th or 8th day of April.

Q How long had she been in your employ at that time?

A. She had been away from the house a week before she was arrested and the time for leaving -- she had been there two or three weeks.

Q Now, did you go to headquarters, after her trunk was taken there?

A. No, sir.

Q Did you see the articles that were taken from her trunk, Police Headquarters?

A. I did.

Q Did you identify any of them as your property?

A. I identified them as my property.

Q What articles have you identified as your property?

A. A piece of Indian embroidery.

Q This? (Showing it.)

A. Yes, sir.

Q What else?

A. A towel, an Irish linen towel, there. (Pointing.)

Q What else?

A. Different small things are there, two or three embroidery things, I recognize them. I seen them about the house.

Q Did you put those things in the trunk of this girl?

A. No, sir; never saw them there.

Q Did you put this silver belt in her trunk?

A. No, sir; I have in my pocket something that was returned, her lawyer returned, which she had taken, which was not found in her trunk.

CROSS EXAMINATION BY MR. COWAN:-

Q And those stockings, did your wife tell you -- just state the history of those stockings, as near as you can?

Objected to.

Mr. Macdonald: That is the case.

POOR QUALITY
ORIGINAL

CASE FOR THE DEFENCE.

Gertrude Williams, sworn, and examined by Mr. Cowan,

Q You were employed by Mrs. Fletcher, were you not?

A. Yes, sir.

Q Who employed you there?

A. Mrs. Fletcher.

Q Did she hire you?

A. She did.

Q Who paid you?

A. Mr. Fletcher.

Q How long were you there?

A. I was there very nearly one month.

Q Now, what do you know about this belt and these handkerchiefs?

A. I never saw any of those articles.

Q You never saw any of those articles?

A. With the exception of one pair of my gloves.

Q One pair of gloves?

A. Yes, sir.

Q What ones -- are these yours? (Showing gloves.)

A. Buff colored gloves.

Q Are these yours?

A. Those are my gloves.

Q Where did you get those gloves?

A. I bought those gloves corner of 51st Street and 8th Avenue.

Q When did you buy them?

A. I bought them a little while before Easter.

Q That is, along about the first of April or the last of March?

Q Now, do you remember Mr. Reed coming down to make an affidavit against you?

A. Do I remember that?

Q When Mr. Reed came there to make an affidavit against you, as to those gloves?

A. Yes, I do.

Q Did you identify those gloves as yours then?

A. I did.

Q Did you hear Mr. Reed say that those gloves were his?

A. Yes, sir.

Q Did you hear him say that those handkercherifs and those things were all his?

A. Yes, sir.

Q Who did you hear ask him that question?

A. I believe the clerk.

Q The clerk behind the desk asked him that question?

A. Yes, sir.

Q Did he mention anything about any shirts?

A. Yes, sir, he did.

Q What did he say about shirts?

A. He said that he had lost shirts also, nine shirts.

Q Now, how many servants were in the employ of Mrs. Fletcher during the time you was there?

A. Two.

Q What did they do?

A. Both of them were hired as cooks.

Q How long were they there, each?

A. Well, the man servant, he was there about two weeks after I came; and the woman servant, I believe is there now.

Q Did they have access to the house?

A. They did.

By the Court:-

Q Did either of them occupy the room with you?

A. Well, they used to go in the same room.

Q Did they occupy and sleep in that room?

A. No, sir.

Q You occupied this room exclusively yourself?

A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. Cowan:-

Q What about this property which they claim that you carried from your room -- an armful of stuff -- and threw it in a laundry, do you know anything about that?

The Court:- There is no evidence about that.

Mr. Cowan:- I withdraw that question.

By the Court:-

Q This belt was found in your trunk. Do you know how it got there?

A. No, sir, I do not. I never saw the belt.

Q You didn't put it there?

A. No.

Q That trunk was yours?

A. The trunk was mine, but I didn't know the belt was in the trunk.

Q But you saw it when they took it out?

A. No, sir, I was not there.

Q That was found there. You say to the Jury you don't know how it got there, and didn't put it there?

A. No, sir; I didn't have anything to do with any of those things.

Q Do you know who did put it there, if it was found there?

A. No, sir, I do not.

By Mr. Cowan:-

Q When you left your trunk there, at this house, the night before -- did you leave it locked?

A. The key was in the trunk, the lid was up, it was not shut down.

Q Do you remember what articles were in the trunk when you left it there?

A. Yes, sir, I do.

Q What articles -- can you recollect -- do you remember?

A. Five undergarments of mine, and a pair of lisle thread hose, a pair of pink silk garters, and other articles.

Q You say your trunk was left unlocked?

A. My trunk was left unlocked.

Q Who was it demanded the key from you?

