PEOPLE ON MY COMPLAINT, VERSUS

Nicola Calizio

As complainant in the above case, I beg to recommend the defendant to such leniency and clemency as the Court and District Attorney may see fit to show; but I expressly assert that my reasons for so doing are not controlled by any advantage to myself. I feel satisfied that I was as much to blame as the rest of boys and the prisoner, I with some other boys was among the prisoner & the other boys, when taking his apples <sup>chestnuts</sup> from his stand & running away with them, while he was cutting chestnuts. I am perfectly well & have never left my home and I ask that the case and indictment be dismissed. I do not wish anything done to the prisoner as he has suffered enough by having remained in the Totals so long and again ask as well as my father & mother that the indictment be dismissed. I am Very truly Yours

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS-Part III.

The People of the State of New York, against
 THOMAS CARROLL and VINCENT PODESKY.

Before Hon. RAN-
DOPLH B. MARTINE, and a Jury.

Indictment filed October 14th 1892.

Indicted for grand larceny in the 2nd degree.

New York, October 18th 1892.

APPEARANCES: For the People Assistant District Attorney Vernon M. Davis.

For the defendant Mr. C. E. LeBarbier.

JOSEPH JAHELKA, a witness for the People, sworn, testified:

I live at No. 426 East 73rd street in this city. I kept a saloon there on the 4th of October. I saw the defendant Carroll at about quarter of ten that night in my store. At that time I was in my kitchen in the rear of the store. I had closed the doors and locked up my store for the night. I was surprised to hear a door shutting. I came right out into the store. I saw the defendant Carroll leaving the store; he was behind the bar when I first laid eyes on him and I then saw him run from behind the bar and out of the store. He had a box of silver money belonging to me and he put that on the ground. I am certain Carroll is the man. There was $35 in the box. One of the bills now produced was in that box at the time it was in my store. The defendant Podesky came to my store to get the change of a five dollar bill; I recognised it as one of the bills taken from my store and I had him arrested.

The pocket book was found in the possession of Carrol. Podesky told me that the defendant Carrol gave him the five dollar bill to get changed.

CROSS EXAMINATION:

Podesky told me that Carroll went into the saloon and stole the money. I am certain that the glance I got at the defendant Carrol was sufficient to enable me to tell him now. I did not see Podesky there that night. There was loose money in the ~~xxxxxxx~~ box as well as the pocket book with bills in it. It was the box that the defendant Carrol put down on the ground. There was about ten dollars in silver in the box.

PHILPP WELLER, a witness for the People, sworn, testified:

I am an officer attached to the 5th Precinct. I arrested the defendant Carroll on the morning of the 6th of October. I first arrested Podesky. I asked him where he got all the money; he first told me that his mother had given him the five dollar bill; then he told me he found it at 73rd street and 1st avenue and after that he told me that the defendant Carroll gave it to him. I brought him to the saloon of Mr. Jahelka and he was identified there as having been in to change a five dollar bill. I then went after Carroll about it. I was not able to find him that day but on the following day I did find him. I asked him what he did with the pocket book; he says "I have not got any of the money; the pocket book is in the back room". I asked him where he found the pocket book and he said in 73rd street and First avenue. He said there was eleven dollars in it at the time he found it. He said he did not have any of the money.

CROSS EXAMINATION:

I saw him in the neighborhood of nine o'clock in the morning. He just got up out of bed when I got into the house. He said he had been drunk. It was through the information given me by Pod4sky that I arrested the man Carroll.

D E F E N C E .

THOMAS CARROLL, a witness for the defence, sworn, testified:

I was not in the saloon of MR. Jahelka on the night in question. I did not steal any of his money. I did have money in my possession the following day. I found this money in 73rd street that morning about eight o'clock. It was in a pocket book and in among a lot of stones. I showed some other boys where I had found the money and they went looking to see if they could find any. I saw Podesky there and I sent him to get change of five dollars for me; he happened to go to the very saloon where the man lost money. When he brought me the change I gave him fifty cents out of it. I have never been arrested or convicted of crime.

CROSS EXAMINATION:

I have been working at peddling. The night before my arrest I went to bed about ten o'clock. I was going to look for work at the time I found this money. I stumbled over the stones in among which this pocket book was lying. When I sent Podesky for the change he brought it back to me. I do not know where he got it. I gave him fifty cents because I had found the money.

