Nathan Miller

There are circumstances connected with the taking of the watch which are suspicious against the defendant. He is not a person of good reputation. They might easily be the submissian of the Court a jury. But the past life of defendant shows him to be a person unlikely to commit the crime charged.
And, with no direct evidence against him, I should have thought in the testimony we have of asking a jury to convict of a person perfectly address & dismissed of the Court of General Sessions

The People
vs.
Nathan Miller

Report.

The above entitled case was referred to me from Part II of this Court for the purpose of ascertaining whether the evidence for the prosecution would warrant a trial of the indictment herein.

I have examined the complainant and find that he has no direct proof against the defendant, and that the circumstantial evidence in his possession depends upon his oath exclusively in regard to the taking of the watch.

The defendant, on the contrary, has produced a witness who corroborates his statement in denial of the charge.

The robbery took place in a room fact crowd which pushed both the defendant as well as the defense complainant. Both parties had been at a matinee of the Thalia Theatre and were in the act of emerging from the same, when the robbery occurred.

The defendant asserts that he has never been arrested before and his employer for the last two years has testified before me as to his honesty.

I am of the opinion that the proof in possession of the People does not justify a trial of the defendant, and I therefore recommend a dismissal of the indictment herein.

Edward Moore
Deputy Prosecutor.

Jonathan Haggerty, patrolman, precinct. On the 7th of December, 1889, at about five o'clock in the afternoon, when coming down from the Elevated Railroad station on Canal Street, I saw the defendant run a few feet in advance of a crowd. I pursued and arrested him upon complainant's charge that he had taken a watch from him. The complainant said that the defendant had dropped the watch and that it had been returned to him by a man who had picked it up.

Hermon Sher, fire wright, 30 Orchard Street; On the 7th of December, 1889, at about five o'clock ^{in the afternoon}, when coming out of the Italia Theatre in the Bowry, the defendant moved in the lobby of the said theatre alongside of me. We were both pushed along by the crowd that came out of the theatre. ^{when just on the top of the lobby} ~~Before I came to the stop~~ leading to the said lobby, I felt a strong pull at my watch chain.
In stretching out my hand to ascertain whether my watch was still in my vest pocket, I caught the defendant's hand in front of me and at the same time felt the drop of my watch chain. Knowing that he had taken my watch, I asked him, where the same was, and he replied: I do not know, what kind of a watch? Whereupon I ~~said~~ ^{told} him, that I would have him arrested. At the time I made this remark, a person in the crowd called: There is your watch, pointing to the floor, where my said watch was lying at the right foot of the defendant. I picked up the said watch, and the defendant ran away, pursued by me and a crowd of men, until at the corner of Canal and Elizabeth Street he was arrested by two officers. In going out of the said theatre, the defendant was at my right side. We were side by side from the inner lobby to the outer lobby and when I felt the pull at my watch chain, we had reached the top of the outside stairs. The watch were picked up from the top step of the said stairs. I did not see the chair or the watch in his hand, I merely felt the chair drop on my body, when I caught defendant's hand. We were surrounded by a compact crowd, but I did not address anybody, ^{else} but the defendant, when I asked, where my watch was. At no time did I inspect any body, except the defendant, of the theft of my said watch. I caught his left hand, and the watch was found at his right side as afore said.

Nathan Miller, barber, at present agent for M. Filbroster, manufacturer of trimmings, at 113 & 115 North First. I have been in his employ for the last two years. This is the first time that I have been arrested. On the 7th of ~~December~~ December, 1887, I attended the matinee in the Thalia Theatre. I had occupied a chair in the Orchestra Circle. I left the lobby on the right side coming out and proceeded straight to the outside steps of the theatre in the direction towards Canal Street. I walked down the said steps and when I was on the side-walk, the complainant charged me with having stolen his watch. He said that he thought I took his watch. I replied that he must be crazy when he thought that I took his watch. I added some insulting words, but I do not remember them at present. He cried hallooed, he will kill me, he will knock me down etc., and he saying that personal violence would be inflicted upon me, if I did not get out of the crowd. I ran away towards Canal Street, looking for an officer to come, myself. In Canal Street, at the shoe store beneath the City of Savings Bank, I think, I met two policemen to whom I said that the complainant charged me with stealing his watch. This was near the doorway of