A. Mrs. Fletcher.

Q What time of day was it that she demanded it?

A. Quarter past five in the afternoon.

Q Who else was in the house at the time?

A. The cook and Mr. Reed.

Q Then what did you do with the key, when she demanded it of you?

A. She didn't do anything with the key as I know of, only she took the key and then gave the key to Mr. Reed.

When I went to ask for it, she told me that Mr. Reed got it -- when I went to get the key she told me that Mr. Reed had the key.

Q And did you see Mr. Reed go in your room?

A. I saw him go up stairs. I am talking about the key of the door.

Q Did you see Mr. Reed go in your room?

A. No; but he had taken the key and went up stairs; the reason I know, he brought my black dress down stairs. He would not allow me to go in my room. He had a piece of paper in his hand.

Q What was in the paper?

A. I couldn't say.

Q How big a bundle was it, about how long?

A. About like that (illustrating.)

Q Rolled up in a newspaper, was it?

A. No, it was brown paper.

Q How long did he stay in that room after he went in?

A. He stayed quite a while, about seven minutes.

Q What did he do when he came down stairs?

A. He handed me the dress; but he was up in my room twice before that.

Q What was he doing up there twice before?

A. I couldn't say. They had been in the habit of going in my room at night.

Q How do you know that?

A. Well, because my mother told me that --

Objected to.

Q How do you know that he went in your room?

A. I had some things, if they hadn't been in there, they wouldn't have known I had them, a wash bowl --

Q Well, did you know whether they ever read any letters of yours, which were sent from Brooklyn?

Objected to.

By the Court:-

Q Did you see Mr. Reed read any of your letters?

A. I couldn't say which one / - / one of the gentlemen read them. They found out I had friends in Brooklyn. My letters were left down stairs, on the refrigerator.

Q By Mr. Cowan:-

There seems to be a difficulty with Mxxx you and Mrs. Fletcher, was there not?

A. There was.

Q What was that about?

A. About ten dollars.

Q What about the ten dollars?

A. She told me she missed ten dollars, she didn't know where it went to. She told me to look for the money in her desk, and I looked for it, and I told her there was not any money there. She said, "All right;" that's is all she said to me.

Q Did she say anything about that?

A. No, she didn't.

Q What was she doing at that time?

A. The dress maker was fitting her dress on her for a ball, I believe that night.

Q The dress maker was there -- did she accuse you of taking ten dollars?

A. She didn't say that I had taken it.

CROSS EXAMINATION:-

Q By Mr. Macdona:-

Q The fact of the matter is that Mrs. Fletcher was sick in bed with pneumonia; is not that right?

A. I couldn't say.

Q She was sick in bed?

A. I don't know whether she was or not. I saw her in bed, I don't know whether she was sick or not.

Q She was in bed then -- very healthy, in bed?

A. I suppose she was, I don't know.

Q She was in bed, though?

A. Yes, sir.

Q She had forty dollars in her bureau drawer, and the dress maker came there, and she sent you to the bureau drawer to get money -- ten dollars -- for the seamstress; isn't that it?

A. No, sir.

Q Tell me how it was then?

A. When the dress maker came, she had taken this roll of money out of the drawer; she asked me to go to Eighth Avenue to get some things for the dress maker, she pulled out the roll of bills, and she gave me ten dollars; I went up stairs and she looked out of the little room and called me in. "Gertrude, I have missed ten dollars, go and look for it for me". I went in her desk; "I don't see any money." She said, "All right;" that is the only thing she said to me.

Q Nobody else had been at that drawer but yourself when she missed the ten dollars?

A. That I couldn't say, because I never went in her things without her permission.

Q Will you kindly give me one of those gloves off your hand?

(The witness did so.)

A. That is a six and a half glove.

Q Put one of those on (the glove identified by the previous witness.)

A. These are my gloves, I remember trying this one on.

Q While you are going on with that, putting on that glove, will you tell me why it was that you went to the janitor of this flat, corner of 51st Street and Broadway, and got a false key made, -- skeleton key -- and told the janitor that Mr. Fletcher had ordered you to order him to make it?

A. I didn't see the janitor, I never said anything to the janitor about the key at all.

Q You had no false key, or no skeleton key?

A. No.

Q Will you explain how these undergarments, belonging to Mrs. Cremers, got in your possession? How were they put, do you think, in your trunk?

A. I think those undergarments belonged to me, because I had some --

Q How about this East India silk. Did you come originally from the East Indies, or did you have these things? Where did you get that?

A. Oh, I never saw that, I don't know anything about this.

Q It was put in your trunk, it is ~~the~~ part of the conspiracy.

A. They must have been put there. I didn't put them in there.

Q About Mrs. Sangster's towels, where did they come from?

