It is regularly licensed in name of Proprietor, license No. 1973, expires July 30th, 1895. As to it being used as a house of assignation that is false. There have been several arrests made for violation of the Excise Law from such place since it was opened July 30th last, and I shall continue to keep the place under surveillance and enforce the law.

300 Mulberry street.

January 15th, 1895.

To the Board of Police

Gentlemen:-

In compliance with the resolutions adopted by your Board, at a meeting held on Jan. 8th, 1895, calling my attention to "the editorial article in the "World" of the 7th inst., in which it is stated that since the adjournment of the Lexow Committee, the gambling hells have reopened their doors, and dens of vice of other kinds are again in a state of pernicious activity; specifically our reports^{et} have found twenty four (24) fare-banks in operation below 14th street, a score of pool rooms, a number of policy shops, and a multitude of other vicious resorts in full operation in this City", &c, &c, I immediately directed the Inspectors of Districts and the commanding officers of precincts to make a thorough investigation for the purpose of ascertaining if the published statements were true, and to report the result to me in writing on the morning of the 10th inst.

These reports show that there was not a general relaxation of enforcement of the law in regard to the violations in question in the period mentioned; they also show that in that time, from December 29th, 1894 to the morning of January 10th, 1895, there were 66 arrests made, 10 for gambling, 39 for selling policy, and 17 for attempting to keep and maintain disorderly places. Of the 10 arrests for gambling, one was for playing fan-tan; three for poker, one for "monte", one for "craps"; one for "sthatz"; one for "kablish" and two for gambling in saloons.

These reports also show that there were not, in the time specified, 24 fare-banks open in this City below 14th street, as charged, and that there was not a fare-bank open anywhere in the city during that time.

As to pool rooms, the reports show that there were no pool rooms open in this city from the adjournment of the Senate Committee to the date of the reports, Jan. 10th. It may be that attempts are occasionally made to operate what are known as "handbooks" in liquor saloons or on the sidewalks, but when these are discovered arrests are promptly made.

In further compliance with your resolutions of 8th inst., I sent to the Editor of the World a letter of which the following is a copy, viz:-

January 11th, 1895.

To the Managing Editor of the World, Sir:-

At a meeting of the Board of Police held on January 8th, 1895, it was resolved that the attention of the Superintendent of police be called to an editorial article in "The World" of the 7th inst., in which it is stated that since the adjournment of the Lexow Committee gambling houses have reopened their doors, and dens of vice ~~of vice~~ of other kinds are again in a state of pernicious activity; specifically our reporters have found 24 faro banks in operation below 14th street, a score of pool rooms, a number of policy shops, and a multitude of other vicious resorts in full operation in this City. Anybody who chooses may discover for himself and without any difficulty whatever that every species of vice checked by the Lexow Committee's presence is now rampant and undisguised."

I now ask you in the interests of public justice, and in justice to this Department, to place me in possession of such evidence as you or your representatives may have of gambling houses, faro-banks, poolrooms and policy shops being open, and of dens of vice of other kinds being in a state of pernicious activity in this City to the end that if any member of this Department has been guilty of neglect of duty in permitting such places to exist, and such dens of vice to be carried on in violation of law, charges may be preferred against him.

Very respectfully

Thomas Byrnes

Superintendent of Police.

To this letter I have, up to the present time, received no reply.

Respectfully

In reference to enclosed complaint from H. P. Hubbard about safeguards around building in course of erection at Spruce and Nassau street, I herewith submit the following report.

There has never been any complaint made here of any person having been injured through carelessness since work has been commenced on the building. The law is being fully complied with by having a platform on both sides of the building over the sidewalk extending the full length and sufficiently high and wide for pedestrians to pass under. The said platform is well and strongly supported and braced as well as mechanical work can do. The men in charge of the construction of the building namely Mr. Beasley the general superintendent, Mr. Kennedy the Superintendent of iron construction and Mr. George Morrison Superintendent of stone construction have taken every precaution to prevent any accident by carelessness of the workman, and say if there is anything that can be suggested that will make the place more safe than it is at present they would be only too glad to take advantage of it. They have signs with the word danger on it at the end of each platform when any of the building material is being hoisted. The safety of pedestrians and property is as well protected at this building as it possibly can be.