I did not make any effort to find the owner . I went and got drunk on the money which I found in the pocket book . A number of people work in factories nearby where I had found this money. They did not pick it up on their way to work . Some of them would have to pass it. I do not know how long it had been lying there before I found it. I was not arrested until the day after I found this pocket book. I had known Podesky around that neighborhood before . I did not give any of the money to strangers to change for me /. I usually go to bed at ten o'clock at night . I might have stayed up later the night before my arrest, as I was drunk . I did not steal this money. I got it changed simply because I wanted to use some of the money in small change.

The jury returned a verdict convicting the defendant Carroll and acquitting the defendant Podesky.

THE PEOPLE

vs

THOMAS CASTLES.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS, PART I.

BEFORE JUDGE FITZGERALD.

Monday, October 24, 1892.

Indictment for grand larceny in the first degree.

A Jury was empanelled and sworn.

Assistant District Attorney Osborne, for the People.

Mr. Charles Steckler, for the Defendant.

PASQUALE DI BELLO, sworn, and examined by Mr. Osborne through the interpreter:

- Q. What is your name? A. Pasquale Di Bello.
- Q. Where do you live? A. 38 Cherry street.
- Q. In this city? A. In this city.
- Q. "And did you live there on the 29th of September?
A. Yes, sir.
- Q. Were you on Canal street on the afternoon or the morning of September 28th? A. Yes, sir, I was in Canal St.
- Q. Near Baxter? A. Yes, in front of the church, near the church.
- Q. Was procession going along the street? A. Yes, sir.
- Q. And a crowd of people on the sidewalk looking at it?
A. Yes, sir.
- Q. Did you have a silver watch on your person while you were standing in that crowd looking at the procession?
A. Yes, sir.
- Q. What kind of a watch? A. A silver watch.
- Q. What was the value of it? A. Ten dollars.
- Q. Did you see this defendant there in the crowd?
A. Yes, sir, he was standing by my side.

Q. Which side?

A. On the left side.

Q. Is that the side you had your watch on?

A. Yes, sir; I had it in the left side vest pocket.

Q. Was it attached to your vest by a chain?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well now what did this defendant do, if anything?

A. He took out the watch out of my pocket.

By the Court: Q. Who did, the defendant?

A. The defendant pulled out the chain and I caught hold of his hand and the watch came off the chain as he pulled and I caught him by the hand. I caught him with my left hand. I tried to get the watch out of his hand but he would not give it to me and with his other hand which I did not hold he took the watch out of his hand and made with the watch that way, passed it that way (showing). I do not know if he passed it to somebody.

Q. Ask him if he hung on to him until he was arrested?

A. I held on to him until the policeman came, I did not let go of him.

By Mr. Osborne: Q. Did you ever see your watch since?

A. NO.

Q. Officer Jordan, stand up; is that the policeman who came?

A. Yes, sir.

CROSS EXAMINATION:

By Counsel: Q. What time was this?

A. Nine o'clock in the evening.

Q. And this was on Baxter street?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. There was a procession going through the street, was there not?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. An Italina procession, a procession of your countrymen?

A. Yes, sir, there was Italians and English-speaking people.

- Q. There was a very large crowd of people standing in front of the church, was there not? A. Yes, sir.
- Q. There was a band of music playing in front of the church? A. Yes, it was in the church, in the rectory.
- Q. There was a raised platform in front of the church on which the band was? A. Yes, sir.
- Q. There was quite a large crowd around there? A. Yes, sir, he was near me.
- Q. A very large crowd of people there? A. Yes, sir.
- Q. You were in with the crowd? A. Yes, sir.
- Q. You say you were standing in the crowd and this defendant was standing next to you, is that right? A. Yes, sir.
- Q. Any other people next to you? A. Yes, sir, behind and in front, I was in the midst of the crowd.
- and, were there not? A. He was the closest to me, the other people were not so close to me.
- Q. Was there not a very large, dense crowd there, one shoving the other? A. Yes, sir, there were.
- Q. Now, you were standing right on the same side of the street as the church, were you not? A. Yes, sir, a little away from the church, on the sidewalk.
- Q. On the same side of the street as the church? A. Yes, sir.
- Q. You say you saw the defendant take the watch out of your pocket? A. Yes, sir, I saw it in his hand.
- Q. You saw him take it out of your pocket and have it in his hand? A. Yes, sir, I would not have held of him if I had not seen it.
- Q. And you held on to him? A. Yes, sir.

