Hon. Delancey Nicoll,

District Attorney, New York.

Dear Sir:

The relatives of Thomas Gurney (a boy arrested and indicted for grand larceny and whose case comes up to-day I believe in General Sessions) have asked me to write you relative to the boy. His people are very reputable persons and while they see the necessity of putting the boy under restraint, they are aghast to think that under his indictment for grand larceny and probable conviction he may be consigned to the penitentiary. Would it not be possible for you to exercise your kind efforts in the event of the boy being found guilty to have him committed to the reformatory? If this can be done his friends and relatives would be relieved beyond measure; to have him sent to Sing Sing or other penal institution would surely ruin the boy for life. The boy is wild no doubt, but if given an opportunity to reform under the discipline of some institution other than a prison, his character in future years may be saved. Will you not kindly do what is possible in this direction, and very greatly oblige,

Very truly yours,

W. J. Merrill

I understand the boy is willing to plead guilty to petty larceny