During the past two months, four arrests have been made by members of this Precinct, for keeping and maintaining a Stand at 73 Sheriff street for the sale of Soda-Water &c. without a permit, in violation of Corp. Ordinance.

On November 15th, 1894 Louis Rabinowitz was arrested and charged as above and was discharged in 3rd District court by Justice Grady.

The same person was arrested on the same complaint on Nov. 28th, 1894 and on December 31st, 1894 he was fined five dollars in Special Sessions, Justice Koch, Presiding .

He was again arrested on same complaint on Dec. 10, 1894 and on January 9th, 1895, he was fined five dollars in Special Sessions, Justice Hogan, Presiding . On January 15th, inst. Max Lichtman was arrested for keeping a Soda water Stand in Vio. of the Law at No. 73 Sheriff street.

In reply to communication of January 15th, 1895 in reference to complaint of Fred. A. Kursheedt President of the Kursheedt Manufacturing Co. 190 and 194 South 5th Avenue in reference to George Kidney a dealer in second hand packing boxes doing business at 202, 204 and 206 South 5th Avenue also about tenement house at 196 South 5th Avenue, occupied by Italians.

I herewith report that I made a personal investigation of above complaints. George Kidney utilizes the vacant lots at 202, 204 and 206 South 5th Avenue as a storage place. for second hand packing boxes they are stored 3 stories high on the inside of the fence and 2 stories high on outside but inside of stoop line He is continually shipping and receiving boxes and the sidewalk is occupied by boxes but only in the regular order of this business in shipping or receiving, there is a passage over three feet wide always open for the use of the people

The boxes are repaired and altered in the yard sometimes when the covers fall off in shipping they have them nailed on while they are on the sidewalks and before loading on truck. I did not see any boxes on the street.

Whenever any boxes are allowed to remain on sidewalk without being shipped the officers of this command have made complaints for violation of Corporation Ordinance 9 of which have been made since January 1st, 1895 and which have been forwarded to the Corporation attorney. I have instructed the members of this Command whenever they see the Law violated to arrest.

In reference to Italian tenement house at 196 South 5th Avenue it is a front and rear building 4 stories high and occupied by poor Italian people the store in front building is occupied by a second hand paper dealer the tenants are quiet and orderly and do not cause any trouble.

In reference to the annexed communication from His Honor the Mayor to the President of the Board of Police referring to a complaint from a Sam. Ebert 256 Rivington Street that the stands Nos. 71 and 73 Sheriff street interfere with his business. I respectfully report that I have investigated the same and find no violation of law as 71 and 73 is in the 13th Precinct. Ebert has been a constant complainant here since my transfer to this precinct, he picks out his victims and never ceases persecuting them until he accomplishes his purpose, although other stands in the vicinity do the same business. The stand complained of No. 71 consists of a few shelves about 8 inches from the wall of the house, candies, cigarets, Segars, Hebrew Books and Soda Water are sold there. The Soda Water fountain is inside of the Store show window and does not extend beyond the house line. The only obstruction is the counter within the stoop lines. It appears to me that the obstruction of the Counter is not what he complains of but the goods sold from the little shelves. I do not see that I have any power to arrest the proprietor for so doing. I think t the proper department for Ebert to make his complaint to the Revenue Department. He has sought relief from Ex-Mayer Gilroy and has visited all the Justices at Essex Market Court. but without avail. Several arrests for maintaining the counter within the stoop line have been made, but in each case the prisoner was discharged. He has also appeared before the State Senate or "Lexow Committee" on the same complaint.