- Q. Right standing where you found him with this watch in your hand, you held on to him till the officer came, and the officer arrested him? A. I took him to the policeman.
- Q. How far did you have to take him? A. About twenty paces, twenty steps.
- Q. The same side of the street? A. Yes, sir.
- Q. And then this defendant ran away? A. He could not have run away, I held on to him.
- Q. Now, isn't it a fact that the defendant was arrested on the opposite side of the street, opposite from the church? A. In front of Canal street he was arrested.
- Q. I asked him if the defendant was not arrested opposite the church, on the other side of the street? A. The same side where the church is.
- Q. Now, you say you saw the defendant take the watch as though to throw it away and put his hand behind him? A. Yes, sir, and he made that motion with his hand.
- Q. Did you go and look where the watch went to, yes or no? A. No, I held on to him, I did not look where the watch was.
- Q. You did not pay any attention to the watch at all? A. No, sir.
- Q. You do not know whether it fell on the ground or whether he passed it to anybody, you do not know what became of it? A. I do not know if he passed it to somebody or if he threw it away.
- Q. You paid no attention to it, kept holding on to this man all the while? A. No, because if I would have tried to look for the watch he would have run away.
- Q. You wanted to hold him instead of getting the watch? A. Yes, I was afraid he will run away, I held on to him.

ALBERT A. JORDAN, sworn, and examined by Mr.

Osborne:

- Q. What precinct are you attached to, officer? A. Sixth.
- Q. And were you attached to that precinct on the 28th of September?
- A. Yes, sir.
- Q. And where was your beat in that precinct on the 28th of September?
- A. On Canal street, from Broadway to Baxter street.
- Q. What tour did you have?
- A. The first tour, from six P. M. until twelve mid-night.
- Q. Did you see this defendant and the complainant, Pasquale Di Bello, on your beat on that day?
- A. Well, they were not exactly on my beat.
- Q. Did you see them on that day?
- A. Yes, sir.
- Q. Where?
- A. Baxter and Canal streets.
- Q. Which side, which corner?
- A. On the north-east corner.
- Q. North-east corner?
- A. Yes, sir, twenty feet off my post, not exactly on the corner, it was between the middle of the street, between the two corners.
- Q. A crowd of people about there?
- A. There was quite a number, yes, sir.
- Q. A procession was going by?
- A. The procession had been through, they were playing music.
- Q. What was the defendant doing when you saw him, was he in the custody of anybody?
- A. The Italian had hold of him, the complainant had hold of him, and I heard him hullooming and I went over towards where he was hullooming and the complainant was bringing the prisoner towards me.
- Q. You took the prisoner in charge?
- A. I took him in charge, yes, sir.

Q. You took him to the station house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. On the way to the station house did you have any conversation with him? A. I searched him in the street in the presence of another officer and we found no watch on him. Going to the station house he says, "I did not take that." I says, "The complainant says you did." "Well, he says, "if I can get out of this thing I will make good the watch and give him some money besides." I says, "I have got nothing to do with that, I can't let you go now, you will have to come to the station house." So I took him there and the complaint was made.

CROSS EXAMINATION:

By Counsel: Q. Officer, he was walking with the complainant towards where you were? A. They were coming, it seemed as though they had been struggling.

Q. They were walking together towards you?

A. They were coming in my direction, yes, sir.

Q. They were not fighting when they came towards you?

A. No, sir, not fighting, they were walking together, the complainant had hold of the vest of the prisoner.

By Mr Osborne: Q. Describe how? A. He had hold of him by the collar by the left hand.

By Counsel: Q. He walking along in that way? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What side of the street was that on? A. Well, it was on the North side of the street.

Q. You know where the church is? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where is the church? A. It is in Baxter street, about a hundred feet north of Canal.

Q. That would make it between Canal and Hester?

A. Between Canal and Hester.

Q. You arrested the defendant on Canal street?

A. No, in Baxter street.

Q. How far away from the church?

A. About twenty-five or thirty feet this side of the church toward Canal street.

Q. On the opposite side of the street?

A. No, on the same side as the church, pretty near on the same side of the church.

Q. Was it the corner of the street?

A. It was in the middle of the street, it was not on the sidewalk I arrested him.

Q. It was opposite the church, on the middle of the street?

A. Not opposite the church, towards Canal street from the church.

Q. Outside the church, though, on the middle of the street?

A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Osborne: That is the case, may it please the Court.