A. One of those towels belonged to me. I know one of those towels belonged to me.

Q These gloves, do those belong to you? (Showing gloves.)

A. No, sir, they are not mine.

Q They were put into the trunk too, were they?

A. (No answer.)

Q And this lace, that was also put into your trunk?

A. I know nothing about it.

Q You never saw any of these articles produced out of your trunk?

A. I never saw any of those things there at all.

Q Well, now, don't you think that when Mr. Reed went up stairs with that mysterious paper bundle, this is what he had in the paper bundle?

(Showing silver belt.)

A. I wouldn't dare to swear, I just saw the paper in his hand, but I didn't take any particular notice of the shape.

Q Do you think that silver belt was in it, or do you think that pair of gloves was in it?

A I couldn't positively say -- I wouldn't dare to say.

Q If you didn't take those ten dollars from Mrs. Fletcher, why did you try to return her ten dollars -- what was the purpose of going to her and trying to get her to take ten dollars?

A. Well, she said I was the only person in her room; after she talked over it a while, I said, "Mrs. Fletcher, I don't want any trouble; I don't know anything about the money". I says, "I will work two weeks, and pay you back". She said, "No, I don't want you to do that; I would rather you would leave my premises first.

Q Do you remember when you did leave, you were found with two linens shirts upon you, and that you took them off?

A. No, sir.

Q That is not true?

A. No, sir. I know just what I had on; I didn't have any property of hers at all.

Q Do you remember, the very same night when you were accused of taking ten dollars, throwing a bundle of laces and stuff into the kitchen -- do you know that cook, the girl over there? (Pointing to a girl in Court.)

A. Yes, sir.

Q Do you remember going to the room she was in, and throwing a bundle of laces and stuff into that laundry, and putting a piece of carpet over it?

A. I admit that I done that, the day before; yes.

Q Will you tell us why you did it, the day before?

A. There had been some things in that room that didn't belong to me, and I cleaned my room up, and I put them behind the trunk, with matting on top. That is all I know about it.

Q You don't know how they got in your room?

A. They had been in my room; there had been trunks there, but Mr. Reed had moved them out, those things were left behind a green chest.

Q Don't you know that the very articles you put into the laundry and covered up with a piece of carpet or matting, had been taken out of the trunk of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher, and Mr. Reed in that house?

A. I don't know they were taken out of the trunk.

Q You didn't do it?

A. No, sir.

RE-DIRECT EXAMINATION BY MR. COWNA:-

Q I understood you to say that those gloves are yours. Which one of these towels are yours? This is the one that Mrs. Cremers said was hers.

A. It is my towel.

Q How do you know it is your towel?

A. I know it on account of that hole; I remember when I tore it, washing.

Q You remember it on account of that hole?

A. Yes, sir.

RE-CROSS EXAMINATION BY MR. MACDONA:-

Q Is that the only towel of that peculiar mark that you have?

A. That is the only one, because it is an old towel. All the rest of them are worn out.

Q You bought that in Europe; did you?

A. I have never been to that place.

Q Where did you get that towel?

A. My mother has always been in the habit of providing me with such articles.

Q She provided you with this towel?

A. She did, I have other towels, but not of that texture.

BY MR. COWAN:-

Q Those are not yours? (Pointing to articles on table.)

A. No, there is one pair of stockings in my trunk. The black stockings were not in my trunk, I never saw any of those things, only my gloves.

BY MR. McDONALD:-

Q That is what glove?

A. This is six and a half.

Q You usually wear such size?

A. This size fits me.

Q What size do you usually wear?

A. Six and a half.

Q What number is that glove?

A. Those are six and three quarters.

BY THE COURT:-

Q Why did you leave Mrs. Fletcher's, did she turn you away?

A. She didn't turn me away, but Mr. Reed said I could not stay in the house that night, and I went away, to my mother's.

Q You saw this trunk at Police Headquarters; didn't you?

A. No, sir, I haven't been down there. The last time I saw my trunk was the day that Mr. Fletcher demanded my key.

Q You state to this Jury that this belt, if it was found there, you don't know how it came there?

A. No, sir; I do not.

Q You had no hand in putting it there?

A. No, sir, I never knew there was such a belt in that house.

Q Do you know of any enemy in that house who would be likely to put it there, for the purpose of implicating you?

A. I was good friends with everybody in the house, as far as I know of.

Q You know of no reason why anyone should put it in your trunk?

A. No, sir, I don't.

BY MR. COWAN:-

Q Do you have no reason to believe that Mr. Reed to do that, in order to implicate you?

A. I wouldn't dare to say that Mr. Reed put it there; but I have an idea Mr. Reed put it there, because he didn't like me.

Q What did Mr. Reed say to you, the night you had trouble with him?