Sir:-

Replying to annexed communication relative to the saloons on 52nd street between 6th and 7th avenues I most respectfully submit the following report.

The writer of annexed complaint was seen at his residence and expressed himself as being thoroughly satisfied with the efforts made by members of my command under my instructions to abate any nuisance that may exist.

Particular mention is made of the block bounded by the the N. E. corner of 7th Avenue and the N. W. corner of 6th avenue. This takes in the northside of the street and there is one saloon on this block it being located at the N. W. Corner of 6th Avenue it is a regularly licensed liquor saloon owned by one James Wall. On the southside of this street between 7th and 6th Avenues there are three saloons at of which are regularly licensed. The one on S. E. Corner of 7th Avenue is owned by Messrs. Conlan and O'Connor. The one at 130 West 52nd street is owned by George Colwell and the one at 158 West 52nd street is owned by Charles Aikens The premises Lo2 West 52nd street is known as "The Geneva" the proprietor is Conrad Husser and he holds a first class license for the premises and conducts the same as a private family hotel. He is as far as I am able to ascertain, a man of good character and conducts his business in a lawful manner. He has no connection with the former occupant of the same building who gave up business and removed away, his present whereabouts being unknown to me .

Regarding the other saloons I would state that members of my command have made numerous arrests from them for violation of the Excise Law and I will see that they continue to do so if the law is violated.

As to gangs I would say that the people who frequent the neighborhood are mostly employees of the many stables in the vicinity and poor but thoroughly respectable people.

I have received no previous complaint of their being disorderly.

Respectfully

Paris, Feb. 7, 1895.

Organization of Paris Police

We believe we express the opinion of every true citizen when we say that the recent scandals have shown the imperative necessity for a radical and complete reorganization of the New York Police Force. Such reform, to be effectual, must, above all, deal with the present conditions of management and control. One cannot clearly see why a bi-partisan commission, or indeed any commission at all, should be necessary, except as a center of intrigues and political deals. To the unbiased mind it would seem far better that the Police should be directed by a single responsible head, untrammelled by party ties and influences.

After a study of the Paris Police system, we have reached the conclusion that a remodeling of our own Force on somewhat similar lines would lift it out of the quagmire of demoralization in which it is plunged, and would prevent a recurrence of scandals like those that have recently come to light. The Paris Force may not be wholly free from wrongdoing, but certainly no such cases of police corruption as those laid bare in New York have ever been known in the French capital.

The following is a brief description of the manner in which the Paris police is organized.

The control of this Force was centered in the hands of a single official by a law passed during the First Republic. This functionary, who is called the Préfet de Police, has charge of everything that concerns the police in the Department of the Seine and in the townships of Saint-Cloud, Sèvres, Meudon and Enghien, which are situated in the adjoining county of Seine-et-Oise. He may be said to share with the Prefect of the Department of the Seine the attributions of Mayor of Paris. The Municipal Council of the City has no power or authority whatsoever over the police, the Prefect being answerable only to the Minister of the Interior.

The Central Administration, the offices of which are in an immense building called the Prefecture de Police, consists of the Prefect's Bureau, the General Secretary's Bureau, and two Administrative Divisions.

The Prefect's Bureau deals with political matters, with the application of the Press laws, confidential inquiries, the regulation of Associations and Public Meetings, the keeping of order at public gatherings and on holidays, the supervision of theatres, illegal publications and placards, and finally, the sending back of foreigners to their own country.

To the Prefect's Bureau are also attached the following special departments:

1. The Investigation Department, at the head of which is a General Director, with three brigades under his orders, each commanded by a police captain;
2. The Lodging-House Department;
3. The Detective Department;
4. The Identity Department, which has charge of photographing and taking anthropometrical measurements of every person arrested.

The Secretary's Bureau looks after the Staff, the Accounts, the Archives, and the Chemical and Toxicological Laboratories.

The First Division has charge of the Judicial Police, Public Morals, Prisons, Passports, Lunatics, and the welfare of Young Children.

