J a m e s M o r t o n

Indictment filed, August 1, 1887.

Before Hon. Fred'k.

Smyth and a Jury.

New York, September 27th 1887.

APPEARANCES: For the People Asst. Dist. Att^y J.A.H.
Purdy, et al.

For the defendant . E. F. Price, Esq.

LOUIS R. GROVE, a witness for the People, testified:

I deal in wines, fruits and cigars at No. 9 and 11 Vanderbilt Avenue in this city . On the 30th of May about nine o'clock in the evening I saw a man known as Daniel Cassidy in my store . Cassidy went into the bar, ordered a drink, came out and paid for it. Immediately after Cassidy went out, the prisoner Morton came in the 43rd street entrance of my store and called for a dozen oranges in a hurry. I was standing right by the cash drawer when Morton came in; I immediately left the cash drawer and went across to the window where the oranges were. While I was putting up the oranges he said "Hurry up" or something to that effect and I did and as soon as I gave him the oranges he started out . I immediately went back to the cash drawer and found it wide open and all the bills gone; there was about $325. or $350. in it when I left it and it was closed . There was only one man in the store to my knowledge when I was doing up the oranges and that was the ticket agent of the Harlem railroad. Daniel Cassidy paid me for his drink when he was in the store that day .

Cross EXAMINATION:

It was four or five weeks after the 30th of May that I next saw the defendant Morton; probably it was seven weeks . Cassidy paid for the first drink that he had but he came in a second time and I am not certain whether he paid for that drink or not . When I identified Morton at Headquarters he was placed beside another man. First he was placed with a number of men and I did not identify him because I got a front view of him, but as soon as I got a side view of him I identified him. I have no doubt in the world but that that is the man called for the oranges .

CHARLES R. ASHMAN, a witness for the People , testified:

I am barkeeper for Mr. Grove. On the night of the 30th of May I saw this man Cassidy in the barroom of Mr. Grove's place; he came in and ordered a bottle of beer; he stood at the end of the bar near Madison Avenue. From the position in which he stood he could see the cashier's drawer. There were two other men in the barroom at the time but they were facing me engaged in conversation. Mr. Grove at that time was behind the cash counter. I gave Cassidy a check to pay the cashier and I saw him go towards the cashier . In a short time Cassidy came in again and ordered another glass of beer. I told him he had not drunk the other bottle yet; and he said "Never mind give me a fresh bottle". I gave him a fresh bottle and as I was pouring it out another man came in; this other man walked towards the other end of the bar and ordered a bottle of beer. I left Cassidy and went up to the other end of the bar to serve this other man; while I was serving this stranger Cassidy disappeared and left the bottle of beer the same as he did the first one; he probably took a mouthful out of each bottle. In less than two minutes after Cassidy left Mr. Grove came to me and reported the loss of his money.

MARTIN HANLEY, a witness for the People, testified:

I know the prisoner Morton and I knew the man Cassidy who was jointly indicted with him. When I arrested Morton Cassidy was with him and a third man who got away. I have seen Cassidy and Morton together several times.

CROSS EXAMINATION:

I only knew the third man by sight. At Police Headquarters when Mr. Grove identified Morton there were two of them standing up together. I arrested this man on a description given by Mr. Grove.

HENRY BERLINER, a witness for the People, testified:

I am manager and cashier of the basket business of Edward Jantzen whose place of business is at No. 124 West 19th Street. On the 27th of May this prisoner Morton came into my place of business and asked me to change a five dollar bill; I opened the drawer and gave him the change. Then he talked about buying baskets and took me to the furthest end of the store. I left the safe door open. This same man had called a few days before and ordered baskets of me and when they were sent to the place directed it was found that there was no such person living there. I asked him how it was about this and he excused himself saying that he had meant to leave the money for the baskets at this place but had neglected it. After I had this conversation with him he left the store and when I reached my safe again I found that about eight or nine hundred dollars was gone. The next morning the letter carrier brought me my portfolio in which the money was and the checks &c. were in it but the cash was gone.

CROSS EXAMINATION:

I instantly identified this man when I saw him in the Tombs. I am sure this is the man came into my store and had this conversation with me the 27th of May. I cannot say whether he had a beard on him; I know he had a moustache.

D E F E N C E

JAMES MORTON, the defendant testified:

I never was in Mr. Grove's store. I did not confederate with anybody to rob this man's store. I believe I was once in this man's store about the 6th day of June. I was not there on the 30th of May. I was at Coney Island that day. I left for Coney Island in the afternoon about two or three o'clock in the afternoon and returned about quarter to ten. I have known Cassidy about a year. When I was in Groves Store on the 6th of June I got a small flask of whiskey and two segars.

CROSS EXAMINATION:-

I never saw Mr. Berliner before in my life . I do not recollect where I was on the 27th of May; I believe I was in New York on that day. I have never been in the basket store No. 124 West 19th Street .

JULIA MORTON, a witness for the defendant, testified:

I am the wife of James Morton--that is a fictitious name . On Decoration Day I went with him to Coney Island about three o'clock in the afternoon. I think it was the nine o'clock train we caught on the Culver route coming home. I think it was about twenty minutes past ten when we got home. My husband was with me during all that time.

CROSS EXAMINATION:

I never saw Cassidy until I saw him in the room with my husband. My husband sent me up to Mr. Grove's store after he had been arrested to see if he could remember ever having been to that store . I went in there and talked to Mr. Grove but did not buy anything .

The jury found the prisoner guilty of grand larceny in the second degree .

years of age and have resided became under the influence thereof, (deponent never having habitually drunk

as charged, I cannot explain my conduct

other than by a feeling of wreckless devilishness brought on by my intoxicated condition, I feel my position keenly and the disgrace and degradation brought upon my parent and myself by this act, and pray this Court for a mercy-
