If which the papers in this case state is true a gross fraud has been perpetrated on the Complainant. The evidence available to the prosecutor is however in my opinion insufficient to go to a jury for a conviction - undoubtedly there is a remedy against the defendants to be found in the Civil Courts. but in its present condition nothing can be gained by keeping this indisputant on the calendars of his services, he also got a Chat-tel Mortgage. That a few days before note became due he went to Hope, and asked an extension of time, that Hope said he would give him several days longer.

 He did not go near H. again nor paid him anything. That in the latter part of August, '87, he received a letter, (registered), and that had been addressed to his old address, from which he had removed, stating that money must be paid, or Mortgage would be foreclosed. That in the latter part of September 1887 he received a notice from some one, whose name he did not remember, advising him that possession had been taken of the furniture stored at Timmins' place, by virtue of the Chattel Mortgage, and after proper notice of sale would be sold. That he Cogan, did not give the notice immediate attention, but that some several days thereafter, he made an investigation, and found that the furniture had been sold. That he has not received any part of the proceeds of said sale.

The other witnesses to wit:

Mary E. Cogan wife of Wm. P. C.
the Complainant witness,

Mary Stead

and Lavinia M. Patterson are only witnesses as to quantity and condition of furniture before it was stored. They will state that they saw it in Mrs. Cogan's flat, and that it seems to be in good condition. They say they think it was worth about $1000.00.

I cannot see how a case of Conspiracy or Grand Larceny can be made out, and do not believe a conviction could be had. It is more properly a matter of civil action.

STATE OF NEW YORK,
CITY AND COUNTY OF NEW YORK, ss.

Police Court, District.

William D. Coogan
of No. 422 W 45th Street, being duly sworn, deposes and says, that on the 11th day of July 1887 at the City of New York, in the County of New York,

Joseph J. Snow, Arthur Hope & Joseph Phillips & Myr Elias did unlawfully and feloniously conspire to cheat and defraud deponent of his property, consisting of household furniture such as tables, chairs, beds & bedding and numerous other articles which are more correctly described and set forth in the annexed schedule. That on the day in question deponent placed said property in storage with said firm, and agreed to pay them dollars monthly to firm as storage for the goods, together with paying him nine dollars for cartage. That some time after the property was in storage, deponent asked Snow for a loan of twelve dollars on the goods. That Snow who is a clerk of firm then consulted him, and told deponent that while he was not doing any business of that kind, he was informed by firm that a man named Hope whose office was at No 2 West 14th Street would advance deponent money on the furniture, and gave to deponent a note, stating that deponent had furniture on storage in his place and asking said Hope to accommodate deponent by giving him a loan. That Hope subsequently gave gave deponent a loan of twelve dollars And induced deponent to sign a paper which deponent afterwards learned was a Mortgage on the property in storage with said firm. Now on the 27 day of September deponent received a written Communication from said Philips advising deponent that he Philips had taken possession of deponents property on the strength of the Mortgage in Hope's possession. And that he Philips would sell the same after a proper notice of such sale had been made, that deponent has since discovered that such sale had been made <sup>by Philips</sup> and deponents furniture amounting in value to about ten hundred dollars had been given up by firm and his Clerk, Snow. And taken therefrom by said Philips acting under the orders of Hope and by the collusion and concert of action of said defendants the property in question was sold and disposed of without proper and timely notice to deponent and as the result of a conspiracy to cheat and defraud deponent ~~and~~ of said property and by which he was cheated & defrauded.

Deponent further says that said class sold and disposed of said property as an Auctioneer he well knowing at the time the unlawful manner by which the property was obtained.

Deponent is before me this 13 day of Oct 1887

Mr. Hoyer, for the Defence.

FREDERICK SNYDER, the complainant, testified that on the 24th. day of November, 1887, he lived at 35 Sullivan Street. He left his home at about mid-day on the 24th. November 1887. He locked the doors of his rooms. He stayed away until between 4 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon of that day. When he returned he found that the outer door of his rooms had been forced in. He found the defendant crawling under the bed of his bedroom. He arrested him then and there and had him locked up.