to Elizabeth Street. I had no conversation with the complainant on the top of the stairs of the theatre. He did not grab my hand, but he seized my own watch chain. I did not see his watch lying on the ground, but I saw a man, who came down the said stairs, hand him a watch. Somebody called: "There is your watch." There was a big crowd around us. In the Police Court the complainant said the watch had been handed back to him by another man, but in the Toronto Police Court he said that he had picked it up. I was alone in the theatre, there was nobody in my company.

Annie Miller, wife of the defendant. On the 8th of December, 1889, at the Toronto, the complainant offered to me to settle this charge for $5. I refused to pay him the said sum.

Samuel Brandt, Insurance Agent, 10 Pitt Street, on the 8th of January, 1890, I had a conversation with the complainant about this case. He said that he could not say that the defendant had taken his watch from him, that he may be mistaken in regard to him. He also said that if the defendant would pay him some money, he would not say anything against him. This was said in the presence of Elmer Elsherg, a boarder of the complainant.

Nellie Fillerman, wife of Michael Fillerman, 188 Allen Street. On the 7th of December, 1889, between five and six o'clock in the afternoon I came out of the Thalia Theatre, having attended a matinee there. There was a large crowd leaving the said theatre at said time. When I had reached the sidewalk, I saw the complainant hold the defendant by the coat and heard him accuse the defendant.

A few moments thereafter another man handed a watch to our plainant. The crowd then led to the complainant to hit the defendant, and the latter ran away. I spoke to several parties about the occurrence, ~~and also~~ ~~to Mr. P. T. Drandt, who seems to~~ ~~see Dr. Drandt Sunday last, visit.~~ my husband quite frequently. He was at our house on Sunday last and yesterday, but I never spoke to him about this case, and he to me. The defendant called on me last Wednesday for the first time and asked me, whether I knew anything about his case. This morning he again called and requested me to come to the District Attorney's Office.

Morris Pillsbury, 55 East 123 Street, Manufacturer of Trimmings at 113-115 New York Street. The defendant has been in my employ as salesman for the last two years. He makes from ten to fifteen dollars a week. I know him as an honest man and would trust him with any amount of money.

Lena Thera, wife of the complainant. I married him about three weeks ago. In January, the 6th, 1890, the defendant and his wife called at our home, and asked me what present I would like to get. I told them that I did not need any present. Thereupon they asked me for how much we would settle this action. I replied that the matter must be settled by law. In January the 8th, 1890, between nine and ten o'clock in the forenoon, the defendant again called upon me and offered me $20, if I would get my husband to withdraw the charge herein. Mr. P. Dracit was present. My husband was absent both times. When he came home, Mr. Dracit urged him to accept the defendant's offer, but he declined, showing Mr. Parrott the door and went down.

Ruth Louisa, wife of Louis Louisa, 123 Livingston Street. I am a cousin of the complainant herein. Prior to his marriage, that is until about three weeks ago he boarded with me. About four weeks ago the defendant came to my house and begged the ~~complainant~~ not to go hard against him. Defendant's wife came also several times to my house and begged the complainant not to prosecute her husband. He offered him presents.

N e t t i e M i t c h e l l . :

Indictment filed December 27th, 1889.

Incited for Grand Larceny in the First Degree.

New York, January, 8th, 1890.

APPEARANCES: For the People, Assistant District Attorney William T. Jerome.

For the Defendant, Hugh Coleman.