A. Mr. Reed came into the kitchen, and he told me that, if I didn't give that ten dollars by back by ten o'clock that night, he would get me locked up. He said, "I will get you arrested, anyhow; I have often got people locked up."

Q He said that?

A. Yes, sir; he said he would get me arrested anyhow.

By a Juror:-

Q Did you keep your trunk locked all the time, or was the key left in it?

A. My trunk was always open, with the key in my trunk.

Q And when the trunk was taken from the house, the key was then resting in the trunk; was it?

A. Yes, sir; when I left my room there's where the key was, in my trunk.

BY ANOTHER JUROR:-

Q How long was it between the time you were accused and the time the trunk was taken away?

A. I underatand, five days. I haven't seen my trunk.

Q You did deny the stealing?

A. I did; yes, sir.

Q Why didn't you give them access to your trunk, and say, "I didn't steal --"

Mr. Gowan: She did say that.

By the Court:-

Q Did you tell them to go to your trunk, if they had any suspicion?

A. I told Mrs. Fletcher, "If you think I have anything belongs to you, I will give you liberty to search my trunk," when we had some trouble about those things that were behind the trunk. I didn't leave the house before evening. My mother asked Mr. Reed if I might stay in the house, and he said, No. She said, "No, Gertrude, I wouldn't be fool enough to go, you look in your trunk, because, if the thief steals anything, he is not going to tell anybody where the things were, so that they could be got." That is what she said to me.

By a Juror:-

Q Did you have access to your room after you were told to go away?

A. No, sir; Mr. Reed would not let me go back there.

BENJAMIN HONIG, sworn, and examined by Mr. Cowan:-

Q Where do you live?

A. 485 Sixth Avenue.

Q What kind of business are you in?

A. Gents furnishing store.

Q Do you remember ever selling this defendant any shirts?

A. She bought two shirts, in the store, of me.

Q Do you remember about what time she bought them?

A. It was on a Saturday morning.

BY THE COURT:-

Q What month, what year?

A. The last Saturday in March.

Q The last Saturday in March, of this year?

A. Yes, sir.

The Court: Have these shirts, thus far, come into the case?

Mr. Macdona: No, sir.

Mr. Cowan: Mr. Reed accused her of stealing shirts. She went and got a receipt from this witness.

MARY C. SHIELDS, sworn, examined by Mr. Cowan:-

Q Where do you live?

A. I live at 322 East 108th Street.

Q What kind of business do you work at?

A. I work in fancy and dry goods, 51st Street and 8th Avenue.

Q Do you recollect selling a pair of gloves to this lady?

A. No, sir.

Q Would you know a pair of gloves that was bought there?

A. I have a private mark in them, I could tell whether it is the grade we sell or not. I couldn't identify the gloves.

Q Are these the gloves?

(Pair of gloves shown to witness.)

A. We sell this make of gloves.

By the Court:-

Q Whether you sold these or not you don't know?

A. I can't say.

Q A great many others sell gloves like these?

A. Yes, sir; I am surprised.

By Mr. Cowan:-

Q Was it this kind of glove?

A. We don't keep the Jouvin, but we do keep the Cowie rsier; that surprised me very much, that the gloves could possibly have been sold.

Q Could the gloves which they bought --

A. I don't think it could have been, because we don't keep that make.

Q Did you ever see the defendant?

A. I saw her there once, but she didn't come in to buy gloves. She came in to identify the girl who sold them; she said I sat there. The girl is not here; she doesn't remember her, we sell so many gloves.

WILLIAM M. LIVELY, sworn, and examined by MR.

Cowan:-

Q What is your business?

A. I am a physician.

Q Where is your place of business?

A. 218 West 28th Street.

Q How long have you been a practicing physician?

A. Since 1879.

Q From what college are you a graduate?

A. The Long Island College Hospital Brooklyn.

Q Do you know this defendant?

A. I do.

Q How long have you known this defendant?

A. I have known her for two or three years.

Q What have been your relations, so as that you may know her?

A. She boarded with my wife.

Q For how long?

A. From the latter part, or about the latter part of 1887, until after the blizzard, in 1888.

Q Did you ever know of anybody speaking as to her honesty and integrity?

A. No, sir.

Q You never heard that questioned? You have never heard her honesty questioned?

A. As to that, I can't say.

By the Court:-

Q What do you mean by that?

A. I will tell you what I mean, Your Honor --

By Mr. Cowan:-

Q You say you have never heard anybody speak of her; you never knew her to steal anything?

A. No, sir.

Q Had she a chance to steal anything from you?

A. Plenty of chances.

Q You never missed anything while she was there?

A. Nothing; not a single article.

Q (By MR. Macdona):-

Q Do you know what character is?

A. I think I ought to know what character is.

Q What people say about this girl. Is her character good or bad?