THE CASE FOR THE DEFENCE:

Counsel for the defence opened the case to the Jury.

THOMAS CASTLES, sworn and examined:

By Counsel: Q. Thomas, what is your business?

A. I am a mail-carrier on the "Evening Sun" and a driver on the "Evening Sun."

Q. On the 28th of September last, were you employed on the "Evening Sun?"

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Mr. Weiman here is the manager?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You were employed under him on the day of the alleged larceny, the day of your arrest, is that right?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where were you working before that?

A. On the New York "Recorder."

- Q. What were <sup>you</sup> doing on the "Recorder?" A. Clerk.
- Q. Mr. Richardson; of the New York "Recorder," you were employed under him, were you? A. Yes, sir.
- Q. Until what time were you working that night, Thomas?
- A. From seven until half past seven.
- Q. In other words, between seven and half past seven?
- A. Yes, sir.
- Q. After you got through what did you do?
- A. I had my supper and went up through Baxter street to buy a pair of shoes.
- Q. Just tell these gentlemen and his Honor what happened while you were going through Baxter street, while you were there?
- A. I heard the sound of music, I was attracted by this parade, I went to see what kind of a parade it was, as I was standing there I went on the left hand side of the street and stood opposite the church; they were playing music on the platform; while I was standing there this man came over and grabbed me by the throat and accused me of stealing his watch. I said, "I did not steal no watch, bring me down to the officer." He brought me down, the officer searched me, no watch could be seen. I never saw him in my life before.
- Q. You were on the same side of the street as the church?
- A. No, sir, I stood on the left hand side, opposite the church.
- Q. Was there a very large crowd there?
- A. Yes, sir, there was a big crowd.
- Q. You have worked every day how long? A. I worked on the "Sun" for two years, and I worked on the "Recorder" for nearly a year.
- Q. Never saw that man until he came up there?

A. Never saw him in my life.

Q. Did you pass the watch away or throw it away?

A. I never saw the watch.

Q. Never saw the watch?

A. No, sir.

Q. Never saw that man until the day he came up to you?

A. Never saw him before in my life.

Q. Now, you heard the officer testify here, Officer Jordan, about making a statement about the watch?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What statement did you make to the officer about the watch?

A. I said, "I would sooner give a watch than steal a watch."

Q. That was all you said to him?

A. That is all I said to him.

Q. Did you have any watch to give the officer?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did you know anything about the watch?

A. Never knew nothing about the watch.

CROSS EXAMINATION,

By Mr. Osborne:

Q. How about the money talk you had with the officer?

A. I had no money talk, I had only three one-dollar bills in my pocket to purchase a pair of shoes.

Q. You heard the officer's testimony?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. It is not true?

A. It is not true.

JAMES WEIMAN, sworn and examined:

By Counsel: Q. What is your business, Mr. Weiman?

A. Superintendent of the wagon delivery of the "Evening Sun."

Q. How long have you been connected with the "Evening Sun?"

A. Five or six years.

Q. Do you know the prisoner at the bar?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long have you known him?

A. About four years.

Q. Has he worked for you on and off during that time?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. In what capacity?

A. Driver, till-boy what they call till-boy, carrying mail and two or three other things around.

Q. He has handled money for you there, has he not?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Quite large sums?

A. Sometimes.

Q. What is his character and reputation for honesty among those who know him?

A. I always knew it to be the best.

Q. Was he working for you on the day of his arrest, the 28th day of September?

A. I believe he was.

Q. Until what time that night?

A. About a quarter after seven.

Q. And if he had not been locked up that night he could have come back the next day?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You would take him back to work again?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You have confidence in his honesty?

A. Yes, sir.

CROSS EXAMINATION:

By Mr. Osborne: Q. Was he at work on the 28th of September, you swear you believe he was, you have made some investigation since he was arrested, can't you tell that Jury whether he was at work on that day?

