GEORGE F. LEWIS.

ASSAULT

in the first degree.

The defendant stands indicted since the 18th day of March 1886 for an assault in the first degree upon one John McCullough, alleged to have been committed in the saloon of John Martin at No. 33 Third Avenue.

Application is now made on behalf of the defendant for a dismissal of the indictment, and the matter has been referred to me for examination and report.

The assault is alleged to consist in a pistol shot wound in the thigh, inflicted by defendant upon one John McCullough of Boston. There is in the information no detail of the alleged assault.

Heretofore, however, upon the 4th, of February, 1887, when this case was upon the calendar for trial, the complainant McCullough, for whose appearance from Boston as a witness bail was given at the time of the defendant's commitment, came to me, and, in the course of quite an extended interview, informed me that the change had been made, by him without consideration, that he was forced upon a dispassionate review of the whole affair ^{was not} that the provocation has rested entirely upon his side, that the ~~provocation~~ ^{wrong} was totally with him, and that he had possibly given the defendant reason to believe that he intended to shoot him.

I have^{not} upon this consideration, subpoenaed the complainant and the witness White to come here from Boston, but I have contented myself with obtaining from them the communications hereto annexed, in which they state, with their reasons their desire that the prosecution against Lewis shall be abandoned.

I have moreover conversed with the defendant and with the witness John Martin, in whose saloon the alleged assault took place. Their affidavits concerning the details of the affair are hereto annexed. It is unnecessary to transcribe their contents in detail into this report, but it will be seen by a perusal of them that they put upon the matter a phase totally inconsistent with the support of the indictment. They show the complainant and his companion, the witness White, to have been the sole aggressors and the defendant to have acted simply in self defense, and the alleged assault to have been of an accidental nature. For all these reasons I recommend the dismissal of the indictment.

City and County of New York, ss:

GEORGE F. LEWIS being duly sworn deposes and says:

I am a police officer attached to the Detective Staff of the Municipal Police Force in this City. Upon the 20th. day of February, 1886, the day of the alleged assault in this action, I was a member of said force, but attached to the Office of Superintendent Murray.

The circumstances attending the said alleged assault are in detail as follows:

At about fifteen minutes past 11, on the night of said last mentioned day I met Officer Edward Doyle, then attached to the Staff of Inspector Byrnes, at or near the corner of 14th. Street and 3rd. Avenue. From there we proceeded in company together to Martin's Saloon near 9th. Street and 3rd. Avenue, for the purpose, on his part, of keeping an engagement he had made with somebody for the obtaining of information in a case to which he had been assigned in the course of his duty.

We reached said saloon and entered. We stood in conversation at the bar. There was no one else in the room except the proprietor and the Complainant, McCullough, and the witness, Peter White. White and McCullough were having a little sport, or skylarking among themselves.

As Doyle and I conversed together he was suddenly struck on the breast by a pickled pigs foot. There was a bowl of them standing on the free lunch counter. As the proprietor was conversing with us, it was evident that no body could have thrown it, whether by accident or design, except one of the other two in the saloon. So Doyle, turning towards them said, "The man who did that is no gentlemen." McCullough replied, "I am just as much of a gentleman as you are." Then Doyle said, "I don't think so, or you wouldn't act in that way." Then McCullough made some remark in effect that he would show him (Doyle) that he was a gentleman, or something of that kind. Then just as McCullough said that, Peter White handed McCullough a revolver which McCullough put in his right hand.

During all this time I had stood with my back to McCullough and White, facing Doyle, but at this moment Doyle said to me "Look out George! They have got a revolver." I then turned around. Doyle left me and walked towards McCullough, took hold of him and said, "I have a good mind to arrest you for disorderly conduct."

When Doyle seized McCullough they were in the front part of the saloon. McCullough then ran Doyle back to the rear of the saloon, upsetting the stove in his course. Doyle, while being forced back, took from his pocket the club or billy which it was then the custom and duty of the detective force to carry. McCullough took ^{it} away from him and struck him several times with it on the head, so that he fell and lay senseless, wounded and bleeding.

Then McCullough turned towards the front of the saloon and endeavored to leave by the front door, but I who had been meanwhile standing in the front part of the saloon, intercepted and seized him, saying, "Oh, no, you cannot get out." Then he drew his revolver, and placing it so hard against my stomach that I could feel it as though a hand pressed me, said "Let me go you son of a bitch or I will do you."

Then White rushed behind, grasped me around the body and arms and held me. With my left hand I swept McCullough's right towards his right side, while with my right hand I drew my revolver from my hip pocket.

McCullough made an effort to bring his pistol to my head. I didn't know at that time that it was not loaded I supposed it was loaded. In the scuffle my pistol went off and shot him in the thigh. I had no intention of shooting him, as can easily be seen from the direction which my bullet took. Up to this time Doyle had remained insensible where he fell. No provocation for any assault was given by either of us to McCullough or White. The shooting was entirely accidental, and I didn't consider that I was entirely free from danger. I supposed that he was holding a loaded pistol to my body and that it was his intention to shoot me, as indeed his words evinced.