The Second Division includes Supplies, Navigation, Weights and Measures, the Bourse (Stock Exchange), Public Thoroughfares, Railroads, Vehicles, Insanitary Establishments, and Measures of Public Health and Sanitation.

The Staff of the Central Administration is thus composed:

A Chief of Police (Préfet), who receives a salary of $8,000 per annum, and is provided with a brougham;

A General Secretary, who receives $3,000 per annum;

A Chief of each of the two Administrative Divisions;

A Chief of the Prefect's Bureau;

17 Head Clerks, 35 Assistant Head Clerks, 43 Senior Clerks, 109 First-Class Clerks, and 75 Second-Class Clerks.

To insure the efficient protection of the capital, the Prefect of Police has under his command, on the one hand, 118 Police Captains, as follows:

75 for the 80 wards into which Paris is divided, that is to say, one for each ward, with the exception of ten outlying wards, where there is but one captain for two wards;

23 for the ~~xxxx~~ suburban districts;

1 for the Bourse (Stock Exchange);

8 for the inspection of Weights and Measures;

6 attached to the Mint;

1 acting as ^{Public} Prosecutor at the Tribunal of Simple Police;

1 attached to the staff of the Military Governor of Paris;

3 under the orders of the Investigating Magistrates; and on the other hand, the Municipal Police Force, composed of:

1 Director ^{Chief of Police}, 1 Head Clerk, 24 Clerks, 5 Divisional Captains, 27 Superintendents, 100 Inspectors, 700 Sergeants, and 7,500 policemen.

The City of Paris being divided into 20 Arrondissements or Districts, a Superintendent is appointed to each of them.

In addition to the District brigades, there are six special companies, called the Reserve, whose headquarters are at the Prefecture of Police. They are each under the command of a Superintendent. Four of these companies do duty at the Prefecture itself and attend all Public Ceremonies, &c. The protection of Public Offices and Buildings is also confided to them. The fifth company has the supervision of Vehicles, while the sixth company watches over the Central City Markets.

The ^{Prefect} Chief of Police, furthermore, has control of the Republican Guard (a mounted body of men with a military organization, whose principal function is to furnish guards of honor on special occasions); but as regards matters of administration, discipline and promotion, this corps is under the authority of the Minister of War.

The annual cost of the Police of the City of Paris amounts to about $6,000,000, towards which the State contributes $2,250,000.

The cost of the Police in the suburbs and neighboring townships is nearly $550,000 per annum.

Besides the salaries of the Prefect and the General Secretary which are given above, it may be mentioned that the Chief of the Municipal Police receives a salary of $2,800; the Police Captains from $1,000 to $1,400, and even $1,600 in case of exceptional services; the Superintendents $745, on an average; the Inspectors $360; the Sergeants $320; while the ordinary policeman is paid at the rate of about $260 a year.

The uniforms are furnished by the state and city.

A policeman may be dismissed from the force on a complaint of the Chief of Police approved by the Prefect.

The Prefect has at his disposal a secret service fund varying from $20,000 to $40,000 per annum.

Dear Sir:-

On May 9th 1893, a man by the name of Peter Camou, sixty-two years old, 5 ft. 10 1/2 in. high, weighing about 150 lbs. with heavy gray hair and gray chin beard and mustache, started from San Luis Obispo, California, for Eysus Bas. Pas France, to stay with a relative by name Paul Barcilley in said Town. Mr. Camou had $2000. on his person when he reached New York. Nothing more has been heard from him since. A check from some one in New York to one of our banks here, arrived, by which the party wished to draw $3000. in the name of Peter Camou, but which the Bank here refused to pay, claiming the signature a forgery. Mr. Paul Barcilley of Eysus, France, has been corresponded with, but answer came from said party, that Mr. Camou had not been in France, nor have they heard anything of him the past four years. Sir:-

A careful and exhaustive inquiry has been made in reference to the person referred to in the annexed letter, addressed to his Honor, the Mayor, by M. Lewin, Public Administrator, San Luis, Obispo Co., Cal., and the following information has been ascertained.