A. I guess he was.

Q. Do you know?

A. Yes, sir, I do know.

Q. Do you swear on your oath he was?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How do you know he was?

A. Because he had been to work; the next day he did not show up, I wanted to know where he was, nobody seemed to know where he was; I made inquiries to know whether he was sick or not, that afternoon around five or six o'clock some one came and told me he was arrested; I was pretty positive that he was to work the day before, the night before he was arrested because he did not show up the next day.

Q. How long had he been at work for you before he was arrested, how long immediately previous to this one day that he was absent?

A. I guess he had been at work steady for four or five months.

Q. Do you want the Jury to understand that he was at work for you as a driver or as a till-boy every day, except Sunday, during all those six months before that?

A. About five months.

Q. Five months, is that right?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Never missed a day?

A. No, sir.

Q. Until this particular day?

A. That is the day he missed, I heard of him being arrested.

Q. Q. He was working the day before?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Until what time?

A. About quarter or half past seven, I am not sure about the time.

STEPHEN J. RICHARDSON, sworn and examined:

By Counsel: Q. You are connected with the New York "Recorder," a newspaper published in this city?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. In what capacity are you engaged there?

A. I am superintendent of circulation.

Q. Do you know the defendant here?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long have you known him?

A. About two years.

Q. He has been employed by your concern?

A. In the early days of the "Recorder" I employed him. He came to me, I believe, at that time from the News Boys' Lodging House to do miscellaneous work around the office. He worked steadily and was industrious, I had no fault to find with him.

Q. An honest boy?

A. Yes, sir, honest boy, I believe him to be.

Q. You believe him to be honest?

A. Yes, sir, I believe him to be honest, he worked about six months and left of his own accord, he said he was going to work for his uncle, I have not seen him until I heard about the arrest. That is all I know about the case.

FABRICE CASTLES, sworn and examined.

By Counsel: Q. What is your business, Mr. Castles? A. I work at buildings.

Q. You are the uncle of the prisoner?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What is his reputation for honesty, is he a good boy?

A. He is a good boy from his infancy; he always worked, didn't need to steal nothing, honest and good as I knowed him, came in and out of my family, I knew nothing bad in my life, not a penny's worth.

Q. Did he live with you?

A. No, sir, he did not live with me but he came regularly to see me and I knew the boy always worked, I never knew of a penny's worth to his charge before.

Q. Are his parents living or dead?

A. His father is dead about fifteen years, I was watching over him, any place I would show him but he never wanted any check from me and he always kept his place.

Q. Will you tell the Jury, his father has been dead about fifteen years, who did he live with after his father died?

A. He boarded down here, I do not know who he lived with, I guess he kept in the News Boys' Home awhile.

Q. You do not know when he went in do you?

A. No, sir.

Q. You did not keep very close track of him?

A. I did,

pretty close, I knew he was there, he came to see me.

Q. He kept track of you?

A. I kept track of him, I knew he was there quite a while.

Q. Tell the Jury when, please?

A. He lived with me about twelve months when he was a young boy, after his father died, and then he went to the News Boys' Home. He would come to see me every two weeks or so, and I never knew one

Q. How old is Thomas now?

A. Going on twenty-one.

Q. He was about six years old when his father died, is that right?

A. Yes, sir, about that.

Q. You have given the jury the extent of your knowledge and information since that time, is that right?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. He comes up to see you frequently, he visits your family?

A. Yes, sir, he does, nearly every two weeks.

Q. He earns his own living?

A. Yes, sir, he works

all the time, he made his own living to my knowledge.

Q. You know that?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. He did not look to you to support him or keep him?

A. No, he never wanted my support, he always made his own living.

Counsel: That is our case.

Indicted for grand larceny in the second degree.

Indictment filed October 7th, 1892.

-----x
Appearances:

Assistant District-Attorney Macdona for the People.

Jacob Berlinger, Esquire, for the Defense.