A. As to that, I will simply say this: some people say that her character is good, and others don't speak so well of her. I am here to tell the truth.

A Juror:- What time did the Police Department take charge of the trunk?

The Court: We will find out before the close of the case. Remind me of that.

ADGIE WILLIAMS, sworn, and examined by Mr. Cowen:-

Q Where do you live?

A. 142 West 53rd Street.

Q What is your business?

A. Well, I am attending school, in New York, a school of elocution.

Q You are attending a school of elocution?

A. I am.

Q Do you know this defendant?

A. I am acquainted with her, but I don't know her.

Q Have you ever heard anybody speak anything as to her honesty disrespectfully?

A. No, sir, I have not.

BY MR. MACDONA:-

Q You don't know anything about her; do you?

A. No, sir.

Q She is no friend of yours?

A. No friend. I was looking for some young colored girl to teach a drill -- some movements I learned at school, -- I met her. That is all I know about her.

RUBY ABBOTT, sworn, and examined by Mr. Cowan:-

Q Miss Abbott, do you know this defendant?

A. Yes, sir.

Q How long have you known her?

A. About five years.

Q Have you ever known anybody to question her honesty or dishonesty?

A. I never have.

Q Have you ever known her to steal anything?

A. I never have.

Q Did you ever hear anybody accuse her of stealing anything?

A. No, sir.

Q Her reputation has been known as good?

A. Yes, sir.

Q Does she belong to the Church you do?

A. Yes, sir.

WALTER S. BARKER, sworn, and examined by Mr. Cowan:-

Q Where do you live?

A. 147 Willoughby Street, Brooklyn.

Q What is your business?

A. Livery clerk, in Wechsler & Abrams, mercantile house, in Brooklyn.

Q Do you know this defendant?

A. I do.

Q How long have you known her?

A. Three years.

Q Have you ever heard anybody speak of her, as to her dishonesty?

A. I have not.

Q Her reputation, then, you have heard to be good or bad, for honesty?

A (No answer.)

BY THE COURT:-

Q What is her reputation for honesty?

A. I never heard anybody speak disrespectfully of her.

Q Never heard it questioned?

A. No, sir, I have not.

GERTRUDE WILLIAMS, recalled by Mr. Cowan:-

Q Now, Miss Williams, were you christened in any Church in Brooklyn?

Objected to as immaterial.

A. No, I was christened --

Q Did Mr. Reed ever accost you with any improper proposals or anything while you were in his house?

Objected to; objection sustained.

A. No, sir.

OFFICER JOHN J. O'BRIEN, recalled by Mr. Macdonald:-

Q This girl was arrested when, what is the date of the arrest, do you remember?

A. I believe it was the 7th or 8th of April.

Q Do you remember when the complaint was made at Police Headquarters -- the date?

A. I think it was the 26th or 27th of March.

Q From the 27th of March until the arrest, on the 8th of April, were the Police Authorities looking for this girl?

A. Yes, sir.

Q Making diligent search, in every place you thought you would find her?

A. Yes, sir; my partner was in Brooklyn about five days.

By a Juror:-

Q In whose possession was the trunk, from the 27th of March until the 8th of April?

A. The Police Department.

BY MR. COWAN:-

Q Was it in the house?

A. It was in the house, with instructions from Inspector McLaughlin --

Q By Mr. Macdonald:- Was it in the flat?

A. Yes, sir, it was in the flat.

Q When was it brought down from the flat, and taken to Police Headquarters -- after the arrest?

A. The day before the arrest.

By a Juror:-

Q Who was it first charged her with stealing?

A. Mr. Reed went to Police Headquarters, and he made a complaint.

Another Juror: When Mr. Reed charged her with stealing it, did she say to him, "Go to my trunk, and, if anything belongs to you, you can take it?"

The Court: She said to Mrs. Fletcher, if she stole anything, to examine her trunk. Mrs. Fletcher said she wouldn't be so foolish.

Q (By a Juror) ~~Was~~ But it was Mr. Reed who made the complaint at Headquarters?

A. Yes, sir.

GERTRUDE WILLIAMS, recalled by the Court:-

Q Who did you say that to?

A. To Mrs. Fletcher.

OFFICER JOHN J. O'BRIEN, recalled:-

Q (By a Juror) In whose possession was the key of this room?

A. I don't know, sir.

Q You don't know who had possession of that key?

A. No, sir.

Q The Police Department didn't?

A. No, sir. Do you mean the key of the room?

Q The key of the room that the trunk was locked in?

A. I don't know, sir.

Mr. Cowan: We rest.

Mr. Macdonald: The people rest.

The Jury disagreed.