JOHN MARTIN being duly sworn deposes and says:

I am the John Martin who testified in this case, and in whose saloon the alleged assault herein took place. I was behind the bar at the time and remember to some extent the circumstances of the affair. Up to the time that McCullough rushed Doyle backwards through the saloon I didn't pay any great attention to what was going on, as I didn't anticipate any real trouble. From that time on until the shot by Lewis I did pay as much attention as possible to the affair. I have heard read the foregoing affidavit of Officer Lewis, and although there are many circumstances there in detail which I didn't and couldn't see, the main features of his account I confirm, except that I didn't hear any of the language or expressions which he attributes either to McCullough or Doyle.

I did hear McCullough tell Lewis to let him go at the time he intercepted him at the front door of the saloon. I didn't see any pistol in McCullough's hands at the time of the scuffle. So far as I know there was no provocation for any assault on the part of McCullough or White. I didn't pay as much attention, or have as much opportunity to notice details as I would have had otherwise, for the reason that my wife rushed into the saloon, attracted by the noise, and my attention was naturally drawn towards her in order to get her out of the saloon.

STATE OF NEW YORK,

William W. Meeteer, being duly sworn, deposes and says :
That he resides in the 512 East 116th Street in the County of New York and State of New York, and is 46 years of age, and is an expert appointed by Josiah K. Brown, New York State Dairy Commissioner ;

That on the 8th day of February, 1886 in the City of New York occupied by Martin E. Leonard, No. 335 Hudson street, in the City of New York in the County of New York and State of New York, one William Ludivici, against the form and statutes in such cases made and provided, and in violation thereof, and against the peace of the people of the State of New York, had in his possession, with intent to sell the same for Butter made from unadulterated Milk or Cream, a number of pounds of a substance, product, manufacture and compound, which was not Butter made from unadulterated Milk or Cream, but had been made by manufacturing, mixing and compounding with and adding to a small quantity and proportion of natural Milk, Cream or Butter a large quantity and proportion of animal fats or animal or vegetable oils, and was a manufactured oleaginous substance not produced from Milk or Cream ; that it had been and was colored with some coloring matter whereby the same was made to resemble Butter, the product of the Dairy, and was so colored thereby, in semblance of and resembled Butter, and did resemble Butter the product of the Dairy ; that the said William Ludivici, at that _____ offered said substance, product, manufacture and compound for sale as and for

Butter made from unadulterated Milk or Cream at such time and place, with intent to sell the same as and for Butter made from unadulterated Milk or Cream, and did sell some considerable portion thereof, to wit, 1 pound

_____ as and for Butter, the product of the Dairy, and represented the same to be Butter at such time and place ; that the said substance, product and compound was not natural Butter produced from pure unadulterated

Milk, or Cream of the same, and was not Butter the product of the Dairy, and was not made exclusively from Milk or Cream, or both ; that it contained some substance for the purpose and with the effect of imparting thereto a color resembling that of yellow Butter, and was in imitation and semblance of natural Butter produced from pure unadulterated Milk or Cream of the same, and was colored by some substance to resemble yellow

Butter, and was in semblance of natural Butter ; that the same was a substance known as Oleomargarine ; that it had been made, manufactured and rendered after April thirtieth, 1885, out of some animal fat, or animal or vegetable oils not produced from unadulterated Milk, or Cream of the same, in imitation and semblance of natural Butter, produced from pure unadulterated Milk, or Cream of the same, by mixing, compounding with and adding to a small quantity of Milk, Cream or Butter a large quantity and proportion of some animal fats or animal or vegetable oils not produced from Milk or Cream, with design and intent to render, make and produce an article, substance and human food in imitation and semblance of natural Butter. That the same was not manufactured, or in process of manufacture on April thirtieth, 1885, but has been rendered, manufactured, compounded and mixed since

April thirtieth, 1885, as deponent is informed and believes _____

That the tubs in which the same was contained did not have the words "Oleomargarine Butter" upon the top or side thereof, and such words were not burned in or painted thereon with permanent black paint, in a straight line not less than one half inch in length, where deponent could see such brand ; that no printed label, bearing the words "Oleomargarine Butter" was delivered therewith to the purchaser thereof.

Deponent further says that on said 8th day of February

1886, he went to the said Store of said

Ludivici in said City and County, and told said Ludivici that he wanted to buy some Butter ; that said William Ludivici showed deponent a number of pounds of the said Oleomargarine hereinbefore mentioned, offered the same to depo-

nent for sale, and sold the same to deponent ; that he so sold to deponent 1 pound as and for butter thereof, and deponent then paid to him therefor the agreed price thereof, amounting to the sum of $ 0.29 ;

that, as deponent believes and charges, the said William Ludivici at the time of so offering and selling the same, well knew that it was Oleomargarine, and had been manufactured and colored as hereinbefore stated ; that he did not tell deponent at any time that the said Oleomargarine so sold to deponent was not

Butter, the product of the Dairy ; that deponent saw the tubs in which the said Oleomargarine was contained, and no printed label bearing the words "Oleomargarine Butter," was delivered by said Ludivici _____ to deponent with the Oleomargarine sold to him ; that on February 9th 1886, deponent delivered a sample of such Oleomargarine, so purchased by him as aforesaid, to E. G. Lane a chemist of the city of New York N. Y., and caused the same to be analyzed by such chemist, as shown by the annexed certificate of such chemist.

Wherefore, deponent prays that a warrant may issue for the arrest of the said William Ludivici and that he may be dealt with as the law directs.