-----x
G E N E R O C A S O, called by the People, being duly sworn, testified through the interpreter that he lived at No. 323 East 115th street. On the 1st of October, 1892, he saw the defendant, George Clark, with another man whose name he, the witness, did not know. The other man was an Italian. The defendant and the Italian were taking together in English. He, the witness, understood English very well. He asked the defendant and the Italian "Is this a good bill?" and both of them said "Yes". They showed the bill to him but did not give it to him in his hands. The Italian held it in his hand. The Italian said that he and the defendant had to divide the money in equal halves and asked him, the witness, if he could change it. He said yes. Then he, the witness, took out the money and gave it to the Italian and the Italian gave him, the witness, a $100 bill, in evidence, after he gave the Italian the change. As soon as he, the witness, took the bill in his hands, by the feeling of the paper, he recognized that it was a bad bill, and the Italian ran away. Then the defendant ran away also. The defendant and the Italian did not divide the money between them in his, the witness's, presence. The Italian ran away with the money. He the witness, gave them $100 in bills for the bad $100 bill. The whole affair occurred in 115th street, near Second avenue. He, the witness, ran after the men and caught the defendant Clark. He could not catch the Italian. He caught Clark in 113th street near Second avenue. It was 7 o'clock in the evening. It was dark. The money was all that he, the witness, had, except $2 in change. He had the $100 at home. The two men waited for him at the door and he went up and got the money. They waited for him in front of his house. The Italian did not offer to sell the bill to him, the witness, for $40. The Italian said to him, "It is good money, it is American money. That is a good bill." He, the witness, never saw the defendant before in his life. There were a good many people on the street as he, the witness, chased the defendant but he did not lose sight of the defendant.

J O H N F. F L A H E R T Y, called by the people, being duly sworn, testified that he was an officer, attached to the Twenty-ninth Precinct. He arrested the defendant, Clark, on the 1st of October, 1892, at five minutes of 7 o'clock, in the evening, in 113th street, between First and Second avenue, in the middle of the block. The complainant had hold of the defendant by the throat and the defendant was trying to struggle away. He, the witness, took the defendant to the station house and the complainant showed the bill. The complainant said there was another man with the defendant but did not say the other man was an Italian. The complainant said they met him at the corner of 119th street and Third avenue and got into conversation with him and asked him to change the bill. He, the witness, searched the defendant in the station house but did not find any money in his possession. He, the witness, was standing on the corner of Third avenue when he heard hollering and that was why he made the arrest. He had no conversation with the defendant when he arrested him. The complainant said that the defendant gave him a bad bill and the defendant denied it and said that he did not have anything to do with it, that he ran with the crowd and the complainant happened to grab him. The bill in evidence was the bill that the complainant had in his hand. It was a counterfeit.

G E O R G E C L A R K, the defendant, being duly sworn, testified that on the evening of October 1st, between 7 and 8 o'clock, he was going down Third avenue when he was grabbed by the complainant by the throat. The complainant asked him to give him his money. He, the witness, said he had no money and the complainant said that another man with him, the defendant, took his, the complainant's, money. The complainant commenced to holler police and held him by the throat until the officer arrested him, and he was taken to the station house, and they searched him and he did not have any money. In the police court the complainant swore that he gave him, the defendant, $50 and the other man $50. He, the defendant, had never been convicted of any crime. He lived at No. 280 Bowery, a lodging house. He was a peddler of toys or anything that he could get. He was not a faker. Before he went to No. 280 Bowery, he lived at No. 143 Bowery, another lodging house. He was walking down town on the night in question. He went into 113th street, where he was arrested, because there was a big crowd and he wanted to see what was going on. When he saw the crowd run he followed them. The officer was mistaken if he said that he saw him, the defendant, running, as he did not run at all. He bought his goods for peddling from Charles Broadway Rouss. The last goods that he bought there was about five, six or seven months ago. The goods were pencils. He did not get $50 from the complainant.

Wm. W. McLaughlin, Esq.,

Inspector Detective Bureau,

300 Mulberry St., New York City.

Dear Sir:-

In reply to yours of 13th. I would say, Joseph Carey was committed to this institution Aug. 18th. 1888 for breaking and entering, and was released on ticket of leave Aug. 8th. 1889.

His permit was revoked by the commissioners of prisons and he was returned here Dec. 24th. 1890, for having been convicted of idle and disorderly conduct after his release; he was released on ticket of leave a second time June 24th. 1892.

I know Carey quite well, and do not think him to be naturally vicious; he has no home, and I think his misconduct has been caused more by circumstances, than by any natural inclination he has in that direction.

I would be glad, if not asking too much, if you will advise me of the cause of his arrest, where he is sentenced, and for how long a time.

Respectfully Yours

No. 300 MULBERRY STREET,

NEW YORK, October 13 1892

To

Hon. Frederick Smyth,
Recorder, of the City of New York.