I live at no. 100 W. 87th street. I knew Gertrude Williams.
I met her in February at Mrs Sangs.
Mrs. She was there visiting her mother. I gave know Mrs Fletcher wanted a girl. And I gave to Fannie Stricker a letter of introduction to Mrs. Fletcher for her daughter.

After the girl had been arrested
^{I was at Mrs Fletcher's}
~~Mr. Lee came to me and asked~~
~~to go to headquarters. There is a~~ ~~bank at headquarters and~~

^{new} ~~Silk handkerchiefs~~ I had missed several ties & and thought I would go down to headquarters and see if they were there. I went and found a pair of stockings and bowl of mine. I did not find the silk handkerchiefs or ties.

The Larceny was committed at 213 W 48th
St. and I was living at that time with Mrs Sangster.

There was a pass ticket to the pictures in 87th St in my room on the mantle piece. It was missing and I made search. The mother also. The mother said I wish you would look every thing up

Mrs Sarah Cury

On the top floor she came Mrs Fletcher has ~~lost~~ ten dollars & said there will be a great time about it when Mr
Fletcher & Mr Reid comes home
I saw Mrs Fletcher when she had the money. but I don't know anything about it
She then went down stairs & Went out saying I am going on an errand for Mrs Fletcher. She then came in & said I am going up stairs. She then came down.
Went up stairs & found a quantity of things behind the trunk covered with a roll of flannel. Brought them down stairs & showed them to Mrs F in the presence of her trunk. They consisted of towels laces four pairs of stockings, ribbon a box cigarettes, writing paper fine powder, Glycerine, lace scarf and the garment I have in my hand. She said
I do not know anything about them. I said they were not there in the morning when I cleaned up laundry up.

 She said I put them in there.
 After the money was missing Herbed & Mrs F went up to her room & find these there & say I stole them. So I put them in the laundry to be ^{out of} ~~there~~ the way & went to be in her room
 She said that she took them up to her room because she found them ^{about the same} ~~out of the way~~. ~~After~~ after that Before this I said to Mrs F in dept-presence the not any night-dress in the sealed clothes. Mrs F said there was no to be there. I said they ~~were~~ are laundry. I said not. then I said to me in the kitchen you will find the night-dress in my room. I said say anything to Mrs F about it. When Grandma mother came two handbags were found in her pockets ^{containing a large sum of money} ^{belonging to Mrs F.}
 Mrs F did not go upstairs with any packages.
 It was about ~~six~~ ^{five or six} when Mrs F demanded the keys

3

Yesterday first I was having the red key & then I brought the key. About 10 days before I was accused. The cook found a pair of drawers in room & said those were my mine. There is it possible for you to wear such elegant underclothes. I told him
I am very fond of underclothes
& I have several more pairs just as nice. When the bundle was put in the laundry this pair was in the bundle

The People vs. Gertrude Williams.

Mrs Alice H. Sanger.

I live at no. 100 W. 87th St. I have known Gertrude Williams since last March. Her mother used to work for me and the daughter used to visit her. I missed several articles from my wardrobe. When Miss Williams was arrested Mr. Reed came to me and requested me to go to headquarters and see if I could identify any of my missing articles. I had never known Mr. Reed or Glepper before this time. I went to headquarters and among the articles taken from the trunk I identified one of my Chemise and I was able to identify as I had three made to order ~~some~~ last June. They were of peculiar make. I have one of them now. I also identified another article of underwear. I can also identify the defendant as the person who visited and who slept with her mother.

On the 8th of March I employed the mother of this defendant who a few days after told me she said. "I have a daughter who is now in the country, and who is a very nice girl and who would make a very good Chambermaid." I told her to bring her down if she was a nice girl. A couple of days after this Gertrude came, and shortly after said she had gone for her trunk. She returned in a day or two. And remained about a week. During her stay she had access to every room in my house and was in them with her mother.

People vs
Williams

Statement of Mrs. Sawyer

Sept. 1894.

Massachusetts
The trunk was opened. I saw the belt & the articles identified by Mrs. Reis. I was present when the articles were identified by Mrs.
Greene & Mrs. Sawyer.
I arrested the girl in her lawyer's office. She had been trying to find her for a week.
I went to her mother's house every day. It was reported at the house that she had left for Philadelphia. I found her in a lawyer's office.
I found her in the trunk that belonged to Mrs. Fletcher and that ladies underclothing that belonged to Mrs. Sawyer and the stockings that belonged to Mrs. Greene. I put into your possession. I don't know any thing about it. Somebody must have put them in the trunk.
I pitched the gloves up to Mrs.
Fletcher & she identified deposes and says, that on the 30 day of March 1893 at the City of New York, in the County of New York, was feloniously taken, stolen and carried away from the possession of deponent, in the right time, the following property, viz:

One Hundred Dollars, good and lawful money of the United States $100⁰⁰/₁₀₀

the property of deponent

and that this deponent has a probable cause to suspect, and does suspect, that the said property was feloniously taken, stolen and carried away by Maggie Wilson

(now here) from the fact that deponent had said money in the watch-pocket of his trousers when he accompanied defendant to a room in the premises No. 12 East 13th Street, that no other person was in said room at said time excepting deponent and defendant; that defendant had her hands around deponent's trousers and after leaving said premises and after parting

MICHEAL CULL, THE COMPLAINANT, being duly sworn, testified that on the night of the 30th of March, 1893, he was in the city of New York. He went to the Star Theatre that evening. After the theatre was over he met the defendant, in 13th street, near Fifth avenue, about half-past 11 o'clock. The defendant was alone at the time. The defendant said to him, "Good evening; how do you do?" He said nothing. The defendant said, "You seem to be in a hurry. Where are you going?" He said, "I am going to the elevated station." The defendant said, "Don't be in a hurry; stop here." He said, "Where do you live?" The defendant said, "Right here. Won't you come up stairs?" He said, "No. Do you live in this house?" She said, "Yes." He, the complainant, said, "If you live in that house, I might as well go up with you." They went into the hall, and a girl said to him, "You will have to pay me for the room." He said, "I thought this girl lived here?" The girl said, "Yes; but she will have to pay for the room, anyhow." He asked the girl how much it was, and she said $1.00.

POOR QUALITY

He had $105.00 in bills in his pocket, and he pulled out the roll and took a five dollar bill from it and gave it to the girl. He told the girl to take the change up stairs, and he then followed the defendant up to the third floor and into a room. He, the complainant, commenced taking off his coat, and the defendant said, "Don't be so immodest as that, as to undress yourself in the presence of people like that." He said, "What is the difference since it is your room up here, I may as well undress myself. At that moment the girl brought him the change from the five dollar bill which he had given to her in the hall. He said to the defendant, "Here I will give you $2.00 for your trouble in coming up here" --- he didn't say anything to her at all, he just handed her the $2.00 bill. He had his roll of bills in the fob pocket of his trousers. He went to the door and closed and bolted it. The defendant, said, "You are quite stout, ain't you, fat." and felt his stomach. At that time he had taken off his coat and he started to unbutton his vest, and the defendant said, "Don't take off your clothes, or anything of that kind." He said, "I am quite tired; I will lie down here." He laid down on the bed, and the defendant went over to the bed and unbuttoned his vest and started to unbutton his trousers. The defendant then put her hands all around his stomach, and fumbled all around his trousers, inside and outside. The defendant then said, "I am so tired and full of beer and everything of that kind that I am no good at all this evening." He, the complainant, said, "All right; it is rather late, and I want to catch a train, and I will go." The defendant said, "Oh, no, don't go; I want to put on my hat; I want to go out with you, you are such a nice fellow. Why don't you come up to my house?" He said he thought she lived there, and the defendant said, "Oh, no; I live somewhere else. I will walk with you." When they reached Fifth avenue he told the defendant that he was going to 14th street and Sixth avenue to take the elevated train. He parted with the defendant at 5th avenue and 13th street, about ten minutes to 12 o'clock. He walked up Fifth avenue to 14th street. About the middle of the block, on 14th street, between 5th and 6th avenues, he put his hand in his pocket to get some change to pay his fare on the elevated railroad, and he thought he would feel his roll of bills, to be sure that his money was there. He felt for his money in his fob pocket, and it was gone. He retraced his steps and looked through 5th avenue and around 13th street for the defendant, but he could not see her. He looked around for her until about a quarter to 1, and then he went uptown to the place where he was staying. The next morning he went back to the house where he had been with the defendant. He asked the woman in the house if she remembered him being there the night before. The woman called a girl, and the girl said, "Yes, I remember this gentleman. He gave me a five dollar bill -- yes, you are the gentleman, because it was the only five dollar bill that I took in last night." He said, "Do you remember the girl that I was with last night? " The girl said, "Yes, her name is Maggie Wilson." He said, "Did you notice anything about the girl last night?" The girl said, "It was the only time she came into the house with anybody that she went out so quickly; I noticed that she went out quicker last night than we had ever known her to go out before. She usually stays around." He said, "Do you know where Maggie Wilson lives?" The girl said, "No; why?" He said, "When she went up stairs last night she stole one hundred dollars from my pocket." The girl said, "It is very funny that she went off so quick. I suppose, if she comes back, she will give it back to you." He said that he wouldn't wait, that he would go to the station house and report his loss. He went to the station house, and reported the matter to the officer in charge. He made the complaint the next morning, the 31st of March. He saw the defendant in Jefferson Market Court the following Monday. The defendant did not say anything to him in Jefferson Market Court. The defendant said that she was not guilty.