WILLIAM MURPHY, a witness for the people, sworn testified:

I am a laboring man. On December 18th last year, at about half past eight o'clock in the evening I went into a saloon at the corner of Grand and Thompson Streets. As soon as I got into the saloon I saw this woman who was sitting there drinking. I wasn't drunk although I had taken considerable. At the time I went into this saloon I had $7.40 in my pocket in a pocket book. There was a five dollar bill and two single dollar bills, and some silver. After I had been in the saloon a minute or so, I sat down and had a glass of beer, and very soon after that I dosed off asleep. The first thing I knew I felt a hand coming out of my pants pocket which contained the pocket book with this money in it. I caught this woman's hand as it was coming up out of my pocket. I then put my hand in my pocket, and took out the pocket book and found that the money was gone. The woman walked away from me and after a short time she went out of the saloon. I then went out into the street and got an officer and came back and found her in a little room and had her arrested. I am certain that the money was in the pocket book at the time I fell asleep.

Cross-examination.

I am not a resident of the city. I came down on that day from Newburgh and wandered around the city and went into different places. I had several drinks during the day in several saloons. I couldn't tell the name of the places that I visited because I am a stranger here. I arrived in New York at two o'clock and from that time until eight o'clock I was visiting different saloons. I am certain that I wasn't under the influence of liquor when I fell asleep, and everything that I have said on the stand is perfectly true.

CHARLES R. BRYEN, a witness for the people sworn, testified:

I am an officer of the Municipal Police of this City. I arrested the defendant at the bar on the night of the 18th of December in a saloon at the corner of Thomas and Green Streets. I met the complainant on the street and he told me about his loss, and I went with him into the saloon, and arrested this woman.

At the time I arrested her she was in a box in company with about ten other women, and this complainant immediately pointed out the defendant as the woman who had taken his money. At the time the complainant spoke to me he was perfectly able to take care of himself. He walked and talked straight.

Cross-examination.

Q. Did you not arrest the defendant in a saloon opposite from the place where the complainant said he had lost his money. A. In a box across the way.

Q. Across the way from the place where he lost his money? A. Yes sir.

Q. Then it is not true that the prisoner was arrested in the store in which the complainant lost his money? A. No sir.

NETTIE MITCHELL, the defendant, sworn, testified:

I have never been arrested for any crime before. I have been arrested once or twice for soliciting upon the streets.

Q Did you rob this man on the night in question?

A No sir.

Q Did you put your hand in his pocket? A. No sir.

Q Were you near him? A. No sir.

Q Were you in his company? A. No sir.

Q Did you have anything to do with him?

A No sir.

Q Did he make any accusation against you until you were arrested? A. No sir.

Q Were you arrested in a different place from the store in which you were originally? A. Yes sir.

Q Did you see anybody in his company. A. I saw another woman in his company. She was a white woman. He bought her a bottle of rye and rock and that had several drinks together out of it. I had nothing directly or indirectly to do with the taking of this man's money on this night.

Cross-examination.

I first saw this man between 7 and 8 o'clock in a bar-room at the corner of Greene and Thompson Streets. He went to sleep. After he had been in there about an hour while he was asleep, I was in a private box, and I could see him while he slept. After he woke up he stood at the bar and had a drink, and then went out in the street. After he went out I went across the street, and he came in the saloon across the street with an officer right after me and had me arrested. The woman who was with him is not in Court to-day. I have never seen her since. I could not tell her name. The reason that I noticed this man asleep from the box was, that everybody was talking about him.

x

The name of the woman who was with him was Susie Miner. I couldn't say that she took this man's money at all. I never saw her or any one else taking the money.

OFFICER BRENN, recalled.

Q Did the defendant say to you, when you arrested her, that another person had been with her, and that she hadn't done anything? A. No sir. .

Q Did she offer you any explanation about her conduct that evening at all? A. No sir

The Jury rendered a verdict of "Guilty of Grand Larceny in the First Degree".

OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF NEW YORK.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, AGAINST

Frederica S. Mordant

The Grand Jury of the City and County of New York, by this indictment, accuse

Frederica S. Mordant

of the CRIME OF Grand LARCENY in the second degree, committed as follows:

The said Frederica S. Mordant, late of the City of New York, in the County of New York aforesaid, on the ninth day of December in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, at the City and County aforesaid, with force and arms, with intent to deprive and defraud Walter C. Hubbard, Samuel T. Hubbard the manager and Theodore H. Price, copartners, who were then interested in the development and improvement of certain lands in Virginia, near the City of Norfolk, and then held an option for the purchase thereof, of the proper moneys, goods chattels and personal property hereinafter mentioned, and of the use and benefit thereof, and to appropriate the same to his own use, did then and there feloniously, fraudulently and falsely pretend and represent to the said Walter C. Hubbard, Samuel T. Hubbard the manager and Theodore H. Price,

That he the said Frederica S. Mordant had interested a number of men who represented the Sandwich Glass Company of Massachusetts in the said lands, and that the said men had left the City of Boston in the State of Massachusetts and were then on their way to the City of New York for the purpose of visiting the said lands and investigating the advisability and advantage of establishing a factory of the said Sandwich

Sandwich Glass Company on the said lands, that the said men were due to arrive in the said City of New York at four o'clock in the afternoon of the said day: that the said Frederick S. Mordant had arranged and proposed to accompany the said men to said lands in the interest of the said Walter C. Hubbard, Samuel T. Hubbard the younger and Theodore H. Price, and that he then required the sum of fifty dollars with which to pay the expenses of such trip. —

And the said Walter C. Hubbard, Samuel T. Hubbard the younger and Theodore H. Price — then and their believing the said false and fraudulent pretenses and representations so made as aforesaid by the said Frederick S. Mordant — and being deceived thereby, was induced, by reason of the false and fraudulent pretenses and representations so made as aforesaid, to deliver, and did then and there deliver to the said Frederick S. Mordant, the sum of fifty dollars in money, lawful money of the United States of America, and of the value of fifty dollars, — of the proper moneys, goods, chattels and personal property of the said Walter C. Hubbard, Samuel T. Hubbard the younger and Theodore H. Price

And the said Frederick S. Mordant — did then and there feloniously receive and obtain the said proper moneys, goods, chattels, and personal property, from the possession of the said Walter C. Hubbard, Samuel T. Hubbard the younger and Theodore H. Price by color and by aid of the false and fraudulent pretenses and representations aforesaid, with intent to deprive and defraud the said Walter C. Hubbard, Samuel T. Hubbard the younger and Theodore H. Price of the same, and of the use and benefit thereof, and to appropriate the same to his own use

Whereas, in truth and in fact, the said Frederick S. Mordant had not interested any men representing the said Sandwich Glass Company in the said lands, and the said men had not left the City of Boston, and were not then on their way to the City of New York for the purpose of visiting the said lands and investigating the advisability and advantage of establishing a factory of the said Sandwich Glass Company on the said lands, and the said men were not due to arrive in the said City of New York at four o'clock in the afternoon of the said day; and the said Frederick S. Mordant had not arranged and did not propose to accompany the said men to said lands in the interest of the said Walter C. Hubbard, Samuel T. Hubbard the younger and Theodore H. Price, and he did not then require the sum of fifty dollars with which to pay the expenses of such trip.

And Whereas, in truth and in fact, the pretenses and representations so made as aforesaid by the said Frederick S. Mordant to the said Walter C. Hubbard, Samuel T. Hubbard the younger and Theodore H. Price, were then and there in all respects utterly false and untrue, as he the said Frederick S. Mordant at the time of making the same then and there well knew

And so the Grand Jury Aforesaid, do say that the said Frederick S. Mordant in the manner and form aforesaid, by the means aforesaid, the said proper moneys, goods, chattels and personal property of the said Walter C. Hubbard, Samuel T. Hubbard the younger and Theodore H. Price, then and there feloniously did STEAL, against the form of the Statute in such case made and provided, and against the peace and dignity of the said people.