Sir:-

I would most respectfully report, that after bringing the prisoner George Clark to this office he made the following statement.

He said his real name was Joseph Carey, that he was born in Boston and lived there with his guardian Mrs Ellen Ryan, at 11 Hudson St. He stated he was convicted of Burglary in Boston in 1888 and sentenced to the Reformatory where he stayed for one year, when he was paroled on Ticket of Leave. He was re-arrested in Boston in 1890, for failing to fulfill the conditions of his ticket of leave and was discharged on June 24 1892. He returned to Boston, and stayed there until a month ago, when he came to this city.

I would further state he is not known by any of the officers connected with this Bureau.

Court of General Sessions:

The People ex rel Charles Falkenberg

Martin D. Clarke.
.....

City and County of New York. SS.

Cornelius F. Duffy, being duly sworn, deposes and says: I am a merchant in Gansevoort Market in the City of New York, engaged in the produce business, and have been so for over 20 years; that about the first of November, 1892, the above named Martin D. Clarke, who was an employee of this deponent, while engaged in the duties of his employment as a driver, accidentally had his truck collide with the wagon driven by the above named complainant, and that thereafter, said Clarke was arrested and indicted for malicious injury of the property of said complainant.

Ans this deponent further says, that on or about the 18th day of November, 1892, the said Charles Falkenberg commenced an action in the Fifth District Court, of the City of New York, before Justice Goldfogle, against this deponent to recover the sum of $250, for the alleged negligent act of the said Martin D. Clarke in injuring the wagon of the said complainant. That issue was duly joined on the 25th of November, 1892, and that this deponent appeared in said action by Jacob Levy, Esq., attorney at law of 25 Chambers St., and that said Levy has persistently urged the said action on for trial, but that the complainant has persistently endeavored to obtain postponement of the said trial, and has had it postponed from time to time, until about the first of April, 1893, when the case was set down for the 17th day of April inst., by agreement with the plaintiff's attorney, to be positively tried on that day. That on said day, this deponent appeared with his counsel, Jacob Levy, and eight witnesses, all of whom were laboring men, prepared for trial, and that his said attorney urged the case on for trial, when, in open Court, H. Josephs, Esq., in behalf of the plaintiff, withdrew and discontinued the said suit.

That this deponent verily believes and so charges that the act of the complainant in having the said Martin D. Clarke indicted, was for the mere purpose of forcing this deponent to pay heavy damages to him, when there was no cause of civil action against this deponent, nor was there any cause for a criminal charge against the said Martin D. Clarke.

And this deponent further says, that twice he appeared at General Sessions with his witnesses, when the indictment against Martin D. Clarke was up for trial, and that the said Charles Falkenberg each time begged and besought this deponent to settle the said civil suit with him, when he would withdraw the criminal proceeding against his said employee, Martin D. Clarke, but that this deponent absolutely refused to make any settlement whatever.

That deponent has carefully inquired into the merits of this case, and has several witnesses to show that his driver was innocent of any wrong doing or contributory negligence on his part in regard to the collision.

Deponent further says that he has had a competent carriage maker examine the damages to the complainant's carriage, and the same did not exceed the sum of twenty-five dollars.

22nd day of April, 1893.

deposes and says, that the premises No. 504 West 48th Street, 2nd Ward in the City and County aforesaid the said being a five-story tenement building the basement of and which was occupied by deponent as a drinking apartment and in which there was at the time a human being, by name were BURGLARIOUSLY entered by means of forcibly pushing down the upper portion of a window leading to said apartment from the street on the 21st day of October 1888 in the night time, and the following property feloniously taken, stolen, and carried away, viz:

A quantity of clothing, and a quantity of articles of household furniture,
the whole of the value of Two Hundred Dollars

$200 00

the property of Deponent
and deponent further says, that he has great cause to believe, and does believe, that the aforesaid BURGLARY was committed and the aforesaid property taken, stolen and carried away by

Thomas Clark (now here)

for the reasons following, to wit: That, at about 7 P.M. on said date, deponent opened the door leading to her apartment in the above premises and found defendant in said apartment, and a table which had been standing in said room at said window was pushed over to the wall and a number of articles which had been standing on said table were thrown on the floor. That deponent also found a drawer