Mr. J. J. Keman, an undertaker, doing business at 121 Barrow St., found an old man wandering aimlessly along the street in front of his place of business at 12:45 A.M., May 24th 1893, and took him to the 9th Precinct Station-house, where he gave the name of Peter Canon, age 60, White, French, Farmer, Married, No home. He was held on a charge of vagrancy and taken to the Jefferson Market Court, the same morning, and committed for three days, two of which he served in the prison attached to that Court, where he was discharged.

Nothing was heard of him until June 3rd 1893 when he walked into Bellevue Hospital, apparently suffering from alcoholism. He was treated in the alcoholic ward, where he became insane, and was transferred June 20th 1893 to Wards Island Insane Asylum, where he died July 18th 1893, and his body was interred in the City Cemetery.

Mr. Keman informs us the description given in the annexed letter tallies exactly with the description of the man he took to the station-house.

Inquiry has been made at the Surrogates Office and the office of the Public Administrator, but they have no record of any will, or of any unclaimed effects left by any person of that name, and we are unable to ascertain where he stopped while in this City, subsequent to his arrival from California.

A transcript from the records of deaths is herewith transmitted.

Respectfully,

REC'D

THE COUNTERFEITER FREE.

A "Queer" and Easy Way of Getting Rich.
Bad for the Government.

Greenbacks just as Good as Genuine.

The failure of the United States Court to convict Chas. Wilson, one of the most gigantic, successful and altogether ingenious counterfeiters in this or any other country, is a great disappointment to the Chief of the Secret Service. He believed that he had a sufficiently strong case against them to warrant a different result than the one obtained. The District Attorney thought so too. The fault was due to the insufficient evidence; yet the story is one of the most extraordinary ever told, involving as it does the most remarkably credulity, and no less unusual cunning.

About three months ago a prominent merchant of Boston, Mass., received a letter from a man in New York City, offering to sell him money printed from Treasury plates that could not be told from the genuine. The merchant, by the barest accident, happened to be an honest man at heart, and although the temptation offered to him was a great one, one that not one man in a hundred could refuse, decided not to accept the proposal, but to inform United States Marshal Mills, whose headquarters are at Boston. Marshal Mills answered the letter under the merchant's name who had received it. Marshal Mills wrote to the counterfeiter and informed him that it was "just the stuff he was looking for," but stated that owing to the pressure of business it was impossible for him to visit New York, and suggested to Mr. Counterfeiter that the mails were a safe medium through which to transact business and stated that if this was satisfactory he would order $300 worth to start on.

The reply came back to forward on the money by mail to a name and number that was given. The officer sent three good one hundred dollar bills, and in return received $3,000 in tens and fives. The money was apparently genuine, so the banks pronounced it in Boston. A week after he received the money he wrote again to New York saying that he thought of investing on a large scale, and asked if he could make arrangements to meet the maker of the bills in New York City, at the Grand International Hotel at a certain time. A favorable answer came duly to hand, and the detective started for New York City. When Mills arrived at the hotel in question he was called upon by an old man who brought with him a valise, which he opened in the room, displaying packages of money amounting to $100,000. The detective examined the money carefully, said it would suit him, and put his hand in his pocket as if to bring out the money to pay for it; but in the place of money he drew a pistol, and placing it at the counterfeiter's head made him a prisoner, and took the contents of the bag into his possession. Upon being arraigned on the charge of offering and selling what was supposed to be counterfeit money, the prisoner apparently became indignant and stoutly denied that he ever had a counterfeit bill in his life, and he demanded that the experts employed by the Treasury Department at Washington be sent for.