ORIGINAL

POOR QUALITY

In cross-examination the complainant testified that the name he had given here was his right name. He lived in South Glastonbury, Connecticut. When in New York he resided at 103 West 77th street. He was a manufacturer of cotton goods. He was a married man. He did not first accost the defendant as she was walking through 13th street. He did not enter any saloons on the night in question. He did not take his money out before he entered the house with the defendant; he took the money out in the hall. He was in the habit of visiting New York once or twice a year. He did not cause the owner of the house to be arrested for keeping a house of prostitution. The defendant had been drinking on the night in question; there was no doubt about that. She did not appear to be under the influence of liquor when they entered the house, but she did when they left it. He did not feel the defendant's hand in his fob pocket. He was sober at the time --he never drank a drop of liquor in his life.

In redirect examination the complainant testified that he felt the defendant's hand in the vicinity of his fib pocket. He felt the money in his pocket just before he entered the room with the defendant.

OFFICER JAMES HANLON, being duly sworn, testified that he was attached to the 15th police precinct. He saw the defendant in the station house on Saturday night. He saw the defendant later on, in the Police Court. In the Police Court the defendant admitted being in the room with the complainant, but denied stealing the money. The defendant was arrested by Officer Dourigan.

OFFICER JAMES A. DOURIGAN, being duly sworn, testified that he was connected with the 15th precinct police. He arrested the defendant, on information that he received from Officer Hanlon. He arrested her in 13th street, between 5th and 6th avenues. The defendant was in company with another girl at the time of the arrest. He called the defendant one side, and asked her if she was in the neighborhood on the previous Thursday evening, and she said she was. He asked her if she was in the house No. 12 East 13th street with a man, and she said she was. He asked her if she took one hundred dollars from the man, and she said, "I didn't take one hundred dollars from no man. I had a man in the house, and he gave me five dollars."

FOR THE DEFENCE, MAGGIE WILSON, THE DEFENDANT, being duly sworn, testified, in her own behalf, that she was thirty years of age. She was born in New York city. She had never been convicted of any crime. She recollected the night in question. She was going through 13th street to meet a girl to go over to a dance in 15th street, and the complainant went up to her and asked her if there was not a place where they could go, and she said, "Yes, right next door." The complainant knew at the time that he was going into a house of prostitution. The complainant gave the servant girl in the hall a five dollar bill. The complainant asked her, the defendant, how much she wanted, and she said she would take the change out of the five dollar bill; he said, "All right." When they got up to the room the complainant said that he wouldn't go to bed, that he was a married man. The complainant sat on the edge of the bed and talked awhile. She, the defendant, then accompanied the complainant to 13th street and 5th avenue; she did not touch any of his money but the $4.00 which he gave her. There was no truth in the complainant's story about her having her hands around him. The complainant told her he did not want to have anything to do with her. She, the defendant, did not go home immediately after leaving the complainant. She was on that block fifteen or twenty minutes after that; and then she went home.

In cross-examination the defendant testified that in the Police Court she said she had nothing to say. She did not see the complainant give the five dollars to the colored girl in the hall; he

POOR QUALITY

0225

told her he had given the girl five dollars. The hall of that house was entirely dark; there were no lights in the hall whatever. She, the defendant, had only one drink of beer that night; she was not in the habit of drinking. She did not remark that the complainant was stout, or that he was nice and plump. She did not put her hands on the complainant's person. She did not unbutton his vest, or lie down on the bed with him. She did not see the complainant have any money whatever, except what he gave her. There was nobody but her in the defendant's company from the time she met him until the time they parted. At the time of her arrest she was living at 51 7th avenue; she had been living there six months. On the night in question she was not particularly in need of money; her father, in Taunton, Mass, sent her money when she wanted it.

THE COMPLAINANT, being recalled by the Court, testified that there was a light at the head of the stairs in the house in 13th street, and he could see as plainly in there as he could at the time he was testifying. He saw his money distinctly; there could be no question about that. The defendant did not say anything to him on the street about what the price of the room would be. He did not accost the defendant; she spoke to him first. The defendant had her hands on his person. He did not give the defendant $4.00. The defendant said in the Police Court that he gave her $5.00, and he told the Judge that it was a deliberate lie, that he only gave her $2.00. It was not possible that the money could have fallen out of his pocket on to the bed, and remained there.

POOR QUALITY

OFFICER DOURIGAN, being recalled by Defendant's counsel, testified that he knew the proprietress of the house in question. She was not arrested the day after the complainant lost his money. She was arrested on the 5th of April, charged with keeping a disorderly house. The complainant did not make any charge against the proprietress of the house.