UNDER CROSS-EXAMINATION. He testified that he had never seen the defendant before. He didn't know whether he was under the influence of drink or not, but he acted kind of queer. No one had a key to the outer door of his rooms but himself. His legs were just sticking out from under the bed when he entered his room. He saw the defendant crawl under the bed as he entered. None, of his, complainant's, property was disturbed. The defendant said to him, the complainant, that he had made a "miss-walk" He didn't say that he had intended to enter the premises of a Mr. Broderick, opposite. but he wanted to see somebody in the house. He said that he had entered his, the complainant's, rooms by mistake. He, the complainant, went out for a police officer and was gone about 10 minutes. The defendant was in his room meanwhile. When he called the defendant out from under the bed, he would not come and then he, the complainant, went out for an officer. He didn't lock the door of his rooms when he went out.

ANNIE SNYDER, testified that she lived at 35 Sullivan Street on the 24th. day of November 1887. She was the wife of the complainant. She was across the street at her mother-in-law's when she was called to her own rooms. There was a quantity of furniture and jewelry in the rooms, valued at about $200. She didn't see the defendant under the bed when she entered the rooms, because they had pulled him out from under the bed.

UNDER CROSS-EXAMINATION, she testified she testified that she didn't know that any such person as Mr. Broderick lived in the house, but she had heard that a person of that name had lived there for two weeks.

testified that he was 19 years of age and he resided with his father and his aunt at 224 Spring Street. At the time of his arrest, he was in the employ of Archer & Pancrast, chandalier manufacturing Company, at 62 Worcester Street. He had been in their employ for about a year and 4 months. Before that he had been in the employment of Patrick Breitenberg in the same shop for about 8 months.. It was Thanksgiving Day. He met a man named Broderick in West Broadway. Broderick was out with the Hounds at Park Excursion and Broderick said "will you go home and get my coat" and he, the defendant said he would. He went around with some friends and had some beer and it was the first time that he had taken it and he felt the effects. He went upstairs in Snyder's house and knocked at the door which he thought was Mr. Broderick's door Then he walked in and stood with his hand on the knob of the door and Mr. Snyder came up and caught him. He didn't crawl under the bed. He didn't steal any property and didn't intend to steal it.. He might have got away, because Mr. Snyder was away for about a quarter of an hour looking for a policeman He was standing at the door of the rooms when he was arrested.

UNDER CROSS-EXAMINATION He testified that before the officer came, 5 or 6 women came up to the door and told Snyder that he, the defendant, didn't look like a thief. He was talking to the women and told them that he would wait until Snyder came back.

OFFICER FREDERICK HAULENBECK testified that he was called upon to arrest the defendant. When he came to the door of Snyder's rooms, it was closed. He knocked at the door and someone inside unlocked the door and let him in. There were two or three women and a man holding Trainor in the room. They handed him, the defendant, over to the witness. There was a padlock burst off the door, and the inner lock was pushed in, and there were marks on the door. About half of the pannel was broken in, as though it was kicked in or shoved in..
The prisoner said I don't know how I got into the place.

POOR QUALITY

UNDER CROSS-EXAMINATION He testified that he didn't hear the defendant say to the complainant that he had got into the rooms by mistake, while he was searching for Broderick's overcoat.

Matthew J. Trainor

City and County of New York, ss:

Frederick Schneider being duly sworn deposes and says: I am complainant in the above entitled action, and reside at No. 28 Sullivan St. in this city. Upon my return to my dwelling, as recited in the information herein, I found the fastening of the door broken, and coming into the room my suspicions were aroused as to the methods by which said door was broken, and I looked about and found the defendant hiding under the bed. He has told me that he was there for some fifteen minutes; he appeared to me to be under the influence of liquor. He made no attempt to escape but acted in rather a stupid manner, and so far from endeavoring to get away it was impossible for me to get him out of the premises.

I do not believe he had any intention of committing burglary in my premises; I know nothing of his previous character, but I have been informed, and I believe he is honest and industrious.