His demand was complied with and on arrival of the gentlemen they at once set about making a thorough and critical examination of the supposed counterfeits; then submitted their sworn report, which was as follows: That all these United States Treasury notes, were printed from genuine plates used by former workmen in the Printing Bureau. They further added that they had long been aware that some persons had possession of a set of plates supposed to have been furnished by one of the engravers in the Engraving Bureau, and finally that the only difference between the notes found on the prisoner, and the genuine, lies in there not being so much silk fibre interwoven in the paper. The prisoner's counsel asked the Government experts if they would swear that the bills examined by them were counterfeits. To the astonishment of every one in the court room, they replied that they would not, in fact could not, as they were positive the bills were as good as any issued by the Government, and added that the fault lay in the careless manner observed in the Treasury Department in allowing workmen to handle Government plates, printing inks, dies, etc., as they wished.

The judge had no other alternative than to instruct the jury to discharge the prisoner, who thanked the jury and quickly skipped out of the court room, valise in hand, that contained a cold $100,000 of money that was good enough for the writer at all events. The reporter was not alone in his envious thoughts, because from the expressions and suggestive remarks of some of the members of the jury at the departure of the prisoner, it seemed that they would like to have a few thousand of the so-called counterfeits themselves.

To give our candid opinion we would see no difference in the bills as the notes were printed from genuine United States plates, obtained from the Engraving Department at Washington, by whom it is not known and perhaps never will be. As the case now stands some one is getting rich in a safe, fast and sure manner at the expense of the Government.

It will only be a question of a little time before we capture the genuine plates and that will settle it. That is as far as Wilson or his gang is concerned. This man Wilson has put the Government to a great deal of trouble—to say nothing about the expense—and we don't propose to let up until we nail him dead to rights. The Government has ascertained from a thoroughly reliable source that Wilson had a brother-in-law employed in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing at Washington. This man is now in Europe, and is being continually shadowed by Scotland Yard detectives. It is my opinion that the original plates are now in Europe and that the printing is being done there.

There is no doubt but what Wilson's brother-in-law is the thief who stole the plates from the Department. The District Attorney was loud in denouncing this gigantic fraud on the Government. "Why," he said, "if some law is not passed immediately to prevent this man Wilson from scattering this money throughout the land (as it is certainly as good as genuine), it would ruin the nation." "I am somewhat familiar," he continued, "with the counterfeiters' mode of working. The bills are first, as a rule, sold by wholesale to trustworthy farmers and country merchants—where not one man in ten thousand knows anything about money—and they in return are given out as change when larger bills are produced by a purchaser. The latter innocently passes the note upon some one else, and thus they go through thousands of hands without any fear of detection." A by-stander asked the District Attorney if he believed an honest man would enter into such a scheme? "What," he replied, "Enter such a scheme? Why my good innocent fellow, 'your home is in heaven.' Honesty in these progressive days is a lost art."

My experience, as District Attorney has convinced me that the "get there" movement has been eagerly adopted by all classes of the community. All a person wants nowadays, is money—it don't make any difference either how they get it.

It is said that similar plates have been stolen from the Treasury Department of the Canadian Government, and that Canadian money, as good as the genuine, except the numbers and signatures, is being largely circulated throughout the Dominion of Canada.

The sensational report published in an evening paper yesterday that a well known millionaire made his fortune by dealing in counterfeit money and bonds that were issued by Wilson is scouted by his numerous friends. When our reporter called at the millionaire's mansion last evening he refused to talk on the subject and gruffly said: "I have nothing to say for publication. Let the people attend to their business and I'll attend to mine." Very queer remarks, isn't it?

DEAR SIR:--I am in possession of a good thing, and with your confidential and friendly co-operation, I can make you independently rich, and at the same time, better my own condition. The enclosure herewith gives all the information that could be desired and explains itself.

There's no reason why you should be a slave and toil all of your life for nothing. The opportunity is here for you to "switch off" from poverty and benefit yourself in a substantial way. Don't be foolish enough to let conscientious scruples interfere with your aim in life. Few men ever obtain riches honestly. Others have grown rich around you (no one knows how), why not you? A hint to the wise is sufficient. You will see from the sketch that my goods are not what the law can class as real counterfeits, inasmuch as they were printed from genuine plates, and can easily be passed in your section of the country with impunity.

This is serious and highly important food for thought! Your sober and earnest attention should be given to every word in this letter. A person without the "universal rudder"--the Almighty Dollar--is thought but little of, and is looked upon as of no importance to the world. ~~Isn't this true?~~ I know whereof I speak; in former years I have drank from the "bitter cup" myself.

If you have not the money to buy my goods, I would consent to your taking some confidential friend in with you who has, provided of course, he is trustworthy and could keep the secret. You could both then come on together and make the deal. However, you would be very foolish to take any one in with you if you could raise enough money yourself.

If my business should suit you, it will be absolutely necessary for you to come on here and see me in person. I only deal face-to-face with my customers. Experience has taught me that this is the safest and most satisfactory way for both. By your coming on here, you see what you are buying, and I see who I am dealing with. Consequently everything is "on the level," and we both feel better satisfied.

I know it is quite a journey for you to make but ye Gods just think of the "gold mine" in store for you--in the way of profits. Furthermore, I always make a liberal allowance in goods to cover the expenses. Make up your mind to come on--I know you will always be thankful for your visit to me. You will find me a square and honorable white man in every particular. When you arrive here I will show you my entire stock, from which you can make your own selections. Then, if my goods are not all that I claim for them, and are not as fine as the enclosure speaks of, I will make you a present of One Thousand Dollars in gold, and also cheerfully pay all expenditures incurred upon your journey. Fair enough --isn't it? My prices are as follows: $300 gets Three Thousand; $400 gets Five Thousand; $650 gets Ten Thousand; $1,000 gets Twenty Thousand; and $2,000 gets Fifty Thousand. $2,000 is the most I will sell on the first deal. The more you invest the cheaper you get the goods. The sizes run from "One" to "Twenty." $300 worth of my goods is positively the very smallest amount I will sell under any circumstances. If you will invest $650 or more I will agree to give you the exclusive State right. Now, should you wish to do business with me, you must obey the following instructions, and do only as I tell you.

First:--Don't as long as you live, ever write a letter to me until I give you permission. If you do it will be refused. See? I mean exactly what I say, and furthermore, all business relations between us will end.

Second:--If you wish to come on here and see me, send the following Telegram (Remember Telegram ONLY will be received), and simply say: "SEND INSTRUCTIONS," then sign your name as per "pass word and number" given you.

Third:--On receipt of your telegram I will send you full instructions how to meet me and where to stop, then no mistakes will be made in finding one another.

In conclusion I wish to say if you cannot come on here, or have not $300 to invest, and you think favorably of my business, send the following telegram: "What is market prices"? I will then make you another proposition. Now kindly allow me to caution you again, not to write letters! Be patient, and be guided by my advice. If you do, you will be sure of success. No such thing as fail. Act square! Be true and honorable! Do me no harm, and you will never regret it as long as you live. You can make money faster and easier by dealing in my goods than you ever dreamed of before in your life. Won't you try it?

CAUTION:--No other person is now authorized by me to correspond on this subject. Do not be deceived by shoddy imitations. I am the sole owner and proprietor of this enterprise. Communications from others offering similar goods for sale are absolutely unreliable and positively worthless. Pay no attention to them. "Nuf-ced."

Yours very sincerely,

"YOU KNOW."

Mr. ~~William~~ Picken,

56 West 113th street:

Sir:

I am directed by the Board of Police to say with reference to yours of the 31st ult., addressed to His Honor, the Mayor, and referred to this department, complaining of snow and ice on sidewalk s. e. corner 113th street and Lenox avenue, that Captain Moynihan, of the 28th precinct, reports concerning the same as follows:

"I made a personal investigation and find by the records of this station house that the snow and ice on said sidewalk was reported by the officer on post Jan. 29 and Feb. 5, 1897, and the said snow and ice was removed Feb. 6, 1897. I had a personal interview with Mr. Charles E. Picken, and he stated to me that the reason he wrote the letter to His Honor, the Mayor, was that he was afraid some person would slip on the ice and sue the city for damages and he took this means in order to have the matter rectified at once, and he felt thankful for the prompt attention his letter received from the Police Department."

Please inform the Board of Police if you have any further comments or suggestions to make in this matter.

Very respectfully,

In compliance with your order of the 14th inst. to immediately investigate, and report on the enclosed complaint addressed to his Honor, Mayor William L. Strong and signed Aug. Mayers 314 Mett Avenue I respectfully report that the statement contained in the complaint relative to the condition of the sidewalks on Mett avenue is true. I have taken advantage of the only means in my power to rectify the matter by sending continuous reports from Feb. 4th to date of the non removal of snow from the sidewalks mentioned in complaint to your office for transmission to the Corporation Attorney.

On the 11th inst. I received information that the snow had drifted on Mett Nev. to such an extent as to make the Street impassible for vehicles. I immediately notified the Department of Street Improvements of the fact, and they sent men there and levelled off the snow but failed to remove it.

I shall continue to give the matter my special attention and report all who fail to comply with the law governing the removal of snow and ice from sidewalks.

To the Mayor of 107
New York City

Dear Sir

I write to ask you if there is an
"Advertiser's Clipping Bureau"
at 100 West 24th St New York City. I answered an advertisement in the paper which said "Write for particulars" and received a letter in reply which seemed to me reasonable.
They stated the kind of clippings they needed, the price paid by the hundred, and that it was a business that one could engage in at home, odd hours, and spare time to make good wages; and among other things stated that the clippings from the smallest "Country Weekly" was as valuable as those in the largest "Metropolitan Daily", and that the clippings referred to in their advertisement appeared in all papers published; regardless of size or locality; and that they paid cash for them as soon as received. I cannot tell you all that their letters contained in regard to the way they used different clippings and other information; but they stated that inasmuch as they had been troubled with having clippings and lists of names prepared so crudely in unprocessed form that they could not use them so to prevent further trouble of the kind they had arranged to supply their agents with a full line of blank forms properly ruled and arranged for compiling lists of names and clippings, for which they charged $2.40.

I sent the $2.40 and received the blanks and all of the outfit as stated; but also received at the same time a long sheet of instructions in regard to collecting items, clippings &c. which rejected almost everything found in any paper or happenings of any kind whatever. I have their letters of inducements, and also their first instructions and rejections which were very ingeniously gotten up so that there is no possibility of using their blanks and now

I have in exchange for my worn & hot of "worthless paper"
Whether the "Clipping Bureau" is a set of razors or one razor I do not know, but think it the latter. I wrote to the "Clipping Bureau" after receiving their outfit and received a very ungentlemanly reply.

I send you two of their envelopes, and blank and paper
I shall send at the same time with this, a letter to the Chief of Police but thought best to write you also as I think perhaps two is better than one.

Very Respectfully Yours

Sir:-

In compliance with your instructions in enclosed letter I directed patrolman William S. Barlew of my command to go to No. 9 East Broadway and try to buy some goods I also went with him myself but did not enter the store for a few minutes after Barlew. When Barlew entered they refused to sell him anything and when I entered Mr. Finkelstein and three young men were in the place (all his employees) when Barlew told me he could purchase nothing I explained to Mr. Finkelstein who I was he stated that he did not sell goods on Sunday but was in the place to regulate his stock as he does a large business through/ the week and the stock gets mixed up and he always regulates it on Sunday. I have instructed Officer Barlew and the officer on post to keep watch on the place and if any sales are being made to immediately arrest the guilty person.
